Nasser Berates Commies

Blames Them For Iraq Revolt

DAMASCUS, Syria —(UPI) — United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser charged Wednesday that the Communists, seeking to split the Arab world, were to blame for the crisis that touched off the Iraqi revolt.

Nasser, addressing crowds of wildly cheering demonstrators, lashed back at Iraqi leaders for their attacks on his regime and served notice that local Reds would not succeed in dragging the U.A.R. into the Communist camp.

Speaking out for the first time since the short lived Mosul revolt, Nasser delivered his first direct assault on Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who appeared to have won his fight to crush the insurgents in northern Iraq.

Diplomats interpreted Nasser's speech as a calculated risk that Russia might take public offense and halt the arms and economic aid it has given Cairo since 1954.

While Nasser spoke, the Communist Party newspaper in Baghdad, Ittihad al Shaab, said the last rebel holdouts had surrendered in the northern Iraqi oil city of Mosul Tuesday night.

The Baghdad newspaper charged, however, that the U.A.R. was still massing dissident tribesmen and "Syrian nationalists" across the Iraqi border.

Nasser, speaking from a balcony overlooking El Jiwa Square, charged that Kassem and the Communists were attempting to sabotage Arab unity. He accused them of "organizing demonstrations" and "uttering slander" against the U.A.R.

But he declared that these tactics would not make the United Arab Republic "surrender our mission" of uniting the Arab world.

Nasser's speech followed Baghdad press and radio charges making it plain that the Kassem regime blames the U.A.R. for supporting the Sunday uprising in oil-rich north Iraq. The Iraqis said the mutiny was crushed and its leader, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, dead.

The U.A.R. chief told 2,000 Syrian student demonstrators that "those Communists demonstrating in Baghdad against your republic are foreign agents and used to get orders from outside our homeland. That's why we fought."

The students in Damascus had demonstrated Wednesday morning, angrily denouncing the "insults" transmitted against the U.A.R. by Iraq's radio during the last two days. The crowds in the streets chanted, "Kassem, traitor."

Nasser blasted Kassem 24 hours after Iraq expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats, apparently on the grounds that Iraq suspected the Cario regime of fometing the revolt.

Cairo reports said that at least 60 rebels, including some civilians, had been executed summarily after the Mosul uprising, and that Iraqi firing squads were still at work. There were indications that rebel elements were fleeing eastward toward Syria to seek asylum.

Fight Over Berlin Means A Nuclear War, Ike Warns

Debate Over Berlin Is Getting Out of Hand, 7A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower confronted Premier Nikita Khrushchev Wednesday with the grim prospect that if he starts shooting over Berlin he will have a nuclear war on his hands.

At a news conference Eisenhower talked with unusual bluntness about the kind of conflict which could develop in a matter of months if the Berlin crisis is carried to the point of armed clash.

Eisenhower hit two points hard:

1—He said that "we" are not going to fight a ground war in Europe — where the Soviets have 23 divisions in East Germany and another 150 plus in supporting positions in Eastern Europe and Russia itself.

2—Nuclear war would be a terrible and costly form of warfare, he said, and under some circumstances might be even self-defeating.

He declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

However, inquiry among responsible officials after the news conference left no doubt that Eisenhower was trying to say that, as he sees it, any conflict over Berlin would necessarily lead quickly and directly to a global, nuclear clash between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said firmly the U.S. will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis

In advance of the news conference Eiswnhower was depicted as determined to hold military spending to the 41 billion dollar level of his budget.

Some of the criticism of the spending plans has been based on the contention that not enough attention is given to the forces needed for limited — or non-nuclear — war which could involve big ground forces.

Eisenhower said the adequacy of free nation defenses is not going to be particularly strengthened by quick action such as that suggested by Democrats in Congress to maintain the Army at 900,000 men and the Marine Corps at 200,000.

The army is scheduled to be cut back to 870,000 men and the marines to 175,000 by June 30.

Wednesday's session touched also on these matters:

KHRUSHCHEV — Eisenhower said that he doesn't think much of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that Russian and the Western allies station token military forces in West Berlin.

A one point, Eisenhower referred to Khrushchev's propos-

If It Becomes 'Free'

Reds Pledge Access Into West Berlin

BERLIN —(AP)— The Soviet Union and Communist East Germany Wednesday night pledged that they would guarantee free access to West Berlin if it became a free city.

The pledge was contained in a communique issued by the Communist East German government as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up his visit to East Germany.

The communique said:

"The government of the German Democratic Republic once again emphasized its readiness to guarantee the unhindered connection of the free city of West Berlin with the outside world, in both the eastern and western directions."

At the same time, the com- guaranteed by the Big Four powers and by the U.N. munique said, West Berlin's status as a free city could be

The communique did not spell out what form the guarantees would take.

(In Washington, a spokesman said the State Department had no comment on the Soviet-East German declaration. Privately officials said there was nothing new in the offer to guarantee access to West Berlin once it became a free city. The offer is based on the completely unacceptable condition that the Western Allies would give up their rights in Berlin, these officials said.)

In an East Berlin speech two days ago, Khrushchev mentioned that a minimum of troops from the Soviet Union, France, Britain and the U.S. could be stationed in West Berlin. Or, he said, the troops could come from neutral countries, meaning presumably from the U.N.

Then Khrushchev emphasized Tuesday that the Russians would have to serve alongside U.S., British and French troops in any token force based in West Berlin.

Nikita Talks 'Dry' But He Drinks 'Wet'

Nikita Khrushchev

. . . huggin' and gulpin'

BERLIN —(UPI)— Nikita Khrushchev, who has advised Soviet workers to cut down their drinking, was slugging brandies at a rate of one every 15 minutes here.

Between gulps, the Soviet premier would devour one or two small, spicy sausages, then push on through the crowd to shake some more hands, and hug a few more women. The younger the women, the tighter Nikita squeezed.

The scene was a reception for 900 prominent Communists, German and foreign, at the sprawling Soviet embassy building on Unter Den Linden.

Khrushchev wore a simple black single-breasted suit, bedecked with "Workers Hero" medals. He spent three hours at the reception.

High Winds Hit Alabama Area

CAMDEN, Ala. —(AP)— High winds during a thunderstorm and possibly a small twister knocked down several farm buildings and unroofed a house in the Oakhill community Wednesday.

The Highway Patrol said there were no reports of any one injured. The rural community is 14 miles southeast of Camden.

A car was blown off the highway, the patrol said, but cut back on the road and continued on its way.

Aloha, Hawaii! It's Almost In

UM Needs More Cash —Pearson

'Lack of Funds Hampers Growth'

Dinner Bursts Old 'Seams,' Page 7D

By PHIL MEYER
Herald Staff Writer

Donations to the University of Miami "are not adequate to enable us to move forward as we should," President Jay F. W. Pearson told the annual trustees-citizens board dinner Wednesday.

Pearson cited heavy debt amortization costs, the need for new buildings, increasing maintenance costs and the need for raising faculty salaries as reasons for the university's financial woes.

An endowment of five and a half million dollars, tuition fees, and gifts are the main source of UM income, Pearson said. Many of the gifts are earmarked for buildings which the university needs to take care of students it already has, he said.

"Present needs include a four million dollar medical education building, a three and a half million dollar library, and a three and one half million dollar science building," he said. "You can understand why this university president sees little possibility of early expansion in enrollment."

Pearson said that state universities will educate an increasing proportion of the young people as college enrollments increase.

"The states can appropriate the money to expand their facilities, and can levy taxes to meet such appropriations," he said.

"I need not tell you that our independently controlled colleges must work overtime to provide competitive facilities and services to our students."

The dinner was attended by some 800 guests who ate a five-course meal, watched a Hotel Americana floor show, and saw Roy A. Perry take office as new president of the UM citizens board. Perry, executive vice president of the Industrial National Bank, succeeds Stuart W. Patton, who was presented an award of merit by Daniel J. Mahoney, chairman of the board of trustees.

Other officers installed were Carl Weinkle, vice president, and L. Allen Morris, secretary-treasurer.

Hawaiians Here Are 'Hauoli Nui'

By CHARLES TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

"Hauoli nui!"

In Hawaiian, that's "very, very happy!"

And that's what Miami Hawaiians — including a 78-year-old island native whose life spans royal rule in Hawaii, annexation by the U.S., and now possibly statehood for his country — said when told about the Senate vote.

KAAI

The colony of native Hawaiians here is small but distinguished by Ernest Kaai, of 289 Ludlum Dr., Miami Springs, a relative of Hawaii's last royal ruler, Queen Liliuokalani "Queen Lil" to old-timers.

Kaai, who was born in Honolulu in 1881 under the reign of the Queen and was still living in Hawaii when it was annexed by the U.S. in 1900, said he's been "proud ever since then to be an American." He came to the mainland in 1906.

"I think statehood would be good for Hawaii, but I don't know the politics of it," he said. "I am happy about it."

Kaai owns a music store on the Tamiami Trail which is operated by his daughte, Thelma, 50. He also has a son and a wife here.

Happiest of the Hawaiians was Terry Kalani, 28, of 3045 NW 185th St., who has given up dancing as an entertainer to go into the decorating business.

"I am very, very happy, and very proud," said Kalani, who was born in Hilo, Hawaii, and has lived in Miami for the past 11 years. He has a wife, Lani, also a native islander, and three children.

"Actually, it has always been pretty much like being a state. We are all American citizens. We might as well make it official," said Kalani.

Mrs. Lali Kan, 23, of 1704 NE 178th St., another Hawaiian native whose Hawaiian husband Raymond, has a beach concession at a motel, said that if Hawaii is granted statehood, "it won't make too much difference since we're alreacy citizens.

"But I'm very happy."

Very happy? "Hauoli nui!"

You pronounce it: Ha'-OO-O-li noo-i.

Isles Take Stride to Statehood

House Question: 50 Or Not 50?

The Real Hawaii 7A

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate voted Wednesday night to make Hawaii the 50th state, giving its approval by a vote of 76 to 15.

This long step toward statehood for the islands in the Pacific came after only a single day of debate.

That debate was punctuated by charges that with Hawaii a state, the 50th star in the flag would be tinged with red.

The House set the stage for action today on an almost identical bill. It voted 337-69 formally bringing a statehood bill up for House debate.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee said he would propose amendments to his own house bill to make it conform exactly to the Senate version.

The final House vote would thus send the measure directly to the White House and avoid House-Senate conferences.

The first House test, coming while the Senate was debating the statehood issue, brought the Hawaii bill formally before the House for debate and amendments.

Voting for the resolution were 214 Democrats and 123 Republicans. Forty-eight Demo-

In a Word--

One of the many false impressions most Americans have about Hawaii is that its most famous word, "aloha," means goodby or farewell.

Aloha also means hello, Hawaiians explain. In some of the islands, aloha also means good morning good evening, and I love you.

Bahamians To Protest

NASSAU, Bahamas — (AP) — Progressive Liberal Party leaders left for London Wednesday to protest passage of a bill by the Bahamas Assembly which provides for four new house seats.

Party Leader Cyril Stevenson, who went with Lynden Pindling to London, said the measure provides for district boundary changes unacceptable to his followers.

The two will see the secretary of state for the colonies March 17. The Progressive Party had sought to have action on the bill delayed until after the interview with the secretary but the request was rejected by the majority United Bahamian Party.

Senate OKs Extended Draft Act by 90 to 1

Bill Now Goes Back To House

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate, with only one dissent, Wednesday approved a four-year extension of the draft act urgently requested by the Eisenhower administration.

The 90-1 vote came after the Armed Services Committee chairman, Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), called on the Senate to show the U.S. "means what it says when it says we must maintain the military strength of the U.S."

The Senate previously defeated one move to trim the extension to two years and another one which would have set up a military manpower commission to study the draft law and possible "alternatives."

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed an almost identical extension earlier. It can accept the Senate version or demand a conference to hammer out the differences.

The only senator voting against the four-year extension was Sen. William Langer (R., N.D.).

The Senate beat down by 67-24 an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) to limit the extension to two years. Morse conducted a pint-sized filibuster Tuesday night to an almost empty Senate chamber on the proposed extension.

He said the four-year extension will neither "safeguard American security" nor "frighten the Russians."

Defeated by a 68-24 vote was an amendment by Sen. Francis Case (R., S.D.) which would have set up the study commission.

In addition to continuing present machinery for drafting young men aged 18 through 26, the Senate bill continues the suspension of pre-Korean peacetime ceilings on the strength of the armed services; the payment of benefits to dependents of certain enlisted men, and the authority to draft physicians and dentists.

It also provides authority for the continued payment of extra pay, at the rate of $100 to $250 monthly, to newly-commissioned physicians and dentists and $100-a-month additional pay for veterinarians.

This is the amendment added by the Senate which required that the bill go back to the House instead of straight to the White House.

JOB BENEFITS — The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

Eisenhower said he regards the problem of providing for the unemployed as a state responsibility, but that his mind is not closed to the possibility of adjustment.

SPENDING — Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he might be willing to spend more money for defense if more federal revenue was available.

With some show of irritation, Eisenhower went on to say he is tired of talk of having either a balanced budget or adequate national security. A balanced budget, he added, is a vital part of such security.

Suppose, Eisenhower theorized, defense spending should go up five, seven or 10 billion dollars. That means, he said, we would have a garrison state.

It was at that point that Eisenhower said somewhat heatedly that he doesn't see any of those calling for greater defense spending coupling it with a demand for higher taxes.

Macmillan Puts Faith in Talks

By DREW MIDDLETON
The New York Times Service

LONDON — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan declared Wednesday that the U.S., Britain and France had agreed that the Berlin issue should be settled by negotiation.

The notes sent by the three governments to the Soviet Union on Dec. 31 were cited by Macmillan in answer to a question in the House of Commons as evidence of the West's faith in negotiation.

The prime minister told another questioner that he would not disclose information about his private discussions with Allied leaders in Paris, Bonn or Washington. Macmillan returned from Paris Tuesday and departs for Bonn and talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today.

During Wednesday morning's cabinet meeting, which was devoted largely to international affairs, Macmillan did report on his talks in Paris. It is understood he told the cabinet that these had been helpful and satisfactory and that the mood of President Charles de Gaulle and Premier Michel Debre was good and receptive.

Asked in Commons about the hostile reaction in some Western capitals to proposals outlined in the communique issue in Moscow at the conclusion of his talks with Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Macmillan said, "I know of no hostile reaction."

The government's tactics are to say nothing to exacerbate differences, real or imaginary, and to await an alteration in the U.S. administration's critical attitude, which it believes will follow Macmillan's talks with President Eisenhower.

These talks in Washington are now expected to last five days, from March 19 to 24, officials at the prime minister's office disclosed. The British believe Macmillan will be able to clear up some of the "misconceptions" about the Moscow conversations now apparently current in administration circles.

Jobless Total Up Slightly

Employment Rolls Increase, Too

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Unemployment edged up by 25,000 last month to a total of 4,749,000, the government reported Wednesday. It said the increase was so small as to be insignificant.

A report by the Labor and Commerce Departments showed employment also increased by 16,000 to 62,706,000 in February. The stability marked the usual pause between heavy winter cutbacks in jobs and the normal spring pickup.

The number of jobless workers was 724,000 lower than in February, 1958, the depth of the 1957-58 recession. There also were 734,000 more persons holding jobs than in February a year ago.

But even so unemployment last month was 1,500,000 higher than in February, 1957, before the recession began.

The report said that last month the seasonally adjusted percentage of the labor force without jobs held steady at six per cent for the third month in a row. Many economists regard this figure as a key statistic in the job picture.

In addition, the relatively small changes in February employment and unemployment fell within the range of normal statistical errors that might be made by the government in compiling its job estimates.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said the figures showed the unemployment situation was "growing worse" and is now a drag on recovery.

Meany said the nation cannot wait any longer for government action to relieve suffering of millions of unemployed citizens.

In this connection, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he believed any further extension of emergency jobless benefits should be handled by the states although he was willing to listen to arguments.

Congressional Democrats are pushing for an extension of the program to prevent several hundred thousand unemployed from running out of benefits when the temporary program ends March 30.

Hawaii Hulas Past Senate On Her Way to Statehood

crats, most of them Southerners, and 21 Republicans voted against taking up the bill.

Rep. Leo Allen (R., Ill.), senior Republican on the House Rules Committee, argued in vain that Harry Bridges and his aides "control the life blood of Hawaii."

Bridges is head of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union which, although expelled from the CIO for left-wing tendencies, is strongly organized on the Hawaii waterfront and in the sugar and pineapple industries.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee, said a personal investigation in Hawaii last December convinced him that residents of the islands are more alert to the dangers of communism than people are anywhere else in the country.

"I do not believe that Communists have a strangle hold on the islands or that they would send four Soviet agents to Congress," O'Brien asserted.

O'Brien was replying directly to a protest by Rep. John R. Pillion (R., N.Y.), who charged that Communists "influence Hawaiian life to an alarming degree" through Bridges' union and others.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R., Calif.) said it may be true that Hawaii has a Communist problem. But so does California, he said, and so does the U.S. as a whole.

And Sen. Russell B. Long (D., La.) said Hawaii has fought the Communists to the point that its Subversive Activities Control Board estimated recently there were only 15 "hard-shelled Communists" left there.

Holland's For It, Smathers Against

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The 76-15 roll-call vote by which the Senate Wednesday night passed a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii included:

Democrats for:

Ervin of N.C., Holland of Fla., Johnson of Tex., Jordan of N.C., Kefauver of Tenn., Long of La., Yarborough of Tex.

Republicans for:

Cooper of Ky., Morton of Ky.

Democrats against:

Byrd of Va., Eastland of Miss., Ellender of La., Fulbright of Ark., Hill of Ala., Johnston of S.C., McClellan of Ark., Robertson of Va., Russell of Ga., Smathers of Fla., Sparkman of Ala., Stennis of Miss., Talmadge of Ga., Thurman of S.C.

Not voting or paired, but announced as for passage: Gore (D., Tenn).

Voting for Hawaiian statehood were 30 Republicans and 46 Democrats. One Republican, Sen. John Marshall Butler (R., Md.), joined 14 Southern Democrats in voting against it.

A spokesman from Sen. Smathers' office explained that the junior Florida senator opposes the admission of territories whose boundaries do not touch the continental U.S. "He feels that there would be too many problems in governing such states," the spokesman said.

It's Hard to Keep Pace

U.S. Flag Makers Now in a Tizzy

NEW YORK — (AP) — Senate passage Wednesday night of the Hawaiian statehood bill posed a new problem for the nation's flag manufacturers.

"It's enough to spin you dizzy," said one. "Here we are, just after switching over to a 49-star flag to include Alaska, and now we've got to start thinking in terms of 50 stars. If it ever gets to the point where they want 51 stars, I'm getting out of the business."

After much indecision, a presidential commission early this year approved a 49-star design calling for seven rows of seven stars each. That gave the flag-making industry about 48 hours to get into mass production.

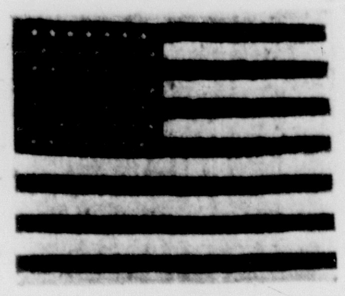
The 49-star flag won't become official, though, until July 4. The law specifies that when a new state is admitted, the revised flag with the extra star can't be flown until the following Independence Day.

Adding to the confusion in flag-making circles is the fact that nobody knows for sure when the 50-star flag will become official, or how the 50 stars will be arranged.

"Will it be July 4, 1959, or July 4, 1960?" one manufacturer asked.

The decision on how the 50-star field would be arranged again rests with the presidential commission.

Digby Chandler, president of Annin & Co., which claims to be the nation's oldest and largest flag manufacturer, has proposed a 50-star design calling for alternate rows of five and six stars each.



The 49er
. . . not official yet

The officially approved 49-star flag has seven rows of seven stars each. Alternate rows are staggered. Chandler's 49-star proposal — five rows of five stars each and four six-star rows, was rejected.

Congressional and White House approval of the Hawaiian statehood bill would be followed by a referendum in Hawaii. Then the presidential flag commission would have to pick a new design. That, flag manufacturers believe, could well postpone the effective date of the 50-star banner until July 4, 1960.

If this reasoning is correct, you'd have at least a full year to fly your 49-star flag before the 50-star flag became official. Actually, you could fly your 49 star flag until it wore out. Any American flag, once officially approved, can be flown as long as the material lasts. From a legal point of view, you could properly display Betsy Ross's 13-star banner.

Hawaii Overjoyed At Senate Action

HONOLULU — (AP) — Hawaii joyously greeted senate passage of the Hawaii statehood bill Wednesday.

"It's wonderful news," exclaimed Acting Gov. Edward E. Johnson upon receiving word by phone from Washington. Gov. William F. Quinn had flown to Washington for the historic occasion.

Johnston proclaimed a two-day holiday to start the moment the House passes the statehood bill.

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin rushed an extra edition and radio stations interrupted programs to broadcast the news.

The word reached Honolulu in midafternoon.

The territory rushed preparations for fireworks and celebrations in anticipation of House passage today. That would complete congressional action toward making Hawaii the 50th state.

About the only thing anyone talked about — in stores, restaurants, offices and on the street—was statehood.

Stocks on the Honolulu Exchange rose as much as four dollars a share and trading was the heaviest in months.

Politicians, businessmen and civic leaders all joined in hailing the whopping Senate passage by a 76 to 15 vote.

There were expressions of gratification, too, from old time residents who saw the overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy and annexation of the territory to the U.S. as the turn of the century.

Neither house of the territorial Legislature — which will be Hawaii's last — was in session. Word was relayed quickly to the legislators by radio and phone.

The U.S. Air Force arranged to sound off sirens at huge Hickam Air Force base and at two other airfields for five minutes immediately after House passage.

The Air Force Band of the Pacific will play for street dancing on the night of House passage and the following day will play at Iolani palace grounds.

From all indications, it will be the most historic event in Hawaii since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, which drew the U.S. into World War II.

60 From North To Arrive Today

Some 60 Northern financiers arrive here today for a red-carpet tour which state and local officials hope will heighten their interest in buying some 25 million dollars worth of bonds to pay for Dade County road projects.

The group is due at Miami International Airport at 5 p.m. from Cape Canaveral, where the Yankee businessmen were taken for a brief tour after visiting St. Petersburg, which is also on the verge of putting road bonds up for sale.

B. R. Fuller Jr., executive director of the Florida Development Commission, said the first-hand inspection by the potential bond-buyers "could result in savings of hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest costs" on the bond sale.

Dade County, backed by the Development Commission and the State Road Board, will put up for sale in April 25 million dollars worth of bonds. Most of the money will be used on the 36th St. Expressway project.

Fuller said he felt "this tour will generate among these investment people a real enthusiasm for Florida."

Both the St. Petersburg and Greater Miami areas, he said, "have so much to offer that we thought these bankers should see them first-hand."

The financiers, most of them from major banks and insurance companies in New York and Chicago, represent "virtually every major institution which buys or sells public securities," Fuller said.

They are being accompanied on the tour by Fuller, Development Commission Chairman Sam T. Dell Jr., Road Board Chairman Joe Grotegut, Road Board Member William Singer of Miami and Development Commission Member R. B. Gautier of Miami.

The group arrived at St. Petersburg Tuesday night and spent Wednesday being briefed by Pinellas County officials on a 16.8 million dollar bond issue to finance the Pinellas Bayway. The group was to fly to Cape Canaveral today after a tour of St. Petersburg.

The bankers will look over airport facilities after arriving here, then go by limousine to the Fontainebleau Hotel for a reception and dinner.

The group will be briefed on the 36th St. project on Friday by Singer and other road engineers and officials. On Saturday engineers will take the bond-buyers on an inspection trip.

The visit will end at a luncheon Saturday with an address by McGregor Smith, board chairman of Florida Power and Light Co., and a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Industry.

Airplane Crash 'A False Alarm'

LONDON — (AP) — Search for a plane reported down in the English Channel was called off Wednesday night and the Admiralty termed the crash report a false alarm.

Residents on the Isle of Wight off the southern English coast, had reported seeing a distressed plane flying over with lights blinking. The island's radio station broadcast a distress call saying the plane was an American military craft and that it had plunged into the sea.

National Summary

Snow is expected to spread into the central Appalachians and into New England Thursday while rain works into the Atlantic states accompanied by thunderstorms in the southeast. Clearing and cooler weather is anticipated in the mid Atlantic states and Carolinas, although showers are likely in Florida.

Snow flurries will be scattered from the Great Lakes region into the Appalachians and may reach as far south as Tennessee.

Snow flurries were noted through the Rockies, central and northern plains, and in the upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region Wesneday but cool dry weather extended over most of the west early in the day.

Some rain began to show up in the Pacific northwest in advance of another surge of moist air from the ocean.

Precipitation is forecast to spread inland with snow in the mountains as far east as Idaho and Montana, while scattered snows advance across the northern Rockies to the Dakotas on Thursday.

Showery conditions will replace steady rains in Washington and Oregon and a few showers may cross the border into norther California.

Congress Watchdog Group Probes Air Agency 'Gag'

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

MOSS

WASHINGTON – The Congressional Watchdog Committee on Governmental Secrecy is investigating suppression by the Federal Aviation Agency of information sought in connection with the Feb. 3 crash of an American Airlines' Electra.

This was revealed Wednesday in a letter from Rep. John Moss (D., Calif.), chairman of the House government information subcommittee, to E. R. Quesada, head of the FAA.

Moss in his letter referred to stories in The Miami Herald disclosing that the FAA has suppressed reports on difficulties encountered with a new type altitude measuring instrument installed in Lockheed Electras and Boeing 707 jets.

Moss asked Quesada to spell out the FAA's legal authority, if any, "for restricting access to the reports."

He disclosed that committee investigators have made a preliminary check, but did not discuss their findings.

The Herald reported last month that the FAA received complaints on the new altimeter from pilots prior to the American crash.

The new turbo-prop airliner, which fell into New York's East River while attempting to land at LaGuardia Airport, had the new altimeter. Sixty-five persons were killed in the crash.

The surviving flight engineer said after the crash that "there might have been a mix-up with those new altimeters.

". . . There was some difficulty reading them."

Some pilots complained to the FAA about a "sticking needle" in the altimeter.

After first imposing stiffer landing restrictions on the Electras, the FAA announced the air carriers could resume normal operations with the planes if the new altimeters were replaced with a type now widely in use.

The FAA on several occasions refused to disclose the nature or number of complaints.

Officials also refused to comment on why the FAA did not act on reports of operating difficulties with the new altimeter before the accident.

Batistan Again Asks Asylum

The former chief of Batista's national police, armed with a U.S. federal court order, returned here Wednesday from the Dominican Republic to try again for political asylum in the U.S.

The return of Orlando Eleno Piedra was revealed when Immigration Service authorities asked a Miami federal judge to keep hands off until they can hold a special inquiry into his admissibility.

Piedra first arrived in Miami on Jan. 24 after his flight from Cuba.

He charged in a suit in U.S. District Court here that Immigration agents threatened him, so he went to Puerto Rico and the Dominican Republic.

Judge Emett C. Choate then held Piedra could come back to appear at a court hearing on whether Immigration authorities could bar his entry.

In a new petition filed Wednesday, Joseph Savoretti, district Immigration director, said that since an Immigration agent held that Piedra was not admissible, it was necessary to hold a special inquiry to decide his status.

He asked the court to lift its temporary restraining order against the Immigration Service, arguing that Tiedra is entitled to a review by the court after Immigration completes its special inquiry.

Grove Hit By Vandals

Vandals did an estimated $2,000 damage to a South Dade mango grove, the owner discovered Wednesday.

Michael Rycheck told Metro police that hundreds of budding young trees were destroyed in his grove at Redland Rd. and Lucille Dr. sometime since Saturday.

"I don't know who would do this to me," he said. "I haven't an enemy in the world."

Last week four juveniles were put on probation after damaging farm equipment in South Dade, ruining a tomato crop and causing 200 persons to lose a day's work.

$2,000 Grabbed

It wasn't exactly a loan the man wanted, folks at the Sun Finance Co., 723 NW 62nd St., discovered Wednesday. Pulling a gun, the bandit demanded cash, and fled with $2,000.

Skipjack Fastest in World, Navy Says

Skipper Claims 'World's Best Sub'

GROTON, Conn. — (AP) — The skipper of America's speediest submarine — the Skipjack — said Wednesday that it is the greatest in the world.

"The Skipjack will have no trouble in holding every submarine record and we won't even have to be good to do it," said Cmdr. W. W. Behrens Jr., of Harrisburg, Pa.

The 36-year-old skipper, commenting on the nuclear-powered vessel's first builders trials, said: "We won't be out to set any records, just to do our job. But we probably will be breaking records without even trying."

"Fabulous — absolutely fabulous" was the way he described the Skipjack's performance in the two-day trials which ended Tuesday.

The Navy has described the 252-foot-long, blimp-shaped ship — of radically new design — as the world's fastest but has said only that it will exceed 20 knots. It is an attack-type submarine.

But, despite the advance billings, Behrens said the ship performed so well that "we could hardly believe it ourselves. Everything went so magnificently smooth."

The Atomic Energy Commission announced in Washington that the transfer to Britain of a complete "Skipjack-type" propulsion plant, together with spare parts, design information and related secret data, has been authorized by the government.

He Looked The Leader

The Eisenhower Image

AT HIS press conference yesterday President Eisenhower struck what seems to us to be a most reasonable balance in official attitude toward the Berlin crisis.

You might call it, almost, "How to think about war and peace."

Mr. Eisenhower emphasized these points:

We have no intention of getting into a ground war in Europe.

While the American people are soberly aware of the danger, there's no need to rush for the panic button.

Nuclear warfare wouldn't "free" anything, but it might fry everybody.

We'll stand where we are on our rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

The free world will reach its tactical decisions by the process of measured debate and consultation.

The military establishment is ample, and anyone who wants to beef it up beyond presidential prescription should have the courage to advocate higher taxes.

IT IS OFTEN said that Dwight D. Eisenhower projects an image—sometimes a wan father image, sometimes a befuddled one, and sometimes the image of resolute leadership.

The latter image was the one he projected yesterday, and we like it. It is one of strength, sobriety and certainty that a correct and honorable course has been charted for the nation.

Apparently the American people find this image to their liking. It has been prominent for some weeks past. The latest Gallup Poll, which shows the President near the heights of his popularity, attests to this public attitude.

When he really leads, Ike may expect a following.

He deserved one from yesterday's performance, played over the heads of critics (who have often been right—but not now) to the people themselves.

Protection Spread Thin

TOO LONG have defense attorneys been able to move successfully to suppress evidence in gambling and vice cases because of flaws in the arrest.

It is difficult to go along with the theory that because a T isn't crossed or an I dotted in a search warrant it must be presumed that the operation found by raiders just didn't exist.

But that has been the situation in Florida and now the state's police chiefs want to do something about it.

They have proposed legislation to make the gathering and presentation of evidence in lottery, bookmaking and narcotics cases easier. Evidence would be admissible no matter how obtained.

Such a bill deserves mature consideration. When written, it should include safeguards to prevent abuses. One the police chiefs recommend would be dismissal of any officer using brutality, duress or oppression in search and seizure.

Protection for the innocent should be foremost. But the present system of exclusion spreads that protection too far when it gives immunity to the guilty, even when caught red-handed. The public interest is missing in such a doctrine.

Here We Are, Look Us Over

THE FIVE DOZEN investment bankers arriving today probably aren't strangers to Greater Miami. Likely most of them have been here before on pleasure trips.

If so, they know from personal experience what this community offers tourists. Indeed, they may have the illusion there's nothing else here.

Their three days this week should be different. This time, we hope, they will see what makes this city a great metropolitan area 365 days a year, 366 in Leap Years.

We volunteer this little check-list to these keen-eyed financiers and anyone else appraising Greater Miami as an investment:

THE HOMES, two-thirds owner-occupied, of 900,000 year-round residents, soon to be a million and more.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS where 150,000 pupils are so well taught that Miami's educational level ranks in the top 18 per cent of the nation's metropolitan areas.

FACTORIES, mostly small and totally unlike the grimy monsters brought to mind by the word "factories," where 100,000 men and women earn their livelihood.

FARMS and groves covering nearly 200,000 acres which yield more than $31 million in winter vegetables, tropical fruits and dairy products annually.

THE 375,000 passenger cars which roost by night at almost 85 per cent of the households, testifying to the average family buying power of $6,300 a year.

We're sorry the 60 investment bankers won't be with us for the whole weekend. Then they could also see our 337 churches crowded, and families picknicking, swimming or boating at our parks and beaches—all in the clean air and bright sunlight which make even business a pleasure here.

Can't SAC Find Room?

IT'S HARD to see why the Strategic Air Command's Homestead base can't make room for "Weekend Warriors" here.

As explained by an Air Force spokesman in Washington, SAC doesn't want them "cluttering up its facilities when at any moment it may have to scramble and put everything into the air inside of 10 minutes."

In time of war, perhaps, that objection might be unanswerable. But then everything would be different. Even Miami International Airport probably would be a military field.

What we have now is peace-time, after a fashion. The civilian airport is seriously cluttered up by the 60,000 landings and takeoffs made yearly by Air Force reservists there.

Surely the Air Force, through SAC or otherwise, can find a place where the reservists' flying won't endanger civilian aircraft and their passengers.

Raiford's Pains Are Growing Ones

FLORIDA'S main prison at Raiford is in a dilemma.

It is bulging with 2,500 inmates, twice as many as it should have. The inflow exceeds the outgo by 275 a month.

To make space for new arrivals, prison officials must move some convicts to road camps and other detention centers with fewer walls and iron bars. It follows that prisoners sent elsewhere are those considered most trustworthy. Thus Raiford is left overflowing with inmates of a type so tough that "even the older prisoners are starting to complain about the poor class of criminals we are getting," according to Warden DeWitt Sinclair.

The cure? New, better and larger prison buildings, of course.

THE 1957 Legislature appropriated $7½ million for that purpose, but a shortage of state revenue pared the sum to $383,000. That money is being spent to prepare the site for a new building.

In an effort to spread the $383,000 as far as possible, prison labor has been used on the site work. Now the state cabinet is being urged to stop that, and, instead, hire outside artisans.

Such a change, we fear, would worsen Raiford's discipline problem. Tractable prisoners can become unruly if kept in idleness. Those now at Raiford, if the warden's description is accurate, need plenty of hard work.

No immediate relief is in sight for the overcrowding problem at Raiford. It demands exceptionally sound penal administration if Florida is to avoid disorder among prisoners until proper buildings can be built to house them.

A Variety Of Talent

TWO AWARDS invite attention to the variety of talent among individuals living in Greater Miami.

At the Stephen Foster Memorial in White Springs, Fla., 20 young Florida girls engaged in a singing competition for the title of "Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair." The winner: Miss Veronica McCormick of Miami.

In Washington, D.C., the Department of Commerce awarded gold medals to 12 persons for "outstanding contributions to the public service, the nation or humanity." One of this honored dozen is Gordon Dunn, chief forecaster of the Miami Weather Bureau. His medal salutes his good work in issuing hurricane warnings.

Two skills more dissimilar than singing and weather forecasting would be hard to find. Yet outstanding exemplars of both are among the 900,000 people living here. Their fellow citizens can be proud of them and of the many other Miamians who excel in their chosen fields of endeavor.

Happy Hears The Call

ONE OF OUR favorite characters among the old pols is Gov. A.B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky, who has put in an appearance hereabouts.

Now in the second of two terms as Kentucky's governor, Happy hears a demand from the Blue Grassroots that he run again for the Democratic presidential nomination. You'll remember that in 1956 Happy had 36½ votes, 30 of them from Kentucky, on the first and only ballot.

This was heady stuff. So, by popular request, Happy is going before the 1960 convention with the boast, among others, that "My state is the only one in the nation which enjoyed a general tax cut last year."

Kentucky we adore and economy we esteem, but we'll have to concede that Happy's task was somewhat lightened by the requirements of the commonwealth.

According to Census Bureau figures released last month for fiscal 1957, Kentucky spent less on education than any state save Arkansas and Mississippi. It ranked 43rd in highways and 47th in health and hospitals. All of this is figured on a per capita basis, and one might surmise that the capitas as represented by motorists, school children and sick folk did not do so well as those who got tax rebates.

Editorial Background -- Desalination Experiment

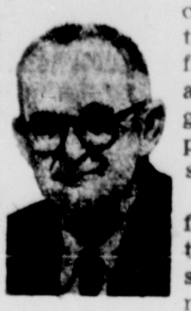
Key West Logical For Seawater Plant

(Last of a Series)

By BERT COLLIER

Herald Editorial Writer

WITH fresh water supply for drinking and industrial uses growing to a problem of serious proportions, the United States government will set up five experimental plants for conversion of seawater.



Collier

One of those laboratories will be in Florida. Among prospective locations is Key West, which gets its water through a 130-mile pipeline from wells below Florida City.

Key West's bid is based on the fact that the local need is so acute. While this is not a primary consideration in plant location, it is given some weight. An additional favorable factor is that the Navy has land and equipment available, representing a substantial saving for the taxpayer.

PRELIMINARY experiments have developed five methods of converting seawater. These include thermal and solar distillation, separation of salt by freezing and the use of filters and chemicals. Spurred by the great need, scientists are experimenting along every possible line.

Seawater has been successfully converted by ultrasonics, the fluid being bombarded with sound waves pitched beyond man's hearing capacity. Other processes under study include osmosis and nuclear fission.

Much experimentation in this field has been done at the Marine Laboratory of the University of Miami.

If Key West is selected, it will probably be for use of the system of solar evaporation. The sun shines warmer and brighter in Key West than anywhere else on the U. S. coastline. There is an unlimited supply of sunpower.

THE SAME water shortage that plagues the Florida Keys prevails over much of the Caribbean. Rainfall is still the major source of drinking water on many islands though the limitless sea surrounds them.

Dutch-owned Aruba presently has the largest seawater conversion plant in the world. It produces 2.7 million gallons daily — well above the island's needs, and has banished forever the fear of a water famine. The government has also discovered a valuable by-product of recovered minerals.

About three per cent of the bulk is mineral, chiefly salt, bromines and magnesia. The water also includes gold and other precious metals but they are much scarcer and more difficult to recover. The Aruba plant also produces electric power.

Bermuda, another island dependent on rainwater, has a distillation plant that produces 15,000 gallons daily. While about it, the plant heats water for a hotel.

EVER SINCE man took to the sea, he has speculated about making saltwater fit to drink. Much conjecture about the matter appears in old literature. Thomas Jefferson, whose interests ranged from violin playing to agricultural reform, wrote a paper on the subject and asked American scientists to search for an answer.

A physicist of the day, working with the University of Pennsylvania, converted 24 pints of sea water into 22 pints of fresh water by use of "a mixture the composition of which he did not explain," and an apparatus consisting of "a pot, a small caboose, with a tin cap and a straight tube of tin."

ALL THIS is a far cry from the elaborate plant that will be built at Key West if approval is given by the federal authorities. It will be a highly efficient but costly sun engine evaporating the water through alternate stages of absorbtion and condensation.

But one objective of the plant is to bring down costs. The experience of Aruba demonstrates that costs go down as production increases.

Thus, if Key West gets the plant it should have, and the Keys continue to grow as they have in the past few years, Monroe Countians might soon be drinking seawater as wholesome and palatable — and cheaper — than their present supply.

Behind The Front Page

Anti-Metro Moves Reversing Field

By JOHN PENNEKAMP

INSIDE METRO:

Metro's policy makers (commissioners) and its administrators (management) are finding it hard to face up to and to overcome the "line" which they have been sold in recent months by the anti-Metro crowd.

In lesser company it would be said that they have been considerably brainwashed.

The anti-Metro program, defeated when the voters approved the amendment and the charter and turned down the autonomy proposal then was shifted to a "cooperation" theme.

Pennekamp

This was and is being subtly done by suggesting that the communities, especially Miami, reach out and absorb the functions which the voters expected Metro to take on and which it it has been distressingly slow getting around to.

Thus, for instance, instead of the county taking over the water distribution system—one of the area's most pressing problems because of the number of small companies—it has been proposed that Miami do so.

The Miami Water Department is a strong, proven organization. It could readily absorb the smaller companies and work out the difficulties under Metro's charter.

To assign the task to the city is a surrender that will only complicate the situation.

ANOTHER INSTANCE:

Not too long ago Metro took over Miami's traffic engineering personnel.

The courts have held that Metro can equip itself to, and is authorized to take over county-wide traffic control.

In the circumstances there is no need for Miami to continue its far flung traffic department on other than a stand-by basis, if that.

But, on the city's employment charts all the vacancies that developed when the county took over are waiting to be filled!

Thus, instead of the absorption which the voters looked for under Metro, we're about to witness more duplication than before, with the Metro traffic department expanding and the city's being maintained.

SIMILAR situations are developing in other areas where the voters are looking for relief from duplication, improved efficiency and more economical government.

In crime detection and communications, for instance; also in sewage disposal.

As the communities extend their activities while Metro holds back, or yields to the cooperation line, it plays directly in the hands of the anti-Metro die hards.

And as a by-product it leaves Metro-loyal city and county employes confused into complaining inefficiency.

ALMOST AS SOON as City Hall came to a realization that the voters meant to give Metro a chance to work it attempted to "unload" its publicity department on the county.

The publicity department is one of the city's most efficient operations, and City of Miami taxpayers put up something like $450,000 in special assessments a year to maintain it.

Metro at that time was seeing its purposes a little more clearly than it does now. It turned down the city's "generous" offer because City Hall made no move to provide the county with any of the $450,000.

More recently City Hall has come up with a new offer. It would like to make the publicity department's work county-wide, which is a good idea, entirely in line with Metro's purposes.

But, instead of placing the department under Metro, it now wants to keep it in the city with Metro making a contribution to the city of something like $100,000 a year to finance the expansion.

Of course, it should be just the other way, with Metro taking over the function and the city as well as the county supporting it.

But, as the saying goes, we're getting the cart before the horse here as in other instances.

It's interesting, and tragic, to watch the anti-Metro forces trying to reverse the field and seemingly coming closer to doing so all the time.

A Salute To The Coast Guard

Editor The Herald: From a dozen years of first-hand observation, I know the Coast Guard in this area does an outstanding job.

When Dr. Matthew Larkin's cruiser sprung planks and started to go down off Bimini, the Coast Guard Air-Sea Rescue team located her and saved the lives of all aboard.

When the Lois T hit a reef in the Bahamas, the team spotted the wreck and saved the lives of all aboard.

I was aboard Malabar XIII when she went aground in January and the Coast Guard responded promptly.

When Gar Wood's catamaran broke up some years ago in the Gulf Stream, all aboard were saved under very adverse conditions.

In 1955, when a severe line squall overturned 16 boats in Biscayne Bay, the Coast Guard snapped into action and there was no loss of life.

Associates who do considerable sailing in the ocean and the bay have dozens of similar stories of how well the Coast Guard functions — efficiently and courteously day after day.

Let's give praise where praise is due: the Coast Guard is doing a wonderful job here.

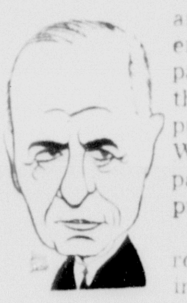
Congressional Probe Of Itself Overdue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Integrity transcends every other issue with the American people — they resent any misuse of their money by public officials and usually defeat at the polls any candidate who is mixed up with what they believe to be a public scandal.



Lawrence

Recently the Democratic Party, which is in control of Congress, got a black eye with the American people. Stories telling how newly elected members of Congress put their relatives on the public payroll, irrespective of their qualifications, were spread on many front pages from coast to coast. One member rented the front porch of his own house back home and charged the government for it.

This same Democratic majority in Congress frowned on Sherman Adams because he accepted a gift of hotel lodgings and a vicuna coat.

But today it is the people's money which is being misused, and, from all appearances, Congress isn't going to do anything about it.

THERE ARE abuses which approach scandal in the present system. A member of Congress can hire any of his constituents as temporary aides for $60 or $75 a month for the period just before election. This comes out of his office allowance for personnel based on the population of his district or state. This means that some members could put on as many as 150 personal workers at government expense during a campaign. How many members did this in the last campaign? The public has a right to know. Wasn't this, after all, a campaign contribution made with public money?

Putting relatives on the payroll is an old custom. In some instances the employes have been qualified, as in the case of wives who had previously served in a secretarial capacity. But who is to be the judge? Who represents the public interest in deciding those cases on their merits?

Should any member put his son or daughter on the payroll while such persons are students attending school and when they obviously cannot give their whole time to the job? Would the people of the state or district say no other person was as well qualified for the post?

AN INQUIRY by Congress into its own household affairs has long been overdue. Unless soon begun, the cry will become nation-wide that people in glass houses shouldn't throw stones, and Congress will be handicapped as it faces its duty to investigate any "conflict of interest" cases happening outside as well as inside congressional offices.

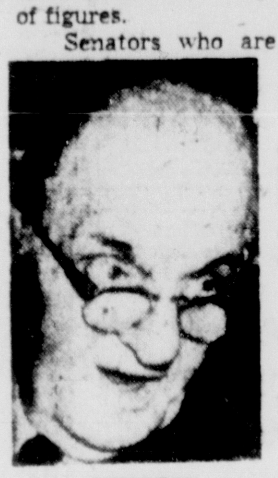
Washington Merry-Go-Round

Congressional Chiefs Ask If Military Cut Wise Now

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Military briefing sessions at the White House sometimes can be boring. Military experts stand in front of charts with pointers in hand and rattle off long sets of figures.

Senators who are invited by the President to attend, listen politely but not always attentively.



VINSON

Last week, as Allen Dulles, brother of the ill secretary of state, and head of Central Intelligence, gave the figures of Russian Military strength around Berlin, there was no-wool-gathering.

Congressional leaders were alert and worried.

Against 175 total divisions in the Red army, the United States has a total 17 divisions.

Against about 330,000 crack Soviet troops in East Germany adjacent to Berlin, the United States has 220,000 men in West Germany, of which 75,000 are in fighting units.

The others are behind desks, engaged in transport, supplies, training.

ALLEN DULLES DID NOT go into details regarding the strength of American forces in Berlin. He did not have to.

Several of the congressional leaders who had come to the White House are experts on these figures.

Among them sat Carl Vinson who owns a 1,000-acre farm outside Milledgeville, Ga., where the state insane asylum is located.

When Congressman Vinson is at home he is out working in his peanut and cotton fields.

But in Washington he concentrates on the House Armed Services Committee of which he is chairman.

Vinson came to Congress in 1914, the year the Kaiser declared war on the Allies, and he has sat in Congress while the United States got embroiled in two world wars plus another in Korea.

He doesn't want to see war come again.

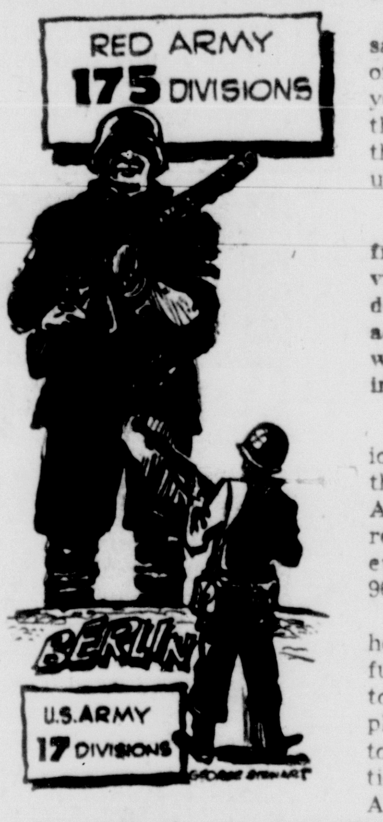
VINSON LISTENED carefully as President Eisenhower solemnly declared that the possibility of war over Berlin was very real, that it couldn't be taken lightly, there must be no mismanagement by the Western powers.

However, the President believed war could be avoided if we were wise and steadfast.

"Do you think, in view of this danger," asked the venerable congressman from Georgia, "that you are wise in proceeding with the presently planned cuts in our military forces?"

The President replied that he had taken this into careful consideration, and that the presently proposed military budget should stand.



Sen. Fulbright of Arkansas, who when in the House of Representatives almost 20 years ago first introduced the resolution which led to the United Nations, picked up the ball.

"Do you think it is wise from a psychological point of view," he asked the President, "to cut our forces just as we have told the Russians we will not budge one inch in Berlin?"

Fulbright called attention especially to the fact that on June 30 the U.S. Army will be automatically reduced under the new budget from its present size of 900,000 men.

Again the President said he had considered this carefully, that he did not want to alarm the American people, that he was not going to rush into partial mobilization or the evacuation of Americans from Berlin.

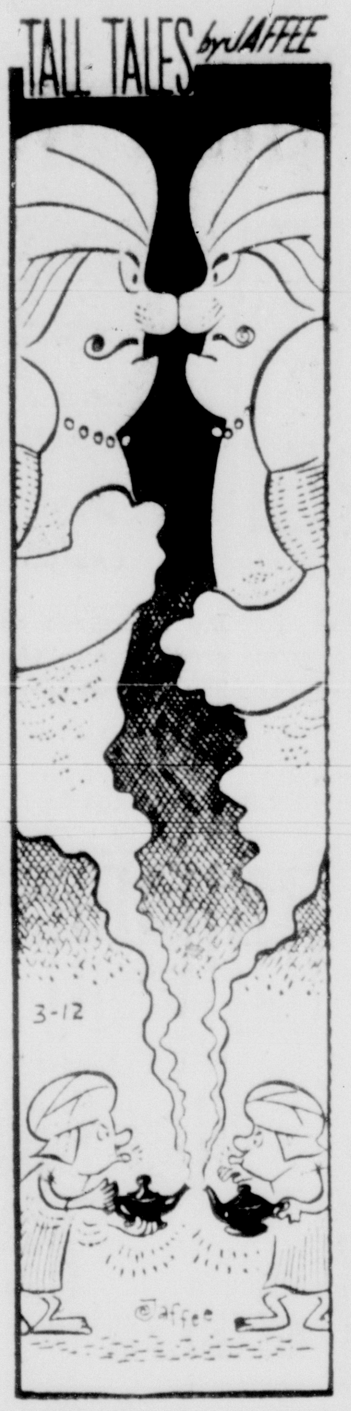
Especially, he was not going to fall into the Russian trap and spend the United States into bankruptcy. That, he said, is just what the Kremlin wants us to do.

Several of the congressional leaders had just read a Saturday Evening Post article by the former secretary of state, Dean Acheson, in which he warned of the seriousness of the Berlin crisis, and expressed the belief that the Russians would think twice about precipitating a military showdown—if the United States was well prepared.

Having this in mind, they argued at some length with the President, urging more advance preparedness. But the president stood his ground.

NOTE—Shortly before the White House meeting with congressional leaders, the joint chiefs of staff had urged Ike to order a partial mobilization of the Army and the Air Force.

They expressed the view that the Soviet challenge to Berlin is the gravest threat to American security since the Korean War and that war is a definite possibility.



Debate Gets Out Of Hand

By JAMES RESTON
The New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The debate on Berlin is getting out of hand.

What started as a discussion of political rights and objectives, preliminary to a series of East-West negotiations, has suddenly degenerated into an angry argument over military strategy in which both sides are now calling for peace and threatening war.

In the imprecise give-and-take of Wednesdays' presidential news conference, President Eisenhower said flatly "we are certainly not going to fight a ground war in Europe," and left the impression that the West's reaction to a blockade of Berlin would be atomic retaliation.

No doubt this would be true if the Red army moved into West Berlin or advanced across the Iron Curtain into West Germany. The most likely prospect, however, is not that the Red army would get involved in the exercise at all, but that the East German Communists, at worst, would interfere with the West's supply convoys to West Berlin.

On May 27, the Soviets will no doubt make a separate peace treaty with the East Germans and turn over to them the task of checking the West's Berlin convoys. It does not follow that East Germans will halt or even harass the convoys, and even if they do, it is not to be assumed that Washington would resort to extreme military measures, even if the other Western Allies agreed (which they probably wouldn't).

What the President's critics are saying is that the President's policy of cutting the ground forces of the Army and the Marines might mislead the Soviets and force the U.S. to choose between total war, non-resistance, or ineffective resistance.

"Why in the world would we dream of fighting a ground war?" the President asked.

Because, his critics reply, a limited ground action would at least give some time for common sense to prevail and negotiations to start, whereas a nuclear war would almost certainly devastate half the world.

Last Word

By DR. BERGEN EVANS

QUESTION: I have often wondered about the word andiron. Was it once something - else - and - iron?— K. E. R.

ANSWER: All we know for sure is that it has nothing to do with and or iron. A century or two ago some scholars thought it was a corruption of handiron, but no one believes this now.

The word was in the language with its present meaning and almost its present spelling as early as 1300. We know that before that it was aundire and that it came from the Old French andier which came from the Latin andena.

People don't like to use a word that doesn't "make sense," and this word was made to make a certain sense by changing the last element to iron. It was helped along, no doubt, by the fact that there was also an Anglo-Saxon word brand-iron which meant the same thing: the iron which supports the brand or burning log.

What is astonishing is that this perfectly sensible, meaningful Anglo-Saxon word — brand-iron — should have been lost and the obscure, corrupted Anglo-French andiron kept. Maybe the Norman overlords had all the warm fires.

Nyasaland— A Brushfire

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NAIROBI, KENYA—A basic mistake in the quelling of Mau Mau was Britain's decision to take what was, six years ago, a purely local problem out of the hands of the Kenya settlers and the solid paramount chiefs like the murdered Hinga and to turn it into a war which was years in the finishing and which inspired the rest of the colored world to riot.

The Mau Mau uprising, which started out as a brush fire, became a roaring conflagration that put violent ideas into irresponsibles all over the world.

The continuation of heavy trouble in Cyprus, the loss of Aden and the sudden flare-ups all over the African continent can be in a large measure attributable to the heavy-footed handling of Mau Mau, which really was a police action at the beginning and not the full-scale war which it became.

JOMO KENYATTA became a martyr instead of merely a Communist-led agitator who was willing to sacrifice his own people to hired thugs and assassins.

What Dr. Hastings Banda attempted in Nyasaland, the recently discovered plot in which the natives were to rise as one and strike down all the white settlers, was nothing more than a rewrite of Kenyatta's now-infamous night of the long knives.

This night was named in honor of the Russian-taught Kikuyus, who organized bands that were to rise and wipe out every white man, woman and child.

It failed simply because the bands of thugs that were hid out in the Aberdare Mountains got itchy and bored in the cold and wet of the high hills, and started raiding on their own.

Then the terrorists took the show away from Jomo and the noble effort became nothing more than a gaudy showcase of thugs like Generals China, Burma and the late, hanged superman, the self-styied Field Marshall Sir Kimathi, who was considerably more beast than man when they ran him to earth.

THE NYASALAND pattern was similar, with an eager martyr in Dr. Banda, so long an expatriate African that he no longer speaks his mother tongue.

Except in color, Banda is no more a representative African than I am, and I have certainly spent more adult years here than he.

A heavy spark of intelligence has just been shown by the Central African Federation's prime minister, Sir Roy Welensky, who has refused military assistance from Great Britain, considering the Nyasaland uprisings a local problem of Nyasaland and the Rodesias, to be handled locally, Dr. Band and all.

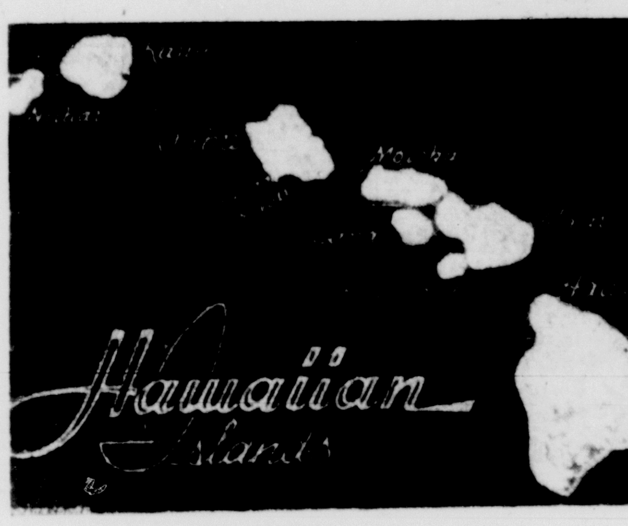
Said Sir Roy: "if we are not capable of dealing with what has happened in Nyasaland, the federation government will have failed in its responsibility."

So far Nyasaland is brush fire.

At least to date it has been handled as one, and at least the trees are still standing.

Don't Believe the Travel Folders --

What Hawaii's Really Like



These 8 Islands Will Comprise State
. . . although chain stretches 1,300 more miles

Hawaii is no enchanted tropical paradise.

Travel folders tend to picture it as a wonderland of sarong-clad maidens who reside in grass shacks and dive for pearls in shimmering palm-shaded lagoons.

But it is much like Florida —or scores of other states which beat it into the union.

"We watch the same movies you do, speak the same language, laugh at the same jokes, push wire baskets around the supermarkets, are subjected to same horrid TV commercials," a Honolulu newspaperman recently wrote.

The population is 554,000, larger than Delaware, Nevada, Vermont, Wyoming or its 49th sister, Alaska.

HONOLULU ALONE is bigger in population than Alaska and Nevada combined. It is larger than the biggest city in 31 states.

Honolulu's average annual temperature is 74.6 degrees, almost identical to Miami's average last month. Rainfall is 28.60 inches.

But four miles away at a mountain the average is an incredible 155.02 inches. The highest point is Mauna Kea, an extinct volcano 13,782 feet high. Its twin, Mauno Loa, is the world's largest active volcano and compares favorably with Miami's glass-bottomed boats as a tourist attraction.

THE TOTAL AREA of the eight main islands is 6,435 miles. That is a mere one-ninth the size of Wisconsin if you look at it that way.

But it is also larger than the states of Connecticut, Delaware and Rhode Island. The actual chain of small islands stretches 1,500 miles northwest and includes Midway. But this chain is not in the state of Hawaii.

Life on the islands dates back to at least 800 A.D. when Polynesians migrated there. James Cook landed there in 1778, the first Englishman to set foot thereabouts.

Hawaiians have been clamoring to make their islands a state since 1900. Four times since 1947 the House passed statehood legislation which died in the Senate.

Even before Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, Hawaii was the nerve center of America's far-flung Pacific defense.

ITS ECONOMY, now as centuries ago, is mostly agricultural.

Sugar and pineapples are the islands' two key industries. Shipping and tourism, however, are increasing in importance.

The racial breakdown is: Japanese 37 per cent, Caucasians 23 per cent, Hawaiians 17 per cent, Filipinos 12 per cent, and other, 11 per cent.

And like Florida, the tourist travel folders don't tell everything — the crime rate, traffic deaths, juvenile delinquency, divorce rate, political graft, labor troubles.

It is pretty much like a lot of other places.

Newspaperman Chosen

Ambassador to Israel Long Interested in Foreign Field

By JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK — (AP) — Ogden R. Reid, nominated as ambassador to Israel, is a member of a family whose name has been synonomous with The New York Herald Tribune for more than 85 years.

The 33-year-old Reid, "Brownie" to his friends, was its president and editor until last Dec. 30.

And now, as he heads toward a diplomatic post, another ambassador is slated to run the newspaper.

John Hay Whitney, ambassador to London, acquired control last August and said then he intended to devote his major attention to it when his London appointment terminates.

REID, AS BEFITTING a member of a journalistic family, was trained in virtually every phase of newspaper work.

He was variously a mail room clerk, photographer, reporter, columnist and employe of the accounting, syndicate, circulation and advertising departments.

As a newspaperman he took a strong interest in national affairs, as reflected in several books of which he was co-author.

They included "How Strong Is America," "Defense" and "The Score on National Threat of Red Sabotage."

OGDEN REID

The foreign field is not new to him. Before becoming president and editor of The Herald Tribune, he headed the newspaper's Paris edition and in World War II served overseas as a captain in the 11th Airborne Division.

While switching from active newspapering to diplomacy, Reid and his brother, Whitelaw, still are members of The Herald Tribune board and the family still holds a substantial interest in the newspaper.

Reid, an impeccable dresser, a Yale graduate and an independent Republican in the tradition of the family and the newspaper, lives with his wife and two sons in Purchase, N.Y., a short drive north of New York city.

His selection for the Israeli post as successor to Edward B. Lawson had been rumored for several weeks prior to the nomination by President Eisenhower.

He became president and editor of The Herald Tribune in 1955, succeeding his brother, Whitelaw.

Earlier, Reid's grandfather, Whitelaw Reid; his father, Ogden, and his mother, Mrs. Helen Rogers Reid, served in top positions on the newspaper.

What's Ahead?

By FRED SPARKS

Let's face it. It seems that the racketeer, the pay-off boy, the fat fraud, the pudgy political sneak is bigger than America. We're crime ridden, decadent, selfish, soft, cowardly, a collection of suckers.

Each day they parade before us—the Fifth Amendment swine—before the Senate's committee investigating labor unions. They're exhibited like germs under a microscope. But somebody does something about germs. Nobody really does anything about the musclemen, the chiselers in our midst.

In days gone there was at least the indignant decency of a posse, even a mob of citizens, pushed too far, with noosed rope and convenient tree.

Now the human germs surround themselves with high-priced lawyers, mouthpieces, shysters. Appeal. Appeal. Appeal. To this court, to that court. Years pass. Fine print and legal shenanigans.

Isn't this a loud warning of America's decline and fall?

Herald's Funnies Will Be Funnier When Flibbertys Arrive Sunday

So you think the funny papers aren't funny enough? Well, the Flibbertys are coming Sunday to prove you're wrong.

Meek, mellowed and muddled Stan Flibberty leads his family onto The Herald's famed comic pages Sunday and all four of his wage-eaters will be close behind.

There's Fran, his frau, who took him for better or worse and decided to make him better. Sharp-eyed and sharp-tongued, she's been at work on the project for a few years and feels there is still much to be done.

You'll see her at work Sunday with Wendy the teenage daughter, and Butch, the Flibbertys' pre-teen son.

Wendy finds life full of "thrills and throbs," and only one thing can depress her—the Flibberty family.

Butch is a whiz-bang boy who acquired his mother's knack for needling, and his father's knack of getting into trouble.

And just to keep things from ever getting dull, there's a small miss-ile of dynamite named Sis. As the youngest member of the Flibberty clan she's working all the time to keep from being pushed around—and pushes well in return.

Stan, Fran, Wendy, Butch and Sis are all lined up for some enjoyable antics in The Herald every Sunday.

And the tail that's wagging the whole family belongs to a pooch named Geddown. He was supposed to have a real moniker, but since he joined the household everyone yelled, "Geddown," and the name stuck.

You'll have to agree it's a funny family in more ways than one when you see them each Sunday in

The Miami Herald

Terrorist Is Killed

The New York Times Service

KUALA LUMPUR — Police disclosed that Siu Mah, No. 1 terrorist in Malaya, has been killed after a brief engagement in the jungles of Perak State.

Siu Mah was state secretary of Perak, and since 1956 had been empowered to issue Malayan Communist Party directives subject to certain conditions on behalf of Chin Peng, the secretary general, who is now in a haven of South Siam.

Siu Mah was also leader of the terrorist group that ambushed and killed Sir Henry Gurney, then high commissioner of Malaya, as he was driving up a winding road to a hill resort in Pahang in October, 1956.

Surprise! — Pie in Purse

KANSAS CITY —(UP)— The woman with the big handbag had a record as a shoplifter, so two detectives took her to headquarters.

At the booking desk, Patrolman Emmett Foot followed the usual procedure of upending the handbag to dump its contents for inventory.

Splash! Splatter! Consternation.

There was only one item in the bag—a soft, gooey raisin pie.

The woman, Katherine Tolefree, 22, was held for investigation.

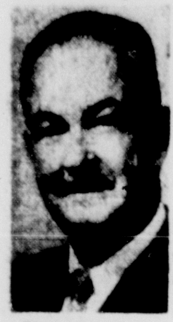
County May Be Isolated in War, CD Chief Says

By GREG TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer



Tarkington

FORT LAUDERDALE — Each county must regard itself as a potential island, surrounded by bands of radiation, if Civil Defense is to work, CD chiefs from 13 South Florida counties were told here Wednesday.

"Plans must be flexible. Radiation bands could separate areas of the state. This potential isolation means each county must be a self-sustaining operation, but still plan to work with other counties in the area," Col. H. W. Tarkington, state CD director, said.

But, he said, Civil Defense needs money if plans for area survival are to become a reality.

"We have a preliminary survival plan for the area. Our problem is to up-date it and implement it," said Tarkington.

Dade County Sheriff Tom Kelly estimated $5,000 is needed for this. He said about $3,000 has been committed in Dade. The other counties were asked to raise the rest.

Tarkington said he would figure county shares on a population basis. He told the CD representatives to ask for funds from their local governing bodies.

Besides helping raise money, the group was asked to assist in making the area plan operational, complete county defense plans, and to educate the public.

"Civil Defense is the greatest humanitarian effort ever to confront people anywhere, because we have entered the nuclear and space ages," Tarkington said.

"I don't believe anyone will intentionally set the world afire. But we may reach the point of frustration or bungling, that the button is pushed," he said.

On the statewide level, he said, approval has been given for a state microwave communication network. He said there are 33 emergency 200-bed hospitals.

But he said the goal is for an emergency hospital in each county and he wants a full-time CD coordinator in each of the state areas.

To assist in up-dating the area plan, county officials were asked to complete their local program by listing resources of materiel, machines, and men, and placing personnel in defense jobs.

The defense area includes Broward, Dade, Monroe, Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Collier, Lee, Charlotte, Hendry, Glades, and Highlands Counties. All were represented, except Glades, Highlands and Monroe.

The preliminary plan designates Dade and Palm Beach Counties as potential target areas, from which residents would flee. The other counties would receive and care for evacuees.

Ike Finds Nice, Juicy Jobs For Republican Lame Ducks

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The next best thing to being a congressman these days is being an ex-congressman. An ex-Republican congressman, that is.

KRASLOW

The White House already has found government jobs for eight congressmen and one senator — Republicans — defeated in November. Pay ranges from a $50-a-day consultant's fee to $21,000 a year.

And the White House says another "half-dozen or so" defeated GOP congressmen and senators are "under consideration" for jobs.

Some agencies suddenly decided they needed a little advice in the wake of the Democratic landslide.

Former Congresswomen Cecil Harden of Indiana and her former House colleagues Robert Harrison of Nebraska, Errett Scrivner of Kansas and David Dennison of Ohio all have been hired as advisers.

Mrs. Harden was even given civil service protection — a grade 17 rating worth $15,375 a year. She will advise Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield on problems involving woman employes in the postal service.

Harrison is a $53.36-a-day adviser to the board of directors of the Commodity Credit Corp., and a CCC official reports Harrison has been on the job practically every day since his appointment in January.

Dennison is a consultant to the Civil Rights Commission and Scrivner advises W. J. McNeil, Defense Department comptroller. Both are paid $50 a day when they are consulting.

So far the top plum in the way of salary has gone to former Rep. John Allen of California. He is the new undersecretary of commerce for transportation at $21,000 a year.

Former Rep. Henry Talle of Iowa is on the payroll for $15,375 a year as an assistant administrator at the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Former Rep. A. L. Miller of Nebraska is now in charge of the Interior Department's division of saline water at $12,770 a year.

Former Rep. Antoni Sadlak of Connecticut has been approved for a job with the Veterans Administration regional office in Hartford. His salary could not be immediately ascertained.

A $50-a-day spot as consultant to Interior Secretary Seaton is waiting for former Sen. Arthur Watkins of Utah.

The White House and Republican national committee both say Watkins has indicated he will accept.

A $6,435-a-year job as a VA congressional liason representative went to Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Wisconsin. Her husband died in office last year and she ran unsuccessfully for his seat in November.

Former Sen. Charles Potter of Michigan turned down the Commerce Department job finally given to Allen. Potter also rejected an offer to become Social Security Administrator.

Sources close to Potter say he is hoping to enter private business.

The White House refused to identify those being considered for other appointments.

"We're looking for jobs that will fit their backgrounds and experience," a White House aide said.

Application Blank? Shh--It's Secret

From Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Government secrecy hit a new high when the comptroller of the currency here decided he couldn't even disclose to the public some blank forms.

The issue came to light in a letter to comptroller Ray M. Gidney from Rep. John Moss, California Democrat and chairman of the House Freedom of Information Committee.

Moss has been trying since last July to get information about how Gidney and the department of the treasury go about chartering national banks.

Moss got a blank form application, but also the information that there are five other forms which are shown only if the applicant's first application meets with the comptroller's approval.

Moss has written again to Gidney, asking now what legal authority he can cite for refusing to provide the blank forms.

Burial Pact Ruled Void

TIFTON, Ga. —(P)— A Superior Court judge has ordered a Tifton undertaker to return to her parents the body of one of nine Negro pupils drowned last week in a school bus accident.

Judge J. Bowie Gray ruled that Kensey and Addie Lee Wilcox were entitled to decide who is to bury their daughter Earline, 13.

The parents contended that the Melton and Sun Funeral Home refused to release the child's body after they refused to agree to pay $1,250 for a funeral. The undertaker said the parents signed a burial agreement, but the judge ruled it was too vague to establish a price.

Good news for asthmatics

Specialist's discovery now makes it possible for bronchial asthma sufferers to quickly relieve choking, coughing, gasping spasms and do it without use of internal drugs or painful injections. So safe you can get Dr. Guild's Green Mountain in either cigarettes or compound form without prescription. Ask your druggist for it. —Adv.

Ex-Sheriff Fined for Back Tax

By Herald Services

TAMPA — Hugh Culbreath, wealthy former Hillsborough County Sheriff, received a $30,000 fine in Federal Court Wednesday for evading payment of $25,898 in income taxes.

District Judge William J. Barker could have sentenced the 61-year-old defendant to as much as 15 years in prison in addition to levying the fine.

Culbreath smiled broadly after hearing the sentence. He indicated he didn't plan to appeal.

A jury convicted him of three counts of income tax evasion Jan. 23 at the end of a trial which started Nov. 5.

Lawmakers 'Best Informed'?

TALLAHASSEE — Senate President Designate Dewey M. Johnson said Wednesday that despite the many controversial issues facing the 1959 Legislature he expects the lawmakers to complete their work within the 60-day deadline for a regular session.

JOHNSON

"I am confident the Senate will be ready to adjourn on time. I think the House will be right along with us," he said.

Johnson said he believes the 1959 Legislature will go into session April 7 as the "best informed in the state's legislative history."

4 Disqualified To Hear Appeal

BARTOW—All four judges of the 10th Circuit Wednesday disqualified themselves from hearing an appeal of former state Sen. Harry King's conviction on perjury charges. They asked the state Supreme Court to appoint an outside jurist.

News About Florida

Judge Gunter Stephenson announced the disqualifications, saying that all four judges have been connected in some way with one or more of the parties involved in the King case.

The other circuit judges are D. O. Rogers, William K. Lowe and Clifton M. Kelly.

Funds Sought For Citrus Unit

WINTER HAVEN—The Citrus Commission's legislative committee will get two legislative proposals, presented by Florida Citrus Mutual, which would provide the commission with more spending money.

The commission, in approving a long-discussed 14-point legislative program, also approved "in principle" the two measures presented by Mutual General Manager Robert W. Rutledge.

He proposed that the commission be given $5,000 a year to entertain persons who could help the industry on tours through the citrus belt. He also suggested that commission personnel be given more expense money.

Segregation Seen Costly

TALLAHASSEE — A Florida State University economist said Wednesday that segregation is denying higher incomes and industrial development to the south.

Dr. Frank H. Jackson, speaking to an American Studies Lecture audience on the economy of the South a century after the Civil War, said whether or not to maintain segregation was a non-economic problem outside of his subject matter. But he said it was important "to know there is a cost and just what it is."

Maintaining a separate white and Negro labor force in the South under a system of "economic segregation," Dr. Jackson said, "means lower average income for the population as a whole."

Thief Grabs Gem Loot

A room prowler stole $26,500 in gems from a Manchester, Conn., woman at the Lombardy Hotel on Miami Beach, police reported Wednesday.

The jewels, including a $10,000 diamond ring, were taken from Room 641 sometime late Tuesday, probably by a sneak thief who had a pass key, police said.

They belonged to Mrs. Agnes Reingold. She told detectives she left the jewelry in a dresser drawer while sun bathing at the pool and going to the races.

After an evening out, she and her husband discovered the theft at 1 a.m. Wednesday.

Nevada Operator on Carpet For Latin Casino Holdings

CARSON CITY, Nev. — (UPI)— The State Gambling Control Board has ordered former Lt. Gov. Clifford Jones of Las Vegas to appear April 8 to show cause why his Nevada gambling license should not be revoked on grounds he holds casino interests in the Caribbean area.

A Nevada gambling regulation prohibits a person holding a gaming license in the state from operating or holding interests in foreign countries.

Jones, licensed at two Las Vegas casinos, has made arrangements to end his financial participation in the casino at the Habana Hilton Hotel by March 31.

However, the gaming board said Jones continued to be a major shareholder in the international casino at Port Au Prince, Haiti. He is also negotiating for gambling rights in Aruba in the Netherlands West Indies.

Jones has declared he will fight the state agency's attempt to revoke his gaming permit and will carry the battle to the courts if necessary.

Two to Aid UM Plan

Two well-known psychologists will join the University of Miami in September to help get the new doctorate of philosophy program in psychology under way.

They are Dr. Bruce Moore, executive officer of the American Psychological Association's Education and Training Board, and Dr. Calvin S. Hall, head of the psychology department at Syracuse University.

Hall, author of the popular "Primer of Freudian Psychology," is taking a leave of absence to serve as visiting professor here. Moore, who has evaluated psychology programs at universities throughout the country, will "help us incorporate the latest and most approved features," said Dr. Granville C. Fisher, chairman of the UM department.

Freed After Wait in Jail

James O. Heyrock, who insisted on representing himself in a Criminal Court grand larceny trial, has been freed after waiting in jail for a month and 10 days.

Assistant State Attorney John Boyer withdrew the charge and Assistant Public Defender Arthur Stark withdrew his motion for court appointment of a psychiatrist. Judge Ben C. Willard last week offered to appoint an attorney for Heyrock, who had brought his dormant case to light by a penciled habeas corpus suit.

Boyer said that Heyrock's wife, Alta Heyrock, a nurse in the Veterans Administration Hospital eye clinic, had dropped prosecution of charges he took her radio, TV and electric heater.

Mrs. R. on Air? Sponsors Shy Off

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said she'd like to do a radio or television program on international affairs but can't get a sponsor.

"Nobody wants me to be on a steady program," she said her agent has reported. "It doesn't sell their product because I'm a controversial figure."

Mrs. Roosevelt says that's the reason she decided do a commercial advertising pitch for a brand of oleomargarine, hoping to "break the jam" and at the same time get a chance to say a word for the hungry people of the world.

She said she'd like to do some news commentary program, preferably on interna tional affairs.

"I don't like commercia very much, she reported smil ingly

Synagogue Ruin Has Two Fires

CHICAGO —(AP)— Two small fires which a fire marshal termed suspicious broke out in the ruin of a North Side synagogue which had been destroyed by a fire Feb. 21.

The blazes in the ruined Oir Israel synagogue were extinguished quickly. One was discovered on the first floor, another on the second floor of the three-story brick building.

Fire Marshal Arthur W. Schubert called for an investigation by the fire department arson detail and Earl Downes, fire department lawyer.

Meg's New Beau Is Jazzman Robin

By Herald Wire Services

MARGARET ROBIN

BRITAIN'S PRINCESS MARGARET went to a ball in London with a new escort—handsome Jazz Pianist Robin Douglas-Home, former suitor of Sweden's Princess Margaretha.

Robin almost won the beautiful Margaretha last year. The Swedish royal family was understood to feel badly about his playing a piano in a night club, and the romance reportedly ended last summer.

It was the first time the 26-year-old nephew of the Earl of Home had escorted Margaret. But in the past he has frequently squired her young cousin, Princess Alexandra.

Robin was in the royal party of 10 that attended a gala charity performance of the Royal Ballet at Covent Garden.

Arthritis Plaguing Rep. Joe Martin

MARTIN

REP. JOSEPH W. MARTIN JR. (R., Mass.) is suffering from a noncrippling form of arthritis in his right leg.

Physicians examining Martin made public their diagnosis of the ailment which sent the former Republican House leader to Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital near Washington early last week.

They said the 74-year-old congressman would have to stay in the hospital for a few more days in order to receive treatment and assure complete rest.

Mennen Williams Gives Foe a Hand

WILLIAMS

JOHN B. MARTIN, Republican national committeeman from Michigan, got a helping hand from Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat and longtime political foe.

Martin's car was stuck in the snow in downtown Lansing, Mich. The governor, coming from a meeting, saw Martin's predicament and with three others got behind the car and pushed it free.

Just charge this up to the Republican State Central Committee," Williams jokingly told Martin.

Cornel Wilde's Eye Is Treated

CORNEL WILDE the actor, was admitted to Childrens Hospital in San Francisco for treatment of a retinal detachment of an eye — an ailment for which he has been hospitalized previously.

Tiny Wife Whips Marine—in Court

MEMPHIS — (UPI) — A tiny Japanese girl was granted a divorce from her husky Marine husband by a judge who refused to believe the Marine's complaints about her.

"I put little stock in a Marine sergeant's allegations of physical violence by a 98-pound woman," Chancellor Ceylon Frazer said. "If so, I think we need a new Marine Corps—and I am a great admirer of the Marines."

The shattered East-West romance involved Yoshi Nishioka Burleson, 27, who said she was in love with her adopted country, and William M. Burleson, 29, now stationed at Camp LeJeune, N.C.

Yoshi, who weighs 98 pounds, was granted an interlocutory decree, a bed and board divorce for one year.

Burleson had filed for divorce, claiming among other things that Yoshi was "very jealous" and on one occasion hit him.

Yoshi admitted that she hit her husband with a bathroom scale, but claimed she did so in self defense. She testified that Burleson told her that he loved both her and another woman "and couldn't make up his mind between the two."

She also charged that Burleson accused her of "being stupid" because she couldn't speak English clearly.

MOVIE PRODUCER Otto Preminger, right, became so violently angry at times that he beat his head on the floor, according to the testimony of his wife, left, who won a divorce in a Los Angeles court.

Now for a Bit Of Song, Matie

GRIMSBY, England — (UP) — City magistrates decided to end an 18-year ban on singing in saloons. A lawyer representing the pub owners told the magistrates:

"Licensees have had great difficulty in quelling their customers' desire to sing, and trade has suffered."

The magistrates agreed that saloon licenses will henceforth specify that "spontaneous singing" is all right. The ban was imposed in 1941 because the singing got too noisy.

Teen Cotillion

The fourth annual Teenage Cotillion will be given from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. Friday at Ocean Front Auditorium, 10th St. and Ocean Dr., Miami Beach. This semi-formal dance is co-sponsored by the Beach Recreation Department and Beach Opti-Mrs. Club.

Virginia Court Refuses 'Mix' Review

RICHMOND, Va. —(UPI)— Virginia's highest court tersely rejected a request that it review its decision which cleared the way for admission of Negroes to 11 previously white schools.

The State Supreme Court of Appeals dismissed without comment the request by Attorney General Albertis S. Harrison that it grant a rehearing of its Jan. 19 decision which struck down the state's "massive resistance" laws.

The court, by a 5-2 vote, invalidated the laws. Any one of the five justices in the majority opinion could have granted the rehearing.

SCIENCE TALENT search conducted by a national firm turned up talented Dan Massey, 16, of Chattanooga, Tenn. Here Dan makes an adjustment on an electric computer he built. The device, believed to be among the first of its kind, "reads" numerals. The operator simply writes the numbers on a special laminated surface, and the machine adds or subtracts.

'Loose Women' Target of Bill

RALEIGH, N. C. — (UPI) — The North Carolina Legislature studied a bill that would provide for sterilization of women who have proved to be "grossly sexually delinquent."

The measure, introduced in both houses of the General Assembly, would require any woman giving birth to a third illegitimate child to show cause why she should not be sterilized.

Rep. Rachel Davis, a physician who co-sponsored the bill, said it was designed to be "more therapeutic than punitive."

The measure also would provide psychiatric treatment at state expense for women having two illegitimate children.

Norfolk Gets Navy A-School

NORFOLK, Va. —(AP)— Establishment of a nuclear weapons training center at Norfolk was announced by Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander of the Atlantic Fleet.

The new center, Wright said, will provide operational and technical training in nuclear weapons for Atlantic Fleet units and will help these units to maintain their nuclear capabilities.

Wright said live weapons will not be used at the center.

Senate OKs FAA's Chief

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate confirmed Elwood R. Quesada, retired Air Force lieutenant general, as first administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency despite some stated misgivings of Sen. Clair Engle (D., Calif.).

Quesada, former adviser to the President of aviation, has been acting as head of the FAA pending formal confirmation.

Engle, an Air Force reserve colonel, said he questioned appointment of a military officer to the key civilian aviation post. He said he hopes Quesada will not be partial to the military or commercial airlines because of his background.

Marriage Off

SAO PAULO, Brazil —(AP)— A court here has annulled the marriage of a grocer who testified his wife took a religious vow of chastity when she was single. He said he couldn't make her break the vow and a medical commission certified that she had kept it.

33 YEARS EXPERIENCE

Thank you,
Mr. & Mrs. Miami.

for the tremendous and overwhelming reception you gave my CAROL CITY GARDEN HOMES at Sunday's opening.

Never in my years of building have I been so elated at the response to one of my openings.

I know that many of you — and there were at least 30,000 of you during the day — could not give the exciting homes the close inspection you wanted to.

For that reason, we will keep the models open every day this week from 10:00 A.M. 9:00 P.M. and you are invited back for a more thorough inspection of these Garden Homes so beautifully furnished and decorated by Jordan Marsh.

Thank you . . . thank you . . . thank you.

Find Something That'll Prevent Boredom

Last of a series

By EVELYN HART
Special To The Herald

The Riches of Old Age

If you are a man or woman of many interests, if you've made a practice of filling your leisure hours with fascinating hobbies, if you've always wished you had more time to develop your various avocations, what follows here may not be for you.

You will have few, if any, recreation problems though you live to 109.

But what of the woman who has focused her whole attention, energy and effort on her children, who has never taken time to try her hand at any kind of craft or to explore the world of books or to test her skill in sports?

And the man whose entire life has been fashioned of business affairs and getting ahead and achieving success and prestige in his field, what is he to do when retirement snatches away the only pattern of life he knows?

Competition in business and industry gives rise to tensions and frustrations which must be worked off, and what better way to work them off than by pursuing a creative activity which gives one a sense of achievement?

Hobby Adds Touch Of Sparkle to Life

It need not be an elaborate hobby. It can be something as simple as refinishing old furniture or gardening or carving airplane models or making hooked rugs. It is a kind of gilt-edged insurance against the isolation, loneliness, and boredom which can shrivel to dust the years at the end of life which should be full of enjoyment.

Special centers which offer companionship and a broad program of activities for older people are springing up in nearly every metropolitan area in many small communities.

Golden Age Clubs, known also by a variety of other names, perform the same type of service which day centers do, often less elaborately. As a matter of fact, the day center is, in a sense, an extension of the Golden Age Club program.

In recent years, it has become much easier for older persons to find the kind of recreation they need and went. In addition to the various crafts, dancing, group singing, and a wide range of games, most clubs and centers provide facilities for sewing, painting, movies, and discussion and study groups.

Let's assume that you have been foresighted enough to make financial provision for your old age, that you have developed many interests which you plan to follow through after retirement, that you have safeguarded your health.

Fear of Rejection Haunts Your Mind

Still there is a nagging fear at the back of your mind as day follows day, and year follows year. It's the fear of rejection by the younger members of your family, your younger friends, by the community.

Your acceptance or rejection by family, friends and community will depend in large measure, on two factors — and the greatest of these is you.

Each of us must face the fact that we will not be respected and beloved these days simply because we are old. This was the case perhaps in your great-grandparents' day, but not now.

It is no longer any great feat to attain old age. Nearly everybody's doing it.

If we want affection and respect and consideration from others as the shadows lengthen across our afternoon, we must earn it by first giving to others our affection and respect and consideration.

We will find our relationships happier all round if we can manage to show interest in the present and future, rather than dwell increasingly on the past — if we refrain from constant criticism even though we feel it is justified — if we learn to accept people and things as they are, without always wanting them to be as they were in what we think of as "the good old days."

The second major factor influencing acceptance or rejection of the elderly is education.

Attitudes Toward Aged Have Changed

During the past decade, the attitudes of individuals, of groups, of communities toward the aging have undergone marked change. Although it still leaves much to be desired, the change, measured by accepted standards, has occurred with amazing rapidity.

What sparked it? A number of things.

First, knowledge of the lengthened life-span, with its personal implications.

Second, the tendency of more and more people, on seeing an aged individual, to think, "there in a certain number of years, go I."

Third, the increasing attention given by federal, state and local government groups to all aspects of the aging and their problems.

Fourth, increased community action in behalf of the aging, with participation of an ever-growing number of citizens.

Our whole concept of age is changing, and long-standing taboos are being discarded. The later years are no longer a period of vegetation, of resignation, of waiting. They can be a harvest — a time of relaxed enjoyment, of fulfillment.

The medical and scientific developments which have so remarkably extended our life span in the past half-century were tremendously exciting. But even more exciting is the challenge to make those added years rich and creative and happy.

Bar Head Denies That Resolutions Attacked Court

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— The president of the American Bar Association Wednesday labeled "wholly unjustified and contrary to fact" charges that the lawyers' group adopted resolutions attacking the U.S. Supreme Court.

Ross L. Malone said resolutions approved by the Association's house of delegates in Chicago last month were "an expression of concern as to the threat of communism to our internal security . . . (and) a request for legislation in five specific areas which will strengthen our internal security by remedying defects in legislation which was pointed out in Supreme Court decisions."

He also said the resolutions, read objectively, are a "recognition of the position of the Supreme Court of the U.S. as the final guardian of our individual liberties, and of the obligation of the bar to defend the courts."

Malone, in a prepared speech, told delegates to the three-day Ohio Valley Regional Conference of the American Bar Association that an "erroneous impression was created in many parts of the country as to the implications of the action of the house of delegates."

Defending the action of the house of delegates as sound, Malone added: "I recognize, however, that there is room for legitimate disagreement with the position actually taken by the association. To one who feels that the legislation recommended would constitute a peril to individual liberties in the U.S. not justified by the threat of communism to our internal security, the action of the house is unsound—and he is certainly entitled to so view the situation.

"I cannot, however, find in the resolutions adopted by the house support for any statement that the American Bar Association has attacked the Supreme Court, has 'maligned' the court or in any sense has been unfaithful to the primary duty of the profession to maintain the respect due to courts of justice and judicial officers."

About 1,500 lawyers from Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and parts of New York and Maryland are attending the first regional conference to be held in Pittsburgh.

Workers Ask 'Switch' Talks

Employment and pension rights of Miami municipal workers ought to be considered before the city transfers any of its departments to Metro, according to the Miami Civil Service Board.

The panel asked for a meeting with the City Commission and City Manager Ira F. Willard to work out a plan which would protect the rights of long-term city employes who are switched over to Metro.

Three Girls, Man Fall to Fiery Death

LISBON FALLS, Maine —(UPI)— Three girls and their step-father perished when they fell through a weakened floor into oil-fed flames that destroyed their house in Lisbon Falls' "shanty town."

The girl's mother, Mrs. Sara Simmons, 41, who was expecting another child soon, was thrown clear of the burning house by her husband as he vainly tried to rescue his stepdaughters.

Fire Chief Thornton Stover said Lester Simmons, 35, apparently had just reached the girls' second-floor bedroom when the floor gave way in flames.

A ragged, charred hole in the flame-swept house showed firemen where the four fell into the mouth of the fire.

A living room oil stove apparently caused the blaze.

HATCH

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. — (AP) — Four men who robbed a Massapequa bank of $75,000, and were pictured as green amateurs in crime, were revealed Wednesday as veteran bandits.

Police said they admitted seven other cash stickups on Long Island, working singly or in pairs over the last 2½ years. Four of the victims were loan companies.

The four, seized Tuesday while counting the loot of their biggest haul yet, have been operating as a well-organized band, police said.

Earlier, they had been described as ordinary job-holders, caught in their first, naive venture into crime. They feigned workaday innocence — as a plumber, an insurance salesman, a blueprint developer and tavern keeper.

But under prolonged questioning, police said they admitted they had carried on the robberies as a sideline since late 1956. Anatole Rylsky, 44, the tavern keeper, was said to be the leader.

Police said his home library was stocked with books on military leaders and campaigns from Alexander the Great to the present.

When seized after the bank holdup, they claimed it was all a spur-of-the-moment operation, a means of solving their financial worries.

It all started across the bar one night, they said, when a joke about how to solve money worries suddenly turned into a serious crime plot.

The scene is the neighborhood tavern operated by Rylsky and his wife, Alexandria, in West Babylon, a Long Island suburban town.

Anatole, whose friends call him Andy, is behind the bar. He is a round-faced, husky ex-wrestler who occasionally drinks more than he should of the stuff behind the bar.

On the other side of the bar are several of Andy's pals and regular customers, who often visit him in the Rylskys' apartment upstairs as well as in the tavern.

Tom Parks and Bill McHenry are younger fellows, 27 and 31 to Rylsky's 44. The oldtimer of the quartet is Dick Hatch, who is 53.

Parks is a plumber with a wife and two daughters and a home at Bay Shore just east of West Babylon. He is the son of a retired New York City detective.

McHenry sells insurance and lives in West Babylon with his wife and three children. His father is president of the West Babylon Board of Education.

Hatch has four children. For many years he has just been the quiet, bespectacled blueprint man in the state highway office.

The four are drinking beer, and somebody says: "I sure could use some more money."

The general reaction is: "Who couldn't?" And then one of the four suggests that maybe they should rob a bank.

And then the kidding conversation of the insurance salesman, the plumber, the blueprint man, and the tavern keeper suddenly turned serious.

That's the story they told before police broke them.

Wives Also Call Girls

NEW YORK—(AP)—Vice raiders claimed Wednesday to have cracked a $100,000-a-week call girl ring that listed among its attractions half a dozen married women, some well-to-do.

Police said the married women sandwiched up to five love-for-sale dates a day into their domestic routines without, apparently, ever arousing their husbands' suspicions.

Some of the married women have maids who relayed telephoned assignments from the headquarters of the vice setup. Some of the women used their illicit proceeds to pay for ocean cruises.

The married women were among some 20 call girls who, police said, worked for 58-year-old Betty Williams, arrrested Tuesday night as madame of the vice ring. She was held in $2,000 bail for a hearing March 18 on a procuring charge.

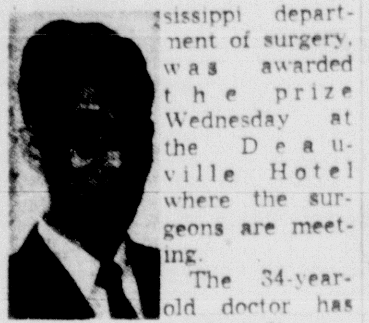
Refrigerated Heart Tests Bring Praise for Doctor

By MIKE MORGAN
Herald Staff Writer

A doctor who implanted a second heart in dogs to study if refrigerated hearts can regain function was awarded the prize for best scientific paper at the Southeastern Surgical Congress.



Dr. Lee

Dr. Sae Soon Lee, a Korean now in the University of Mississippi department of surgery, was awarded the prize Wednesday at the Deauville Hotel where the surgeons are meeting.

The 34-year-old doctor has implanted second hearts, for a period of six to eight hours, in a number of dogs.

Hearts of small dogs were embedded in the necks of large dogs and were linked to the true heart via arteries and veins in the neck.

Then metabolism studies of both hearts were made. The transplanted, refrigerated heart would pump but would not utilize important energy sources.

Massive doses of vitamins were necessary to make up for this deficiency.

At no time did the refrigerated heart assume the functions of the true heart, which was not the intent of the study at this stage.

However, it was found that the refrigerated hearts would function.

With one series of refrigerated hearts it was necessary to massage the hearts for long periods to rewarm the hearts and restore normal function. And nearly all required boosters of adrenalin or calcium injections.

But in an experiment using hearts which were transplanted immediately after excision, these hearts spontaneously resumed a rhythm.

Dr. Lee believes that a time might arrive when techniques and surgical skills have been advanced to the point where a diseased heart can be replaced with a healthy one from a heart bank.

But, he emphasizes, great problems must be mastered before this can come about.

Even if such a technique were available, and a method found of maintaining a heart bank, it is necessary to lick the "antigen-antibody" factor.

Every individual has certain characteristics in his metabolism which are unique and which make the body reject tissues other than its own.

The only exceptions are in the case of identical twins.

Some methods have been devised to lower the antigen factor, but these are only temporary.

If this problem can be solved, one of the toughest obstacles to successful transplants of organs will be mastered — and a road opened for new miracles of surgery.

Atlantan Chosen Surgical Chief

Dr. B. T. Beasley of Atlanta was installed as president of the Southeastern Surgical Congress Wednesday and Dr. Willard H. Parsons, Vicksburg, Miss., was chosen president-elect.

Beasley succeeds Dr. Murray M. Copeland, Washington, D.C. Parsons will succeed Beasley as president next year.

Other new officers taking office Wednesday are Dr. Walter Jones Jr. of Miami, first vice president, and Dr. R. B. Chrisman Jr. of Miami, second vice president. Dr. A. H. Letton of Atlanta was chosen secretary-elect.

The congress voted to hold its next meeting in 1960 in New Orleans March 20-24.

PTA Party Set

Hialeah High School Parent-Teacher Association will have a family night jamboree square dance from 7 to 10 p.m. Saturday at the school's cafeteria.

Low Bidder Loses Job

Metro Commissioners have turned down the low bidder on cell block installation in the new county jail, accepting a proposal $36,000 higher on County Manager O. W. Campbell's recommendation.

Southern Jail Equipment Corp., of San Antonio, Tex., got the job with a bid of $832,000. Decatur Iron and Steel Works of Decatur, Ala., bid $796,000.

Jail Architect Edwin Reeder called Decatur's product "inferior" and said he "could not be responsible for the results" if its bid were accepted. Campbell said he based his recommendation on a report from Reeder and Metro Public Works Director Marion Boriss.

Postal Clerks Reelect Dooley

Phil Dooley, president of the Post Office Clerks Local 172, National Federation of Post Office Clerks, has been reelected to another term.

Dooley, a window clerk at the Buena Vista office, will serve until 1960. Other officers include Les Moffett and Howard Haggerty, vice presidents; Dave Mosher, secretary, and Larry Rosenbaum, treasurer.

$240 Reward

GELSENKIRCHEN, Germany—(P—The city is offering $1,000 marks (about $240) for capture of two men who painted Naziisms on a monument to victims of the Nazi regime. They were surprised Feb. 6 with paints and brushes after inscribing swastikas and "Germany Awake" and "Blood and Honor," but escaped.

BIG DIFFERENCE

Plymouth's got it in station wagons, too!

BIG DIFFERENCE IN RIDE AND PERFORMANCE

No other low-price wagon can match Plymouth's Torsion-Aire Ride . . . yours at no extra cost. Enjoy superb handling ease, with no roll or sway on turns, no front-end dive on stops. Or choose optional Constant Level Torsion-Aire: keeps your wagon level no matter the load or the road. Thrill to Plymouth's high-spirited V-8 power, including optional New Golden Commando 395, biggest engine in Plymouth's field.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN SPACE

100 cubic feet of cargo capacity . . . more than any other low-price wagon. One big reason for the great popularity of the new Plymouth wagons everywhere.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN ECONOMY

Plymouth won the Mobilgas Economy Run in the low-price class two years in a row. What's more, all standard Plymouth V-8 and 6 engines perform with peak efficiency on regular gas.

BUT YOU DON'T PAY FOR THE DIFFERENCE

The three top-selling low-price wagons are priced within a few dollars of each other. But only Plymouth wagons give you the Big Difference for your money!

Minister, Helper Survive Arctic Cold in Homemade Tent

BARROW, Alaska —(P)— A flying missionary and his Eskimo companion were plucked from the Arctic wilderness after surviving 40-below-zero blasts in a tent sewn by the minister's wife.

The Rev. John Chambers, 29, former Scotia, N.Y., clergyman who now serves the Presbyterian mission here, and Jesse Ahgak appeared in good condition despite their 24-hour ordeal. They were picked up by bush pilots.

Mr. Chambers was able to send out a radio distress message when his single-engine Cessna 170 was forced down about 130 miles southwest of here.

Then he and the Eskimo made camp beside the downed craft and stayed snug in a tent Mrs. Chambers had presented her husband as a surprise gift just before takeoff.

"I'm so thankful," she said. "I don't know whatever made me think of it."

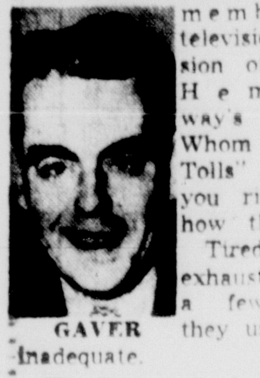
Cast Is Really Tired But 'Bell' Will Toll

By JACK GAVER



GAVER

NEW YORK — (UPI) — No one can tell how the public is going to regard the result, but the actors and crew members of television's version of Ernest Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" can tell you right now how they feel.

Tired, weary, exhausted, are a few words they use — all inadequate.

The first half of the result of an unprecedented five weeks of gruelling rehearsal and recording that ended this week will be on view tonight on the CBS "Playhouse 90" program at 9:30.

The second segment of the dramatization of this notable 19-year-old novel about Spain's civil war will be aired at the same hour on March 19.

Maria Schell and Jason Robards Jr.
. . . this love scene will be live

IT IS TV'S first two-part drama of 90-minute portions.

Although the play has been recorded — mostly — on video tape, it was approached and produced under circumstances that approach the immediacy of a live production, which accounts for the concentrated and exhausting effort.

The result is the equivalent of a feature-length motion picture that would require at least two months to make.

Weariest of the cast have to be Jason Robards Jr., the leading man; Maureen Stapleton and Eli Wallach.

Throughout the ordeal each has been giving eight performances a week on the Broadway stage — Robards as the star of "The Disenchanted," Miss Stapleton and Wallach as co-stars of "The Cold Wind and the Warm."

But everyone has been working around a major portion of the clock seven days a week. The one fortunate thing is that they haven't been engaged in a bubbling comedy.

They are playing haggard, war-weary, hunted people. Type casting!

A TECHNICALITY that is all tied up in the red tape of still-unresolved union and permission rights keeps the play from being totally taped.

Circumstances of the sprawling production dictated tape recording. Yet the Music Corporation of America granted use of the property on the premise that it was to be a live production.

The result was much last-minute compromising—which may or may not satisfy everyone — whereby a portion of the first 90-minute segment will be performed live.

This involves a love scene between Robards and Maria Schell. And it will offer a good opportunity for viewers to discover if they can tell the difference between tape and live TV.

The experts say it's impossible unless you know exactly where and when, whereas the difference between live and film is noticeable.

Anyway, this will result in Robards missing his first performance in "The Disenchanted." He can't be in a theater and a TV studio at the same time.

His stage understudy will get his first break. There will be no live segment in the second half of "Bell" March 19.

One of the seeming inconsistencies — and don't expect me to explain it — in this live-tape controversy is that the entire drama, including the single live portion, can be aired on the West Coast via tape without argument because of the time zone difference.

Persons and Programs

The New York Times Service

NBC apparently intends to move Steve Allen's television show out of its Sunday evening schedule and into an hour on another night next fall.

Two trade sources report that the network has offered the show to potential advertisers on a 10 to 11 p.m. Monday schedule for the 1959-60 season.

This would place it in competition with CBS's "Desilu Playhouse" series.

"Bachelor Father," the filmed situation comedy starring John Forsythe, is expected to move next fall from CBS to NBC network, where it would be televised each Thursday from 9 to 9:30 p.m. It is presented by CBS on alternate Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

The switching of "Bachelor Father" to another network seems to add credence to the report that the Jack Benny show, which now alternates with it, will not continue at 7:30 Sunday next season.

WCKR Sale Canceled

The proposed sale of radio station WCKR AM and FM to Dade Broadcasting Co., owned by the Sun Ray Drug Co. of Philadelphia, has been cancelled by mutual consent.

This was announced Wednesday by Niles Trammell, president of Biscayne Television Corp., owner of WCKR and television station WCKT (Ch. 7). The proposed sale had been announced in the spring of 1958.

"It is our intention," said Trammell, "to put all the effort possible behind the operation of WCKR to assure the continued popularity and acceptance of WCKR's broadcasting in Miami and South Florida."

Trammell gave no reason for the cancellation of the sales agreement.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	4 ♣	Pass	5 ♣
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♥

Declarer found himself confronted by a seemingly hopeless situation today, but with the aid of some slight of hand he managed to bring home his game contract.

East opened with one heart inasmuch as his spade suit did not contain the required four points. South stretched a little for his vulnerable four club overcall and North carried on to game with the hope that his values would fit well.

West opened the queen of hearts and declarer knew that it was a singleton from East's opening bid. It was apparent, therefore, that the contract was doomed to defeat, since East upon winning with the ace would have no choice but to return the suit, which would result in a ruff and the ace of trumps still to score. there was, of course, the very remote chance that the singleton heart would be accompanied by a singleton ace of clubs, but rather than rely on that, declarer deicded instead to resort to mesmerism. Without the slightest trace of deliberation, he played low from dummy, and East permitted his partner's queen to hold. West made an effort to reach partner with a diamond, but declarer won and cashed the ace and king of spades, discarding his losing heart. He was able to ruff two diamonds in dummy and lost only to the ace of trumps.

Perhaps it is your desire to point the finger of scorn at East. You may contend that South's scheme was rather blatant, and from declarer's failure to cover the queen of hearts East should have traced the red herring. I shall not dispute the point, but you might find it amusing sometime to rig up this hand for one of your more astute neighbors and see how he reacts to it.

Neat and Natty, You'll Be Happy

LONDON — (AP) — Sloppy dressing, says Sir David Eccles, president of the Government Board of Trade, hurts business and Britain.

At a clothing store opening he said: "The businessman who goes to the office badly dressed is a negative advertisement for Britain. His shabbiness and rampant bad taste put off overseas buyers."

Sir David is known as something of a dude.

Details, Previews of Tonight's TV

7 p.m.

2 — FOCUS ON ART — Displays from the Joe and Emily Lowe Art Gallery illustrating the theme of religion and art.

4 — LONE RANGER — The Lone Ranger and Tonto help bring badmen to justice.

7 — HUCK HOUND — Yogi Bear tries to help a spoiled child whose parents are too occupied to play with him.

10 — READERS DIGEST — film.

2 — MUSIC FOR YOUTH — "Percussion, the Pulse of Music."

4 — WHIRLYBIRDS — Chuck and P. T. help a former pilot settle down to being an insurance salesman.

7 — COLONEL FLACK — "The Happy Medium."

10 — LEAVE IT TO BEAVER — Beaver accepts an invitation to visit a friend and involves their two families in a lot of unscheduled driving.

2 — LEARN TO TYPE — Second program in a series of beginning typing.

4 — MACKENZIE'S RAIDERS—A news-hungry reporter threatens to expose the secret raids into Mexico.

7 — STEVE CANYON — Steve leads a desperate search against time and the curiosity of two small boys when a bomb he dropped in a disposal area fails to go off.

10 — ZORRO — Don Alejandro is finally convinced of Anita's honesty when he sees her wearing a familiar bauble.

2 — CONGRESSIONAL CLINIC — This program takes up the 86th Congress and the problems which face it.

4 — YANCY DERRINGER — A river boat explodes on the Mississippi and touches off a series of events culminating in murder.

7 — COULD BE YOU — film.

2 — MONTAGE — "Religion and Art."

4 — ZANE GREY — A town that's afraid wakes up to find a dead man on main street and what happens afterwards makes tonight's show a good little story. The town's ruled by a vigilante committee, who hang together and hang anybody they can get their hands on. Prime suspect in this new murder is a character who's got an alibi — he was with the vigilante leader's wife. Frank Lovejoy plays the leader who's got a problem.

Annette Funicello and 'Zorro'
. . . alias Guy Williams on 10 at 8

7 — BEHIND CLOSED DOORS — The program travels from San Francisco to Yalta tonight, following the adventures of an American agent. His job is to get either a high-ranking Russian, who is ready to defect, or his little black book out of the USSR. He has some help from the usual beautiful, slinky, spy, and some hindrance from the usual fat, slinky spy.

10 — PAT BOONE — Pat will have Maureen O'Hara as his partner in a bit about typecasting in Hollywood movies. With St. Patrick's Day just over the green horizon and Miss O'Hara on hand, a medley of Irish songs is the obvious result. These, however, will not be the usual well-know Irish melodies.

2 — HERITAGE — Problems confronting labor and industry today.

4 — PLAYHOUSE 90 — Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls," on the show tonight and next week in a precedented three-hour production, is one of the dramatic events of the season. This is all taped — except for the first love scene between Maria Schell and Jason Robards Jr., which will be live. It is the story of an American, fighting with the Loyalists during the Spanish Civil War and the guerrilla band which helps him blow up a bridge. But the political implications have been muted — they do not talk of sides or causes, merely of "the enemy" and "them." Robards, as the American, has the most difficult part, but a wonderful cast supports him — Miss Schell, Maureen Stapleton, Nehemiah Persoff, Steve Hill, Eli Wallach and Vladmir Sokooff. This should be a masterful show.

Best Bet

7 — GROUCHO MARX — Among Groucho's guests are some direct descendants of the Hatfield-McCoy feud. There are also a couple of hep teenagers on hand.

10 — MAN WITHOUT A GUN — film.

7 — MASQUERADE PARTY — color.

11:10

10 — MOVIE — "Incident," (1948), John Frazee, Warren Douglas, Robert Osterloth. A young man, mistaken for a mobster and beaten up, sets out leader and runs into murder.

11:20

7 — JACK PAAR — Guests include Earl Grant and Leona Anderson.

11:25

4 — MOVIE — "Queen For a Day," (1951), three separate stories of three people, tied together through a television broadcast.

Tight Credit

Inflation Lid Put On Again

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

A couple of days ago, the powerful Central Bank of the United States tightened the credit screws again.

The Federal Reserve System did this by boosting the interest rate it charges the nation's banks for loans from the system. Thereby it gave the signal to its member banks to charge more for loans they in turn make to you as a businessman or as an individual consumer and it set the stage for another round of borrowing rate increases up and down the line.

Why?

This is a strong anti-inflation step. Why this move at a time when unemployment is uncomfortably close to five million and a governor of the Federal Reserve Board openly admits the high level of joblessness is "a social, political and economic problem" today?

The answer is of immense importance and it is imperative, for your own bread-and-butter welfare, that you understand it.

The first key point is that the Federal Reserve System is not fighting actual, serious inflation in our economy today.

For there isn't any actual, serious inflation in our economy now. Inflation implies sharp price rises in a short period, pressures on materials and manpower, and these trends have not been dominant for some time.

More specifically, the prices we pay at retail for food, most major products, have been holding steady in a comparatively narrow range and there have been few big upswings in other price areas. There's lots of excess capacity in many lines of industry and most corporations could turn out more goods if the demands were present.

There are no signs that consumers are taking off on a buying splurge, no signs that business will boost its spending on new plants and equipment for some time. The auto industry is hardly booming, housing isn't in a runaway advance.

And then there is unemployment, dismayingly high in some key areas. And even in regions which are prospering, there is proper worry about the general economic impact — as well as simple human meaning — of millions of jobless at this stage of a business advance, and of no prospect for a big drop in the totals until the economy is considerably boomier.

No. Regardless of what you may think the White House is saying about inflation or how you interpret the repeated warnings of leading Washington policy-makers, actual inflation is not our problem today.

What, then, is the explanation for the tightening of the credit screws at this date?

The answer is that the Federal Reserve System is trying to fight a psychology of inflation — a spreading conviction among increasing numbers of businessmen and wage-earners that prices and wages soon are going into another leapfrog upswing and the dollar is doomed to lose buying power rapidly and steadily.

It is this psychology which has been behind much of the indiscriminate buying in the stock market in recent months. In a sense, this buying has represented a flight from the dollar, and it is unreasoning, it is dangerous, it is destructive.

It is this psychology which has caused investors to be indifferent to new U.S. Government securities — even those bearing coupons giving the buyer four per cent interest a year, a whoppingly big return on U. S. Government securities by all historical precedents of the past quarter-century.

It is this psychology which sober analysts fear may lead to unsound increases in wages, prices, wild buying.

At a time when unemployment is in the daily headlines and there are questions on all sides about the strength of the business advance, the Central Bank has told you what it fears most. It still is — inflation.

PICKLED MUSHROOMS are prepared personally by Celestine Leone, above.

Mother Leone's Restaurant Built on Family Reputation

What's in a name? Some say "everything".

Individuals, as well as business firms, are proud of their names and reputations and take every precaution to maintain their standing in their community, whether in a small town or a large city.

This is particularly true at Mother Leone's Restaurant on U.S. 1, Hallandale, adjoining Gulfstream Racetrack, operated by Celestine and Yolanda Leone.

Celestine Leone, who opened the Hallandale establishment six years ago, is the son of the late Luisa Leone who opened the original Leone's in New York in 1906. This restaurant is known throughout the world for the finest Italian food. That, in itself, compels the Florida Leone's to work doubly hard to maintain the Mother Leone reputation.

Although the restaurant does not open until 5 p.m., Leone's day starts at five in the morning when he leaves his home to go to the Miami wholesale markets for his daily needs. This is followed by a trip to his small farm in Davie, west of Fort Lauderdale, to gather the day's supply of onions, scallions and other vegetables so necessary in the preparation of Italian dishes.

By eight he is back in his kitchen making the soups and sauces from family recipes which, incidentally, are to be placed on the market this year.

In the afternoon he is relieved by his wife who takes over the preparation of the raviolis, gnocchi, manicotti and home-made pastries.

At five, Leone is back at the restaurant ready to greet his patrons, ably assisted by Dr. Edward Hoeppner, the manager, and his son Frank, recently returned from two years service in Korea.

DOUGH for pastries, gnocchi, etc., is kneaded by Mrs. Yolanda Leone.

Solar Water Heaters Need Electric Booster

Solar heater owners in the Miami area frequently ask W. R. Robbins, owner of the long-established W. R. Robbins and Son Roofing Co., what can be done to provide hot water on cloudy days?

ROBBINS

"The simplest and best answer to this problem," says Robbins, "is to add an electric booster to your existing solar heater.

"The W. R. Robbins Solar Heater Department has been installing electric boosters on solar heaters for more than 22 years. They insure an inexpensive cource of hot water on days when the sun doesn't shine enough for the solar tray alone to heat.

"With a Robbins booster, the heater owner has a modern installation with the additional advantage of complete control over the length of time the heater is used.

"The installation of a booster is a simple two-step process requiring less than half a day in most cases. First the booster itself is installed in the hot line between the solar tray and the hot water storage tank. Next a control switch is installed in a convenient location.

"By turning on this switch, the booster is in operation and a red pilot light located on the switch indicates it is on. This makes the operation of the booster both easy and economical. The user controls the time it is on and the amount of water heated.

"Robbins boosters, like the well known Robbins roofs, are backed by our guarantee of maintenance service."

To insure the solar heater owner of a proper booster installation, W. R. Robbins and Son Roofing Co. has a staff of specially trained inspector-estimators to inspect each system and determine the individual specifications. There is, of course, no charge or obligation for this service.

A free inspection may be obtained by calling NEwton 4-1588 or visiting their office at 1401 NW 20th St.

MODERN EQUIPMENT and quality materials are used by workmen of Florida Spray Co. to give a guaranteed roof cleaning and coating job.

Florida Spray Offers Quality Roof Coating

Most home owners take great pride in the general attractiveness of their homes. However, there are many who fail to realize the importance of a clean, white, tile roof.

"Look up, your roof is showing," says Bob Kuster, president of Florida Spray Co. "Is it clean and white? A sparkling white roof adds real beauty to a home and makes it more comfortable in which to live.

"Now that the weather is more normal, we can give fast service on all roof cleaning and coating jobs.

"This service is possible because we have experienced men operating modern equipment. These workmen use only the finest materials available.

"First your roof is pressure cleaned with a solution containing fungicides to remove all the mold, fungus and dirt. This solution will not harm shrubs or grass. Cleaning is necessary because roof coatings will not bond properly on dirty tile.

"Then your roof is coated with plasticized Cool Home, a proven roof coating that has been specially developed for the tropics. Florida Spray is the exclusive user of this excellent roof coating. We give a one year written guarantee with each job.

"The new Cool Home coating will cool homes, offices and motels without air conditioners as much as 25 degrees, and it can reduce the operating costs of air conditioned buildings as much as 40 per cent.

"It will bond gravel on roofs, as well as provide excellent insulating qualities.

"Roofs are pressure cleaned and coated for a very low price. The cost depends on the condition and size of the roof and whether it is flat or barrel tile, slate or gravel.

"Florida Spray is fully licensed and insured. We are members of the Roof Cleaning and Coating Association of Florida and the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce."

A free estimate may be obtained by calling OXford 1-7531 in Miami, or JAckson 2-2120 in Fort Lauderdale.

Get Out of That Conga Line, Gal!

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm a dance instructor, 24, divorced, attractive and must work to support myself and my child.

ANN

It's part of my job to be interesting to the male students and to accompany them to night spots so we can practice with a variety of bands. I also go to private parties with my students as a "date" although I'm paid by the hour. (The studio gets half.) In this way, the student gets to try out the new dance steps and "show off" among his friends. It gives him confidence.

I make good money, but my work day is often 14 hours long. It sounded glamorous at first but now I'm fed up and exhausted. The worst part of it is I've become emotionally involved, with several students, and I'm ashamed to admit most of them were married men.

I'm not trained for any other work and can't afford to be unemployed. My apartment rent is high and I must wear good clothes. But I'm having trouble holding my head up among decent people. I find myself lying about what I do for a living. Also I know this sort of life leads nowhere. Please no sermons, Ann, just give me some workable advice. —GLAMORPUSS.

Dear G. Puss: A girl who goes to night spots and private parties and is paid for her time can call herself a "dance instructor" if she wants to, but others may have different labels. You say you aren't trained for any other work. How did you train for this?

If you honestly want to hold your head up among decent people I suggest you get out of that conga line and look for a decent job. You may not make as much money, it may mean a less expensive apartment and not-so-fancy duds but you'll be happier. And who knows, you might even meet a single fellow who has marriage on his mind instead of the cha cha cha.

DEAR ANN: I need help badly.

I've been married six years and we have two wonderful children. My parents and in-laws live in another city. Both my mother and mother-in-law must think I'm a moron. Ever since I married they've showered me with tons of unwanted "helpful" articles.

My mother-in-law is devoted to her church and insists on swamping me with church literature. She refuses to accept the fact that I am happy with MY religion and not interested in a change.

My mother is just as bad. She sends me every scrap on child-rearing she can find (if it supports her position). She's against punishing children. I believe in spanking children who write on walls and wantonly destroy things.

Please tell me how to end this flood of unsolicited and unappreciated junk. —TIRED OF ADVICE.

Dear Tired: This is the first time anyone has written for advice on how to duck advice.

Simply remove the "junk" from the envelopes and transfer it to the circular file (waste-basket). No comment is necessary. This will spare their feelings and keep your blood pressure down.

DEAR ANN: A group of us girls at the office were discussing a wedding we attended recently. The bride carried a bouquet of winter wheat. Have you ever heard of this? Is it proper? Please reply in your column. We are laughing ourselves sick. — THE BONNIE BELLES.

Dear Belles: The bride chooses her own bouquet and she can carry skunk cabbage and turnip greens if she wants to. You laughing hyenas don't happen to be single, do you?

CONFIDENTIAL TO DIZZY LIZ: Your love needs more light and less heat. That "burning passion" could be the midnight pizza. Get your nose out of those cheap magazines, Toots.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Pirates' Acquisition of Nelson Termed 'Good Gamble' by Brown

TAMPA — Rivals laughed last winter when Pirate General Manager Joe Brown paid the $25,000 draft price for Toronto's Rocky Nelson.

MURTAUGH

NELSON

"I may be laughing back at them," said Brown, who thinks he made a good gamble on Nelson although the latter failed in six previous major league tryouts. Last year Rocky led the International in six different departments and was named the league's most valuable player.

"If we turn Nelson back anytime during the season, we'll be refunded half of the draft price." Brown explained. "We'd be happier if Rocky sticks with us."

"I don't know what they have in mind for me," Nelson confided after working at first in the pregame infield drill. "I'll just give my best and hope."

Manager Danny Murtaugh conceded that Dick Stuart, who sparked the Pirates in their second half drive in 1958, is "our incumbent first baseman. But we've got a couple of guys, who can hit in Nelson and Ted Kluszewski."

Nelson, who has contended he's never been given a real chance to stick in the majors, will get it this time. The Pirates figure him as a good defensive first baseman late in the game, plus which he could help in the outfield and pinch hit. In 1958, Nelson's leadership in the International included 43 home runs, 120 RBIs and a .326 batting average.

Dope on the Pirates

1958 Record — W-84, L-70, finished second, eight games behind Milwaukee.

Outfield — Bob Skinner (.321) LF; Roberto Clemente (.289) RF; Bill Virdon (.267) CF.

Pitchers — Bob Friend (22-14), Vern Law (14-12), George Witt (9-2), Ron Kline (13-16), Harvey Haddix, Reds (8-7), bullpen: Elroy Face (5-2), Bob Porterfield (4-6), Bob Smith (2-2), Bennie Daniels (14-6 Columbus).

Before an exhibition game, Murtaugh said he considered Stuart improved to the point where he is almost of average big league defensive ability.

Later in the exhibition, Stuart made three errors in one inning—two of the same play by booting a throw to first and then tossing wild to the plate.

Why Stuart Is Highly Regarded

THE PIRATES are tolerant about such things. They consider Stuart, who hit 16 home runs last season, the man who could put them into pennant contention. Dick is one of baseball's more controversial figures, but he swings a mean bat and he's mellowed.

One of the reporters went to talk with Stuart, between his batting turns, and came back to report, "About all Dick said was that he talked too much two years ago. Now he's letting his bat speak for him."

When Stuart joined the Pirates last July from Salt Lake City, where he was leading the Pacific Coast League in home runs, the Pirates were in seventh place. Despite playing less than half the season, he hit for the circuit in every park.

Secret of Pirates' Drive

MANAGER MURTAUGH, who thinks he has a better balanced club than in 1958 despite giving up power in trading Frank Thomas to the Reds, was asked the secret of the come back.

"Elimination of mistakes," said Murtaugh. "We made few mental errors in the last half of the season. The players realized they were capable of playing good baseball. They had the potentials all of the time."

Murtaugh grinned when asked if he thinks the Pirates can take it all this year, explaining, "That remains to be seen. I never make predictions. It'll be a tough race, because most every club has a couple of pitchers who can shut you out when they're having a good day. That's why there are so few winning streaks in our league."

Team Revamped for Forbes Field

MURTAUGH CONCEDED he had sacrificed power for balance and a good defense. Two Reds obtained in the Thomas deal—Catcher Smoky Burgess and Third Baseman Don Hoak will see regular duty. The Pirates are counting on Southpaw Harvey Haddix winning at least 15 games.

"Our pitching should be lots better," said Murtaugh, who is counting on another big year from Bob Friend, the 22-game winner.

The Pirates won 30 of their last 36 games at Forbes Field, with an overall home record of 49-28.

Skinner to Bid for Crown

THE PIRATES think that Bob Skinner, who batted .321 last season, is a potential league leader in hitting.

From the power standpoint, they are encouraged by Kluszewski's recovery from his back ailment.

"He's been putting on a show for spectators at our spring practices," said Murtaugh. "The other day he hit four out of five pitches over the fence."

Broadway Billy Loes
. . . hurls verbal blast

By the Associated Press

Outspoken Broadway Billy Loes said Wednesday he prefers to be traded by the Baltimore Orioles to Cleveland.

Last Monday it was the San Francisco Giants the unpredictable pitcher said he would like to join.

"I was talkin' to Lane (Frank Lane, Indians' general manager) the other day, and he wants me," Loes asserted. "They got class over there."

Jim Piersall, Cleveland center fielder, "might do pretty good in Baltimore," suggested Loes, who has had a running feud with Oriole Manager Paul Richards for some time.

"The (New York) Yanks have wanted me for a long time," claimed the 29-year-old Jackson Heights, N.Y., resident. "But the Orioles want (Bobby) Richardson before they'll give me up."

LANE

Richards

PIERSALL

Richardson

Pressing his wisecracking ax closer to the grindstone, he let these sparks fly:

"I'm gettin' paid $15,000 this year by the Orioles for publicity purposes, and $5,000 for pitchin,' and I'm underpaid.

"They gotta pay me $7,000 to pitch. That's the major league minimum. I may take my case to Frick (Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball).

"Look at last season. I gave Richards a million dollars worth of publicity. Like I said before, I'm underpaid. Whoever heard of Richards until he hooked up with me?"

One of Loes' temper tantrums last season resulted in a $100 fine by the Orioles and a similar fine by the American League.

Loes had a disappointing 3-9 won-loss record last year after a 12-7 performance in 1957. His best major league stretch was a 50-25 record over four years (1952-55) with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Easy Spur's Drive Wins

By JOE McLAUGHLIN
Herald Turf Editor

Charging up on the outside under a terrific drive, Spring Hill Farm's Easy Spur sailed to a two and a half length triumph in Gulfstream Park's $12,475 Hutcheson Stakes Wednesday before 16,906 fans.

Quoted at 1-4 along with stablemate Octopus, Easy Spur raced the six and a half furlongs in 1:16. Easy Spur known better for his distance running, saved the day for the backers of the Jim Norris pair.

Pointer, with Bill Hartack whipping, finished second while Octopus, who had won four of his six starts this season, finished third.

Brooks appeared to be doing a bit of rating, for Octopus was not up to his usual early speed.

Logan Batcheller, aboard Easy Spur, was in fifth position at the head of the stretch. But when he asked Easy Spur for his winning drive, the gelding took his opposition as

. . . baseball heir refused to return Bill's salute

'It's Like a Comedy' to Chisox Brass

Comiskey, Veeck Play 'Hide-Seek'

CHICAGO —(AP)— The old and the new failed to meet at Comiskey Park Wednesday and Bill Veeck, incoming majority stockholder in the Chicago White Sox, described it as a "comedy."

While Veeck and Hank Greenberg, Bill's main associate in a syndicate which Tuesday bought 54 per cent of the White Sox, were having pictures taken outside the ball park, Vice President Chuck Comiskey abruptly left in his automobile.

Greenberg waved at Chuck, the minority stockholder with 46 per cent holdings, but Comiskey failed to return the salutation.

Veeck and Greenberg had just arrived for what they had hoped to be a conference to woo Chuck into being a friendly partner.

Later, Comiskey explained that "I didn't want to have my picture taken with Veeck and Greenberg because I had an appointment and I was already late for it."

Although Chuck denied he was avoiding Veeck and would talk with him if they happen to meet at Comiskey Park, he made it plain he is not officially recognizing the new majority group.

"I won't talk to Veeck as far as business is concerned," said Comiskey.' "I'll talk to John Rigney (co-vice president with Chuck), but not to Veeck (about business) because I don't know what position he holds."

Tuesday, Veeck announced that Rigney had appointed him and Greenberg as his "executive assistants."

Veeck laughed off what appeared a slight by Comiskey in their scheduled first meeting.

"It's like a comedy," said Veeck. "Very amusing. I'd like to see movies of it."

Then Veeck, former operator of the St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians, and Greenberg toured the Comiskey Park plant and met the Sox office staff. Veeck invited writers to a cup of coffee in the Sox dining room. "I think I can let you have 54 per cent of a cup of coffee," Veeck grinned. "I guess they'll let us have that.

Veeck and Greenberg then went into a huddle with Rigney, whose wife, Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, sold her majority holdings to Veeck over her brother Chuck's bitter, court-embroiled opposition.

"This is the same as any other business," commented Veeck. "If one executive doesn't show up, the business doesn't stop running."

One important phase of that business, however, is Comiskey's appeal in Circuit Court of a Probate Court ruling last Thursday permitting Dorothy to sell out to Veeck.

Miami High Deflates Winter Haven, 65-54

By RAY CRAWFORD

GAINESVILLE — With Dave Austin and Pete Somerindyke showing the way, Miami High's Stingarees turned back highly-regarded Winter Haven, 65-54, here Wednesday to take a big step toward the State Class AA Basketball Championship.

Another South Florida powerhouse, Fort Lauderdale Stranahan, adds a page to its growing athletic history with a state tourney debut today. The towering Dragons play St. Petersburg High at 3 p.m.

Wednesday's other Class AA game saw Tampa Hillsborough surprise strong Jacksonville Jackson, 86-72.

Austin and Somerindyke poured in 20 points each for the crowd-favorite Stings. Austin, the amazing 6-3 sophomore with huge hands, turned in one of the finest rebounding

Birdwatchers! Dig This Samson-Tufted Baltimore Oriole

Notes and Quotes, Anatomical, Astronomical and Otherwise:

Don't blame Second Baseman Billy Gardner if the Baltimore Orioles aren't strong this time around. Gardner shed his old crew-cut for a Samson-type coiffure that would shame Victor Mature . . . Marlene Bauer, onetime chunky blockbuster, has lost 10 pounds and now weighs in as the lightest player on the lady golf tour. She's 5-2, 100 pounds . . . And speaking of golf figures, one survey shows that nearly four million swingers spend $158 million a year for course-maintenance and equipment . . . Somebody asked Trainer Willie Reddish what he would do if Heavyweight Sonny Liston talked back. "The big ones are no trouble," said Reddish, "but if you want a handful of headache, try training a featherweight. They're the meanest guys in boxing!"

Tribe Errors Enable Red Sox To Win, 4-3

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. —(AP)— Two errors each by First Baseman Larry Doby and losing Pitcher Hal Woodeschick enabled the Boston Red Sox to edge Cleveland, 4-3, Wednesday and remain the only unbeaten major league team in exhibition play.

Boston's Mike Fornieles got Rocky Colavito to pop into the game-ending out with two runners on base and one run scored in the ninth inning.

Three unearned runs turned the trick for the Sox who posted their fourth straight triumph.

Senators Clip Yankees, 13-12

ORLANDO —(AP)— Rookie Bob Allison blasted a two-run homer off Murry Dickson that produced a 13-12 victory Wednesday for last year's cellar dwelling Washington Senators over the World Champion New York Yankees.

A crowd of 3,168 saw each club commit four errors and the Senators blow a 10-2 lead before Allison saved them with his 390-foot blow in the eighth inning.

Giants' Sauer Hits Grand-Slam

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — Hank Sauer hit a Grand-Slam home run in the eighth to pace the San Francisco Giants to a 10-5 exhibition victory over the Chicago Cubs Wednesday.

Sauer's blow came during a six-run spree.

Phils Crush Braves, 13-7

BRADENTON, Fla. — (AP) — Two homers by Wally Post and one by Gene Freese enlivened a 17-hit attack on four Milwaukee Braves' pitchers Wednesday as Philadelphia rolled a 13-7 exhibition victory.

Two Braves' newcomers — Jim Pisoni and Chuck Cottier — each accounted for three RBI's.

Pisoni hit a pair of home runs and Cottier collected three safeties.

Outsider Wins

'Tudor' Bumped, Quits

ARCADIA, Calif. — (AP) — Llangollen Farm's Royal Living charged up from off the pace to capture the $116,800 San Juan Capistrano Handicap at Santa Anita park Wednesday.

Winding up Santa Anita's meeting in sensational fashion, the 4-year-old Royal Living, son of Hill Prince, won the rich race by five lengths over the grass course before a crowd estimated at 37,000.

With the favored Tudor Era running out of the money, Tall Chief II got in second and Infantry third in the field of 14 grass running specialists.

Royal Living, with Ralph Neves in the saddle, paid $14.40, $8 and $5.70; Tall Chief returned $10.10 and $7.00 and Infantry $11.70.

Tudor Era, flown here from Florida after winning the rich Hialeah Turf Club Handicap Feb. 14, was bumped at the far turn after setting the early pace, and wound up 12th.

Bobby Ussery was aboard the English-bred 6-year-old. No claim of foul was lodged, however.

Cardinal Scout Signs Sinkovich

St. Louis scout John Buik Wednesday signed former Jackson High Outfielder Roy Sinkovich to a Class D baseball contract.

The former Herald All-City selection will report Sunday to Albany, Ga., where he will join Dothan of the Alabama-Florida League.

Patty Berg Seeks 8th Titleholders Victory

AUGUSTA, Ga. — (AP) — The 20th Women's Titleholders Championship — first act in Augusta's annual springtime golf festival — gets under way today with no clear-cut favorite in sight.

Patty Berg, who has dominated this tournament since its inception, waived aside suggestions that this is her year again at the Augusta Country Club course. Miss Berg holds seven Titleholders crowns and starting in 1953 has won here every odd numbered year — '53, 55 and 57. Why not 59?

"I'm playing well but my putting has been off" Patty explained. "And putting is the key to this tournament.

"Anyone of several others could win," Miss Berg said.

though they were standing still.

The Spring Hill entry was worth $2.60, $2.10 and $2.10, while Pointer returned $3.40 and $3. The victory was worth $7,750 to Owner Norris.

Fourth in the field of eight was The Chosen One, with Sword Dancer, Dobbie, Rough Tempo and Pryson following. All but Pointer and Pryson are eligible for the Florida Derby.

THE FLORIDA-BRED Niequest, son of Prince Qeust-Niecesue, won his second of seven starts with a 33 3-5 clocking over the three furlong straight course. Under Hedley Woodhouse, the juvenile was a length and a half to the good of Gray Flank and Hartack, while a head away for third came Venetian Way in the field of 14. The winner, bred by Graham E. Rose at Ocala, paid $13.60.

Fordham Plays Butler Tonight As NIT Opens

NEW YORK — (AP) — Fordham plays Butler and Villanova engages St. John's of New York tonight in opening games of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

Twelve picked teams compete in the annual event at Madison Square Garden, with the finals scheduled March 21.

Butler comes to the Garden with an 18-8 record but on the surge of a late season spurt which saw the team beat such powers as Tennessee, Indiana, Wisconsin, Notre Dame and Dartmouth.

Fordham hopes to cool off Butler with a one-two punch consisting of Capt. John Brady and John Andariese. The Rams won 16 and lost 7 games.

Villanova, a newcomer to the NIT, will bank on speed and backboard power against an experienced St. John's quintet.

Two more first round games will be played Saturday afternoon. Manhattan meets Providence at 2 p.m. and New York University faces Denver in the later game.

Saturday night the seeded teams swing into action. Bradley, No. 1, plays the Fordham-Butler winner and St. Bonaventure, No. 3, opposes the St. John's-Villanova victor.

TKO Earned By DeMarco

BOSTON — (AP) — Tony DeMarco, coming off a 14-month layoff, registered an eighth-round technical knockout over Curley Monroe Wednesday night which was bitterly contested by the losers' corner for "low blows."

The former welterweight champion weighing 147 who wanted another fight to see if he really could resume his ring career gave his answer with a left he buried in Monroe's midsection.

Edison Swimmers Post Twin Wins

Janet Terry, Shirley Stobs, Walter White and John Tompkins each posted double victories Wednesday as Miami Edison High's boys and girls swimming teams routed Miami Beach.

The Raider boys posted a 70-25 victory at Flamingo Park Pool. Edison won the girls competition, 79-8.

Archer, Penn State Benefit

Fight 'Won' Day Late; Track Meet, 10 Late

HOUSTON, Tex. — (AP) — Undefeated Joey Archer Wednesday was awarded a split decision verdict for last night's disputed middle-weight boxing match with Tony Dupas of New Orleans.

Billy Smith, deputy state boxing commissioner, ruled that Archer was butted accidentally and was entitled to the decision under Texas rules. Archer was leading in points when the scheduled 10-round bout was halted at the start of the seventh round.

"If a fighter is leading on points and is accidentally butted and unable to continue he wins the match if it is more than halfway over," Smith said.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Penn State was awarded the IC4A track and field championship Wednesday, 10 days after the event was run off in Madison Square Garden.

The organization's executive committee upheld a protest by Penn State's coach, Chick Werner, over the controversial 60-yard hurdles event and thus Manhattan was stripped of the one key point needed for victory.

So the final count now reads: Penn State, 20 17-36 points; Manhattan, 20 points.

Argument in the high hurdles came about when the finish was announced. Mike Herman of NYU was awarded third place and Henry White of Manhattan was placed fourth. After two reversals, that's the way it stands.

"There's A Reason"

He's an Alley Cat

Pigeon-Hating Killer Prowls Miami (Lofts)

Wanted: Dead or Alive, a large alley cat.

Use caution. He's armed with very sharp teeth and is dangerous — especially to pigeons.

This unknown assailant is responsible for approximately $4,000 worth of damage to one C. H. Lyne, a noted pigeon racer and breeder.

The cat broke into Lyne's loft atop his business (four stories above the FEC tracks at 5th St.) and one by one destroyed 11 valuable racing pigeons.

"He (the killer) practically put me out of business," moans Lyne. "I spend 15 years breeding my pigeons to their present state of perfection and along comes this cat.

"Breeding pigeons is much like breeding horses. It takes years of cross breeding and care to get a champion."

The Greater Miami Pigeon Club member has been reduced to 25 birds.

JACKSONVILLE — (AP) — Construction will start soon on a 12,000-seat coliseum that will give Jacksonville a full sports concourse along with the Gator Bowl and baseball park.

shank

Another brilliant styling idea from Italy . . . interpreted for you in America by Thom McAn. (You get imaginative continental design in concert with traditional New England craftsmanship.) This unusual shank not only makes the shoe look sleek and handsome, it makes it exceptionally flexible. Yet the fiddle shank still provides you with all the support you need. What's more, the continental sole will wear as well as thicker-looking ones because it's all outersole. The "upper" of this shoe is crafted from fine grained leather with special Riviera stitching. Try something different. The Fiddle Shank, only $8.95, only at

Curley Beaten By Beach, 7-3

Art Greenstone pitched Miami Beach High to a 7-3 opening baseball victory Wednesday over Curley at the losing Knights' diamond.

A five-run Beach outburst in the fifth wrapped up the victory. Mike London led Beach at the plate with two hits and two runs-batted-in.

Churchill Downs Hires Knebelkamp

Condensed From Herald Wire Services

Wathen R. Knebelkamp, who once said he never held a job he didn't like, took over a new one Wednesday: the presidency of Churchill Downs Race Track in Louisville.

Directors needed only 20 minutes to pick the 58-year-old horseman and distiller to succeed the late Bill Corum, New York columnist.

SPORTS HASH — Quarterback Ralph Guglielmi Wednesday signed a record equaling three-year contract with the Washington Redskins. Only two other players have signed for that long a period in the history of the Redskins. They're both retired — Sammy Baugh and Harry Gilmer . . . Hank Kuzma resigned as basketball coach at Loyola of The South after his first season and only 10 victories in 26 games. . . . Al Cervi, coach of the last-place Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association, said Wednesday the chances were "very slim" that he will be back next season. Newsmen had expected to learn immediately that the club was going to release Cervi halfway through his two-year contract . . . St. Lawrence, No. 1 in the East, and North Dakota, No. 2 in the West, meet tonight in the opening round of the 12th annual NCAA Hockey tournament. Heavily favored Michigan State, the West's top team, clashes with Boston College, second rated in the East, Friday night.

Dobbins Scores At Indian Creek

Jean Dobbins fired a 77 to win low gross in guest division of the Ladies Day tournament Wednesday at Indian Creek Country Club.

Mrs. W. F. Hoffman and Mrs. T. M. Wythel tied for low net with 70s.

In the member division, Mrs. J. B. Streit took low gross with an 84 while Mrs. J. C. Kilburn's 69 was best in net play.

It seemed every time the red-haired phenom leaped under the boards, he came down with the ball, no matter how many Winter Haven players battled with him.

Austin sprang so high once he was charged with goal tending (giving Winter Haven two points) when he reached above the nets to block what had been intended as a long pass downcourt.

The Stings were cold in the first half, but Austin's rebounding and a tight-zone defense enabled them to stay just beyond reach of scrappy Winter Haven, which brought the best Class AA record into the meet — 26 victories, on defeat.

Miami High, seeking its 11th state crown, faces the winner of tonight's Pensacola-Fort Myers game.

Full Day's Show Slated At Wild Hog Barbecue

Judging from the number of phone calls requesting further details of the Everglades Conservation Club's annual wild hog barbecue this Sunday, the club has been not at all optimistic in piling up more than two tons of vittles.

Most of the callers seemed to think that advance reservations and tickets might be required. Not so. You simply show up at the club grounds on the Old Loop Road, and you'll be assured of a full plate. The tab is a contribution of $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children, payable on arrival. All profits go to support the club's many conservation projects.

DUNAWAY

Special events are scheduled throughout the day, beginning at mid-morning; however, you don't have to worry about time. Food will be served all afternoon, and most entertainment is continuous.

On the entertainment list are a turkey-calling contest, two skeet shoots, free swamp buggy rides, a photo display, a typical hunter's camp, Seminole Indians, free movies of the Florida wilds, and a complete collection of Florida tree snails belonging to Nick Winkelman.

In addition to barbecued wild hog, the menu includes domestic ribs, chicken and the famous woodsman's dish — swamp cabbage.

President Cal Stone makes it clear that a crowd of several thousand can easily be accomodated on the expansive clubgrounds. Last year's attendance was 2,300.

To reach the barbecue, travel west on U.S. 41 (Tamiami Trail) for about 60 miles. Turn left on the Loop Road at Monroe Station and drive straight to the Club. The turn can be marked by a two-story truck stop.

Sports Show Next on Docket

MORE EXCITEMENT for sports-minded South Floridians kicks off this weekend with the opening of the Sports Show at the Miami Beach Exhibition Hall. Much of the floor space will be devoted to fishing and other outdoor activities.

Sports Show dates are March 14-22, with the Hall open between 1 and 11 p.m.

Owners of Garcia fishing reels, of which there are a great many hereabouts, will find an especially appealing feature at the show. Garcia will have factory personnel manning a repair booth, and anyone who brings his Mitchell, Ambassadeur, Cap or Abu-Matic reel to the show can have any sort of repair job done right on the spot—without charge in 99 per cent of the cases. Garcia does reserve the right to impose a fee, but this is only to prevent one person from slapping the busy repairmen with a large accumulation of reels.

The average fisherman can be confident of having his personal Garcia tackle checked or repaired free.

Little Girl, Big Fish

A YOUNG LADY described by her landlord as "the prettiest blonde in town" captured what was probably the best fish in town early Monday night. Five-year-old Betty Bivens, who moved here recently from Atlanta, hauled a 9½-lb black bass out of the Miami River at 55th Terrace, using a live shiner for bait. She fished just after dark with her father, Walter Bivins, and brother, Barry.

Chet Barnett, manager of the Flamingo Marina, reports that Bob Dillard stood on shore opposite the Flamingo picnic area in Everglades National Park, and pulled out a 13½-lb. snook. Dillard was casting a yellow bucktail on spinning gear with 8-lb. line.

A LEADER: This 69-lb. wahoo, proudly exhibited by its master, Leo Teittinen of Athol, Mass., is leading the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament. The fish was landed in the Gulf Stream out of Pier 5. Guiding honors went to Capt. John Slona on the Freelance.

Sawyer's Stock Rises After Flashy Workout

New York's Rudy Sawyer stepped up preparations for his Tuesday night test with Cuba's Kid Fichique Wednesday, whisking five fast rounds with Ray Shepard in a drill that had gymnasium hangers-on buzzing.

The Miami Beach Auditorium test, scheduled for 10 rounds, had pretty much been conceded to the Cuban, a tremendous puncher with only 10 losses in 52 fights, before Sawyer went through his first serious drill.

Displaying a fine mid-section attack along with slightly amazing defensive ability, Sawyer handled Shepard, a better-than-average prelim kid, easily as he tuned his attack for Fichique.

Another eight-round fight was added to Tuesday's card yesterday, this one matching lightweights Charlie Titone, of Miami Beach, and Hilton Smith of Tampa.

Oil Capitol Dies At Kentucky Farm

LEXINGTON, Ky. —(AP)— Oil Capitol, winner of $580,756 during his racing career including Hialeah's Widener, has died of an abdominal obstruction. The syndicate-owned son of Mahmoud-Never Again II, by Pharos, died Monday night at Crown Crest Farm where he had been in stud since 1954.

Canada Flattens Russia

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (AP) — The cautious but cool Canadian hockey team turned back its leading rival, Russia, 3-1, Wednesday in a game that most observers saw as the deciding one of the World Amateur Ice Hockey Championships.

Taking a 2-0 lead in the first period, Canada's Bellevill McFarlands relied on close checking and careful defense to gain their second victory of the final round.

Temporarily this meant only a first place tie with the United States, which routed Finland, 10-3, in an earlier game Wednesday, and with Czechoslovakia. Each has four points in the standing after two victories.

But the Russians had beaten the U.S., 5-1, in the opening game of the final round Monday and were considered the only team which might halt Canada's drive to a second straight World Championship.

The Americans learned that Paul Johnson of St. Paul, who scored three goals against Finland, had been playing with a broken thumb. And Tom Williams of Duluth received a second cut on his nose during Wednesday's game.

The Canadians got off ahead when Denis Boucher took a Goalmouth pass to score after nine minutes. Three minutes later Moe Benoit finished off a two-man rush by poking the puck into an open corner of the net.

DO YOUR GRIP AND THE WAY YOU STAND OVER THE BALL FEEL COMFORTABLE?
I'D SAY SO. I DON'T FEEL AWKWARD OR OFF BALANCE.
THAT'S ALL THAT'S NECESSARY. NOW LINE UP AND PUTT THESE FOUR BALLS. THEY'RE ABOUT 30-FOOTERS.
DO EVERYTHING AS YOU WOULD IF EACH WERE THE CRUCIAL PUTT OF A MATCH.

Dade Given '50-50 Chance' To Land Top Bowling Tourney

By DICK EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

Greater Miami stands a "50-50 chance" of landing the world series of bowling — the BPAA National Individual All-Star Tournament — in 1961.

Joseph F. Paulus, president of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America, passed the word Wednesday.

"I think this area stands at least a 50-50 chance of landing the All-Star in '61," said Paulus at a Miami Beach hotel. "The only roadblock appears to be getting together on facilities."

The All-Star tournament is ripe for Miami. Delegates, visitors and bowlers suffered through 10 icy days at Buffalo last January.

Denver and Los Angels, however, also are hot after the tournament and its nationally televised finals.

Paulus, here to make final plans for the National Proprietors Convention at Miami Beach in June, took time to inspect the new Beach convention hall.

Other possible sites include the Beach Auditorium and Dinner Key Auditorium. One of the two automatic pinspotter companies would install 24 to 30 lanes for the All-Star tournament.

"Besides Miami being good for the All-Star tournament," said Paulus. "I think the All-Star would be good for Miami. It would bring in thousands of bowling followers and give the area national wire and television coverage."

Nat Sokolow and Ben Booke, two local proprietors, will give Paulus additional facts and figures on a Miami All-Star tournament during the ABC at St. Louis.

HIALEAH'S Al Palmer says 75 teams are expected to participate in the Miami Junior Mail-O-Graphic Tournament April 4. Thirty-five of the teams will come from host Hialeah. The tournament will be split into three shifts starting at 9 a.m.

THE CRACK Metropolitan All-Star League has decided to leave Miami Bowland. The league hasn't decided on a new site.

Downes Wins in Shuffleboard

Bob Downes won the men's singles title in the Coconut Grove Community Center's shuffleboard tournament, Harold Cook was runnerup.

Mike Marraccini and Asa Palmer teamed for a doubles victory. Abe Schepps and Harold Andresen were second.

Mollie Kandell emerged the women's victor. Barbara Cook was second.

Ex-Miamian's Star Choice at Aintree

LONDON —(AP)— Mr. What, last year's runaway winner, Wednesday headed the list of 37 final entries for the Grand National Steeplechase March 21 — the world's toughest horse race.

The starters are expected, however, to be cut by late scratches to about 30 by post-time.

Winner of the four-mile 856-yard chase over 30 obstacles will collect 14,496 pounds ($40,588).

Mr. What, owned by Irish-American David Jones Coughlan, romped to a 30-length victory over the soft turf of Aintree last year. This time he has been given 17 pounds extra weight — 163 pounds. Coughlan once sold real estate in Miami. He now lives in Ireland.

Mr. What, a nine-year-old bay gelding, is trying to become the seventh horse in the 122-year-old race to win the gruelling event two straight times. The last horse to do that was Reynoldstown in 1935 and 1936.

Bookies think Mr. What a good bet. They have made the Irish-trained and Irish-bred horse favorite. His odds have varied between 12-1 and 8-1.

The list of accepters includes many famous Aintree specialists such as Liberetta, Green Drill and Wyndburgh. Wyndburgh was second to Mr. What last year and Tiberetta is rated one of the surest jumpers in the field. She has never fallen at Aintree.

The Grand National is a big betting race. Bettors try to couple the winners of the Lincolnshire Handicap — a flat race — with the National winner. The first Irish sweepstakes of the season are based on the running.

Kerstin, Mr. What, Done-Up, Top Twenty, John Jacques, Oxo, Wyndburgh, Slippery Serpent, Mainstown, Cannobie Lee, Tiberetta, Mr. Gay, Dondrosa, Glorious Twelfth, Green Drill, Amorial, Irish Coffee, Eternal Vigor, Pintail, Oscar Wilde, Surprise Packet, Valiant Spark, Soltown, Pippykin, Kilbabbyown, Richardstown, Stop List, Turmoil, Nic Atkins, Sundawn, Belsize, Eagle Lodge, Southerntown, Royal Tournament, The Crofter, and Henry Purcell.

WINNER SELECTED BY: McLaughlin.

OWNERS: 1. Jeff-Lin Stable; 2. R A Firestone Jr.; 3. J. L. Friedman; 4. V. Stott; 5. Elaine Roberts; 6. G. Christian; 7. J. C. Brighton; 8. Mrs. A. Brent; 9. F. E. Kingsbury; 10. Mrs. C. L. Ostriker; 11. D. O. Evans; 12. Double E. Stable.

JOLLY HARP engaged QUEEN OF SHEEBA from outside at once, put that one away when sharply roused in upper stretch, cut over sharply when clear in midstretch and proved clearly best. JOLLY HARP survived a claim of foul lodged by rider of runnerup when it was ascertained the winner was clear when he came over in midstretch. QUEEN OF SHEEBA had speed, saved ground to stretch where she drifted out while tiring. DEECIE came wide and made up some ground.

SCRATCHES: Fergie's Boy, Papasredman, Monko, Papa Bill, Planaway, Dainty Lady.

LEBANON LAD circled his field when ready on rounding second turn to wrest command in upper stretch and prevail over O. K. BUD in a long drive. Latter raced wide throughout and finished with good courage. RAISING CAIN rallied from between horses in late stages to be easily best of others. KNOCKANGO was used up early and lasted to finish on even terms with TRIPLE BEE.

SURINAM forced extremely wide on entering first turn, continued on outside thereafter to gain command on entering stretch and was hard pressed to draw clear. ROYAL JESTER moved to fore when leaders swung wide entering first turn, turned back a bid by WAR EAGLE at midway point and then held on fairly well after giving way to winner. EQUIPAT was going well at the end. WAR EAGLE bore out badly entering first turn and was hard used thereafter to maintain a position. WAR EAGLE was disqualified and placed last for interfering with SURINAM, HYMIENT and WORLD OVER on entering first turn.

	15	Pope's Theory	No Boy	x115	15-1

ROCKET FUEL gets the nod here; HEAD WAY should be the contender on present form; LOVER'S LEAP has chance if escapes also eligibles; FAIR TRIUMPH may surprise.

812—SECOND—Purse $3,000, 4-year-olds and up, claiming $3,500, 6½ furlongs. Post—2:20.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds

703	13	Parlayed	A. Fairbanks	110	15-1
747	16	French Legion	J. Bennett	x110	15-1

BROTHER COON should get the money this time; MORSE FLASH is liked by connections; RISQUE SONG should be a factor in this; BROTHER BEANS will be there very soon.

813—THIRD—Purse $3,000, 2-year-olds, maiden colts and geldings, 3 furlongs. Post—2:50.

(POST POSITION ORDER)

578	13	Aceing	W. M. Cook	110	20-1
379	11	Some Dive	G. L. Smith	105	15-1

LUBRETTE is real starp, must be given top call; ROAD AGENT is usually close in all races; ERRATIC is in good hands; SHREWSBURY ROCKS appears best of the rest.

815—FIFTH—Purse $3,100, 4-year-old, fillies, claiming $6,500-6,000, 6 furlongs. Post—3:50.

788	5	Set Pattern	E.J. Decker	114	20-1
	3	Jock Ada	S. Lazok	x111	20-1

a—Sanford Stud Farm entry.

UPSY DAISY is dropping down; LADY PONDER must be classed as the danger here; HANNIBAL'S GIRL won last and figures close here; TAD must be given consideration.

816—SIXTH—Purse $3,300, 3-year-olds, allowances, 6½ furlongs. Post—4:20.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds

357	13	Our Black Gem	R. Ussery	111	15-1

a—G. Robulock entry.

GREEK CIRCLE appears best of these, this should be the day; GOLDEN STAR won last try, figures close; SEVERN has chance at good price; COUNT NERO is in winning form.

817—SEVENTH—Purse $3,500, 4-year-olds and up, allowances, 6 furlongs. Post—4:50.

Ind	PP	Horse.	Jockey	Wt.	Odds

771	10	Total Traffic	No Boy	115	12-1
	11	Blue Charm	R. Hurley	x108	20-1

818—EIGHTH—Purse $3,400, 4-year-olds, allowances, 1 1-16 miles. Post—5:20.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
459	1	Greek Chief	W. Hartack	111	2-1

Federal Controls On Oil Imports Get Industry OK

By Herald Wire Services

WASHINGTON – U.S. oil industry leaders Wednesday voiced approval of new mandatory federal controls of imports of crude, unfinished and finished oil products.

President Eisenhower announced late Tuesday that the mandatory system would replace voluntary quotas which expired at midnight.

Starting Wednesday no crude or unfinished oils may be shipped into the United States from abroad unless authorized by the secretary of the interior.

Price policing on oil and petroleum products is part of the elaborate mandatory oil import control program.

The move to curb prices, a surprise last-minute White House decision, was ordered to offset possible price-boosting effects of sharp reductions decreed in imports of foreign oil.

Under the President's order, the government will scrutinize all price increases posted on oil, its products or derivatives from now on.

If the boosts are considered too high, officials said, more imports of foreign oil would be allowed, presumably to act as a brake on prices.

Initial response from abroad was critical. Canadian political leaders called the restrictions applying to Canadian oil imports "regrettable" and "one-sided."

The step came at the urging of domestic producers. They complained that the voluntary program failed to halt the influx of cheaper oil from aboard and forced them to cut back production.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, of oil-rich Texas, said the President's action was "sorely needed at this time because reserves were dropping due to lack of drilling." He said the nation's defense requires healthy oil reserves.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America said the new program of mandatory limitations "will reduce total imports substantially from current levels of about 2,000,000 barrels a day to less than 1,500,000 barrels a day, or somewhat below 1957 import levels."

Capt. Matthew V. Carson, who will administer the new program, said he did not believe the new program, in itself, would force price increases to motorists and consumers of fuel oil.

Little Guy Does Well On Market

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The little guy who buys less than 100 shares at a time has fared pretty well in the stock market, the New York Stock Exchange said.

A study of the habits of the odd-lot investor, published in the official "Big Board" magazine showed he:

—Doesn't blindly follow the crowd, but instead selects his own favorite issues;

—Isn't over-awed by high-priced stocks or overly fearful of low or medium-priced issues;

—Is willing to acquire issues which show small yields or no yields at all;

—Did well in price appreciation in the buoyant stock market of 1958.

The study revealed that General Motors Corp. continued to be the most popular stock with the odd-lotter. Next was American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

TMT Gets a New Group Of Officers

JACKSONVILLE —(UPI)— A new slate of officers for the recently-reorganized TMT Trailer Ferry, Inc., were announced Wednesday.

President of the trailer ship service is C. Gordon Anderson, a trustee of the company and a director of Florida National Bank here.

Secretary-treasurer is M. James Spitzer of the New York law firm of Reich, Spitzer and Feldman.

TMT operates a "roll on-roll off" service between Jacksonville and San Juan, Puerto Rico, between San Juan and the Virgin Islands.

Until recent approval of a federal court in Miami, TMT had operated under a trustee since November, 1957.

Other new directors are Isadore A. Raff, partner in Aristocrat Clock Co.; Nathan B. Sommers, operations manager of General Artists Corp.; Julian Saphier, president of Gulfport Vegetable Oil Mills; and Arthur Rudnick, former president of A. A. Rudnick Paper Box Manufacturing Co.

The new reorganization plan calls for issuance of 550,000 shares of preferred stock, 25 cents par, convertible into common shares; 500,000 shares of common stock, 10 cents par; and about 500,000 shares of preferred stock, 10 cents par.

Florida Ponders Its Industrial Future

By JAMES RUSSELL
Herald Business Editor

TAMPA — Possibly 300 persons will sit down together here today to try to decide how Florida can organize its explosive industrial growth on a state-wide basis.

They will be businessmen, state and local officials, leaders of industry, industrial realtors, economists, and bankers.

For two days they will hear speeches and engage in discussions on Florida's industrial development and what can be done about it in the future.

"There is twice as much industry in the state now as there was in 1950 and our population is a staggering 60 per cent above the census figure reported in 1950," Alfred T. Hearin, chairman of the first annual Florida Industrial Conference, said in explaining the need for such a meeting.

The feeling among the industry and chamber of commerce people sponsoring the conference is that Florida's population is growing faster than its industry and something ought to be done about it.

The question the conference hopes to answer is, "How can we stimulate Florida's industrial growth?"

"We feel that Florida's rapidly growing population and its increasing industrial importance make imperative a thoughtful review of the ways we can work together, Hearin said.

Sen. Spessard Holland will address the conference tonight.

C. H. Read of Miami, president of the Florida chapter of the Society of Industrial realtors, will preside over the conference's opening session today. The society is one of the sponsors of the meeting.

Howell T. Watson, Dallas, Tex., businessman and national president of the Society of Industrial Realtors, is the conference's keynote speaker.

Other events on the two-day program include:

A PANEL discussion on "How Government and Private Enterprise Can Cooperate to Attract New Industry to Florida."

A TALK by a Prudential Insurance Co. vice president, Hugh Abernathy, on "Financing and Development of Industry."

A REPORT on "The Impact of Natural Gas on Florida Industry," by F. E. Stanley, board chairman of the Houston Corp., which is building a 1,600-mile pipeline from Texas to Miami.

AN EXPLANATION of the relationship of banking to industrial development, by Harold Martin, vice president of the Barnett National Bank of Jacksonville.

U.S. Appeals Quashing of Charges Against Miamians

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

The government asked the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in Jacksonville to reinstate and indictment charging four Miami financiers misapplied bank funds.

District Judge Seybourn H. Lynne quashed the indictment last year while on a temporary assignment at Miami.

U.S. Atty. James L. Guilmartin told the Appeals Court the charges against Baron De Hirsch Meyer, Leonard Abess, Samuel R. Becker and W. George Kennedy constituted a wilful intent to defraud the bank even though in this instance there was no loss.

The indictment had charged they misapplied bank funds when they approved loans to companies in which they were interested, purchased undeveloped lands with those funds and then loaned the developer bank funds to improve the property.

Chester Bedell of Jacksonville, attorney for the bankers, said federal laws do not prohibit officers of a bank from making profit on activities which have some connection with their bank positions.

Jet Copter Bows, Price $88,000

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

First jet-driven heliocopter to win U.S. government approval for passenger carrying has showed its paces here.

The ultra modern "flying windmill" was brought here for the showing on the theory that Miami, in early March, is virtually crawling with people who can afford the $88,000 price tag on the aircraft.

Pete Reed, pilot for multimillionaire Arthur Vining Davis, and Charles Cover, technical advisor to Trans Heliocopter Inc., a Miami concern that buys 'copters and charters them out to industries and industrialists, were on the first test hops from Watson Park.

Trans Heliocopter was regarded as a virtually certain purchaser of one of the aircraft, which are imported from France and assembled by Republic Aviation Corp. of Farmingdale, N.Y. The French manufacturer is Alouette.

Newspapermen and TV cameramen, taken for demonstration rides in the five place job, were shown what it would do.

They were hurled upward at more than 1,000 feet per minute, and moved over Biscayne Bay at some 105 miles per hour, both speeds being far in excess of the conventional heliocopter movements.

Pilot Jack Crossthwait, who brought the aircraft from the Republic factory, showed it off for the cameramen by stationary hovers just off the ground, by backing it in mid-air, and by setting it down on its big pontoons as lightly as a feather.

As with other jets, there is no warm up period required. An electric starter kicks off the jet power plant, the jet fuel igniting automatically when a certain speed is reached. From there on the engine operates at a constant number of revolutions.

The pilot uses no throttle. He regulates his air speed entirely by changes in the pitch of the rotor blades. The power plant used kerosene or diesel fuel, making it popular for servicing offshore oil rigs, when aviation test gasoline is definitely unwelcome.

Sales talk for the importers includes the claim the 'copter requires 40 per cent less maintenance than the conventional heliocopter and that the extreme light weight of its engine (220 pounds) permits far more pay load.

Factory men here with the job said they were none too optimistic on "selling" multimillionaire Davis. While this one is touted as being far more "quiet" than earlier ones, they said he still thinks all 'copters are too cussed noisy.

Cuban Pesos Are Growing Scarce Here

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A lively black market in Cuban pesos which has existed in Miami is drying up.

The peso, which has sold for as little as 45 cents in recent months, has been gradually returning to parity with the dollar. The current price is about 87 cents.

Speculators are still buying 500 and 1,000 peso bills at 45 per cent of their face value, but these bills are no longer accepted by Cuban banks.

Currency experts say the speculators are reselling the big bills to Latin American countries which owe money to Cuba.

These countries are reportedly insisting that the money which they have purchased at discount prices be accepted by the Castro government as payment on their debts.

The Cuban government is expected to announce shortly that new 500 and 1,000 peso bills will be issued and that the old ones, issued during the Batista regime, are no longer legal tender.

The American Bank Note Co. in New York is believed to be printing a new series of bills in the large denominations for the Castro government.

Are Gas and Oil Stocks Good Buy?

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. I have saved $1,500 while working at a gas station. I know that this country cannot get along without gas and oil. I am thinking of investing in Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Socony Mobil stock. What is your opinion of my reasoning?

A. Your reasoning is very good. And so is your choice of stocks.

Placing your investment in an industry whose products you are familiar with and have confidence in is a smart move.

DOYLE

Some people will tell you that the gasoline engines is on its way out — that it will be replaced by atomic energy and such. Maybe so, but you can be almost certain that the big, well-managed petroleum companies will have a big finger in any new mass transportation pie that comes down the pike.

They're in business to stay. Jersey Standard and Socony Mobil are high-grade stocks. They both have long-term records of growth in value, earnings and dividends. Like many other oil stocks, however, they still haven't fully recovered from the recent recession and some other problems.

As a result, they haven't had the big price runups that many stocks in other industries have had. That shouldn't worry you, as long as you are buying as investment for future years.

One last word of caution: Don't put all your savings into stocks. Keep some cash reserve.

Q. In one column you explained that a person who sells his home for a higher price than he paid for it does not have to pay a Federal capital-gains tax on the profit if he buys a more expensive home within a certain time.

I bought a two-family house for $6,500 in 1935 and sold it for $22,000 in 1958. I then bought another two-family house for $27,000. I never lived in either house. Do I have to pay a capital-gains tax on the profit I made by selling the first house?

A. Yes. The law under which there is no such tax due applies only when you sell your "principal residence" and use the proceeds to buy another "principal residence."

Because you did not live in the house, you will have to pay a capital-gains tax. How big a profit you will be taxed on depends on a lot of things — such as what depreciation you have taken or should have taken off your annual income-tax returns and what improvements you made on the property.

But this is a very complicated thing. Anyone who owns property other than their own home should consult a good tax accountant.

Space Age Stocks Set New Pace

NEW YORK —AP— Further gains by space age shares and a technical rally by rails helped give the stock market a moderate advance in active trading Wednesday.

Gains and losses of from fractions to about a point prevailed among most key stocks. The electronic-missile-rocket group displayed bigger gains, including a leap of 9¼ by Zenith.

Selected issues in various groups also showed advances of 3 or 4 points.

President Eisenhower's indication that any conflict over Berlin would result in a nuclear war brought further emphasis on the "glamor stocks" which have made such great strides lately.

The President's proclamation of mandatory import curbs for petroleum and his order for oil price policing was followed by early softness among oil shares and a partial recovery which found the group mixed.

Aircrafts, steels, motors and utilities also were higher. Chemicals were irregular.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher on volume of 2,670,000 shares compared with 2,060,000 Tuesday.

Corporate bonds improved.

U.S. government bonds inched higher in slow dealings.

American Bankers' Ex-Leader Dies

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. —(AP)— Robert M. Hanes, 68, former president of the American Bankers Association died in a hospital here.

Hanes once turned down the presidency of Chase National Bank of New York to stay in his native state.

The retired president of Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., the Southeast's largest banking concern, gained prominence in a half dozen fields.

Hanes, one of eight children, all of whom distinguished themselves, stood out in the business world as a director of 12 companies.

Robert M. Hanes
. . . he was 68

He served with the Economic Cooperation Administration in 1949-51, first as chief of the Belgium-Luxembourg mission, then as head of the Frankfurt mission, and finally as economic adviser to the high commissioner for Germany.

He was a graduate of the University of North Carolina and Harvard's Graduate School of Business Administration, and had served as both a senator and representative in the North Carolina General Assembly.

Former Legislator From Kentucky Dies

Finis E. Wilson, 69, a former Kentucky legislator and federal official, died Tuesday after suffering a second stroke.

Mr. Wilson, of 111 Salamanca Ave., Coral Gables, had been a resident here 25 years, coming from Memphis.

He was in the Kentucky Legislature in the 1920s. In the 30s he served as prohibition administrator for Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi, with headquarters in Memphis. When he resigned that position he was appointed clerk of the U.S. District Court for Western Tennessee.

After his graduation from high school in 1914 he was pitcher for two seasons with the St. Louis Browns in the American League.

Surviving are his wife, Beulah F.; two daughters, Mrs. E. B. Perkins, Auburn, Ky., and Mrs. J. V. Cummings, Montrose, Ala.; two brothers and seven grandchildren.

Services will be held this morning at the Ben Lanier and Son Funeral Home, with burial in Auburn, Ky.

The family requests donations to Variety Children's Hospital in lieu of flowers.

NOTICE OF SALE
$450,000
CITY OF HIALEAH,
DADE COUNTY, FLORIDA
WATER REVENUE
CERTIFICATES, SERIES
OF 1958

The City Council of the City of Hialeah, Florida, will receive sealed bids at their regular meeting place, until 5:00 P.M. EST, on MARCH 31, 1959 for the purchase of $450,000 principal amount, City of Hialeah, Florida Water Revenue Certificates, Series of 1958.

Said bonds shall be dated October 1, 1958, numbered 1 to 450, in coupon form, registrable as to principal only, denomination $1,000 payable as to principal and interest at The Marine Midland Trust Company of New York. Said bonds shall bear interest at such rate or rates not greater than 5% per annum as may be determined at the time of the sale thereof, which interest shall be payable April 1 and October 1, and semi-annually thereafter on the first days of October 1 and April 1 in each year, until the payment of principal.

Said bonds shall mature serially on April 1 as follows: 1960 to 1963 $5,000 each year; 1964 to 1967 $6,000 each year; 1968 to 1969 $7,000 each year; 1970 to 1973 $8,000 each year; 1974 to 1978 $10,000 each year; 1979 to 1982 $12,000 each year; 1983 to 1984 $40,000 each year; $42,000 in 1985; $45,000 in 1986; $47,000 in 1987; and $48,000 in 1988.

Bonds maturing 1968 to 1988, inclusive shall be redeemable prior to maturity at the option of the City on October 1, 1967 or on any interest payment date thereafter, in whole or in part, but in inverse order of maturities and by lot within maturities if less than all, at the price of par and accrued interest plus the following premiums: 4% of par value 1967 to 1970; 3% of par value 1971 to 1974; 2% of par value 1975 to 1978; 1% of par value 1979 to 1982, and without payment of premium if called thereafter.

Also callable in whole at any time prior to October 1, 1967, at par and accrued interest plus premium of 4%, in the event it is found necessary to redeem all of said revenue certificates to enable the city to finance the cost of city-wide sanitary sewers.

Series of 1958 Certificates are payable from net revenues of the City's municipal water works system, on a parity with $1,056,000 principal amount Water Revenue Certificates, dated April 1, 1950, 1951 and 1953, maturing serially April 1, 1959 to 1982, inclusive. These revenue certificates do not constitute an indebtedness of the City of Hialeah within the meaning of any constitutional, statutory or charter provisions or limitations, and the City is under no obligation to pay principal or interest, except from the net revenues.

A non-litigation certificate dated as of the date of the delivery of the bonds and the unqualified approving opinion of Messrs. Chapman and Cutler, Bond Attorneys of Chicago, Illinois will be furnished the purchaser without cost to him.

Bidders are requested to name the interest rate or rates, not exceeding 5% per annum, in multiples of ¼ or 1-10 of 1%. No bid for less than all of said bonds or offering to pay less than 98% of the par value thereof plus accrued interest will be considered. Bidders may name not exceeding three different rates of interest, but the same single rate of interest shall be named for all of the bonds of any one maturity. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder or bidders whose proposal results in the lowest net interest cost to the City.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company in the amount of $9,000, payable to the order of "The City of Hialeah, Florida" as a good faith deposit to guarantee the performance of said bid.

Copies of Notice of Sale, Official Information and Bid Forms may be obtained from the undersigned.

Sound Reasons
For Preference
Many families select our organization because they know of the careful, skillful attention we give to our professional duties. These families also know that despite the fact that our services are of the highest quality, the total cost is no more than that charged for ordinary service.

PROBABLY the largest advertising potential of any building on W. Flagler St. This large building is close to downtown Miami. Improvements consist of large 3 story masonry and steel building. Has 32 large well furnished apartments and 12 stores. Apartments easily converted to 90 hotel rooms which should possibly more than triple the income. Faces on 3 Streets. Cost of reproduction today would probably be upward of $400,000. Due to illness of owner the price has recently been reduced $70,000 from real asking price. Today $150,000 can purchase this property. HERE'S one that you'd better circle with your red pencil. It's our 1952 PLYMOUTH BELVEDERE 2 door HARDTOP and we've just reduced it $100. It's a beauty finished in Ebony and Lipstick Red that you'll find in A-1 condition. The well kept original interior including the door panels, headliner and pile floor carpeting has been sparked with custom cut to fit seat covers that were installed by the former owner. You'll have the big "8" tube DeLuxe push button radio, Mopar thermostat heating and fresh air system, directional signals, Solex E.Z. eye tinted glass and excellent white wall tires. Better hurry for this one as it will sell to the 1st person that drives it. No cash needed — Just trade in your 1948 model for the down payment. Stock No. 8049.

WOW! Here's the best price yet for America's most popular model imported automobile. It's our completely factory original 1957 ENGLISH FORD ANGLIA 2 door sedan at a really low sale price. Because at the price of only $995 it's priced way below it's actual value. You'll find the Glacier Green factory finish is in spotless condition, bumper to bumper. The interior will stay new looking for years if you just damp wipe down the Naugahyde door panels and seats — that incidentally are in show room condition too.

The best part of course is the up to 35 miles per gallon of gas economy that you'll be getting—and you'll be able to make part of the payments with the gas money saved. There's no cash needed — Just trade in your 1952 model for the down payment. STOCK No. 8552.

1952 CHEVROLET 9 PASSENGER $495

WE DON'T think that you can find another 1952 CHEVROLET 9 passenger, 4 door station wagon in the extra fine condition that ours is anywhere in the state of Florida. To start with, there's a BRAND NEW Starmist White and Bermuda Coral finish that is in showroom condition bumper to bumper. The interior is completely factory original with washable Naugahyde seats, headliner, floormats and special door panels.

FOR your driving convenience, you'll have POWERGLIDE automatic transmission, the big "8" tube DeLuxe push button radio, clock, directional signals and a set of way way above average tires that you'd expect to find at this price. A word to the wise — Be early because it will sell quickly at this price. Guaranteed in writing for 90 days by Grentner Bros and no cash needed — Just trade in your 1947 model for the down payment.

NOTICE

Since we began our "Free Gas Courtesy Card" Plan with the purchase of an ENGLISH FORD it has come to our attention that a great deal of misinformation has reached the public about how the plan works. We have therefore compiled the following list of questions that you might ask and we have answered each one in order to give you the true facts on the "Free Gas" Plan.

C. E. Grentner

Q. When and How do I receive the free gas?
A. You receive a Courtesy Card immediately which is good at over 200 stations in Dade County.

Q. How do you figure "1 Year's Supply?"
A. By using an average mileage of 10,000 and arriving at a total of 333 gallons.

Q. Do I pay any more for the car on the Free Gas Campaign?
A. No. All factory prices are the same at all dealers as required by the Federal Price labeling law.

Q. Must I buy any "EXTRA'S?"
A. No.

Q. Does the Free Gas plan apply to all models?
A. Yes, there are no gimmicks or restrictions on this plan.

Q. May I choose my brand of gas?
A. Yes. You may choose any brand of regular gas and the station.

Q. Must I use all the Gas within one year?
A. No. If you do not use this much within a year your courtesy card is valid until all the gas has been used.

Q. Am I limited to a certain amount each week?
A. No. You may use as much or as little as you wish.

Q. If I move or go on Vacation do I still receive my free gas?
A. Yes. We can arrange to supply you free gas anywhere in the United States.

Aide to Trujillo Calls Munoz a 'Colonialist'

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic —(UPI)— Dominican Foreign Minister Porfirio Baez says recent statements on the Caribbean situation by Puerto Rican Gov. Luis Munoz Marin reflect "colonialist" ideas.

Commenting on observations by Munoz Marin in an interview in San Juan earlier this week with United Press International President Frank Bartholomew, Baez said that "the mentality of the Puerto Rican official is that of a colonial statesman and not that of a representative of a free country."

Baez added that Munoz Marin, in the latter role, would be supposed to "assume responsibility and not show spite for the inalienable rights of other sovereign states, as he has done, and always has done, under the comfortable shadow of the American flag."

Munoz Marin said the non-intervention policy of the Organization of American States should be modified to permit action in nations having dictatorships.

Munoz is a staunch supporter of Cuban Revolutionary Leader Fidel Castro.

Time to Start Thinking About the Future

EDINBURGH, Scotland —(AP) — Actor A. E. Matthews, 89, is appearing here in a comedy, "How Say You?" and thinking about the future. He told a reporter he's giving up whisky and has started saving money. Why?

"When a man is getting on for 90 — which I will be in November — it's time for him to start thinking about his future." He said he'd drunk whisky for 70 years and had quit many times before.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

I KNOW a man who passed his civil service tests at the head of the class. He is slightly handicapped, and after much examination the civil service doctor turned him down.

"Why?" asked the applicant. "My handicap won't hinder me the slightest on this job."

"I know," the doctor admitted. "But the city is being sued for damages by one of its own attorneys because he fell off a city-owned chair. It could happen to you." So let's start falling off chairs????

Well, Bill Pallot didn't fall off a chair because he was handicapped. The chair tipped over backwards and he was thrown for quite a lot of yardage. It was an interesting case (Bill just lost it) because the money he was asking, as damages, wasn't coming from city funds. It was a pension fund, into which Bill had been paying along with other employes.

When Don Miller's letter came, inviting me to a live-model showing of lingerie, at 2:15 p.m. today, I figured the chairman of the board at Jordan Marsh had goofed.

But no: he meant it. They're really inviting men to the show. Of course there'll be women too. But I venture to predict the attendance of men will be 100 per cent of the invitation list.

"In this modern age of advertising and doing formerly tabooed things in a discreet manner, you of the male series will be interested in a live-model showing of ladies intimate apparel." I surely will.

Better Beware

John Pennekamp, writing about these "speed checked by radar" road signs, says, "It takes a couple of properly equipped police cars to make the thing work."

That's what I thought, John. And that's the way we do it. But the magazine Electronics tells us there's a new gadget which makes only one car necessary. It can measure the speed of a car approaching or going away, within two miles of the actual speed.

That'll cut expenses, and already is catching a lot of drivers who expect that second car.

She Needs Doctor's Care, Says Gurley

He Sticks by Wife in Pay-Slay Plot

Gurley

By BOB HARDIN
Herald Staff Writer

The man whose wife borrowed $100 for a down payment to have him killed came to her aid Wednesday.

Brokenhearted Hugh Ernest Gurley said:

"I love my wife, and I'm gonna stick by her — even if it takes everything I've got."

It was Monday that Beatrice Gurley, 41, handed $100 to a policeman who posed as a "killer for hire."

"She didn't know what she was doing," Gurley said Wednesday. "She needs a doctor's care."

He hired an attorney, then spent the rest of the day trying to raise cash — but was turned down everywhere, he said.

"Even my relatives think I'm doing wrong, but I'm still going to stick by her," he said.

Police first described the bizarre affair as a love triangle, involving John Walker, 25, a blue-eyed minister-without-a-church who lives with the Gurleys at 3702 NW 23rd Ave.

He was arrested as a "conspirator," but released after a lie detector test.

"He (Walker) is perfectly innocent," Gurley said. "He's hurt bad by all this scandal."

Walker is still living with Gurley, a 45-year-old truck driver.

"Oh, I don't say they wasn't fond of each other. And I was jealous of her attention to him, but they wasn't sweethearts or anything like that," he said.

Gurley visited his wife in Miami jail Wednesday where she was waiting for formal charges to be filed, and for bond to be set.

"She says she still loves me dearly, and she can't understand what happened," he said.

Gurley said he firmly believes his wife "just got caught up in this thing and went along with it . . ."

State Attorney Richard Gerstein said that charges of attempted murder were filed late Wednesday, and bond may be set by a judge today.

The charge carries a sentence of up to 20 years in jail.

Women Want Say Over Cash They Raise

Cancer Institute Corps Demands Fund Control

By JUANITA GREENE
Herald Staff Writer

Leaders inside the Women's Corps of the Miami Cancer Institute Tuesday demanded absolute control of all the money it raises for the troubled institute.

And they will bring the proposal to a vote of the full membership at today's annual meeting at the Dupont Plaza Hotel.

BUSINESS-GAL Iris Atwell, a cat fancier by inclination, and winner of Junior Achievement award by hard work, is New Orleans bound. Iris, Jackson High Senior, of 2531 NW 93rd St., won the Greater Miami competition among 350 teenagers who own their own companies and sell their products. She makes a modern-day sewing basket, and her product will be in competition for best in the Southeast, April 12-13 in New Orleans.

The demand brought quick complaint from Institute Director Dr. J. Ernest Ayre.

Under the proposed new set-up, the corps would not be obligated to turn over funds raised in future campaigns to the institute.

"We have no intention of abandoning the institute," one of the women leaders said Monday. "But we want them to let us decide how our money is to be spent."

The decision now is made by the mostly male institute Board of Directors, which includes many doctors.

Ayre insisted that the board is better qualified than the Women's Corps to decide on expenditures.

"As an auxiliary fund-raising group," said Ayre, "the women are doing an excellent job. They are the life blood of the institute."

"But," added the doctor, "the women shouldn't force their demands on the board to administer the budget."

Last year the corps raised about $90,000 in the name of the testing and research center, which has become world famous for its pioneering work in cytology, a quick new method for cancer detection.

At the bottom of the dispute, both sides agreed, is a question of policy, not suspicion.

Ayre's promotion of the center and cytology all over the U.S. and Latin America has been criticized by some members of both the corps and the board of directors.

The dissenters, thus far in the minority, complained this was diverting funds from programs of direct benefit to local residents.

"We want to help the women here, where the money is raised," said one woman leader. "We don't care if the rest of the world never hears of the center, or of Dr. Ayre."

Though the institute gets funds from other sources, it leans heavily on Women's Corps contributions for administrative expenses.

Some members of the corps also are demanding that the institute hire a business manager, as recommended by a special committee of the board of directors last summer. Ayre, who met in private session with the institute executive board Monday, said one will be named at the next board meeting.

For the last year the institute has been afflicted with internal dissension, which flared into the open last month. Board Member Robert Hanley and former Board Member W. L. Philbrick his employer, have publicly attacked many policies of the board and of Ayre.

And Hanley has gone to the Grand Jury with complaints about the failure of the board to order a certified public auditing of all institute finances since its inception in 1945.

Petitions for Pardon

Cash Lawyer Charges Miami Policeman Lied

Dade strong-arm hood Virgil Cash went to prison in 1953 because the Miami motorcycle policeman he allegedly shot and wounded "deliberately lied" at the trial, Cash's lawyer, Walter E. Gwinn, told the Florida Parole Board Wednesday.

The Miami lawyer, petitioned the board for a pardon for Cash on the ground that he was completely innocent of the robbery and the shooting of the policeman, Michael Daugherty, now a private investigator here.

Gwinn conceded that the story he told was "bizarre and fantastic," but he said it was true and the conviction and sentencing of Cash to 30 years in prison was a miscarriage of justice.

The lawyer said the robbery of the White Belt Dairy payroll April 24, 1953, was committed by Cash's brother, Fred; an ex-Sweetwater policeman Chuck Gavin and John (Long John) Fulford.

Gwinn said Fulford, whom he represented as trial counsel, was found innocent of the robbery and was not charged in the shooting of Daugherty, who had given chase to the robber's getaway car on his motorcycle. The policeman was wounded in a gunfight which ensued when the robbers turned into a dead-end alley.

But, Gwinn said, Fulford had told him that he had shot Daugherty and that Virgil Cash was not a party to the robbery.

Gwinn said Fulford did not take the witness stand during his own trial, and refused to be a witness for Cash when he was tried for shooting the policeman.

The attorney said he could not tell the story Fulford had told him because he had received it in confidence as Fulford's lawyer. Later, Fulford authorized him to disclose the facts, Gwinn said.

He'd Lobby For Metro, Says Okell

Former Dade Rep. George S. Okell, Sr., outspoken leader of anti-Metro forces in last fall's election, said Wednesday he is "available" as a legislative lobbyist for Metro, although he still sides with the municipalities in their fight against metropolitan government.

"No one has offered me the lobbying job," he said. "And I have not applied. Commissioner Alex Gordon submitted my name as a possibility.

Okell said his lobbying would be strictly professional — a lawyer representing a client.

It Was Heavenly

Venus And Moon Snuggle

A spectacular passing of the planet Venus by the moon in clear skies over south Florida Wednesday night triggered hundreds of telephone calls to weather bureau and newspaper switchboards.

Some space-age callers asked if the shining star seen almost directly over the moon's thin crescent was a space missile launched without notice. But most, said Weather Bureau Forecaster Leonard Purdue, had no idea at all what the display could mean.

Pardue said the phenomenon was "a conjunction—really not a rarity — in which the two heavenly bodies pass some millions of miles apart."

The weather man said that usually the apparent meeting of the two heavenly bodies is not noticed because it occurs in daylight or after moon-set.

Wednesday night's display became visible about 6:30 p.m. and lasted until moonset at 8:34 p.m.

Her 'Cure': Shed Mate

Told at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., that she could not expect a cure until she got rid of the "something" which was making her ill, Mrs. Phyllis B. Cartwright filed a divorce suit against Charles B. Cartwright, Wednesday.

The suit says that she "being gently nurtured, was especially susceptible to suffering" and was "frustrated" because he was "content to let nature refrain from taking its course."

Charging "extreme cruelty," she said he caused her social embarassment by referring to her friends' children as "little vegetables."

Her medical examination at Mayo's disclosed, she says, that her "illness was caused by an emotional irritation resulting from something in her everday life."

Court Grants Doomed Pait A New Trial

3-2 Ruling Is Blow to Prosecutor

Jesse Pait
. . . death house reprieve

By JOHN BOYLES
Chief of Our Capital Bureau

Condemned killer Jesse Pait won a new trial Wednesday — as the Florida Supreme Court criticized Dade's state attorney, who pushed for the death penalty.

"I am very disappointed," State Attorney Richard Gerstein said of the court's 3-2 decision.

Pait shot white-haired Adolf Rothman, 58, on Feb. 27, 1957, in the elderly man's restaurant at 201 S. Miami Ave.

Gerstein and his assistant, Erwin Block, prosecuted, and the jury recommended no mercy.

The Supreme Court majority said in Tallahassee that the Dade Circuit Court erred in allowing the state to present closing arguments "calculated to forestall a mercy recommendation."

The two dissenting justices said that the prosecutor's remarks — if they were improper — could not have made a significant difference in the trial.

Pait will be re-tried "as soon as possible," Gerstein said. "Perhaps in two months. The tragic part about it is that it has taken two years to be decided. The witnesses may be dispersed across the country now."

Gerstein was elected in 1956 on a campaign slogan, "We're going to make murder a crime in Dade County."

Before his election, it had been 15 years since a killer had been given the death penalty in Dade.

Justice Campbell Thornal said in the majority opinion:

"The prosecutor never appeared to be in doubt that he could obtain a conviction of first degree murder. There were enough eyewitnesses to the shooting to justify this confidence.

"The prime ambition of the state appeared to be the electric chair for the accused. The prosecution was splendidly handled until this overriding ambition marred the fruits of useful toil."

The court said, "We certainly do not condemn diligence on the part of prosecuting officers. On the contrary, diligence is to be commended. However, in the process we cannot condone harmful errors."

The court said the prosecutor had told the jury in effect that he and his staff had had a meeting, that they had considered the facts and concluded Pait should be sent to the electric chair.

The court also said it was "highly inappropriate" for the prosecutor to imply to the jury that the state had no right of appeal in the case but that Pait could appeal if found guilty.

The court said the jury is being told that in some measure "they could disregard their own responsibility in the matter and leave it up to the Supreme Court."

New Metro Court Row Erupts

A new squabble developed Wednesday over organization of the Metro court system while the state attorney and a circuit judge moved to plug a loophole allowing municipal traffic offenders to get off scotfree.

Senior Metro Judge Jack M. Turner, referring to County Manager O. W. Campbell, said plans for expansion of the Metro courts are "none of Campbell's affair. Metro government has separation of judicial, legislative and administrative branches. Campbell has no say-so over us."

Turner, who will make his own report to the Metro Commission today on the court's expansion needs, differed first with Campbell's recommendation for increasing the court from three to seven judges. Turner said only two new judges are needed at first.

While Campbell predicted a Metro caseload of 700,000 traffic summonses and 50,000 to 60,000 court cases a year, Turner's figures are higher—750,000 summonses and up to 90,000 cases.

Turner also said three instead of six new courtrooms are needed and especially took issue with Campbell's recommendation for a Metro courtroom at Homestead. Turner said it would "be more economical to have Homestead violators come into South Miami."

Meanwhile, Circuit Judge John Kehoe signed an order prohibiting Miami Municipal Court from trying Edward P. Seaman on a drunk driving charge — but at the same time directed Municipal Court to transfer the case to Metro Court and ordered Seaman to appear within 10 days.

State Attorney Richard Gerstein said at least 12 traffic offenders so far have gotten off without court action because city attorneys, when ordered to turn cases over to Metro Court, have withdrawn charges rather than establish precedent by filing the case in the county-wide court.

'Lucky' Dice

Judge Makes Point!

By HENRY RENO
Herald Staff Writer

A roll of the dice sent Tommy Jackson trudging off to jail for 30 days Wednesday.

For Tommy, it was a good roll.

He could have wound up staring at bars for the next 120 days.

Tommy, 27, Negro, maintained, however, that the long arm of the law reached out and grabbed the wrong fellow.

He was one of five who appeared before Judge Mitchell Goldman, charged with bouncing the ivories under a street light at NW Second Ave. and 16th St.

The way it was, Tommy told hizoner, those dice belonged to someone else.

"Tell you what," Judge Goldman said, "you want to roll for the time?"

"No sir."

"I'll roll for you," said the judge, rattling the evidence in his right hand. "Hmm. An ace and a deuce. Three. Thirty days."

They led Tommy off.

"Don't feel badly," Judge Goldman called after him. "It could have been box cars (double six)."

Will Be Tied Into New Network

Miami to Forecast Jet Weather Data

By CHARLES TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

Miami will be the first of the nation's major aviation centers tied into a new Weather Bureau network which will provide high altitude flying data for the growing number of commercial jets.

In April, the Miami Weather Bureau's airport station will start transmitting crucial jet-age data by facsimile to the National Meteorological Center at Suitland, Md., and the major aviation forecast center at Idlewild Airport in New York.

The new seven-center network will be devoted entirely to reporting and forecasting conditions for flight levels between 20,000 and 45,000 feet — territory of pure jet and turbo-prop aircraft.

The service will supplement the Weather Bureau's present aviation forecasting of conditions up to the 20,000-foot level.

The network to which Miami will be connected will produce charts showing jet-level wind, temperature and other meteorological conditions for more than a quarter of the earth's surface — from Japan across the U.S. to Europe and from the North Pole to the Equator.

Miami's responsibility, the Weather Bureau said, will be areas over the Gulf of Mexico and Western Caribbean.

ONLY A GIRL WHO IS IGNORANT... IS AFRAID!
Millions of girls need to work, just as I did. Put yourself in my place— employed in a society home. Perhaps like me, you are uninformed too. I was lucky to have Dr. Laurent to turn to in my hour of fear. He saved me and delivered my baby without undue pain. That's why I wanted YOU to see it. Then you'll have no unanswered questions about . . .
THIS UNMARRIED TEEN-AGE GIRL WANTS YOU TO SEE HER HAVE HER BABY!

Broadway Finds It 'Vivid Play'

'Bird' One of Williams' Best

By BROOKS ATKINSON

The New York Times News Service

NEW YORK—Still possessed of the demons, Tennessee Williams has written another vivid play. "Sweet Bird of Youth" he calls it with ironic pity.

Drama Review

Under Elia Kazan's direction it is brilliantly acted at the Martin Beck, where it opened Tuesday evening.

It is a portrait of corruption and evil, which are Williams' familiar subjects. The two chief characters represent two aspects of civilized degeneracy—an aging motion picture actress who is fleeing reality in drink, drugs and dissipation; a young gigolo who has cheap dreams of glory and means to fulfill them by cheap means.

Williams is not revenging himself on anyone this time. "Sweet Bird of Youth" is hardly a noble play. But it has overtones of pity for those who are damned.

Although the old harridan from Hollywood is a monster, she is no fiend; she knows what she is doing and why. Although the young man is a monster, he represents the seamy side of the American dream. He means to take whatever he can snatch; he is the perpetual adolescent, steeped in gaudy illusions of success and grandeur.

At the end, in a corrosively humorous scene, the screen star is recalled from damnation by reports of success in Hollywood, and she starts pulling herself together with professional acumen.

But the young man — his youth gone, his abominations overwhelming him — has lost the will to go on living. He makes no attempt to escape a posse of barbarians who have announced that they are going to castrate him because he has infected a local belle with disease.

If "Sweet Bird of Youth" is less shocking than this resume suggests, it must be because of the nature of Williams' artistry as a writer. It is a play that ranges wide through the lower depths, touching on political violence, as well as on diseases of mind and body. But it has the spontaneity of an improvisation.

Nothing seems to be planned. It begins in comic squalor in a hotel room. In the second act it moves into a private house and then a hotel lobby. But nothing seems to be arranged for theatrical sensation.

Knowing his subject with chilling intimacy, Williams daintily peels off layer after layer of the skin, body and spirit of his characters and leaves their nature exposed in the hideous humor and pathos of the truth. As a writer of prose drama, Williams has the genius of a poet.

Under Kazan's limpid direction, it is beautifully performed in the mood of a black incantation. Joe Mielziner has prepared wide settings with luminous backgrounds; and Paul Bowles has contributed spidery and tinkling music of exquisite texture.

In the central roles the acting is magnificent. Geraldine Page gives a fabulous performance as the decaying movie queen.

And Paul Newman's young man is the perfect companion-piece. Although he has a braggart, calculating exterior, he is as immature as an adolescent; brassy outside, terrified and remorseful when he stops strutting.

Despite the acrid nature of its material, "Sweet Bird of Youth" is Williams in a relaxed mood as a writer. He seems to have made some sort of peace with himself. As an acting piece, "Sweet Bird of Youth" is one of his finest dramas.

Top Ballet Danseur to Teach Here

George Zorich, premier danseur of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo which is dancing in Miami Saturday, Sunday and Monday evenings, will teach ballet classes here all day on both Saturday and Sunday at the Georges Milenoff School of Ballet, 251 Palermo Ave., Coral Gables.

Zorich will hold classes for beginners at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. on those days. Intermediate classes are scheduled for 10:15 a.m. and 3:15 p.m., add advanced classes at 11:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Students from any ballet school may enroll for these classes, which will stress general ballet and toe work.

Anyone wishing further information may call Mr. Milenoff mornings at HI 8-3462.

Berlin Is Site of Boris Morros Movie

U.S. Film Racing Soviet Deadline

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD Calif.—Talk about a jittery assignment — Ernie Borgnine and Kerwin Mathews take off jetstream for Berlin this week for "Ten Years a Counter-Spy," the Boris Morros thriller! And Columbia hopes to finish shooting just a few days before May 27, Khrushchev's deadline for turning over East Germany to the East Germans which is expected to shut off the West's traffic to West Berlin.

After dropping 30 pounds in Australia making "Summer of the 17th Doll," Ernie should come back from West Berlin thinner than Frank Sinatra after "sweating out" this one.

Boris Morros Ernest Borgnine

. . . even counterspy films must match wits with Reds

The trip is another long separation for the romancing Borgnine and Katy Jurado, the latter still working on Marlon Brando's "One-Eyed Jacks." In "Counterspy," Ernie plays the Morros role and Kerwin has the juvenile lead.

DURING their marriage, Ben Gage was so busy managing Esther Williams' business affairs, including her swimming pools, swim suits and real estate ventures that he gave up his acting career.

Now, much thinner, and really serious, he's back in acting with both feet.

Following his job in one of the "Maverick" TV shows at Warners, Ben has been signed by Tony Owen for a bigger role in "The Hero," a Donna Reed show. Ben plays an ex-football hero and it's a drama not an athletic yarn.

A TOUCHING note from Cornel Wilde dictated before Jean took him home from St. John's Hospital: "The Lord has been very kind to me. I did not want to worry my friends and family so I did not tell anyone that two weeks ago I was given only a 50-50 chance to save the sight of my eye because of a retinal detachment.

"For one week I lay between sandbags unable to turn or sit up. But by some miracle, by the time set for the operation, the retina had reattached itself and my vision returned. I am the most grateful man in the world, particularly to my wonderful doctor."

MRS. GROUCHO MARX, who has been married to Groucho for five years, now has his blessing and encouragement in a new movie career under her maiden name of Eden Hartford. Eden has been cast in Irwin Allen's "The Big Circus." She'll play a romantic comedy role opposite Red Buttons.

Mrs. Marx is very beautiful and statuesque, standing 5'9" tall, and is currently playing the role of Peggy in "Front Page" with Pat O'Brien. She has been studying with Jeff Corey for two years, and now really hopes to have a film career.

AMERICAN CITIZEN Mike Romanoff (used to be "prince") gets a real acting role in "Five Fingers" when he reports to Martin Manulis for the 20th TV series. Mike should feel at home in his role. He plays M. Blanc, proprietor of a swank Paris restaurant—but his chief pursuit is spying, not food.

SNAPSHOTS — There's an uncanny resemblance between Clifford Odets' original, "The Story on Page One," (Susan Hayward will star in the movie) and the Duncan murder trial now taking place in Ventura, Calif.

One of the newest things in Hollywood are the coffee houses which flourish along the Sunset Strip, and the successful ones are filled with actors, writers, directors, etc.

During the past weeks, Audrey Hepburn received "get well" messages from Irene Dunne, Dolores Del Rio, Noel Coward and Joan Crawford among hundreds of others.

SAFE AND ZANE as a psychology teacher in Los Angeles, Loren Grey, son of Zane Grey, late author of countless Western stories, still hankers for a role now and then in one of his dad's yarns. Here he buckles on his shootin' arms in Hollywood, Calif. for a TV western.

Let's Go to the Movies . . .

'Sound and Fury' Tells Moving Story

By GEORGE BOURKE
Herald Amusement Editor

IN BRIEF — Faulkner drama of the South made palatable by a happy touch of sentiment.

Movie Review

"The Sound and the Fury," at the Florida, Flamingo and Riviera Theaters, is a successful combination of Jerry Wald's knowledge of boxoffice and William Faulkner's penetrating insight into the manners and morals of what Northerners like to refer to as the decadent South.

The excellent production represents fine performances by Yul Brynner, Joanne Woodward, John Beal, Margaret Leighton, Ethel Waters, John Waldron, Stuart Whitman and young Stephen Perry; understanding direction by Martin Ritt, and a score by Alex North that is reminiscent of the heart-tugging musical theme of "Picnic."

Come to think of it, there is much of the same emotional conflict as William Inge put in "Picnic" in the undercurrent plot of "The Sound and the Fury." The main story — circumstances would be a better label than story — of "The Sound and the Fury" revolves around the efforts of Brynner, who is a member of the proud but faltering Compson family only by adoption, to give it new backbone.

He has little to work with. His charges are a drunk, played by John Beal; a moronic mute, played by Warden; a bastard girl, played by Miss Woodward, and the assorted other responsibilities of a plantation which no longer supports itself. Brynner has gone into commerce and is looked down upon by the old timers and those he is trying to help.

These early phases of the film have an almost painful content but they are revealed as necessary to the overall telling as the story progresses. It might be well to caution here that there are some factors of the plot which are temporarily confusing and that it is best to see "The Sound and the Fury" from the start.

It is in the early footage that Brynner is pictured as a harsh man. But then Miss Leighton is injected into the proceedings as the mother who abandoned her daughter, Miss Woodward, at illegitimate childbirth, and gradually the true purpose of Brynner's attitude toward Miss Woodward is revealed.

It is here that what was harsh and painful flows into a touching and rewarding finale, a finale that is much more Wald than Faulkner. The whole cast is magnificent and the color production rates top credits.

Like UM, Trustee Dinner Has Burst Its Old 'Seams'

By HELEN WELLS
Herald Society Editor

Time was when the University of Miami Trustees and Citizen's Board dinner was a small gathering at the Student Union on Main Campus.

Not so any more. Because of the efforts of Elsa Stubblefield, whose husband, Bill, is a trustee, the 11th annual dinner held Wednesday in the grand ballroom of the Americana Hotel was an ultra-social event for 800.

Greeting guests were Dr. Jay F. W. Pearson, president of the University; Mrs. Pearson, in red and white brocade; the outgoing president of the Citizen's Board, Stuart Patton, Mrs. Patton; the incoming president, Roy A. Perry, and Mrs. Perry.

Inside, the guests were greeted by Mrs. Stubblefield in glamorous white chiffon, long white gloves and white orchids and Mrs. Robert Z. Greene in spectacular red and white silk of Chinese design. She arranged the colorful red and white decorations in the Grand Ballroom.

Mrs. Stubblefield was chairman of the dinner committee. Her co-chairmen were Mrs. Green, Mrs. Charles M. Moon and Mrs. Baron de Hirschmeyer, whose white brocade was topped with a chinchilla wrap.

Representative socialites from the Bath, Surf, Indian Creek, Coral Gables, La Bastille and Westview clubs were present.

Among the star-studded names were Gen. and Mrs. Omar Bradley, Federal Judge and Mrs. Emett Choate, Dr. and Mrs. John Oliver La Gorce, Anna Brenner Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Wolfson, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Meyer, John Astor, Arthur Vining Davis . . . to name a few.

At Dr. and Mrs. Pearson's table were Mrs. Stubblefield, the Roy Perrys, the Stu Pattons, D. J. Mahoney, chairman of the board of trustees, and Mrs. Mahoney.

Glimpsed in the throng were Carl Weinkle, vice president of investments, and Mrs. Weinkle; and Allen Morris, secretary and treasurer, was there with his pretty wife, Ida. Both Mr. Morris and Mr. Weinkle are former Citizen Board directors.

Senate Unit Courts Veto

$389 Million Aid To Jobless Areas?

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate Banking Committee courted a possible presidential veto Wednesday by overriding GOP protests and voting to pump $389,000,000 in federal loans and grants in to chronically distressed areas.

The Democratic-backed program, which was approved 9-6, was patterned along the lines of a similar bill rejected by President Eisenhower last session. It was more than seven times as big as the 53-million-dollar program favored by the administration.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D., Ill.), Democratic manager of the legislation, said he was "confident it will be passed by the Senate." He said sponsors had accepted and modified some provisions of Eisenhower's plan in an effort to meet his objections.

But Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R., Ind.), ranking Republican on the Banking Committee, called the final bill "unworkable." He said it "gets too near socialism and the Russian system to suit me."

Two Republicans, Sens. J. Glenn Beall of Maryland and and Jacob K. Javits of New York, joined seven Democrats in approving the legislation. Three Democrats, including Committee Chairman Willis Robertson of Virginia, joined three Republicans in opposing it.

The bill carries three loan funds of 100 million dollars each to help industrial areas of high unemployment, rural areas where jobs are scarce, and regions which need public facilities to attract plant construction.

It also would provide 75 million dollars in grants for areas which are "so strapped" they cannot contribute their share of a loan program.

The federal government would provide up to 65 per cent of the cost of land, buildings and machinery-equipment in each instance. The locality or state would put up 10 per cent and private sources 25 per cent. Interest on the 30-year loans would be at the rate on government bonds, plus ½ of 1 per cent.

Bookies? Can't Prove It by Us

Nobody wanted to "know" Louis (Cueball) Kreuter and Anthony (The Salesman) Donadio Wednesday.

They were arrested Tuesday on bookmaking charges.

"Never saw them before in my life," said Irving Schwartz, president of Sage Enterprises Inc., operators of the Sage Apts., 1568 Washington Ave., where the pair was arrested.

"They certainly don't live here," said a spokesman for the Park Paza Apts., 2160 Park Ave., where the bookie suspects told the state attorney's office they lived.

Schwartz told the state attorney's office Wednesday he rented Apt. 29—where the raid was made—to a "Louis Shaw," who paid him $600 on Nov. 1 for six months rent in advance.

State Attorney Richard Gerstein said the two phones on which the arrested bookies allegedly took bets were also under the name of "Louis Shaw."

Schwartz said he had "no idea" where Shaw was now, but" I sure wish I knew."

Adding a further touch of mystery to the case, Southern Bell Telephone officials confirmed that a Louis Kreuter had a phone under his name at 2160 Park Ave. — where the landlord, too, says he had "never heard of him."

Meanwhile, Kreuter and Donadio—both out on $2,500 bail—could not be reached for comment.

Sea Monster Off the Beach?

An eight-legged, brown-eyed, hairy monster was sighted lurking in a reef off Miami Beach, a diver said Wednesday.

"I just couldn't believe my eyes," Diver Bob Wall said.

Seaquarium officials believed Wall enough to plan a search today for the eight-legged, brown-eyed, hairy monster.

Safety Unit Accredits Dade Council

The Dade County Citizens Safety Council was given full accreditation by the National Safety Council Wednesday and praise for its work in trying to cut down traffic accidents.

James E. Civils, district director of the National Safety Council, reported to the board of directors of the Dade Council on the national unit's appraisal of local management, policy, financing and safety program.

"All in all, it was a very complimentary report," said Jacob I. Jackson, executive director of the council here.

Of 87 local organizations working with the National Council, Civils told the Dade unit, 60 are in metropolitan areas such as Greater Miami. Of the 60, only 39 were given full accreditation by the national group.

Jackson said that "even though we have been operating on the lowest budget of any of the councils examined, we were still rated very highly."

The National Council recommended against any expansion of operations of the Dade Council until more funds are available.

The Dade Council, headed by H. Y. Kinard, is supported by the United Fund.

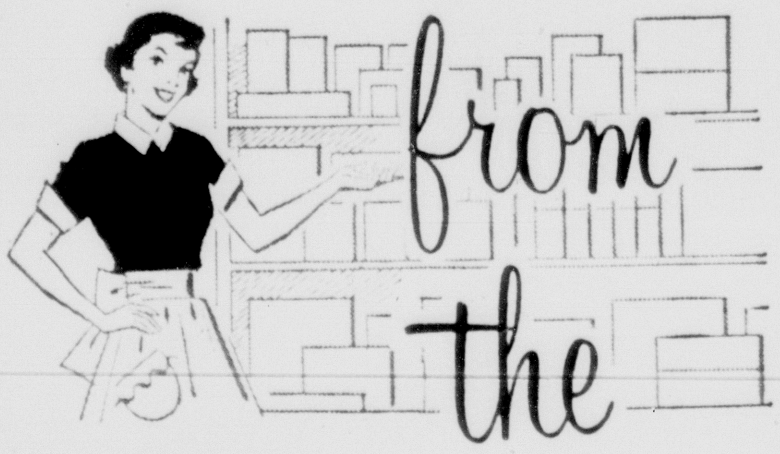
South Seas Romance Spices Salmon Dishes—Banana Boat Salads, Rice Casserole and Curry in Coconut

Fish from the Pantry



By Jeanne Voltz

Herald Homemaking Editor

Homemakers in search of different dishes for Lent keep a can or two of fish—most often salmon or tuna—handy on their cupboard shelves.

If they put their reasons for canned fish into words, they'd run something like this.

It is thrifty. Four or even six hungry mouths can be fed for well under a dollar investment in the fish portion of the main dish.

Canned salmon or tuna is nutritious. It is a rich source of high quality protein. Vitamins and minerals are there, too.

And talk about "convenience" foods! Canned fish is tops among them.

There's no cleaning, boning or cutting to canned salmon or tuna. Just open the can and use. This can be mighty important to a busy young mother, clubwoman or the career wife who cooks after office hours.

Salmon or tuna is ready to eat straight from the can. We like ours with mayonnaise or sour cream and a sprinkling of capers. Others like a squeeze of lemon or lime juice, a cucumber garnish or seafood cocktail sauce.

Add chopped celery, a bit of finely cut onion and salad dressing. It's salmon or tuna fish salad, made in minutes. Add a sauce—canned soup, if you're rushed—and you have a hurry-up casserole or on-toast main dish.

Like pennies, time saved using ready-to-eat fish is time earned.

It is time earned for fancy cooking when the mood strikes. Canned salmon or tuna can be adapted to many glamorous and interesting dishes.

We show you some on this page. Salmon is served in dishes with a South Seas flavor. Tuna in a casserole has peas in its celery soup sauce for dinner-in-a-dish.

Opening a can is a whale of a lot easier than starting your recipe: "First, catch the fish." Easier, that is, if you don't have time or the inclination to go fishing the day you want to serve fish—then clean and cook your catch.

Lenten Tuna Dishes—Hearty and Different

These tuna fish suppers need only a salad, hot rolls or French bread and simple dessert to make a meal.

Tuna-Macaroni Casseroles

2	cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
1	can condensed cream of celery soup
½	cup chopped celery
1	1-pound can peas, drained
¼	cup chopped parsley
	Salt, pepper
¼	cup chopped green pepper

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Drain in colander. Combine macaroni, soup, celery, peas, parsley, tuna, salt and pepper to taste and green pepper. Mix well.

Turn into 4 individual casseroles which have been lined with aluminum foil or greased well. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Chinese Sweet-Sour Tuna

2	7-ounce cans solid-pack tuna
½	cup chopped green pepper
1	6-ounce can tomato paste
1	tablespoon soy sauce
1	clove garlic, finely chopped
1	9-ounce can sliced pineapple
⅓	cup firmly packed brown sugar
	Salt, pepper
	Fluffy hot rice

Drain tuna, reserving oil. Combine tuna oil and green pepper. Cook over low heat until green pepper is tender. Break tuna into pieces. Add tuna, tomato paste, soy sauce and garlic to green pepper mixture. Cook 5 minutes. Drain pineapple, reserving syrup. Add pineapple syrup, ¼ cup sugar and salt and pepper to taste to tuna mixture. Mix well. Top with pineapple slices. Sprinkle with remaining sugar. Cover and cook over low heat 15 minutes. Arrange rice on platter. Top with pineapple slices and tuna mixture. Makes 4 servings.

From the South Seas

These adventurous recipes for salmon were developed with Lent in mind. But we think they'll show up for lots of informal parties and buffets.

The three dishes, pictured above, were inspired by the spice and fruits of South Sea Islands cookery.

Salmon Tahiti

4	medium-size coconuts
4	tablespoons butter or margarine
½	medium-size onion, minced
2	cloves garlic, minced
¼	teaspoon pepper
¼	teaspoon hot pepper flakes
2	teaspoons curry powder
6	tablespoons flour
1	1-pound can salmon
2½	cups coconut water or milk
4	tablespoons chopped chutney (including syrup)
½	teaspoon salt
	Juice of ½ lime
½	cup diced papaya, fresh melon or apple

Saw tops off coconuts or strike glancing blows with a hammer around coconut on the opposite end from the eyes until the shell cracks and the top may be removed. Leave coconut in the large part of the shell, but remove from the tops, shred and toast.

In a saucepan melt butter. Add onion and garlic and saute for 10 minutes, until onion is soft. Add pepper, hot pepper flakes (increase hot pepper to ½ teaspoon for very hot curry) and curry powder. Cook 5 minutes longer. Stir in flour. Add liquid from the can of salmon and gradually stir in coconut water or milk. Cook, stirring until sauce is thick and smooth. Flake salmon and stir into sauce along with chutney, salt, lime juice and fruit.

Spoon mixture into coconut shells. Fasten tops in place with a paste of flour and water. Arrange in a baking dish containing 1 inch warm water. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour. Serve in coconut shells with cooked rice, more chutney and toasted coconut on the side. Makes 4 servings.

South Seas Salad

6	bananas
1	tablespoon lime or lemon juice
⅛	teaspoon salt
1	7¾-ounce can salmon
1	cup fresh or canned diced pineapple
6	tablespoons mayonnaise
	Finely chopped peanuts or macadamia nuts

Peel back a narrow strip of peel from the bananas and fasten the peel in a roll at the end of the banana with a toothpick. Carefully cut out the banana into a bowl, slice by slice.

Sprinkle banana with lime or lemon juice and salt. Drain juice from salmon over the bananas, add the salmon, flaked, and the pineapple. Mix lightly with mayonnaise. Pile mixture into banana "boats" and sprinkle generously with chopped nuts. Makes 6 servings.

Rice Tokelau

(Salmon-Rice Casserole)

2	green peppers, diced
1	medium-size onion, chopped
2	cloves garlic, minced
⅓	cup olive oil
1	1-pound can tomatoes
1	teaspoon salt
½	teaspoon freshly ground pepper
¼	teaspoon oregano
1	cup rice
1¼	cups water
1	1-pound can salmon
½	cup sliced stuffed olives

In a saucepan saute green pepper, onion and garlic in olive oil for 10 minutes, stirring now and then. Add tomatoes, salt, pepper, oregano, rice, water and the liquid from salmon. Bring to a boil, cover tightly and cook over very low heat for 25 minutes, until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Stir in flaked salmon and olives. Keep hot until served. Makes 4 servings.

Hot Tuna-Crab Salad

2	7-ounce cans solid-pack tuna, drained
1	6½-ounce can crab meat, drained
½	cup chopped green pepper
¼	cup finely chopped onion
1	cup sliced celery
1	cup mayonnaise
1	teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½	teaspoon salt
⅛	teaspon pepper
1	tablespoon butter or margarine
1	clove garlic
½	cup bread croutons

Break tuna into pieces. Combine tuna, crab meat, green pepper, onion, celery, mayonnaise, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Mix well. Turn into greased 1-quart baking dish. Melt butter, add garlic and cook 5 minutes. Remove garlic. Combine croutons with garlic butter, mix well and arrange over tuna mixture. Bake in a very hot oven (425 degrees) 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Lenten Prayer for Today

'Work Will Breed Diligence in You'

By JIM BISHOP

Go With God

"Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do which must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work, and forced to do your best, will breed in you temperance, self-control, dilligence, strength of will, content, and a hundred other virtues which the idle will never know." Charles Kingsley (1819-1875), English clergyman and novelist, is best known today for his historical novels "Westward Ho" and "Hereward the Wake," and his children's book "The Water Babies." He was one of the initiators of the Broad-Church Movement in England and started the controversy which led John Henry Newman to write his celebrated "Apologia pro vita sua."

Jesus, He loves one and all,
Jesus, He loves children small,
Their souls are waiting round
His feet,
On high, before His mercy-seat.
While He wandered here below
Children small to Him did go.
At His feet they knelt and prayed,
On their heads His hands He laid.
Came a Spirit on them then,
Better than of mighty men,
A Spirit faithful, pure and mild,
A Spirit fit for king and child.
Oh! that Spirit give to me,
Jesus, Lord, where'er I be!

Banker Is 'Hiding' His Glamorous Daughter

By Cholly Knickerbocker

CHOLLY

SILVANA PAMPANINI

AGA KHAN

ANNA MAGNANI

London Banker Henry Tiarks and his wife, a pretty petite blonde who was once a member of the British stage, are visiting Mexico with their most priceless possession — their daughter Henrietta.

Ever since her fabulous debut in London last year Henrietta, who has slanted eyes, high cheekbones, a pert little turned up nose and a lovely figure, has become the new Brenda Frazier of International Society. The young Aga Khan, the young Marquis of Tavistock and other eligibles have been after her, and Henrietta has been all over the newspapers.

This has distressed her parents who had sent her to school in America thinking she might find herself a good, solid young American husband rather than one of the young European hotshots or an Asiatic prince. So all those stories that banker Tiarks wants a title for his daughter are just so much publicity.

But, unfortunately, as it often does, publicity has taken over in the case of Henrietta and now her parents are worried as to what may be its repercussions.

The visit to Mexico was not just a business trip for Mr. Tiarks, nor just a social venture in a country where he has many friends and relatives since his grandmother was Mexican. It was an occasion to take Henrietta out of the spotlight.

But can Henrietta hide in Mexico better than anywhere else?

ITALIAN movie siren Silvana Pompanini is esconced at the Hilton Continental in Mexico City. The principal reason (they say): A romance with a Very, Very Important Man in Mexico. Films come next . . . Meanwhile back in Rome, fiery Anna Magnani has cornered the market on raised eyebrows with her suit against movie producer Sandro Pallavicini (ex-husband of Margaret Roosevelt) for millions and millions of lire. Sandro supposedly signed her to a film which never saw celluloid.

The Winston Guests have fallen head over heels for Spain. Next month they'll be in Seville for the Feria . . . Despite all those vehement declarations to the contrary from the Italian royal family, photographs of Princess Maria Gabriella appear without letup in the Iranian press, hinting that she's the one most likely to succeed as the Shah's next wife.

Mrs. George Hamlin Shaw farewell-partied Sir Edward and Lady Barron and the Ernest Boissevains (Jean Tennyson), all leaving New York on the Queen Elizabeth. The Boissevains will visit his kin in Holland, then on to Vienna to take in some State Opera performances . . . Socialite artist Charlotte Livingston (first of that renowned clan to take to the palette and brush) tossed a Harwyn soiree to celebrate the success of her recent exhibition of watercolors.

Prince Sadruddin Khan is the latest of the international set to buy property in the West Indies. Sadri — with his gorgeous bride, the former Nina Dyer Von Thyssen, of course—has just purchased the posh Port Antonio, Jamaica, home of Hollywood photographer Charles Rosher.

Mrs. Laurance Armour of the famed Chicago clan is spending five or six weeks at Montego Bay's chi-chi, Half Moon—and why not: She's a shareholder there.

Ah-Young-Love Dept.: Deb Natalie Trundy seems to have completely forgotten the existence of such suitors as Venezuelan millionaire Oscar Molinari (nephew of the Reinaldo Herreras) and Jorge Batista (of the ousted Cuban presidential family) since meeting New York's Roger Lewis. Every minute away from her Briarcliff Junior College studies is all Roger's.

Thieves Steal Big Water Tank

SOUTHINGTON, Conn. — (UPI) — Police searched for thieves who stole a water tank, but couldn't figure out how they did it.

They said the tank was taken from the rear yard of the Wesson Heating Co. It was eight feel tall, a yard in diameter and weighed 1,100 pounds.

Cool Valentine

ROCHESTER, N.Y. –(UPI) — Beverly Piper probably received the year's largest valentine. Norman Berry, 25, tramped out "BEVERLY PIPER . . . I LOVE YOU" in 20 feet high letters in the snow topping the ice-covered Genesee River.

'No Speeches' Vow Is Lure

ORLEANS, Vt. — (UPI) — Dr. George Little, managing director of the Vermont Council on World Affairs, said this small community has lured many members of foreign bassies and their famili vacation here on the pr they would not be requir make speeches.

BIRDS EYE
STRAWBERRIES
THEY BIRDS STRAWBER the differenc is delici

Just the lush, sweet Northwestern berries!

IDEA! Top ice cream with Birds Eye Strawberries and slivered almonds. Now taste! The sundae-best strawberry sauce ever, because Birds Eye gives you ONLY PREMIUM NORTHWESTERN BERRIES . . . from Oregon and Washington, where berries grow plumper, juicier and sweeter!

BIRDS EYE
STRAWBERRIES

Tested and Approved by General Foods Kitchens.

Get 50¢ from Birds Eye and taste the difference

Buy 2 packages of Birds Eye fancy Northwestern Strawberries and a pint of your favorite ice cream. Then to get your 50¢ simply send the 2 Birds Eye labels and 1 ice cream label (minimum, one pint) to: Birds Eye Strawberries, Box 1276, Kankakee, Ill. Offer expires April 15, 1959.

Borden's New Super Starlac

dissolves fastest - in 6 seconds makes smoothest nonfat milk ever!

Bordens SUPER Starlac
The HEART of MILK

New packages, double-foil wrapped for freshness! Borden's new Super Starlac is at your grocer's now, for as little as 8¢ a quart!

Smoothest Drinking ever! Only new Super Starlac dissolves completely, so there's no waste, no paste to leave an aftertaste. It's fresh, smooth drinking nonfat milk from the top to the bottom of your glass!

Dissolves Twice as fast! Not a slow old-fashioned crystal or powder, new Super Starlac is modern tiny "hearts of milk." It dissolves in just 6 seconds—twice as fast as other leading brands. What a convenience!

Milk Nutrition—without fat! Super Starlac is the "heart of milk" . . . gives you more protein per glass than fresh, whole milk! Plus, all of milk's B-vitamins and calcium and other minerals!

PROVED

INDEPENDENT TESTING LABORATORIES PROVE
SUPER STARLAC FASTER, SMOOTHER THAN OTHER LEADING BRANDS!

Extensive tests by two well-known independent laboratories have proved new Super Starlac dissolves twice as fast as other leading brands. They also prove it dissolves more completely, more smoothly!

Furniture Fit for Queen: The Queen of Your Dollies

By CAPPY DICK

Hobby Club

IT'S FUN to see how many pieces of doll furniture you can cut from cardboard cartons. Any cartons will do—ice cream cartons, oatmeal or cornmeal boxes, salt boxes, mailing tubes and even the cardboard spools on which gift ribbon is wound when you buy it.

To cut the cartons use scissors or a sawtooth bread knife. Paste or glue and some colored gift wrapping paper for upholstering the furniture will complete your equipment.

A doll's cradle (Figure 1) is made from a small, cylindrical carton such as an ice cream container or a salt box. Cut off about one third of the side, leaving the ends uncut. Make a drape to hang from the headboard, using crepe paper, gathering it and pasting it to the rim of the cover. Line the inside and outside of the cradle with fancy gift paper.

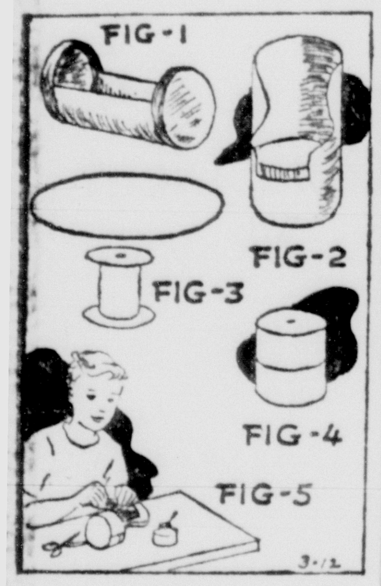
IN FIGURE 2 is a barrel chair made from an oatmeal carton with the cover removed and a section of the side cut out to leave the rounded back, two arms and about two inches of the whole carton for the bottom of the chair. Use the cover of the box for the seat of the chair. As the boy is doing in Figure 5, cover the chair with fancy paper to represent upholstery.

A table (Figure 3) may be made from a cardboard disc glued to a cardboard spool that held ribbon. A hassock (Figure 4) is made from a small ribbon spool.



Honor for King

LORAIN, Ohio — (UPI) — A new high school here will be named for this city's most distinguished son — the late Admiral Ernest J. King, who was Chief of Naval Operations during World War II.

Boy's 'Fun' Over Now

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — (AP) — Larry Standish, 17, wanted some excitement.

So he phoned for the fire department, an ambulance, a taxi, an undertaker and a wrecker, police said.

The cab driver, who got to the Standish home first, figured something was cockeyed when the others came rushing up. He called police.

Standish started a 10-day jail term Wednesday and to keep him from getting bored he was ordered by Municipal Judge Clark M. Olmsted to wash police cars.

Thief Leaves Dental Clue

LOCKPORT, N.Y. —(UPI) — Mrs. Anna Chamberlain reported to police someone had siphoned gasoline from her car.

She also presented them with a clue to the culprit — a set of dentures she found near the auto.

Violence Gave Chase, Lost Out

BUFFALO, N.Y. — (UPI) — Carl L. Pace, prespective juror in an Erie County murder trial, said he had once been the complainant in an assault case. But he insisted he had never been the victim of violence because "I was shot at but missed."

COTTAGE OVEN LOAF

The most delicious thing that ever happened to a meatless meal! New, savory, flavor-y main dish that looks lovely, tastes lively, and is wonderfully satisfying. You'll be "encoring" it all year 'round!

1 1-lb. pkg. BREAKSTONE'S CALIFORNIA STYLE COTTAGE CHEESE
2 eggs, beaten
½ tsp. salt
2 (7-oz.) cans tuna
1 cup packaged herb-seasoned bread stuffing
1 cup (8-oz. can) tomato sauce
½ cup chopped onion

Blend cottage cheese, eggs and salt. Place 1½ cups cheese mixture in greased 9"x5"x3" loaf pan. Mash tuna smooth; blend thoroughly with remaining cheese-egg mixture, stuffing, tomato sauce and onion. Place tuna mixture on top of cheese layer; press down lightly. Bake in moderately hot (375°) oven, 45-50 minutes, until firm. Allow to stand 5 minutes before unmolding. Serve hot with tomato sauce. Serves 6.

Breakstone's Cottage Cheese makes marvelous meatless meals

SAVORY COTTAGE TOMATO PIE

Combine 1 1-lb. pkg. Breakstone's California Style Cottage Cheese, 3 beaten eggs, ½ tsp. salt, 2 Tbsp. onion flakes. Pour in unbaked 9-inch pie crust. Bake in 450° oven 10 minutes; lower heat to 300°; bake till filling is firm, 30-40 minutes. Mix ½ cup tomato sauce, 3 Tbsp. tomato paste, ½ tsp. oregano. Pour over pie filling; top with slices of Swiss, American or Mozzarella Cheese. Garnish with sliced stuffed green olives, canned mushroom slices or anchovy fillets. Return to 450° oven; bake till cheese melts. Serves 4-6

CALIFORNIA COTTAGE CASSEROLE

Combine 1 8-oz. pkg. Breakstone's California Style Cottage Cheese, 1 8-oz. pkg. Breakstone's Temp-tee Whipped Cream Cheese, ½ cup chopped scallions, 2 Tbsp. minced green pepper. Reserve ¾ cup cheese mixture for topping. Cook 1½ cups elbow macaroni; drain. In 2 qt. casserole alternate layers of macaroni and cheese, ending with macaroni. Top with 1 1-lb. can drained red kidney beans. Pour on 1 10½-oz. can Spaghetti-Mushroom Sauce. Spoon reserved cheese mixture in circle on top. Bake in 350° oven, 45 minutes. Serves 6.

My Day

Weather Relents On Trip

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK — We were exceptionally lucky in the weather during our trip. Again in going from Vancouver to Oregon, even though we changed twice—once in Seattle and once in Portland — we were on time on both occasions.

MRS. FDR

In Seattle, even though we had only an hour, Mrs. Cebert Baillargeon came down to meet us and we enjoyed having lunch with her at the airport as her guests. In Portland, I did an interview at the airport with Mr. Capper-Johnson for his program on world affairs; and I also had the pleasure of seeing my friend Penny Robinson who, like many other people these day, is now working in a new job which she seems to be enjoying very much.

I spent a most enjoyable evening in Eugene, Oregon. There was a large audience for my talk in the University of Oregon auditorium. We had dinner first with the Matrix Group of young women, and I ended with a short press conference after the evening meeting.

We had to change planes in San Francisco on our way to Los Angeles. Flying down the coast on a good day is one of the loveliest of air trips, but I think I must have a real jinx upon me whenever I go to the San Francisco airport to make a connection. We got in on time, got into another plane, taxied out — and then were told that something was the matter with one of the propellers and we would have to return to the ramp. In due course we were informed we would have to change planes and that we would get off again by 2:30, an hour and a half later than we had expected.

I BEGAN to worry about getting to Pasadena in time for dinner and the evening meeting, remembering that the freeway between Los Angeles and Pasadena between five and six o'clock can be very crowded and very slow. Fortunately for me, Mrs. Hershey Martin, with whom I stayed, had arranged that they would call for me after dinner at her house and take me over for the evening speech, after which I would go to a reception. This worked out very well, and when it was all over Mrs. Martin and I joined her husband for a very short time at Sophie Tucker's opening at the Ambassador Hotel.

I have never met this remarkable entertainer who, at 71, as she told us, is still going on with her regular entertainment programs and making a success of it. Miss Tucker told us that she had given away three million dollars for charitable purposes during her career and she thanked all those who had helped her do all this.

She came to meet me at the end of her performance, saying it was high time we should meet since she had known my boys for a very long time. She is full of life, and I could not help thinking what an extraordinarily vivid personality she has.

Not Only Thief Pays

UNION, N. J. —(P)— Shooting at a thief around here can be more expensive than actually being one.

Candy Store Proprietor Donald Caskey took a few shots at a man he said was stealing his magazines.

He was promptly hauled into Magistrate's Court where he paid $150 for discharging a firearm within township limits, in violation of an ordinance.

Charles Koenig, 25, was picked up later. Police say his car had two bullet holes in it and the magazines were inside.

Koenig paid $75 on a petty larceny charge.

40 Million Ignoring Salk Polio Vaccine

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — It is fortunate that the fourth or "booster" shot has been deemed unnecessary for most Americans.

For the U.S. Public Health Service is fighting the apathy of some 40 million Americans who are reluctant to receive the first three necessary Salk shots.

The number of cases of paralytic polio in the U.S. was 24 per cent higher in 1958 than 1957, Health Information Foundation data reveal.

The seasonal low point for polio usually occurs around the first of April, National Office of Vital Statistics data show. During 1958 more than 6,000 cases of paralytic, nonparalytic and unspecified polio occurred.

Of this total, more than 3,100 were paralytic. Despite these figures, a large chunk of the U.S. population continues to regard the vaccine as necessary only for the other fellow.

Only 57 million people under the age of 40, one-half of the population of this age group, has had the full series of three shots.

Medical authorities suggest that the Salk vaccine protects against polio for at least three years and possibly longer, the National Foundation reports.

The PHS recommends that a fourth shot be given to those persons who received a third polio shot three or more years ago or are entering an area known to experience a high incidence of polio, or upon a personal physician's recommendation. But right now, the official guardian of U. S. heath is more concerned with interesting each citizen in the first three shots.

What a Gadget To Make Salads

PORTLAND, Maine —(UPI) — Howard K. Waig has invented a vegetable cutter he hopes will save the food preparation trade a lot of time.

The device has two 5½ inch steel knives and holes for a dozen half-inch knives if needed. Waig says it can handle 11 bushels of onions an hour with its motor of one-third horsepower.

Now—Fry Without Fat!

Amazing New Fat-free Cooking Aid

PAM DRY FRY

A PURE VEGETABLE PRODUCT

1 Adds no calories to food
2 You don't use oils, fats, shortenings
3 Lets you enjoy fried foods safely and Prevents foods from sticking to pans

Cutting down on calories? Cutting down on fat? Now with PAM Dry Fry, a pure vegetable product, you can even fry without adding a single drop of grease, without adding a single extra calorie . . . because you fry "dry" without oils, fats, or shortenings!

If you're a dieter and tired of monotonous menus, now you can enjoy fried foods again—eggs, meat, french toast, pancakes, even potatoes — you can fry them all without adding fat. Based on findings of a world-famous research laboratory*, PAM can't add a single calorie. And PAM has no taste of its own, so it can't change the natural flavor of food.

And here's an "extra"—PAM keeps food from sticking to cooking surfaces! Simply spray PAM Dry Fry not only on frying pans, but on sauce pans, pots, roasters, griddles, waffle irons—any kind of utensil. They'll actually come cleaner quicker, without hard work. Get PAM Dry Fry today for dieters in your family —for yourself!

* Name on request

PAM-TREATED PANS CLEAN EASY—NO MORE HARD RUBBING, SCRUBBING, SCOURING

Just spray PAM on utensil before you fry, roast, bake, broil, or cook anything which might stick. Steaks, roasts, hamburgers, eggs, potatoes, even cooked cereal won't stick fast—even a casserole dish sticky with cheese and macaroni practically rinses clean in just a few seconds. If you're not a diet-watcher, you can add your favorite shortening to a Pam-treated pan. PAM works perfectly to keep foods from sticking.

PAM FAT-FREE COOKING AID
—adds no calories to food.
DRY FRY
KEEPS FOODS FROM STICKING FAST TO COOKING SURFACES

PAM IS SO EASY TO USE —ECONOMICAL TOO!

Use PAM on any kind of cooking utensil or surface. Just spray for a few seconds—then cook as you usually do. See what a difference PAM makes—food isn't greasy, pans aren't messy. A can of PAM should last up to eight weeks, depending upon usage.

NO MORE GREASE

PAM FRIES DRY

Stop adding oil, fat, shortening when you fry. Put an end to messy pans and greasy foods. When you use PAM Dry Fry you don't add a single drop of grease, not a single calorie. Foods can't stick—and pans rinse clean under water!

CALORIE CHART*

Woman Held Incompetent

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A judge has ruled mentally incompetent a mother accused of mailing poisoned candy to her mentally retarded son in Arizona.

Edna Frances Howard, 36, of Pasadena, is in jail on a charge of attempted murder. The candy went uneaten after discovery of the poison.

Proceedings will be brought to have Mrs. Howard placed in an institution, her attorney said. Her husband, George, was appointed her guardian.

Moochers Getting Best of Drys

By AMY VANDERBILT

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: My husband and I have just returned from a convention in one of the warmer states. While there we were invited each evening to join groups of three, four or five other couples to go to one of the supper clubs for dinner. As a rule we would arrive at the club between 6:30 and 7. My husband and I are nondrinkers and were compelled to sit with our companions until 9:30 and 10 before they were willing to call a temporary halt to their drinking long enough to order dinner. Needless to say, ordering dinner for some of them was a waste of time, money and good food, for their prime interest seemed to be in drinking.

AMY

"The thing that is beginning to get under our skin, however, is the fact that when we accompany these groups for so-called dinner, at the conclusion of the evening when the check is presented one of the men promptly divides it into how many couples there are and each one pays a like amount. We find ourselves paying three and four times what our meal and one soft drink should have cost.

"I believe this is an out-and-out case of 'mooching' on the part of the people who make a practice of doing this unpleasant thing.

"Frankly, we are at a loss to the proper handling of this situation. This seems to be a standard, though distasteful procedure with this entire group and to refuse to accompany them would mean cutting ourselves off from everyone. We can't do this, but there should be some dignified way of letting these 'moochers' know that we are not obligated to pay any part of their expenses, whether at home or away, when we are out for the evening 'Dutch.'" — V.V.D., Cleveland, Ohio."

I agree with all you say. The best way to handle this is to have your husband pick up the check first and say, "Please let me figure our share of this." Then let him put down the money for your soft drinks and dinner, and let the drinkers divide the major portion of the check as is only fair.

Onward!

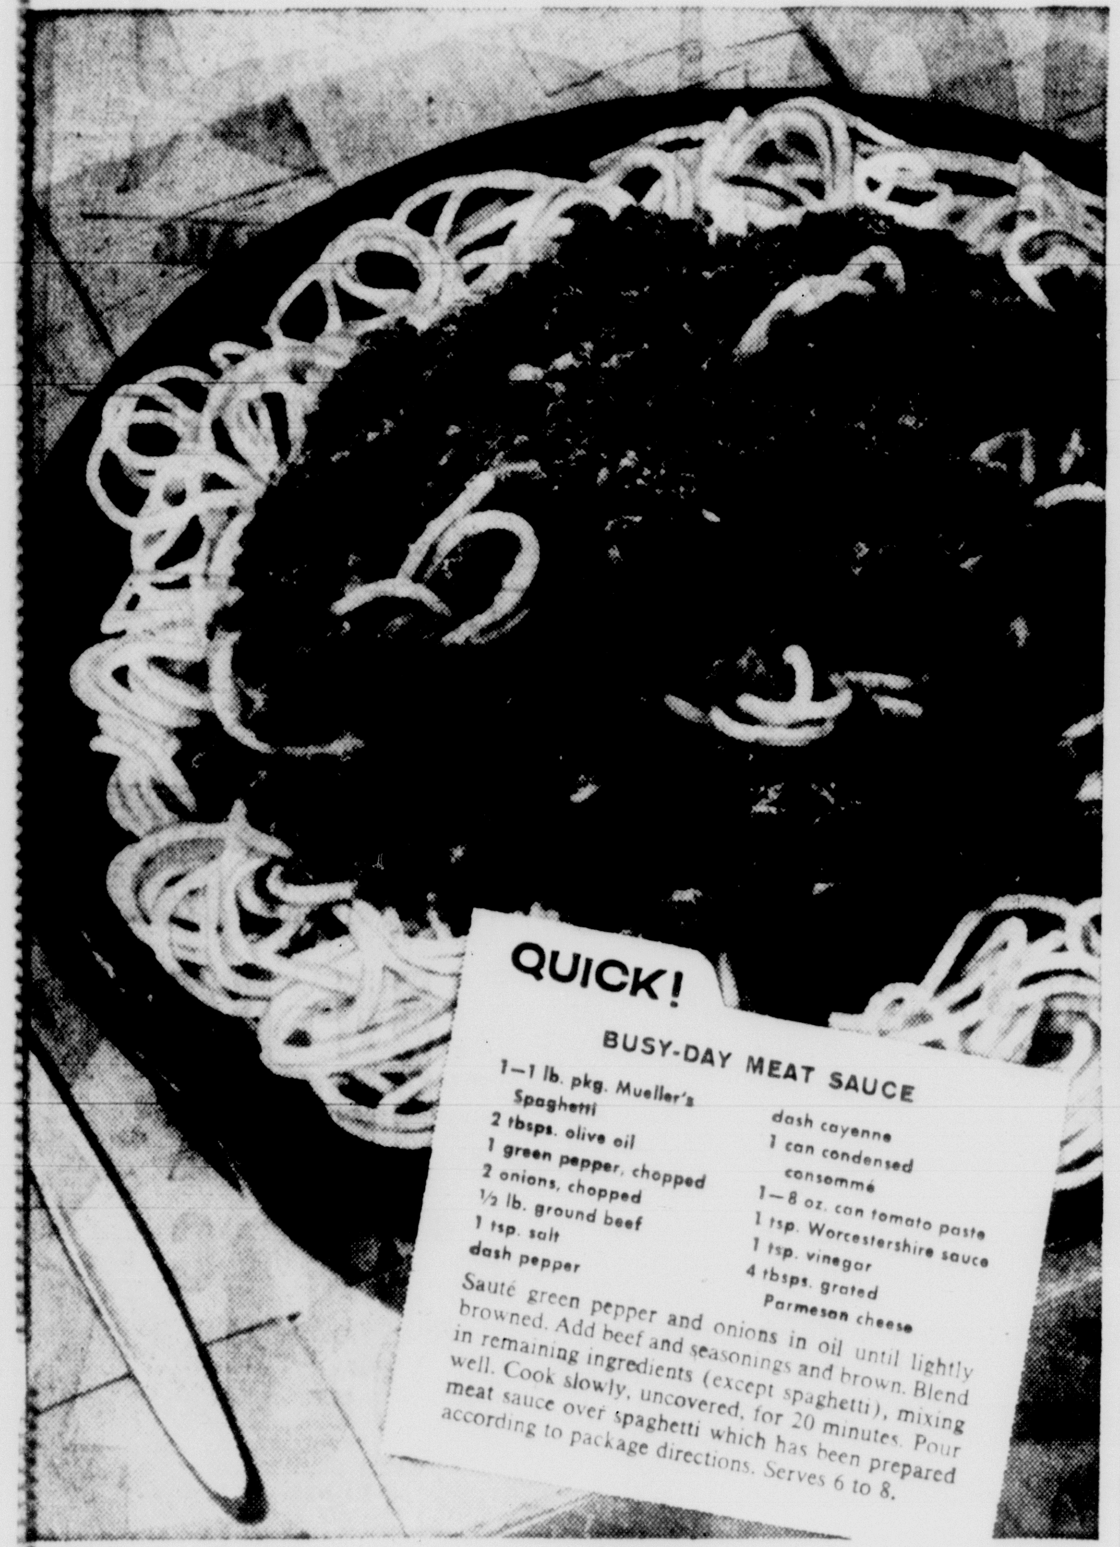
Nobody makes spaghetti like Mueller's

It's more delectable...so digestible



QUICK!

BUSY-DAY MEAT SAUCE

1—1 lb. pkg. Mueller's Spaghetti
2 tbsps. olive oil
1 green pepper, chopped
2 onions, chopped
½ lb. ground beef
1 tsp. salt
dash pepper
dash cayenne
1 can condensed consommé
1—8 oz. can tomato paste
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. vinegar
4 tbsps. grated Parmesan cheese

Sauté green pepper and onions in oil until lightly browned. Add beef and seasonings and brown. Blend in remaining ingredients (except spaghetti), mixing well. Cook slowly, uncovered, for 20 minutes. Pour meat sauce over spaghetti which has been prepared according to package directions. Serves 6 to 8.

Nobody makes spaghetti like Mueller's. What makes Mueller's so much tastier ...so light and digestible? It's the blend!

Not just one wheat—but two! Not just Semolina but Semolina plus easy-to-digest Farina. Result...the most delectable spaghetti you ever tasted. And so digestible! Vitamin-enriched. High in protein, too!

And you don't have to spend hours cooking sauce. Tomorrow...or any busy day...serve Mueller's Spaghetti with Busy-Day Meat Sauce and take a bow!

TAKE ONE GIANT-STEP—and dream a thousand meadows. Feel the breeze blow fresh. You're in the Land O'Lakes—America's richest dairyland!

Why we use a full ½ gallon of fresh, sweet cream to churn each pound of Land O'Lakes® Butter*

HERE IN THE LAND OF LAKES AND MEADOWS, where the good things of life are so bountiful, we use only sweet cream—a full half gallon—to churn each pound of Land O'Lakes Butter.

Some people, of course, think it a little odd that we make such a fuss over the sweet cream we use (we admit we frequently reject cream that tastes sweet simply because it's not sweet enough for Land O'Lakes Butter); and we know some find it hard to believe we use a full half gallon of this sweet cream to every pound.

But it's true. And we'd no more think of changing it than we'd think of removing the pitchers of cream from our own breakfast tables.

You see, up here, this Land O'Lakes Butter of ours is more than a product; it's a standard of living. For many of us, it's our life work. We stake our reputations on it.

That's why we will not sell a single pound of our Land O'Lakes brand butter that does not meet the highest commercial score any butter can achieve—as graded on official United States Butter Grading Standards.

That's why we will not drop even one—no, not even one—of the 19 separate tests each pound of our butter must pass before it is released for sale.

Maybe it's just our way of life. Up here—where the breeze blows fresh—we set our sights pretty high. And, judging from your response, a lot of you folks must be glad we do.

So we're going to keep right on insisting that a full half gallon of fresh, sweet cream go into every single pound of Land O'Lakes Butter.

We hope you will sort of insist your grocer stock it for you. (Most quality grocers do.)

Man-size tuna chunks, peas, melted cheese, topped with crispy pastry crumbs. M-m-m good!

We'll buy the cheese!

We'll pay you 25¢ for the word "BEST" in large red letters from the trademark on any size sack of Pillsbury's BEST Flour, if mailed with order blank below. That's so you can have the best cheese and flour to make "Tuna-Au-Gratin," a BEST recipe from the Bake-Off Collection.

Discover this delicious one-dish meal during Lent. Serve it often. Bake it best with Pillsbury's BEST Flour, the white, fresh, smooth-blending flour. Look for specially-marked sacks containing this recipe plus other top one-dish meal Bake-Off winners . . . now at your grocer's.

TUNA-AU-GRATIN

$1,000 prize winner in Pillsbury's 9th Grand National Bake-Off
by Mrs. Herbert Ward Whitney, Dallas, Texas
Adapted by Ann Pillsbury

BAKE at 450° for 10 to 12 minutes,* then at 425° for 12 to 15 minutes. MAKES 9-inch pie.

Sift together . . 1½ cups sifted Pillsbury's BEST All Purpose Flour and ½ teaspoon salt into mixing bowl.

Cut in . . . . ½ cup shortening until particles are fine.

Sprinkle . . . 4 to 5 tablespoons cold water over mixture tossing with fork until moist enough to hold together.

Form . . . . into ball. Flatten to ½-inch thickness; smooth edges.

Roll out . . . . on floured surface to ⅛-inch thickness. Fit loosely into 9-inch piepan. Trim pastry from edge of shell and place extra pieces in small baking pan. Fold edge to form a standing rim; flute. Prick generously.

Bake . . . . crust and pastry pieces in hot oven (450°) 10 to 12 minutes until light brown. Crumble pastry pieces for a crumb topping.

TUNA FILLING

Combine . . . . in saucepan
1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons flour and
2 tablespoons onion flakes. Cook until thickened.

Add . . . . 1 package frozen peas, thawed and drained
2 cans (6½ oz. each) Chicken of the Sea Brand Tuna* and
1 can (4 oz.) pimiento, chopped. Bring to boil. Turn into baked pie shell.

Sprinkle . . . . 1 cup shredded Kraft American Processed Cheese over filling. Top with pastry crumbs.

Bake . . . . in hot oven (425°) 12 to 15 minutes.

For use with Pillsbury's BEST Self-Rising Flour, omit salt and decrease water to 3 to 4 tablespoons. Decrease baking time to 8 to 10 minutes for pastry.*

Or use Chicken of the Sea "family size" can (9¼ oz.).*

We'll buy the cheese!

I am enclosing the word "BEST" from the sack of Pillsbury's BEST Flour I bought. Please send me 25¢ to help make "Tuna-Au-Gratin."

Look to Your Legs for Newest Fads

Striped Hosiery Gives New Look to Leg
. . . others come in prints

By BEVERLEY WILSON
Herald Fashion Editor

Your legs are anonymous, uniform and uninteresting. That is, until you adopt the newest fad for textured hosiery.

At least that's the opinion of New York hosiery designer Helen Sisson.

To perk up your underprivileged underpinnings she likes the new shadow - striped hosiery — a subtle self-pattern in regular hosiery colors which slenderizes the leg.

Named "tres gai," the striped hosiery was introduced at the recent Paris spring showings on Jean Desses models.

They're due to arrive at a Miami department store next week.

Then, for evening, there's black lace hosiery. These are being worn with — of all things — white shoes by real avant-gardists.

For country wear, they're launching textured jacquard hosiery.

Miss Sisson hasn't made a poll among men to see if they find your legs anonymous and uninteresting, but she's certain you'll enjoy this new emancipation from plain beige hosiery.

"We haven't made stockings interesting since the turn of the century" she told a United Press International editor recently. "And then when there were all those beautiful jacquards and embroideries — museum pieces really — we women hid them under long skirts."

Painted Hosiery On the Riviera

THIS emancipation really began a year or so ago, when stockings in rainbow tints such as red, green and blue became popular. And what could be more emancipated than the current enthusiasm in Bohemian circles for long black stockings?

There's no telling when another fad, currently the rage on the French Riviera, will take hold in Miami. The Frenchwomen are wearing hosiery they hand-paint and decorate themselves with flowers or leaves.

At the house of Dior, French brides can buy hosiery hand-embroidered with pearls.

For information where the striped and the lace hosiery will be available soon in Miami, call or write The Herald Shopping Service.

Help for Skinny Legs

The deceitful female is at it again. Now she's wearing padded stockings to make her skinny legs appear shapely.

The stockings are padded with realistic looking—and feeling—foam rubber.

They're the invention of Frederick of Hollywood, who has already made a fortune out of padded bras and padded girdles.

His idea isn't really a new one, though. Padded hose was known in 1906, but it was a secret luxury enjoyed only by stage beauties whose legs were their fortunes.

Of Mice And Women

ROME — (WNS) — Dignified ladies of Italy have refused to attend performances of "La Romaniole" in Rome.

They do not object to the fact that the play is a satire on fascism but to the sport of neo-fascists who sit in the first row of the balcony and drop white mice on them.

The mice are let down on miniature parachutes so that they will be alive and able to scramble through the coiffures of feminine spectators. The price of white mice in Rome has now mounted to 40 cents apiece.

Props To Honor Entertainer

The Props (women in show business) will honor entertainer Betty Kean during a luncheon today in the Thunderbird Motel. The program "A Smoker for Betty," was written by Patsy Abbott.

Jerri Kruger Pollak heads the Props.

Course Will Train Legal Secretaries

Miami Legal Secretaries Association is sponsoring a ten hour seminar in legal secretarial skills and practices starting at 7:30 p.m. Friday in room 112 of the University of Miami Law Building.

This seminar is being given especially for young women who are interested in becoming legal secretaries, and as a brush-up opportunity for working secretaries.

It is not the purpose of the course to teach law, but to widen the skills of a legal secretary. Course will be free except for a small supply fee.

Mrs. Mary Ruth Hauser, past president of the Miami Legal Secretaries Association, and chairman of legal education has arranged the course.

Its first five hours (one hour each week) will cover the basics: duties of the legal secretary, legal vocabulary, information sources, how to file documents and filing systems for law offices.

Second five hours will cover more specific topics such as real estate transactions, probate forms and procedures, etc.

The association is giving the course as a service to future legal secretaries and to maintain the highest standards among legal secretaries.

Honey Sanders

NEW YORK — "Let the rest of the world go diet-mad. I'm staying a size 18!" says Broadway's newest singing personality, Honey Sanders.

"You don't take a whole audience in your arms if you're a skinny stick!" adds Honey, currently starring in She Shall Have Music. "Ethel Waters, Sophie Tucker and Kate Smith — they're no fashion models, and how people love 'em!"

Getting serious for a moment about weight, auburn-haired Honey says, "If you're eating to compensate for some lack in your life, you're unhappy being plump. But if you're healthy and happy, why turn yourself into a nervous wreck dieting?"

Look-Alike Queens

HOLLYWOOD — Carmel Myers, one of the silent screen beauties, is critical of today's movie queens.

"In the old days, a movie queen had to be beautiful," Miss Myers said. "She had to have good bone structure and be voluptuous to hold up, particularly under harsh camera lights. She couldn't be heard, so her voice or singing ability didn't matter."

Their own individuality and the air of mystery of silent screen personalities added to the intrigue, Miss Myers explained.

"But today's Hollywood stars all look alike because make-up men plaster actresses' faces like they were on an assembly line. One year everybody must be the Marilyn Monroe type and the next year, Kim Novak is the key to glamor."

That's a Lot Of Soup

PARIS — The soup pot has not lost its place as king of the stove in French homes.

Eighty-three per cent of French housewives have reported that they spend from 60 to 90 minutes each day preparing fresh soups for their families.

"In other words, soup is our main occupation for 15 days out of every year," figured statistician Carmen Bernard. "Or, imagine, five months out of every 10 years!"

Exercises Trim Flabby Arms And Help Improve Your Posture

This is the fifth in a series of articles on Police Matrons Dorothy, age 42, and Mary, 40, who lost weight and inches, improved their posture and changed the color of their hair, with the help of The Miami Herald Glamor Clinic.

By ELEANOR HART
Herald Glamour Clinic Editor

Glamor Clinic

The shoulders and arms are probably the most taken-for-granted, and therefore neglected, portions of the female anatomy (next to milady's chin). Dorothy especially was plagued by flabby upper arms.

Rounded, slumped shoulders and bat-wing triceps are notorious saboteurs in the fight for good posture.

Okay, so you're from Missouri and you want to be shown. What happens when YOU carry a heavy sack of groceries into the house, not from the store four blocks away, but from your car, a few hundred feet outside your door?

If you feel half dead as a result, your puny shoulder and arm muscles are more to blame than the "staggering load."

So we come back to the same old theme, Exercise, and plenty of it.

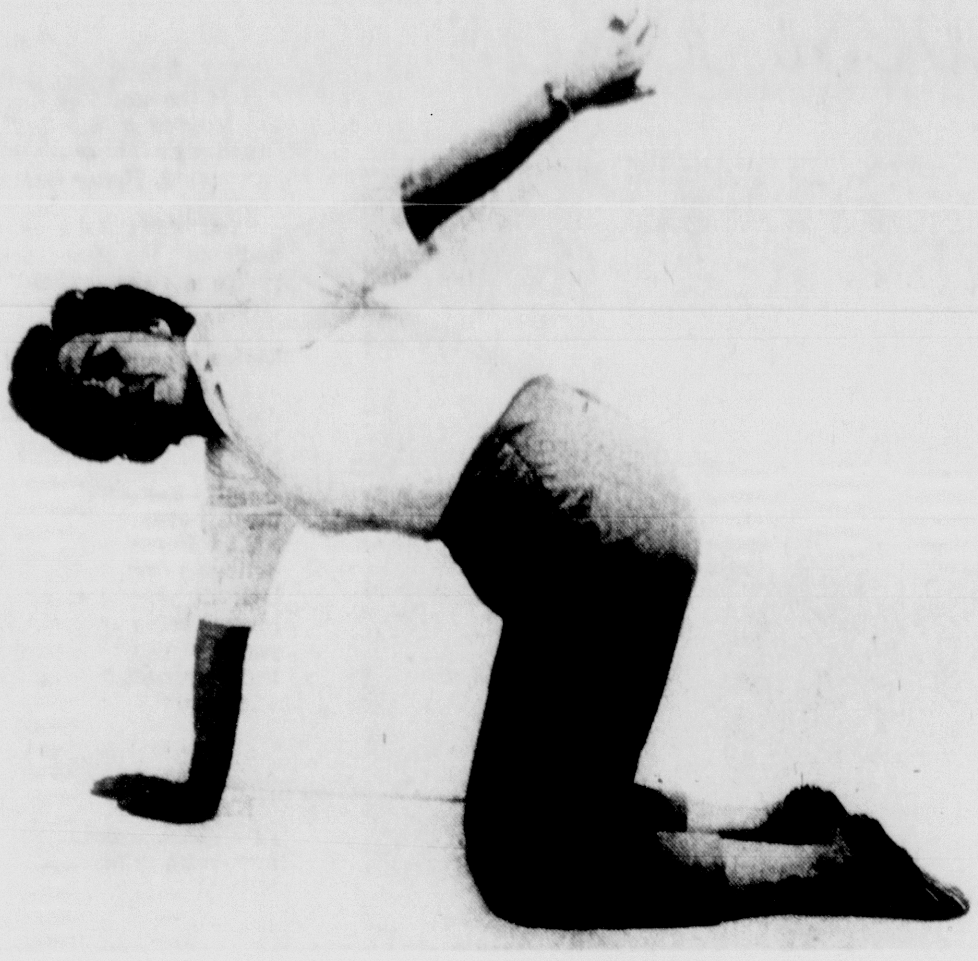
The exercises pictured today are designed to help improve shoulder and arm areas, and as you straighten your shoulders and firm your arms, you take one step nearer an improved posture.

An exercise (not pictured) that is especially recommended for firming flabby arms is this:

Stand erect, arms raised above head, holding a ten pound weight (a brick or flat iron wrapped in a towel will suffice). Lower weight behind your head, bending arms at elbow and keeping elbows close to the head. Five times to start, work up to 20.

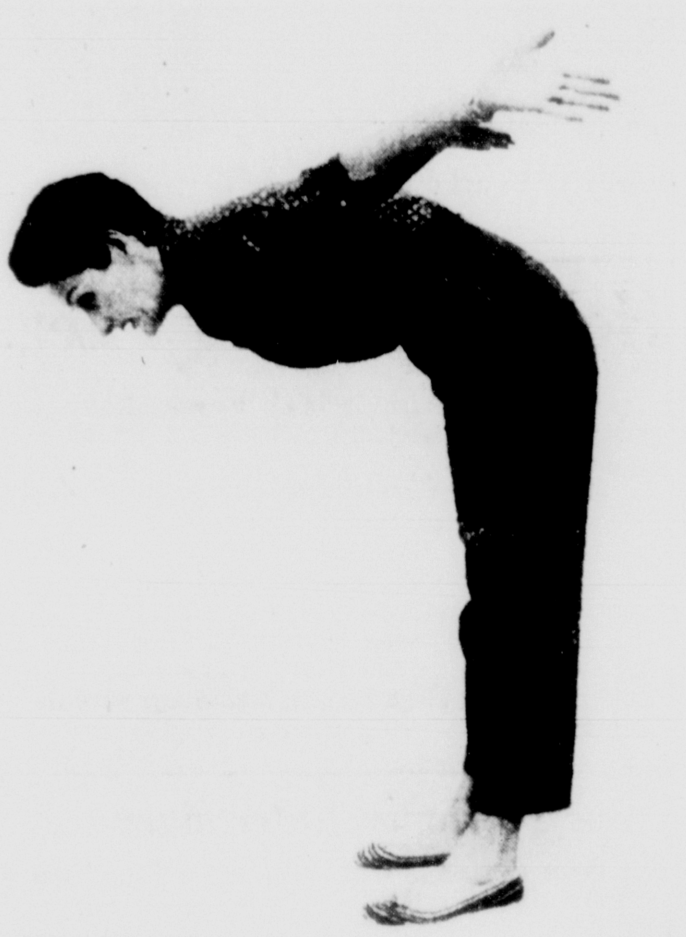
NEXT: Good Posture on the Job.

For a copy of the Mayo Clinic Diet, which helped Dorothy and Mary lose weight; also Glamor Clinic exercises on major figure faults, send a stamped, addressed envelope with your request to Glamor Clinic, Miami Herald.



FOR ARMS AND SHOULDERS, posture too. Assume kneeling position, hands on floor. Place left hand behind right elbow, palm facing upward, thrust left arm upward, as Dorothy does, turning head and following direction of arm with eyes. Support weight with right hand. Return to starting position. 10 times with each arm.

—Herald Staff Photos by Ray Fisher



MUSCLE BOUND? You won't be after this exercise. Stand with feet together and bend trunk forward, arms crossed in front of body with palms facing each other. Thrust arms upward, as Mary does, as far as you can. Return to starting position. 25 times.

Club Sewing Contest To Be Held Saturday

District winners in the sewing contest co-sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Vogue Patterns will be selected Saturday morning in the Woman's Club of Coconut Grove, 2985 S. Bayshore Dr.

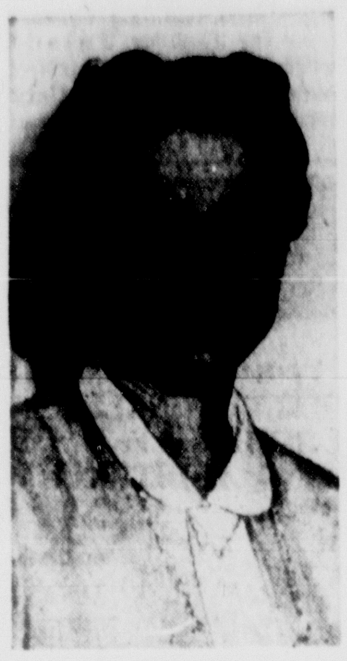
St. Petersburg Woman Heads Surgeons' Wives



Mrs. C. W. Bowman
. . . new president

Mrs. Curtis W. Bowman, St. Petersburg, is the new president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Southeastern Surgical Congress. She was elected and installed Tuesday during the congress' convention in the Deauville Hotel.

The organization covers 12 states and the District of Columbia.

President-elect is Mrs. W. A. K. Seale, Sulphur, La. Other officers are Mrs. Ross Pierpont, Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. William J. Rosser, Birmingham, Ala., first and second vice presidents, and Mrs. Major Fowler, Atlanta, Ga., secrectary-treasurer.

Though this was the 27th annual meeting of the surgeons, it was only the fourth annual meeting of the wives group.

Titled Guest Almost Missed Party

—Herald Staff Photos by Ray Fisher

Mrs. Ben Lamson, Mrs. Walter Yost and Mrs. E. O. C. Barber
. . . exchanging news at Woolleys' party at the Bath Club

By HELEN WELLS
Herald Society Editor

The guest of honor barely got under the wire for the cocktail dance given for her.

Lady Phyllis McCraith, charming Englishwoman, for whom Ethel and Dan Woolley entertained at the Bath Club, sat aboard the cargo ship on which she crossed for two days in Biscayne Bay.

There was no berth for the ship, so both ship and Lady Phyllis cooled their heels until Tuesday afternoon. The cocktail dance was Tuesday at 5:30!

Ethel Woolley was raised in England by an aunt and uncle and knew Lady Phyllis then. Mrs. W. was wearing a becoming cherry red and white silk print and the honor guest, a black and white print when they greeted guests with Mr. Woolley in the front patio at the Bath Club.

With Lucy (Mrs. Spottswood) Grant were her son, Hoke Smith Simpson and his wife, the former Suzanne Memminger. Mr. Simpson is named for Lucy's late father U.S. Sen. Hoke Smith who owned the Atlanta Journal. Joining them was Lucy's daughter, Raymer and her husband, Bill VanDevere.

Hosts and Their Guest of Honor
. . . Dan Woolley, Lady Phyllis McCraith, Mrs. Woolley

Maggie and Carl Forster were at a table with Carl's son Jack Forster and his wife, Marge, over from the Gables. Dear Maggie says she is forever being mistaken for someone else. At the moment her "double" is Vi Heinz. She and Vi were laughing together over some of the mistakes in identity. Also at this table was George Sofield, who won a brand new automobile by writing "25 words or less"!

Invitations in Spanish

Too bad for you if you can't read Spanish. Ada and Ray Dodge's invitation for one of their super hoop-de-do's, first in their new home on Pine Tree Dr., is all in Espanol.

It says "Comparsa! Noche en Habana, Dodge Casino, 4765 Pine Tree Avenida, A Las 7 p.m., En Disfraz, Marzo 31 . . ." which boils down to A Spanish Dance in costume.

This dance was a farewell party for Marian (Mrs. Walter) Truettner who has been visiting her parents, Rene and "Heem" Hooper at their home on La Gorce Island. She flies back to Detroit today but will soon be replaced here by her six feet three son Jim and his two little boys.

Would like to know from which fountain the Hoopers quaff their youth. They will celebrate their 57 wedding anniversary this fall and have three great grands . . . unbelievable when you look at this attractive couple.

Mrs. I. R. Edmands stopped to say she had had a long letter from Esther Gardner Terrin and her husband John written in Honolulu. Mrs. Edmands introduced Esther and John, both long time friends of hers.

Jo (Mrs. John) Stevenson said that she was in Miami Beach before there was such a place as the Bath Club. She is having a luncheon at the club on Friday for all her "old friends." Jo was seated with Mrs. Claude Siems, the Ben Lamsons, Mrs. E. O. C. Barber, and Georges du Manoir.

Dr and Mrs. Walter Yost . . . he is a former president of the club . . . were circulating. They entertained at the Bath on Wednesday evening. Mrs. George Wallace, Gen. and Mrs. Francis Brady, Mrs. Frank Andrews looking like a spring daffodil in yellow, Thena Perry, the John Denvirs were more sipping and dancing.

She'll See Race in England

Getting in the upper echelons of horse owners are Kay and Jake Swirbul who left their Sunset Island III home on Wednesday for their home in New York.

They have bought an English thoroughbred, the five year old Mossborough gelding, Amos, a candidate for the Lincolnshire Handicap on March 18th. On Monday Kay is boarding a jet to zoom away to England to see Amos run before she and Jake bring him to the U.S.

Kay said she is trying to persuade Toby (Mrs. Dick) Merrill to fly over with her.

Fan Clubs To Sponsor Dance for Teenagers

The Larry Grayson fan clubs will present a teenage dance Saturday at 7:45 p.m. in the Shenandoah Park Community House.

Some 400 fan clubs have been organized in the Miami area for this young singer. Larry was seen in the "Newcomers of 1928" show at the Deauville Hotel. He was a vocalist for the Glenn Miller Air Force Band and has appeared on the Godfrey Talent Scouts, the Don McNeil Breakfast Club and the Gary Moore show.

Now They Can Share Popcorn

DUNGLOWE, Ireland — (WNS) — A 40-year-old law has just been rescinded here, and now, for the first time in this Irish city, a young man can take his colleen to the flicks — and sit next to her.

For 40 years in Dunglowe it has been against the law for men and women to sit side by side in a darkened movie theatre, unless they presented their marriage license at the box office to prove that they were legally married.

No license meant the man sat on the right side of the theatre and the woman on the left. Responsible for the ban's being lifted: the town mothers who are agitating for equality of the sexes.

Lights Are Low By Request

SCHLESWIG, Germany — (WNS) — Feminine modesty has won the day in Schleswig, Germany. Girls there have been refusing to kiss their boy friends in the municipal park since a new efficient lighting system was installed.

The men complained to the mayor that this would result in fewer marriages and a sagging population. The mayor has now arranged to have the lights extinguished in the most romantic lane of the park.

MIAMI'S
FOOD SALES ARE SHOWING!

THERE'S NO BELT-TIGHTENING IN SOUTH FLORIDA;
THE HERALD LEADS THE NATION IN FOOD ADVERTISING

Cook-outs and cook-ins . . . families eat well. The population is expanding (pardon, we mean increasing) by some 6500 every month.

Food sales show it. They go up, up, up!

Grocery advertisers know it (profit charts don't lie!)

That's why retailers, producers and processors place more of their advertising in The Miami Herald than in any other newspaper in the United States. (Just fishing where the fishing is best.)

Why not "check in" now on the South Florida profit-picture. You're pretty sure to "check out" with a higher quota of sales — through newspaper advertising.

Big hassle in the United States Automobile Club, which governs racing . . . those two renowned Mexican youngsters, Pedro and Ricardo Rodriguez, have been barred from the Sebring meet . . . as "minors" . . . yet the two, who recently raced in Nassau, already are "veterans," having participated in the world's major races, and are considered among the top ranking racers in the world . . . even their father, multi-millionaire Mexican industrialist, long since has given his blessing to their preferred sport . . . the Auto Club has ruled that only those over 21 should compete at Sebring . . . The New York Times brought attention to the situation with a headline which read, Major Race Closed To Minors . . .

Is Arizona Answer To Child's Asthma?

By DR. J. G. MOLNER

DEAR DR. MOLNER:

Is Arizona's climate good for asthma? My son has a girl, 8, with this trouble.

L. L.

This is a question that is impossible for me to answer, and I'll explain to you why.

Most asthma is the result of allergy. This allergy can be caused by something you breathe, eat or touch. (Or a combination).

Dr. J. G. Molner

For reasons not thoroughly understood, some allergies make you itch, some make you break out in a rash, some make you swell up in various parts, some make you sick at your stomach, some make your nose drip, and so on.

In asthma cases, as a general rule, it won't be just one single thing to which you happen to be sensitive. It may be quite a few.

These things need not be something that is breathed, as is the case with pollens which cause hay fever. They may, or may not.

Therefore, finding some particular clear, warm climate, isnt' necessarily going to do anything to help asthma. This is something you must dismiss from your mind — that asthma's causes are limited to the atmosphere.

I grant you that sometimes one climate will be better than another. Damp climates, or cold climates may happen to be either good or bad in individual cases, but you can't predict the results unless you know what causes the allergy, and what is present (or absent) in the atmosphere of any particular place.

Arizona MIGHT help your grandchild. But then, so might Worcester, or Macon, or Rockford, Ill., or Nashville, or San Francisco or Orlando.

Before deciding that some particular vicinity is going to help, you'll have to test it out. Meantime, enlist the services of an allergist to find out WHAT is harmful. It isn't easy to find out, but it is worth the effort.

DEAR DR. MOLNER:

After my first polio shot, I had my second five weeks and three days later. The doctor told me I might as well forget the first one and count the second as the first as five weeks was too long between shots. What is your opinion?

G. C.

I disagree with him completely. The recommended time is a month between the first and second, but 10 days more is not going to make any detectable difference.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible. Always write to Dr. Molner in care of The Miami Herald.

Don't Drown Your VEGETABLES

It is easy to cook fresh and frozen vegetables in broth. Instead of salting the water, stir in one envelope of G. Washington's Seasoning and Broth, which is a chef's ideal combination of seasonings . . . a flavor booster in powder form.

TWO VARIETIES: "RICH BROWN" and "GOLDEN"

'Young Sister-in-Law Is a Thorn'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I have a young sister-in-law who is the thorn in my side. She is the only girl among seven boys, so of course she is my mother-in-law's pet.

My mother-in-law is very old and ill, and this sister-in-law has lived with her since her husband left her with two tiny babies. Now, she thinks the boys owe her a living and is always writing us for this and that, with the guise that it's for mother.

First, it was a house. The one they had was old and run down. Then she wanted a bookkeeping course, and left the two kids all day alone with her mother, who is subject to strokes.

The nearest neighbor is half a mile away, and they are on the outs with this sister-in-law, too.

We did without to send her to school, and all she did was go back home and flop. Now she wants a car. She had one and didn't take care of it . . . sold it two years ago for junk. Since then she borrowed a car from a brother and wrecked it by neglect.

We are in debt to our ears and can't take the load of helping her buy a car. The other sisters-in-law are yelling, too. I need another room on my house. I have four kids and expecting another this fall.

Am I wrong, as everyone feels, when I mean I'll leave and see a lawyer if my husband buys his sister a car? If they don't stop her now, it'll be something else.

Writing her to put a stop to this does no good, and makes the brothers mad.

DISGUSTED AND FED UP

It's high time sister-in-law started keeping her own books . . . and that should include buying her own car. And what about the absentee husband? Legally, he has a few monetary duties to the brood he he left behing.

Tell your husband charity begins at home, and right now, you can use a room-full.

A Poem for Brave Woman

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

Recently a close neighbor of ours lost her husband. Before her third baby was born, she learned he had cancer and not long to live.

For a year she never missed a day being with him, smiling and so cheerful, although her heart was so sad. She never knew what the next day would bring.

For the last three weeks, she never left the hospital or gave up hope. I am sure the patients at Veterans' Hospital will never forget her, as she always had a cheerful word for them.

Another neighbor wrote this poem about her and I hope you will print it for others to see how truly wonderful and courageous this woman is.

Maybe it will help someone else. For me, it's a privilege to know her.

A NEIGHBOR

It's a privilege to print part of the tribute to Dorothy, written by Delores Robbins.

DOROTHY

We pass through this life but once,
And by chance we humans meet;
We grow to learn of and know one another,
We share each triumph—defeat.
There is one who has been gifted
With patience and love from God.
Only He knows the heartbreak and suffering.
The lonely road she will trod.
Such care and devotion to husband
Shall be recorded Above;
Such endurance and self sacrifice
Can only be termed as true love.
Her loss is a lesson to all,
May we heed it and constantly remember
That God hath given and can take away—
Lest we forget this past November.

* * *

'God Helps Us In His Mercy'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

My heart goes out to Down But Not Out. For I know part of what she must feel.

I learned my husband had cancer when I was expecting our third child. He passed away last November when she was a year old. We never told him what he had, and I never gave up hoping and dreaming.

God in all His mercy helps us, even though at times we can't help but wonder why things happen like they do.

But I am not writing to tell of my troubles. I just want Down But Out to understand that I believe because I have known tragedy.

She has such a cross to bear, far more than most people. I will include her in my prayers and hope there is some way I can help her . . . for so many helped me, and I know what help can mean.

A FRIEND

I believe you do . . . and I wonder if you aren't the "Dorothy" who inspired the poem above . . . because it sounds like you. Thank you for writing.

Eleanor Hart.

Recipe of the week

from March Better Homes & Gardens

Old-fashioned good eating to delight your man on St. Pat's Day

Corned-Beef Dinner

3 to 4 pounds corned-beef brisket
2 onions, sliced
2 cloves garlic, minced
6 whole cloves
2 bay leaves
6 small to medium potatoes, pared
6 small carrots, pared
1 medium head cabbage, cut in 6 wedges

Place corned beef in Dutch oven and barely cover with hot water; add onion, garlic, cloves, and bay leaves. Cover and simmer (do not boil) 1 hour per pound of meat, or till fork tender. Remove meat from liquid; add potatoes and carrots. Cover; bring to boiling and cook 10 minutes. Then add cabbage wedges; continue cooking 20 minutes longer or till vegetables are done. To carve corned beef, cut across the grain, making thin slices. Makes 6 servings.

SPICE GLAZE: If you like, glaze the corned beef while vegetables cook. Spread fat side of meat lightly with prepared mustard. Sprinkle with mixture of 1/4 cup brown sugar and 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves. Place in shallow pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 15 to 20 minutes or till nicely glazed.

This is just one of the 67 Taste-tested Recipes in March Better Homes & Gardens. And for help in saving time in the kitchen, be sure to read the article on "make-ahead" salads.

Orphan's Wish: Goodnight Kiss

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

A tiny eight-year-old boy huddled under the dark stairway. His clothing was torn and he was cold and hungry. Bigger boys carried him to the priest.

FATHER MADINA

What is your name son? Antonio. Where is your mother? Dead. Your father? Dead.

In the children's home the Catholic sisters scrubbed and fed the boy and gave him clean clothing. The priest tucked him into bed. There were tears in the boy's eyes.

What's the matter son? Nothing. Tell me if there is something you want? I'm afraid to. Ask and you shall receive.

"Padre," the little boy said, "would you kiss me goodnight?"

Home Replaces Parents

THE PRIEST was Father Luis Madina. Abandoned children are his life's work. He believes that a home for children must be a mother and a father to the orphans.

Father Madina founded a "Boys Town" in Madrid, Spain, in 1944 and operated it until 1952 when he was sent to New York. The government of Costa Rica heard of his work with boys and asked that he be sent to them.

The Spanish priest has been in San Jose, Costa Rica, for one year and has founded a "Boys Town" there which now is a home for 150 orphan boys.

Visiting in Miami with an old friend, Father Antonio Navarette of Corpus Christi Church, Father Madina outlined his plan to expand his work with the abandoned children of Costa Rica.

More Children Than Coffee

"COSTA RICA produces two things—coffee and children," Father Madina said, "and more children than coffee. About 60 per cent of the entire population are minors.

"The government gave me an old prison and a large tract of land and we built a small Boys Town, but it is a poor country and they can't do things like the U.S.

"I don't know why they always build boys towns. How about the girls? I don't know which is the most important, but both are necessary.

"I want to build a place for 1,000 boys and another place beside it for 1,000 girls at San Jose. We have that many orphans to take care of and we would be their family."

Father Madina estimates that it would cost three million dollars to complete his project.

Tossed Into the Street

HIS HOME now accepts babies. They are cared for by the Catholic sisters. The boys are taught a trade, given an education and can remain there until they are married.

"Children who have a mother or father living are urged to go home with their parent whenever possible," Father Madina said. "Sometimes the children do not want to go.

"I remember one little girl who was saying her prayers. She said 'Bless Mama, who threw me into the street like a dog'."

Father Madina is leaving Sunday to return to Costa Rica.

He said the only thing that worries him about finishing his home for 2,000 boys and girls is "how will I ever kiss them all goodnight?"

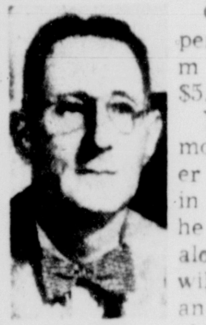
Puerto Rican Workers

They 'Get Along' On $1,000 a Year

By ROBERT M. LEWIN
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — Thirty-five per cent of the workers in this commonwealth earn less than $1,000 a year.



LEWIN

Only eight per cent earn more than $5,000 a year.

Yet, stop almost any worker and ask him in English how he is getting along and he will reply in an understandable combination of broken English and Spanish:

"We manage it."

(The U. S. Treasury Department reports that on the mainland in 1956, latest available figures, 1.4 per cent of the workers earned less than $1,000; 62.4 per cent earned more than $5,000.)

Alvin Mayne, director of the Puerto Rico Bureau of Economics, says that more than 45 per cent of workers' income goes for food.

That contrasts with 30-33 per cent for food on the mainland.

Prices in the supermercados — supermarkets — generally are a little higher than on the mainland, in spite of the low incomes.

And a hard liquor section is a focal point in the supermercados.

Wayne recalls that 170-million dollars collected in taxes on rum in World War II — much of it from the mainland — gave this commonwealth a spurt in its conversion from an agricultural to an industrial economy.

As Rafael Rolon Rosario, 41, took time from his $1.25-an-hour job as foreman in the shipping and packaging department of Atlantic Sportswear, Inc., he said:

"I'm not complaining. With overtime, I earn more than $60 a week.

"If anything goes wrong here, I'll go back to the states."

Rafael, a balding, 5-foot 5-inch, 137-pounder, was born here, lived in New York more than 20 years and returned here about four years ago.

"I lived well in New York —$50 a week take-home pay from the leather goods factory," he went on.

"I paid $35 a month rent for a 4-room apartment in the Bronx for my wife, myself and the two children.

"We had a TV set, radio, phonograph and telephone.

"Here, I just bought a six-room, pink-colored cement home for $7,750 in a new development in Rio Piedras (a suburb) — paying it off at $64 a month.

"We have an electric refrigerator and an electric stove," Rafael continued. "The same as in New York, but no telephone."

House Unit OKs Funds

WASHINGTON —(UPI)— A House appropriations subcommittee has reversed itself and approved $100,000,000 of the $225,000,000 in supplemental funds requested by President Eisenhower for foreign development loans.

Members said the action was taken at a closed-door meeting. The subcommittee earlier had tentatively slashed the funds to $50,000,000, a whopping 78 per cent below Eisenhower request.

The funds were requested to tide the development loan fund through the current fiscal year which ends June 30. The fund makes loans for foreign development projects.

Clean Chin A Must on This Island

By EDWIN A. LAHEY
Chief Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — A clean shave is a matter of life and death these days on the historic island of Hispaniola in the Caribbean.

This island, a port of call for Columbus nearly five centuries ago, contains the Dominican Republic, a tight dictatorship under Rafael L. Trujillo, and the Republic of Haiti, a rather vague dictatorship run by President Francois Duvalier.

Dominican and Haitian exiles have intensified their agitation for the overthrow of these governments since Fidel Castro and his bearded revolutionaries overthrew the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista in Cuba.

Now that chin whiskers have become the symbol of "liberation," a good safety razor, with plenty of blades, has become a necessity in both the Dominican Republic and Haiti.

Gen. Trujillo still exercises tight police control in his republic, and anybody whose beard gets a little heavy down there is in for trouble.

The Dominican dictator has now spread his protective police arm around his neighboring country of Haiti, by ordering 25,000 machineguns, 3 million rounds of ammunition, and 25,000 machetes for a "foreign legion" to repel any threat of revolution.

If Oil Explorations Pay Off

Row May Erupt Over British Honduras

By WILLIAM GAUDET
Special To The Herald

PUERTO BARRIOS, Guatemala — As the giant oil drills bore deeper into the sub-soil of Peten province in search of oil, the day draws ever nearer when the long-standing fued between Guatemala and London over British Honduras is certain to erupt into a struggle of mammoth proportions.

GAUDET

Until the U.S. oil companies took out exploration and exploitation concessions from the Guatemalan government for operations in the Peten, few Guatemalans took seriously the squabble with the British. For years the official government map of Guatemala made no reference to British Honduras as such, and in that geographic area it listed the province of Belize.

Off and on there have been intermittent flare-ups over who actually was entitled to British Honduras. But the inescapable fact was that few Guatemalans really concerned themselves with what their government called Belize.

To them it was just another remote area, very similar to Peten, a mass of tropical rain forests and wild jungle. Peten was and is one of the great chicle producing areas of the world, but beyond that there was nothing to justify prolonged argument.

All that has been changed with the operations of oil companies in the Peten. And when word comes that oil actually has been found, the Guatemalan government will really press its claim for the province they call Belize.

In the past British Honduras has represented nothing more than a financial liability for the British government. The unemployment rate in the area has been tremendous and over the years the British have had to pour many millions into the colony in order to maintain some form of economic stability.

Thus, if oil comes to Peten, as certainly seems indicated, the British, who have doggedly held onto British Honduras even though it was an economic liability, will not be inclined to give it up in the face of possible wealth.

In the opinion of oil men, British Honduras will probably become an oil producer if oil is found in adjoining Peten. As matters now stand, many of the concessions granted by the Guatemalan government actually overlap into certain areas which the British claim as theirs. That alone is certain to have international repercussions.

As Government Takes Action

Mexican Press Hails Peso Move

United Press International

MEXICO CITY — The Mexican Press has hailed the recent financial steps taken by the government to strengthen the Mexican peso and "dissipate all fears of devaluation."

The steps, announced here by Mexican Finance Minister Antonio Ortiz Mena and in simultaneous announcemnts in Washington by the Export-Import Bank and the International Monetary Fund, had the effect of increasing Mexican dollar reserves to an all time high of 625 million dollars.

"These steps," said the newspaper Excelsior in an editorial, "give us ample reason to feel optimistic and to perserve in the program of increasing our production to satsify domestic needs and export surplus goods to strengthen our balance of payments."

The rest of the press made similar editorial comments and praised the new administration of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos for its economic policies.

In a talk, Secretary Ortiz Mena said a long-term credit for 100 million dollars was negotiated with the Export-Import Bank. He said the step was taken mainly so that import needs will not cut into the gold and dollar reserves at the Bank of Mexico, thus "assuring a proper rate of investments needed for the economic progress of the nation.

Copper, Lead Exports Drop

MEXICO CITY — Mexican exports of copper, lead and zinc dropped by more than 34 million dollars in 1958, figures released by the Association of Metals Producers showed.

Exports of the three metals during the first 11 months of 1958 totaled $78,584,000 as against $112,648,000 during the same 1957 period.

The drop was attributed chiefly to lower world market prices for the three metals.

Foreign Profits Up in Mexico

MEXICO CITY — The Bank of Mexico reported that foreign companies operating in Mexico earned 133 million dollars in 1958, an increase of 10 million dollars over their 1957 earnings.

The bank reported new investments by foreign concerns in Mexico last year totalled 100.2 million dollars, or 39.4 million dollars under the 1957 total.

Brazil to Cut Coffee Output

SAO PAULO, Brazil — Sao Paulo state agricultural experts estimate the state's coffee production will decline about 30 per cent next year.

At the same time, the authoritative newspaper O Estado de Sao Paulo reported that about 60 per cent of the acreage planted to coffee is being abandoned or devoted to other crops due to falling coffee world prices.

Most of the converted plantations are being devoted to animal husbandry or planted to corn, cotton and citrus fruit, the newspaper said.

Super Freezers Preserve Life

UNION, N.J. — (UPI) — Super deep freezers which maintain temperatures as low as 125 degrees below zero Fahrenheit are now helping to preserve life on behalf of medical science. Tenney Engineering, Inc., which manufactures the new units, explains that hospitals use them to store bone, skin, eyes and arterial segments for emergency operations and research.

'Return' Is Low On $75 Bond

By ROBERT E. HOYT
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The annual report of the Joint Economic Committee of Congress talks about inflation as something that might happen if we don't watch out.

It quite ignored the fact that inflation already has happened.

A worker who ten years ago put $75 in a government savings bond gets $100 back.

If the same worker had put the $75 in any of a dozen or more mutual investment funds, he would have tripled his money in the same time.

The $75 the worker invested ten years ago would have bought 112 pounds of pork chops. The $100 he gets for his investment now will buy about 113 pounds of pork chops.

The net "increment" on the $75 investment in bonds for the ten-year period is one pound of pork chops.

Bread averaged 13.9 cents for a pound loaf ten years ago.

The $75 bond money would have purchased 540 loaves.

Today bread costs 19.6 cents per pound loaf.

And the $100 which the bond buyer gets after ten years will purchase 510 loaves, a net loss of 30 loaves of bread for a 10-year investment.

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

What's a Man to Do?

NOW THERE ARE watches that wind themselves. This, it seems to me, indicates that the human race has reached the ultimate in laziness.

Time was when it was a ritual for the head of the house to wind the seven-day clock. I suppose that happened every seven days. Now we merely plug in the electric clock and forget it.

At least, though, we still had to wind our wrist watches. And now even that is being given up as too strenuous.

I view this with alarm. My only exercise, outside of coughing in the morning is winding my wrist watch.

If I give that up, I'm apt to lose my robust health and may not even be able to report for the checker team next season.

WHICH BRINGS UP the thought, that there was a time when any man who wore a wrist watch was greeted with cat calls and hoots and was considered a sissy. Now if anyone uses a pocket watch, he's considered old fashioned.

COMMUNIQUE, from Mrs. Grace B. Darnall, 133 Sevilla Ave., Coral Gables:

"There are two small towns in the same county in Pennsylvania, one named Eighty-Four and the other named Pancake."

To which we add the note from Mrs. Roy Welch, 1525 SW 76th Ave.: "My husband and I met in Deep Creek, Canada, near Chalk River, and we had a friend who married and went to Pickle Crow Gold Mine at Pickle Crow Lake in Ontario."

I can understand a lot of things, but what ever inspired the name of Pickle Crow? If it had been Pickled Pigs Feet it would make better sense.

FOLKS WITH LEUKEMIA and other ailments sometimes have a craving for watermelons. George Kleger, Pompano Beach, tells me that his firm now is busy harvesting watermelons in Cuba and bringing them to this country, and will be glad to donate melons to any such sick person.

If you know anyone eligible to accept the offer, write or call Milton Prenner, of General Vegetable Distributors, Pompano Beach.

If you call or write me, I can do no more than repeat this same information.

WE HAVE DEVELOPED quite a little hassle about Nassau. An objective appraisal of the situation has been made by a Pompano Beach woman who doesn't want her name used since her husband is working on the island. This is what she says:

"I read your readers' comments on Nassau with mixed emotions. I know how both sides to the question feel.

"To a guest, Nassau must seem like a little bit of Paradise. Life is so leisurely and relaxed that they can forget their worries and problems.

"To someone working there, though, the problems are multiplied. The native workers are unbelievably slow, and it is impossible to push them. It can be very frustrating to have a job to do on schedule and try to get it done on time.

"The natives are friendly — and for the most part will walk off with anything that is not nailed down. Nothing is safe, from the largest piece of construction material to a handkerchief in the laundry.

"There is a considerable duty on everything from the U.S. But on the other hand, English-made goods are cheap.

"To sum it all up . . . we have made some wonderful friends in Nassau, I enjoy going there for short visits, but I would not want to live there for any length of time.

"I guess, like everything else, one's views on Nassau depend on the point of view."

And that about sums that up.

COLONEL R. H. DUNLAP, who calls his home at 5775 SW 28th St., "Casa Contenta," tells this on himself so I guess he can't get mad if I use it:

"Grandpa Dunlap at the ancient age of 71 has one of the most astonishing memories yet observed. His neighbors say that he can even remember details about things that never happened."

Activity Advisable

By CARROLL RIGHTER
Thursday, March 12, 1959

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Take advantage of whatever influential contacts you have in A.M., whether socially or in business. P.M. is ideal for being with chosen comrades and having a delightful time. ACTIVITY is the keynote today.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Complete any decisive plans that you have formulated this morning. You can then spend the rest of the day working the monetary angles thereof and also give attention to matters of real estate.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Make your plans for a most active day and then follow your schedule perfectly if you are to get the most successful results. P.M. is fine for expressing yourself with vital persons.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Fine chances are open to you in A.M. to prove your loyalty to comrades, partner. P.M. be in the solitude of own room to think out how far you have progressed in the past. Be practical to nth degree.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get suggestions from persons in key positions, whether in business or in politics. Rest of day is ideal for cementing better relations with close ties and getting support there, too.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Go wherever you know there is a chance to expand, both socially as well as in business or artistic affairs. P.M. is then full of prime opportunities to bring your talents before Bigwigs.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A.M. should be spent getting obligations out of the way, and conferring with persons who know best how to handle your most important affairs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A.M. fine for putting finishing touches to plans with associates. Then rest of day good for beginning to operate efficiently thereon. P.M. be as cooperative with mate as possible.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) It is possible this A.M. to get all accumulated chores and duties behind you with alacrity. Then later you will have plenty of time to be out in the busy progressive world.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure to take the health treatments that do a great deal for you. Bring out that fine personality! Later, be sure to express happiness at being allied with the right people.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Spend A.M. planning for the future, for an uptrend is very much in the heavens for you right now. P.M. go out socially with friends you like the best. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make this a banner day by writing important letters, calling the key people in your life and putting abode or surroundings in best order. P.M. is fine for doing nice things for closest ties.

Fair Adds Camp Prize

A scholarship to a two-week science camp has been added to the list of prizes in the South Florida Science Fair which starts March 18.

Sponsored by the Dade County Medical Association, the scholarship will go to a prize winner in the biology division. The winner will go to Florida State University's Sixth Annual Science Camp at Tallahassee June 15-27.

Displaying the work of South Florida high school students, this year's Science Fair will be held at Dinner Key Auditorium. The event is sponsored by The Miami Herald, the University of Miami, the Dade County Science Teachers Association and the Dade County Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Jack Kofoed Says

Monroe Offer Shows What's Wrong in TV

LET'S TALK about the girls today. They are always wonderful, often puzzling, and sometimes disturbing. There's one thing for sure. They aren't boring.

Marilyn Monroe is not a Helen Hayes nor yet a Rosalind Russell as an actress, but is blonde and bosomy. She typifies the current fad in feminine physiques, which means whatever she has, she has plenty of, contrasting with the pencil silhouette popular in the Flapper Era. In short, bosoms and hips should be queen size.

It is reported that Miss Monroe turned down $300,000 to appear in three television spectaculars. Nobody . . . least of all the slinky, slouchy blond . . . is worth that kind of money.

That she was even offered so much, is an indication of some of the things wrong with TV. However, much more interesting was her reaction.

"I don't care about money," said Marilyn. "I just want to be wonderful!"

That is a delightful, and uncommercial thought, but to be fully understood, "wonderful" must be defined.

Helen Keller is wonderful, because of her achievements despite being blind, mute and deaf. Mme. Curie was wonderful. So, in her particular way, was Babe Didrikson Zaharias. So are other women, because of talents, or humanity, or intellectual attainments.

Can a woman be wonderful because nature endowed her with an extraordinary body? Beauty is a joy to the beholder, but it doesn't last long.

Wrinkles and sagging muscles take over. Actually, it isn't very important even in show business. Some of the greatest actresses weren't even good looking.

How does Miss Monroe want to be wonderful? In helping others? In bringing happiness to the world? She didn't say. Just being more spectacularly beautiful than most women won't do.

Until Marilyn finds out, it might be wiser to take the dollars as they come and leave worry about the "wonderful" phase to the passing years.

WHEN SUCCESS comes too fast and too soon, women, like their masculine counterparts, find it too difficult to handle. Two of the most talked-of writers in the world are French Francoise Sagan and Irish Sheelagh Delaney.

Mlle. Sagan became a best-selling novelist while in her teens. Since then her driving ambitions seem to center on how much she can drink, how many love affairs she can have, and how fast she can drive a sports car.

These doings may sum up into a feverishly exciting, if short, life, but not toward literary success in the future.

At 18, Miss Delaney wrote a play about drunkenness, miscegenation and homosexuality (nice subjects for a child of that age), which became a sensation in Great Britain.

It may be Sheelagh feels that a genius must establish patterns different from those of the hum-drum and unknown.

At any rate, she has taken to smoking cigars, and seems to be considering off-beat doings, which brought Francoise Sagan notoriety.

A DARK and sultry singer named Josephine Greco has gained considerable publicity by chasing around with movie-maker Darryl Zanuck. Most dolls in the spotlight, want to make themselves as lovely and luscious as beauty parlors can make them.

Not Miss Greco. Her trademark is a mess of uncombed, spinach-like hair, and dresses with no more shape than a Mother Hubbard.

This gets her talked about, but not in a way most women would like. Every gal has a right to her own ideas, but this is kind of ridiculous. Miss Greco isn't pretty to begin with, but she's almost breaking her neck trying to look worse. What the end result will be, when she's 60, say, makes one shudder to think.

IGNACIO, handsome back court man at the Dania jai alai fronton is high on my list in the second half of the daily double the other evening. Straight off he ran four points, missed twice, finally pulled me through. Ignacio had done that before, and when a guy gets you daily doubles you can't help but love him.

The reverse happened at the Miami fronton some time back. I bought a 6-4 ticket on the double but 6-3 won. About to tear up that little slip of card board, I took another casual look. By gosh, the mutuel clerk had punched out a 6-3, and put me $98 ahead.

Still, I'd rather depend on Ignacio than a mistake at the window.

IN THESE days great stress is laid upon college training, but there seems to be no reason why undressers should be interested. Yet, one after another boasts of her education as well as her figure. One bills herself as Miss Libby Jones, B.A., though a Bachelor of Arts degree can hardly enhance her charm to guzzlers at a 2 a.m. show.

Now comes a letter from a doll named Dorian Dennis. Dorian says she graduated in chemistry from New York University, and the best job she could get was a $60 a week one analyzing sewage in a plant on Long Island.

Now, Miss Dennis brags that she earns six times as much with a G-string as with a college degree. So, all right. That's believable, but why keep stressing education when, so far as the stripper is concerned, a PH.D. is less important than a new way of doffing her gown?

It would be a good idea for folks in Surfside, Bal Harbour and Bay Harbour Islands to vote for library amendment No. 8 on March 17. The only places able to get along without libraries are towns like Hen Scratch and Hog Wallow.

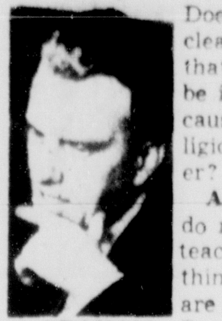
Salvation Is Purely Personal

By BILLY GRAHAM



GRAHAM

QUESTION: In I Corinthians 7:14 the Bible says that an unbelieving husband is sanctioned by the believing wife. Does not that clearly teach that some will be in heaven because of the religion of another?

ANSWER: I do not believe it teaches such a thing, for there are a host of Scriptures that clearly tell us that salvation is a personal matter. The verse you mention was written to some of the early Christians who felt that they were required to break off further marriage relations with either an unbelieving wife or husband. What Paul was showing them was that they were not involved in immorality by continuing to live with their unbelieving partner, but that the marriage tie was still acceptable.

My Answer

However, this does not encourage marriage of the Christian and non-Christian.

It covers only those instances where a person becomes a Christian after marriage. For the unmarried the Bible clearly admonishes, "Be not unequally yoked together with unbelievers."

Author Says Imitators Hate Tempters

Asians' Envy of Americans Showing

By KEYES BEECH
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

TOKYO — Why do so many Asians, especially intellectuals, profess to despise America?

BEECH

Noted Author Arthur Koestler, 52, Hungarian-born ex-Communist turned articulate anti-Communist, has a theory.

It is that people hate those they imitate. And more and more Asia is trying to imitate the West, of which the U.S. is the chief symbol.

America appeals to an Asian weakness for chewing gum, rock 'n roll, jukeboxes and dating. People hate their own weaknesses, so America gets the blame for exposing Asians to temptation.

"If someone taught me to smoke opium and I became an addict, I wouldn't like him," says Koestler.

The author of "Darkness at Noon," "Scum of the Earth" and other books is currently in Japan after two months in India. He is trying to find out what happens to traditional values in a rapidly changing society.

Koestler has another theory—that sex and totalitarianism are utterly incompatible. To him this accounts for the puritanism of the Chinese Communists.

Sex, he says, means human relations, and that is something Communism must discourage.

VIENNA — (AP) — In Vienna every streetcar is desire — irresistible desire — for Franz Ponweiser.

Ponweiser, 39, was discharged from his job as a driver on the city's street railway service some time ago for physical disability.

But over the weekend he was in jail for the third time for stealing a parked tram and taking it for a run across town.

"What can you do with a man who just can't resist his passion to drive a tram?" a police official wondered.

Said Ponweiser: "I just couldn't resist when I saw that empty tram standing there. I simply had to drive it."

Nasser Berates Commies

Blames Them For Iraq Revolt

DAMASCUS, Syria —(UPI)— United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser charged Wednesday that the Communists, seeking to split the Arab world, were to blame for the crisis that touched off the Iraqi revolt.

Nasser, addressing crowds of wildly cheering demonstrators, lashed back at Iraqi leaders for their attacks on his regime and served notice that local Reds would not succeed in dragging the U.A.R. into the Communist camp.

Speaking out for the first time since the short lived Mosul revolt, Nasser delivered his first direct assault on Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who appeared to have won his fight to crush the insurgents in northern Iraq.

While Nasser spoke, the Communist Party newspaper in Baghdad, Ittihad al Shaab, said the last rebel holdouts had surrendered in the northern Iraqi oil city of Mosul Tuesday night.

The Baghdad newspaper charged, however, that the U.A.R. was still massing dissident tribesmen and "Syrian nationalists" across the Iraqi border.

Nasser, speaking from a balcony overlooking El Jiwa Square, charged that Kassem and the Communists were attempting to sabotage Arab unity. He accused them of "organizing demonstrations" and "uttering slander" against the U.A.R.

But he declared that these tactics would not make the United Arab Republic "surrender our mission" of uniting the Arab world.

Nasser's speech followed Baghdad press and radio charges making it plain that the Kassem regime blamed the U.A.R. For supporting the Sunday uprising in oil-rich north Iraq. The Iraqis said the mutiny was crushed and its leader, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, dead.

The U.A.R. chief told 2,000 Syrian student demonstrators that "those Communists demonstrating in Baghdad against your republic are foreign agents and used to get orders from outside our homeland. That's why we fought."

Making obvious references to Kassem's leftist policies, Nasser called the Iraqi leader "Kassem al-Iraq" — a play on words meaning "Divider of Iraq.

The students in Damascus had demonstrated Wednesday morning, angrily denouncing the "insults" transmitted against the U.A.R. by Iraq's radio during the last two days. The crowds in the streets chanted, "Kassem, traitor."

Nasser blasted Kassem 24 hours after Iraq expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats, apparently on the grounds that Iraq suspected the Cario regime of fometing the revolt.

Cairo reports said that at least 60 rebels, including some civilians, had been executed summarily after the Mosul uprising, and that Iraqi firing squads were still at work. There were indications that rebel elements were fleeing eastward toward Syria to seek asylum.

No Trace Found Of 23 in Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO —(AP)— Searchers so far have failed to find trace of 23 Brazilians who crashed in a twin-engine Catalina in the jungle near the Amazon River.

Carrying a crew of five and 18 passengers, the Brazilian air force flying boat went down near the town of Curralindo. Three women and two children were among those aboard.

The air force said apparently all 23 aboard were killed. The plane was on a flight from Belem to interior points.

Gay Time in Berlin

Nikita Has Slug, Er, 2...Er, 3...

Nikita Khrushchev
. . . huggin' and gulpin'

BERLIN —(UPI)— Nikita Khrushchev, who has advised Soviet workers to cut down their drinking, was slugging brandies at a rate of one every 15 minutes here.

Between gulps, the Soviet premier would devour one or two small, spicy sausages, then push on through the crowd to shake some more hands, and hug a few more women. The younger the women, the tighter Nikita squeezed.

The scene was a reception for 900 prominent Communists, German and foreign, at the sprawling Soviet embassy building on Unter Den Linden.

Khrushchev wore a simple black single-breasted suit, bedecked with "Workers Hero" medals. He spent three hours at the reception.

Aviation Agency's Gag Questioned

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The Congressional Watchdog Committee on Governmental Secrecy is investigating suppression by the Federal Aviation Agency of information sought in connection with the Feb. 3 crash of an American Airlines' Electra.

MOSS

This was revealed Wednesday in a letter from Rep. John Moss (D., Calif.), chairman of the House Government information Subcommittee, to E. R. Quesada, head of the FAA.

Moss in his letter referred to stories in The Miami Herald disclosing that the FAA has suppressed reports on difficulties encountered with a new type altitude measuring instrument installed in Lockheed Electras and Boeing 707 jets.

Moss asked Quesada to spell out the FAA's legal authority, if any, "for restricting access to the reports."

He disclosed that committee investigators have made a preliminary check, but did not discuss their findings.

The Herald reported last month that the FAA received complaints on the new altimeter from pilots prior to the American crash.

The new turbo-prop airliner, which fell into New York's East River while attempting to land at LaGuardia Airport, had the new altimeter. Sixty-five persons were killed in the crash.

The surviving flight engineer said after the crash that "there might have been a mix-up with those new altimeters. ". . . There was some difficulty reading them."

The Herald has reported that some pilots complained to the FAA about a "sticking needle" in the altimeter.

After first imposing stiffer landing restrictions on the Electras, the FAA announced the air carriers could resume normal operations with the planes if the new altimeters were replaced with a type now widely in use.

The FAA on several occasions refused to disclose to The Herald the nature or number of complaints.

Officials also refused to comment on why the FAA did not act on reports of operating difficulties with the new altimeter before the accident.

Mr. K.'s Price for Free City

Nikita Winds Up East Zone Visit

BERLIN —(AP)— The Soviet Union and Communist East Germany Wednesday night pledged that they would guarantee free access to West Berlin if it became a free city.

The pledge was contained in a communique issued by the Communist East German government as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up his visit to East Germany.

The communique said:

"The government of the German Democratic Republic once again emphasized its readiness to guarantee the unhindered connection of the free city of West Berlin with the outside world, in both the eastern and western directions."

At the same time, the communique said West Berlin's status as a free city could be guaranteed by the Big Four powers and by the U.N.

The communique did not spell out what form the guarantees would take.

In an East Berlin speech two days ago, Khrushchev mentioned that a minimum of troops from the Soviet Union, France, Britain and the U.S. could be stationed in West Berlin. Or, he said, the troops could come from neutral countries, meaning presumably from the U.N.

Then Khrushchev emphasized Tuesday that the Russians would have to serve alongside U.S., British and French troops in any token force based in West Berlin.

Gov. Munoz' Idea Called 'Colonialist'

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic —(UPI)— Dominican Foreign Minister Porfirio Baez says recent statements on the Caribbean situation by Puerto Rican Gov. Luis Munoz Marin reflect "colonialist" ideas.

Commenting on observations by Munoz Marin in an interview in San Juan earlier this week with United Press International President Frank Bartholomew, Baez said that "the mentality of the Puerto Rican official is that of a colonial statesman and not that of a representative of a free country."

Baez added that Munoz Marin, in the latter role, would be supposed to "assume responsibility and not show spite for the inalienable rights of other sovereign states, as he has done, and always has done, under the comfortable shadow of the American flag."

In the interview with Bartholomew published Tuesday, Munoz Marin said the non-intervention policy of the Organization of American States should be modified to permit action in nations having dictatorships.

Munoz is a staunch supporter of Cuban Revolutionary Leader Fidel Castro, who is committed to support revolutionary efforts in a number of Caribbean countries, including the Dominican Republic, on grounds the leaders of those countries are dictators.

Warning to Khrushchev

Ike: Berlin Fight Means an A-War

—Associated Press Wirephoto

After Tough Talk, Ike Has Tender Pat for Heidi
. . . President's Weimaraner greets him at White House fence

We Won't Back Up, He States

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower confronted Premier Nikita Khrushchev Wednesday with the grim prospect that if he starts shooting over Berlin he will have a nuclear war on his hands.

At a news conference Eisenhower talked with unusual bluntness about the kind of conflict which could develop in a matter of months if the Berlin crisis is carried to the point of armed clash.

Eisenhower hit two points hard:

1—He said that "we" are not going to fight a ground war in Europe — where the Soviets have 23 divisions in East Germany and another 150 plus in supporting positions in Eastern Europe and Russia itself.

2—Nuclear war would be a terrible and costly form of warfare, he said, and under some circumstances might be even self-defeating.

He declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

However, inquiry among responsible officials after the news conference left no doubt that Eisenhower was trying to say that, as he sees it, any conflict over Berlin would necessarily lead quickly and directly to a global, nuclear clash between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said firmly the U.S. will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis

Eisenhower said he believes the American public is more soberly aware of dangers in the Berlin situation than a lot of people aroung Washington.

A reporter had asked the President if he feels that the people recognize the dangers in Khrushchev's demand for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

The country knows how serious the situation is or it wouldn't be voting all of the money that is being required for defense, Eisenhower promptly replied.

Eisenhower was asked if he thinks the Soviets should be given a plain warning that nuclear war might result if the Communists cut off access to West Berlin.

He replied that he doesn't know how you can free anything with nuclear weapons. He said that if there is any push in the direction of real hostilities over Berlin it is going to come from the side of the Soviets.

Eisenhower said he can't believe that anybody is going to make hostilities of this kind a reality.

In advance of the news conference Eiswnhower was depicted as determined to hold

Bahamians To Protest

NASSAU, Bahamas —(AP)— Progressive Liberal Party leaders left for London Wednesday to protest passage of a bill by the Bahamas Assembly which provides for four new house seats.

Party Leader Cyril Stevenson, who went with Lynden Pindling to London, said the measure provides for district boundary changes unacceptable to his followers.

The two will see the secretary of state for the colonies March 17. The Progressive Party had sought to have action on the bill delayed until after the interview with the secretary but the request was rejected by the majority United Bahamian Party.

In Miami Killing

Court Throws Out Sentence of Death

By JOHN BOYLES
Of Our Capital Bureau

TALLAHASSEE — The Supreme Court Wednesday threw out a Dade Circuit Court death sentence and ordered a new trial for Jesse Coolidge Pait who was charged with the fatal shooting of Adolf Rothman, Miami restaurant operator.

Jesse Pait
. . . new trial

The court, in a split opinion by justice Campbell Thornal, said closing arguments presented by State Attorney Richard Gerstein to the jury at Pait's trial were improper.

Pait was convicted of first degree murder, and the jury made no mercy recommendation. He shot and killed Rothman in the course of a robbery at the Herald Restaurant, 201 S. Miam Ave., Feb. 27, 1957.

Attorneys for Pait contended closing remarks by the prosecutor prejudiced the jury against recommending mercy.

The prosecutor told the jury the Circuit Court trial was the last day in court for the state, but Pait could go to higher authorities.

"The prosecutor never appeared to be in doubt," the high court said, "that he could obtain a conviction of first degree murder.

"The record here suggests that the objectionable arguments were tendered calmly and in a fashion calculated to forestall a mercy recommendation."

Thornal also objected to the prosecutor telling the jury he and his staff went over the case before the trial to determine whether they should ask for the maximum penalty.

"It is not appropriate to undertake to give the jury the benefit of the composite judgement of the State Attorney's staff allegedly reached on the basis of investigations taking place before the trial," the court said.

Chief Justice Glenn Terrell and Justice B. K. Roberts disagreed with the majority opinion. They said the improper remarks should not cause the high court to reverse the sentence. They called them "harmless error."

Roberts said the evidence supported the verdict.

Senate OKs Extended Draft Act by 90 to 1

Bill Now Goes Back To House

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate, with only one dissent, Wednesday approved a four-year extension of the draft act urgently requested by the Eisenhower administration.

The 90-1 vote came after the Armed Services Committee chairman, Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), called on the Senate to show the U.S. "means what it says when it says we must maintain the military strength of the U.S."

The Senate previously defeated one move to trim the extension to two years and another one which would have set up a military manpower commission to study the draft law and possible "alternatives."

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed an almost identical extension earlier. It can accept the Senate version or demand a conference to hammer out the differences.

The only senator voting against the four-year extension was Sen. William Langer (R., N.D.).

The Senate beat down by 67-24 an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) to limit the extension to two years. Morse conducted a pint-sized filibuster Tuesday night to an almost empty Senate chamber on the proposed extension.

He said the four-year extension will neither "safeguard American security" nor "frighten the Russians."

Defeated by a 68-24 vote was an amendment by Sen. Francis Case (R., S.D.) which would have set up the study commission.

In addition to continuing present machinery for drafting young men aged 18 through 26, the Senate bill continues the suspension of pre-Korean peacetime ceilings on the strength of the armed services; the payment of benefits to dependents of certain enlisted men, and the authority to draft physicians and dentists.

It also provides authority for the continued payment of extra pay, at the rate of $100 to $250 monthly, to newly-commissioned physicians and dentists and $100-a-month additional pay for veterinarians.

This is the amendment added by the Senate which required that the bill go back to the House instead of straight to the White House.

Red Carpet To Roll Out For Bankers

Some 60 Northern financiers arrive here today for a red-carpet tour which state and local officials hope will heighten their interest in buying some 25 million dollars worth of bonds to pay for Dade County road projects.

The group is due at Miami International Airport at 5 p.m. from Cape Canaveral, where the Yankee businessmen were taken for a brief tour after visiting St. Petersburg, which is also on the vergo of putting road bonds up for sale.

B. R. Fuller Jr., executive director of the Florida Development Commission, said the first-hand inspection by the potential bond-buyers "could result in savings of hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest costs" on the bond sale.

Dade County, backed by the Development Commission and the State Road Board, will put up for sale in April 25 million dollars worth of bonds. Most of the money will be used on the 36th St. Expressway project.

Fuller said he felt "this tour will generate among these investment people a real enthusiasm for Florida."

Both the St. Petersburg and Greater Miami areas, he said, "have so much to offer that we thought these bankers should see them first-hand."

The financiers, most of them from major banks and insurance companies in New York and Chicago, represent "virtually every major institution which buys or sells public securities," Fuller said.

They are being accompanied on the tour by Fuller, Development Commission Chairman Sam T. Dell Jr., Road Board Chairman Joe Grotegut, Road Board Member William Singer of Miami and Development Commission Member R. B. Gautier of Miami.

Berlin Fight Means Nuclear War--Ike

military spending to the 41 billion dollar level of his budget.

Some of the criticism of the spending plans has been based on the contention that not enough attention is given to the forces needed for limited — or non-nuclear — war which could involve big ground forces.

Eisenhower said the adequacy of free nation defenses is not going to be particularly strengthened by quick action such as that suggested by Democrats in Congress to maintain the Army at 900,000 men and the Marine Corps at 200,000.

The army is scheduled to be cut back to 870,000 men and the marines to 175,000 by June 30.

We're not going to fight a ground war in Europe, Eisenhower said. That being true, he asked what good it would do to send more divisions to the continent.

Noting that the Communists have 175 divisions, Eisenhower said why in the world would we dream of fighting a ground war with them.

Strength in heart and head are as important as strength in the military, the President went on.

At one point Eisenhower was asked if he feels the proposed size of U.S. ground forces is sufficient to cope with a "brush" war.

He answered that if a defense force of this size couldn't handle such a war it would have grown beyond the "brush" stage and military leaders would have to think in greater terms. He did not elaborate on this point.

Wednesday's session touched also on these matters:

KHRUSHCHEV — Eisenhower said that he doesn't think much of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that Russian and the Western allies station token military forces in West Berlin.

A one point, Eisenhower referred to Khrushchev's proposals as the premier's wisecracks or whatever he calls them. He said he (Eisenhower) could not be expected to react instantly to wisecracks.

JOB BENEFITS — The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

Eisenhower said he regards the problem of providing for the unemployed as a state responsibility, but that his mind is not closed to the possibility of adjustment.

SPENDING — Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he might be willing to spend more money for defense if more federal revenue was available.

With some show of irritation, Eisenhower went on to say he is tired of talk of having either a balanced budget or adequate national security. A balanced budget, he added, is a vital part of such security.

Suppose, Eisenhower theorized, defense spending should go up five, seven or 10 billion dollars. That means, he said, we would have a garrison state.

It was at that point that Eisenhower said somewhat heatedly that he doesn't see any of those calling for greater defense spending coupling it with a demand for higher taxes.

Jobless Total Up Slightly

Employment Rolls Increase, Too

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Unemployment edged up by 25,000 last month to a total of 4,749,000, the government reported Wednesday. It said the increase was so small as to be insignificant.

A report by the Labor and Commerce Departments showed employment also increased by 16,000 to 62,706,000 in February. The stability marked the usual pause between heavy winter cutbacks in jobs and the normal spring pickup.

The number of jobless workers was 724,000 lower than in February, 1958, the depth of the 1957-58 recession. There also were 734,000 more persons holding jobs than in February a year ago.

But even so unemployment last month was 1,500,000 higher than in February, 1957, before the recession began.

The report said that last month the seasonally adjusted percentage of the labor force without jobs held steady at six per cent for the third month in a row. Many economists regard this figure as a key statistic in the job picture.

In addition, the relatively small changes in February employment and unemployment fell within the range of normal statistical errors that might be made by the government in compiling its job estimates.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said the figures showed the unemployment situation was "growing worse" and is now a drag on economic recovery.

Meany said the nation cannot wait any longer for government action to relieve suffering of millions of unemployed citizens.

In this connection, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he believed any further extension of emergency jobless benefits should be handled by the states although he was willing to listen to arguments.

Congressional Democrats are pushing for an extension of the program to prevent several hundred thousand unemployed from running out of benefits when the temporary program ends March 30.

Rich Hubby Held in Plot To Kill Wife

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — A wealthy motel owner was arrested early Wednesday on a charge that he offered $5,000 to have his bedridden estranged wife killed.

Kris Albert, 46, of Beverly Hills, said by police to be "worth several hundred thousand dollars," was booked on suspicion of soliciting to commit murder, a felony. He denied the charge.

Police and sheriff's deputies working together said Albert offered the money to a friend, Michael Angulo of Agoura, Calif., 50 miles from here, to kill Mrs. Pearl Albert, 46, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Albert, an invalid suffering from multiple sclerosis, has a divorce action pending this month against Albert and could receive a sizable share of her husband's fortune, police said.

She lives with a housekeeper since the 1953 separation from her husband, who pays her $450 a month.

American Bankers' Ex-Leader Dies

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. —(AP)— Robert M. Hanes, 68, former president of the American Bankers Association died in a hospital here.

Hanes once turned down the presidency of Chase National Bank of New York to stay in his native state.

The retired president of Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., the Southeast's largest banking concern, gained prominence in a half dozen fields.

Hanes, one of eight children, all of whom distinguished themselves, stood out in the business world as a director of 12 different companies.

He served with the Economic Cooperation Administration in 1949-51, first as chief of the Belgium-Luxembourg mission, then as head of the Frankfurt mission, and finally as economic adviser to the high commissioner for Germany.

He was a graduate of the University of North Carolina and Harvard's Graduate School of Business Administration, and had served as both a senator and representative in the North Carolina General Assembly.

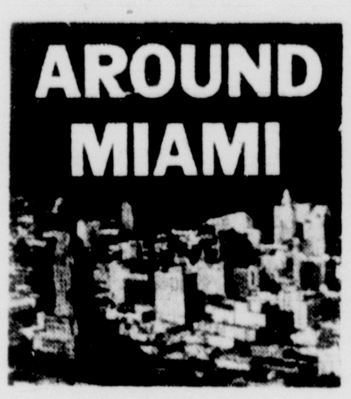
Pay-Slay Target Stands By Wife

Hugh Gurley turned up at city jail Wednesday to help his wife—who police said offered $1,000 to kill him.



Gurley said he had retained an attorney and would seek bond as charges are formally filed against his 41-year-old wife.

State Attorney Richard Gerstein, after talking to the policeman who posed as a "killer for hire," said he would file charges of attempted murder against Mrs. Gurley.

Hatchet Murder Suspect Seized

Francis William Schissler, missing suspect in a hatchet murder aboard a boat in the Miami River last Oct. 1, was seized by police in Victoria, Texas, Wednesday while working with a circus.

"I'm glad to get it over. I'm tired of running. Now I'll probably get a good night's sleep for a change," Schissler said after he was picked up by FBI agents, sheriff's deputies and a Texas Ranger.

Schissler, 30, whom police said had been using an alias, is wanted as a suspect in the murder of Anthony Weber, 46, whose hacked body was found aboard a boat in the Miami River which police said he shared with Schissler.

Miami Homicide Sgt. John DiLuccio said the State Attorney's office here has been asked to begin extradition proceedings against Schissler.

He Was Only Doing 'Favor'

An attorney for Sid White, 58-year-old Miami Beach talent agent convicted of possessing obscene movie films for showing at a police social function, asked the State Pardon Board Wednesday to grant White a full pardon.

Attorney Murray Goodman told the board the conviction had put White out of work. He said that even though the offense was a misdemeanor, White has been unable to obtain an employment agency license and that entertainers are barred by their union from dealing with White.

Associates who testified in behalf of White said his chief offense was that he couldn't say "no" to his friends and had obtained the obscene film at the request of friends.

Cash Brother's Plea Is Denied

John Virgil Cash, of Miami's notorious Cash Gang, was turned down by the Parole Commission Wednesday in his plea for clemency, although another man has confessed to the crime for which Cash is serving a 30-year sentence.

Parole Commissioner Raymond Marsh said he would oppose clemency for Cash is he made his recommendation to the Pardon Board later in the day. But he declined to say on just what grounds he will base his opposition.

Cash was convicted of shooting Miami Policeman Michael Daugherty during a payroll robbery in 1953. John Fulford, another member of the gang, has since confessed shooting the officer.

I KNOW a man who passed his civil service tests at the head of the class. He is slightly handicapped, and after much examination the civil service doctor turned him down.

BELL

"Why?" asked the applicant. "My handicap won't hinder me the slightest on this job."

"I know," the doctor admitted. "But the city is being sued for damages by one of its own attorneys because he fell off a city-owned chair. It could happen to you." So let's start falling off chairs????

Well, Bill Pallot didn't fall off a chair because he was handicapped. The chair tipped over backwards and he was thrown for quite a lot of yardage. It was an interesting case (Bill just lost it) because the money he was asking, as damages, wasn't coming from city funds. It was a pension fund, into which Bill had been paying along with other employes.

When Don Miller's letter came, inviting me to a live-model showing of lingerie, at 2:15 p.m. today, I figured the chairman of the board at Jordan Marsh had goofed.

But no: he meant it. They're really inviting men to the show. Of course there'll be women too. But I venture to predict the attendance of men will be 100 per cent of the invitation list.

"In this modern age of advertising and doing formerly tabooed things in a discreet manner, you of the male series will be interested in a live-model showing of ladies intimate apparel." I surely will.

National Summary

Snow is expected to spread into the central Appalachians and into New England Thursday while rain works into the Atlantic states accompanied by thunderstorms in the southeast. Clearing and cooler weather is anticipated in the mid Atlantic states and Carolinas, although showers are likely in Florida.

Snow flurries will be scattered from the Great Lakes region into the Appalachians and may reach as far south as Tennessee.

Snow flurries were noted through the Rockies, central and northern plains, and in the upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region Wesneday but cool dry weather extended over most of the west early in the day.

Some rain began to show up in the Pacific northwest in advance of another surge of moist air from the ocean.

Precipitation is forecast to spread inland, with snow in the mountains as far east as Idaho and Montana, while scattered snows advance across the northern Rockies to the Dakotas on Thursday.

Showery conditions will replace steady rains in Washington and Oregon and a few showers may cross the border into norther California.

For 13 Counties

Civil Defense Plans Outlined

By GREG TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE—Each county must regard itself as a potential island, surrounded by bands of radiation, if Civil Defense is to work, CD chiefs from 13 South Florida counties were told here Wednesday.

"Plans must be flexible. Radiation bands could separate areas of the state. This potential isolation means each county must be a self-sustaining operation, but still plan to work with other counties in the area," Col. H. W. Tarkington, state CD director, said.

But, he said, Civil Defense needs money if plans for area survival are to become a reality.

"We have a preliminary survival plan for the area. Our problem is to up-date it and implement it," said Tarkington.

Dade County Sheriff Tom Kelly estimated $5,000 is needed for this. He said about $3,000 has been committed in Dade. The other counties were asked to raise the rest.

Tarkington said he would figure county shares on a population basis. He told the CD representatives to ask for funds from their local governing bodies.

Besides helping raise money, the group was asked to assist in making the area plan operational, complete county defense plans, and to educate the public.

"Civil Defense is the greatest humanitarian effort ever to confront people anywhere, because we have entered the nuclear and space ages," Tarkington said.

"I don't believe anyone will intentionally set the world afire. But we may reach the point of frustration or bungling, that the button is pushed," he said.

On the statewide level, he said, approval has been given for a state microwave communication network. He said there are 33 emergency 200-bed hospitals.

But he said the goal is for an emergency hospital in each county and he wants a full-time CD coordinator in each of the state areas.

To assist in up-dating the area plan, county officials were asked to complete their local program by listing resources of materiel, machines, and men, and placing personnel in defense jobs.

The defense area includes Broward, Dade, Monroe, Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Collier, Lee, Charlotte, Hendry, Glades, and Highlands Counties. All were represented, except Glades, Highlands and Monroe.

The preliminary plan designates Dade and Palm Beach Counties as potential target areas, from which residents would flee. The other counties would receive and care for evacuees.

Broward has a duel role. It could be part of a target, depending on where bombs fell, so that the eastern part might evacuate to the west side of the county.

Howard Ross, of the Southern Regional CD office at Thomasville, Ga., said, "Your plans have been reviewed and they will work.

"The keynote here, and at meetings over the country, is putting these plans into practice," he said.

Prison Labor Use Attacked

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — A representative of the Associated General Contractors of Florida met with Penal Director Richard O. Culver Wednesday to protest the use of convict labor to build a new prison at Raiford.

The meeting was closed to newsmen.

Culver said afterwards there was no decision made at the meeting. He said only R. H. Muncie, executive secretary of the Jacksonville chapter of the contractors' group came to see him.

"We just had a lot of discussion," Culver said.

The state's tight financial situation last year forced the Cabinet to delay construction of the proposed facility at Raiford State Prison. But Culver came up with a plan to build the structure with convict labor.

The contractors, however, opposed it.

Before the financial pinch, $383,000 was spent of the seven million dollars the 1957 Legislature appropriated for the project.

Culver said prisoners have been at work putting in underground utilities and other initial stages of the construction. But the main part of the building will be held up until more money is forthcoming.

The Cabinet is presently trying to work out a plan to provide the funds.

Raiford Warden DeWitt Sinclair described the prison as a "powder keg," which threatened to go off anytime.

There are roughly 2,500 convicts in the institution which was built to hold 1,200. In some cases eight men are in a cell designed for two men.

Raiford is jammed with "young toughs," Sinclair said, and could be turned wrong-side out in 20 minutes.

Secrecy Ordered In Slaying

TAMPA —(AP)— Sheriff Ed Blackburn and police officials Wednesday clamped a lid of secrecy on their investigation of the Bennie Lazzara killing at Tampa.

"There's been too much in the papers on this case already," Pete Franks of the state attorney's office told newsmen.

Lazzara died from a shotgun blast as he stepped out of a car in the driveway of his home early Monday. The killer of the prosperous 51-year-old wholesale produce dealer escaped down an alley.

Up to Wednesday, investigators said they found no motive for the slaying of the highly respected businessman who had no known ties with Tampa's underworld element. Officers also said they had no leads to the gunman.

Blackburn and police officials met with Lazzara's widow at a bank Wednesday to check contents of a safety deposit box held in Lazzara's name.

Following the meeting, Blackburn asked others present to withhold from newsmen information learned in checking the deposit box. They agreed.

Lazzara's business associates said they planned to do some checking on their own.

He referred to the 19 unsolved gangland type killings in Tampa since 1931 and said, "we're going to see that the police stick to this one."

Cafeteria Man Fined For Taxes

TAMPA — (AP) — A federal judge Wednesday sentenced Lander Haige, one-time wealthy cafeteria owner of St. Petersburg, to a two-year prison term and $5,000 fine for income tax evasion. The prison sentence was suspended.

Haige was principal owner of the Tramor Cafeterias when he fled to Sweden in 1955, while awaiting trial on income tax evasion.

He returned to Florida three months ago and pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to the charges. The plea, while not an admission of guilt, subjects a defendant to the same sentence a guilty plea would bring.

After Haige went to Sweden, the government collected $10,257.54 from firms which posted bond for him.

A grand jury indicted Haige in March, 1954, on counts that he failed to pay his tax for 1947, 1948, and 1949.

February Was Warm And Wet

GAINESVILLE —(AP)— February was characterized by unusual warmth throughout the state, and abundant rainfall in western and northern counties, according to records compiled by Keith Butson, state climatologist with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station.

Temperatures averaged well above long-time averages in all sections except extreme western counties. In southern areas, the month ranked as one of the warmest in recent years.

Monthly temperatures ranged generally four to six degrees above normal. Butson says this was quite different from February 1958, when monthly averages were 9 to 10 degrees below long-time averages.

Rainfall displayed considerable variation from one section to another in monthly totals and distribution. Precipitation was generally abundant in western and northern regions, averaging one to two inches above normal. Most of the citrus area received about the same amount above normal.

Rains in the citrus belt were not so well distributed, with more than half the total coming during the last few days of the month.

Over the southern third of the peninsula, rainfall was markedly less than in other sections, ranging from average to about one inch less than normal.

Despite higher than average temperatures, incidence of cloudiness and fog was above the February average. Fog was particularly frequent in the interior during the first half of the month and served to aggravate plant disease development.

Abnormally warm weather promoted rapid growth and development of nearly all vegetable crops. By the end of the month, spring crops were reported to be well in advance of the normal schedule.

Central and southern pastures continued to flourish under the warm weather influence.

Citrus trees were beginning to come into bloom by the month's end, giving prospects for a fairly heavy bloom.

Citrus Board Wraps Up New Legislative Program

WINTER HAVEN —(UPI) — The Florida Citrus Commission approved Wednesday a long-considered legislative program, then approved "in principle" two money measures dealing with its own spending.

The 14-point legislative program, which the industry hopes the Legislature will pass this spring, was given the commission's final approval after passing from one legislative committee to another for several weeks.

The commission also approved in principle two other measures that were referred to its legislative committee for further study. Both were recommended by Robert W. Rutledge, general manager of Florida Citrus Mutual.

Rutledge proposed the state set up a $5,000 per year contingency fund to provide for entertainment of persons in a position to help the industry and to pay for their transportation through the citrus belt.

He also proposed that expense allowances for commission personnel be increased.

It also approved in principle, subject to ratification by mutual and the Florida Canners Association, a bill to make it mandatory for the commission to name four committees to designate quality standards. They would represent the fresh fruit, chilled juice, canned products and concentrate segments of the industry.

The legislative program includes these proposals:

EXTENSION of the advertising tax on oranges and grapefruit for four more years.

EMPOWERING the commission to set grade and size standards on oranges in intra-state shipments.

RAISING solids-to-acid ratio minimum standards on all oranges one-half point.

CHANGING the composition of the commission to seven pure growers and five grower-handlers, two of which would come from the fresh fruit segment and three from the concentrate industry.

GIVING the commission power to regulate all freeze damaged fruit for all uses.

EMPOWERING the commission to set quality standards for all processed products after a public hearing.

Woman Hurt In Boat Explosion

By BILL BECK
Delray Bureau Chief

BOYNTON BEACH — A 42-year-old Lake Worth woman was seriously inured Wednesday by an explosion on the charter boat, Bacardi, as it refueled at the Boynton Inlet dock before picking up a party of fishermen.

Mrs. Aleene Van Epp, wife of the boat owner, was hospitalized with second and third degree burns over 20 per cent of her body. Officials at Bethesda Memorial Hospital here reported her condition was fair.

Investigating officers believe a spark from a battery jumper cable being used by the woman to start one of the boat's engines, ignited gasoline vapors in the bilge, causing the explosion.

The force of the blast flattened Mrs. Van Epp and knocked the cabin down.

Her husband, Richard, and the mate, 18-year old Dave Himber, escaped without injury.

Ocean Ridge Police Chief Ken O'Rourke said the charter boat Papoose removed Himber and the Van Epps and pushed the burning boat into Lake Worth to prevent flames from spreading to the dock and other boats.

The gas tanks exploded as the Bacardi drifted across the lake. The 40-foot craft burned down to the water line by the time it reached the west bank of the lake, where Boynton Beach firemen were standing by.

The boat was valued at $35,000.

Appeal Affirmed

Lakeland — The 2nd District Court of Appeal Wednesday affirmed the appeal of Alfred F. Hederson vs Arthur E. Soderberg from Circuit Court of Palm Beach County.

Fort Myers To Sell Gas Plant

Herald Service

FORT MYERS — Sale of the city gas plant to an unidentified group of Miami investors appeared likely Wednesday, with Mayor George French expressing approval "in principle."

Stirman Self, retired Miami electrician, disclosed negotiations are underway between a group he represents and the city for the plant, built during the 1925 boom.

No price was disclosed. The plant has been running in the red in recent years. Mayor French commented that private investors would be in a position to make needed improvements.

Self and a group of Miami associates negotiated establishment of a dogtrack at Bonita Springs in 1957. They own the land and permit, but lease the operation to another group.

Tampan Indicates No Appeal

TAMPA —(AP)— Hugh Culbreath, wealthy former Hillsborough County Sheriff, received a $30,000 fine in Federal Court Wednesday for evading payment of $25,898 in income taxes.

District Judge William J. Barker could have sentenced the 61-year-old defendant to as much as 15 years in prison in addition to levying the fine.

Culbreath smiled broadly after hearing the sentence. He indicated he didn't plan to appeal.

A jury convicted him of three counts of income tax evasion Jan. 23 at the end of a trial which started Nov. 5. Each count carried a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

Culbreath was indicted on counts of tax evasion for the years 1946 through 1950. The conviction covered only three of the years.

U.S. District Attorney James L. Guilmartin, who prosecuted the lengthy case, expressed disappointment that the sentence failed to include a prison term.

Culbreath was a key figure during the senate Crime Investigations Committee hearings here in 1950. Sen. Estes Kefauver, who headed the committee, questioned him at length about outside income. Culbreath was sheriff at the time.

A witness at the trial testified that a bolita gambling syndicate paid the sheriff $1,200 a week during a period of 1946.

The government still has a civil suit pending against Culbreath and his wife, Daphne. Internal Revenue officials seek $271,943 from the Culbreaths which they say represents income taxes the couple failed to pay from 1941 through 1947.

Panama City Boy's Talk Wins Award

PANAMA CITY — (AP) — Spanish-born Roger Fernandez, a 17-year-old Tallahassee High School senior, won the Florida American Legion oratorical contest Wednesday.

Fernandez, a citizen of the U.S. less than three years, spoke on "The International Power of Our Constitution." He received a cash award of $150 and will represent the state in regional competition in North Carolina April 13.

Others in the finals were Shelly Clyatt, Lake Worth, and Rod Petrey, Bradenton.

Another entrant, John Rawls of Ponte Vedra, arrived too late to speak and was disqualified. A legion spokesman said the late arrival apparently resulted from a schedule mixup.

BB Guns Outlawed

Birds Live It Up Again

By ROSE ALLEGATO
Herald Staff Writer

PAHOKEE — The swallows have come back to Pahokee. The city outlawed BB guns, and the birds, residents say, are getting a rest. They were easy targets for BB-toting sharpshooters, most of them youngsters.

Now with local immunity, they loaf on the lakeside. Follow the sign that invites you to "See Beautiful Lake Okeechobee" and you find yourself on the levee looking at Florida's 'inland ocean' — and birds, birds, birds.

The birds line up on the guy wires like a platoon falling in for roll call. They stir in an about-face once in a while. Otherwise, they laze under the sun.

The reprieve from the BB gun has made them downright listless.

The bird not too lazy to go after the worm is the heron. While the chimney sweeps and swallows squat on the guy wires, the heron flaps his white wings in low reconnaissance flights. He disappears, swooping back into view seconds later with a meal dangling from his beak.

Bill Moss, a local resident, says there's one bird that hasn't been back this year. But you can't blame the BB gun.

The ibis—which sounds like a blackbird but isn't — is a rarity. It has been seen occasionally in Pahokee, but not since last year's freeze.

But the swallows are back, and so are other fine-feathered friends, all soaking up the Florida sun, lazily, like vacationing tourists.

And not a BB gun to stir them to flight.

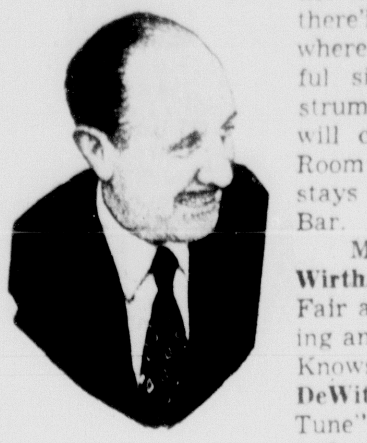
Palm Beach Importing Broadway's 'Third Best Sport' with Cast



HARRY MUFSON closed his Eden Roc Cafe Pompeii after the Sammy Davis Jr., farewell Wednesday and will keep it dark until the March 18 opening of Maurice Chevalier. No acts of sufficient caliber are available for the interim period, he says. But there'll be no dull moments elsewhere in the hotel. The wonderful singing and performing instrumentalists, the Giovannis, will continue in the Mona Lisa Room and Duke Jenkins' group stays on at Harry's American Bar.

Miami's beauty, Sandra Wirth, now on NBC's County Fair as a regular, will do a dancing and dramatic stint on "Father Knows Best" March 16 . . . George DeWitt, emcee of "Name That Tune" will do a three-night weekend at the Havana Capri Casino

Frank Hale is bringing the entire Broadway production and cast of "Third Best Sport" down to the Palm Beach Royal Poinciana Playhouse for a March 16 opening. Plot concerns the happenings on a convention — in Palm Beach. Celeste Holm tops the cast.

True What They Say About Dixie?

PLACE PIGALLE'S reputed look-alike for Marilyn Monroe, Dixie Evans, wants to sound like her too—she has a new recording of Marilyn's singing from "Some Like It Hot" to use in the act . . . Local favorite Sammy Shore became Newport, Ky.'s favorite, with a stand at the Beverly Hills. Reviewers called him a "sleeper" hit . . . Robert Clary returns to the Diplomat Cafe Cristal, which he just left, on April 24 . . .

Such fancy talk from a cemedian! Club Morocco's comic Bobby Barton, who was a horse trainer once, says that the line from "Macbeth" which goes "Tomorrow creeps in this petty pace from day to day" applied to one of his chargers named — "Tomorrow."

Cast of Holiday on Ice, which opens its Miami Beach stand at the exhibition hall on March 30, will also be busy between shows — posing for color and press stills for next year's edition. Costumes will be flown in from Omaha for the stunt.

Process Uses No Coaxial Cable

CHAP NAMED John Hays Hammond, Jr., has taken out a patent for a sort or slow-freight transmission of TV which eliminates the need for costly coaxial cable. It calls for slower transmission, however. A one-hour program would take two hours to transmit and record . . . Joe's Stone Crabs still appears to be the First Stop station of those who know Miami best — Phil Silvers, with the Bernie Franks, did it the first night in town . . . Ditto Milton Berle and Ruth.

Probably one of the main reasons — aside from the considerable loot — that Betty Kean and Lew Parker took their current job on the Frank Sinatra bill at the Fontainebleau was so they could spend their anniversary at the scene of their marriage. Paul and Jerri Pollak supervised the splicing at the Thunderbird two years ago . . .Four Thunderbirds and a Corvette parked outside the T-Bird last Saturday. Of course, there were Cadillacs too.

Bob London and Brad Sherman clicking nicely as Masters of the Midnight Mike at Mammy's, with Joe Rubin at the door rating an assist for spotting celebs in the audience. Joe is brother of actor Benny Rubin . . . Hal Fisher, the comedian, apparently anxious to influence a movie producer who has a possible part for him, took him to dinner at Famous Restaurant, where he eyed the extensive entre list on the Famous menu (over 30 items), and commented: "That's some lengthy credit list."

Cast of Havana Mardi Gras revue at the Lucerne had better start pricing tuxedoes to comply with that ad: "Have tux, will travel." Oscar Markowich is getting tempting offers to send it "on the road."

Bring Your Own Shovel

DICK OSBORNE sent out individual miniature shovels for the "ground-breaking" of Central Shopping Plaza . . . Arthur Bruns plans to close membership to his Carriage Club at Miami Springs Villas when it reaches 1,000. Little more than 100 to go . . . The National Airline Ted Bakers flying "Luau" for some Polynesian cuisine.

Abe Lastfogel and George Wood, the flesh (show talent) peddlers, at the Fontainebleau . . . Violinist Michael Rabin fiddling at Monte Carlo Roulette Room on his night off from concertizing . . . Libby Jones, Clover Club headliner, appeared in "The Man with the Golden Arm," one of Frank Sinatra's top movie chores.

The wedding of jazz music and the Gala Lounge didn't last very long. Spot reverts to the flesh-pot stuff (girls!) on the 20th — as Club 23. Club 23-Skidoo might be more distinctive. Al Glick has been appointed public relations director for the Miami Showman's Club . . . "My Fair Lady" will be three years old on Sunday and already has earned over $10,000,000. It's playing in London, Stockholm, Australia, Mexico, and twice here in the USA, of course. "My FAIR Lady"? She's great . . . Fontainebleau show was delayed 15 minutes recently while Frank Sinatra finished dinner in the Fleur de Lis Room with a lady who looked exactly like Lady Beattie.

Ford Foundation Backs Eight Plays

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Ford Foundation announced Tuesday that plays of eight American playwrights will be produced next fall at foundation expense.

The grant program for playwrights, totaling $110,000, is the last in a series of grants to creative artists. Recently the programs have aided poets, writers, painters, sculptors, theater directors and musical artists.

The works of the eight playwrights will be staged at professional, community and university theaters.

The playwrights, their plays, and the theaters that will produce them are:

KENNETH CAMERON, New York, "The Physician for Fools," Margot Jones Theater, Dallas, Tex.

JOSH GREENFELD, New York, "Clandestine on the Morning Line," Arena Stage, Washington, D. C.

JOHN B. HARDING, Malibu, Calif., "Kinderspiel," Boston University Theater, Boston.

SIDNEY MICHAELS, Los Angeles, "The Plaster Bambino," Actor's workshop, San Francisco.

PHILLIP PRUNEAU, New York, "The Morgan Rock," Omaha Community Theater, Omaha, Neb.

MRS. SEYRIL SCHOCHEN, Ithaca, N.Y., "The Moon Besieged," Stanford University Theater, Palo Alto, Calif.

JOHN VLAHOS, Westport, Conn., "The Golden age of Pericles Pappas," Tulsa Community Theater, Tulsa, Okla.

LIONEL WIGGAM, New York, "Inside Emily Payne," Erie Playhouse, Erie, Pa.

German Actor Maximilian Schell gets a fond embrace from his sister, award-winning Actress Maria Schell, in New York. Maximilian dropped in to wish Maria good luck before leaving for Europe and his next acting assignment. Maria will star in a two-part television version of Ernest Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls," the first part to be presented tonight.

Turned Out To Be Train

BURLINGAME, Calif. — —(UPI)— Howard Schyrver of Burlingame made a left turn onto a bumpy road and was horrified to see a big motorcycle headlight coming directly at him.

When the motorcycle didn't turn off, Schryver stopped his new station wagon and jumped out just before a collision demolished the automobile.

The police took Schryver off to jail on a drunk charge.

Seems that what he thought was a bumpy road was a railroad track—and the "motorcycle" was the Southern Pacific mail train.

Burned Out Family Aided by Community

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. —(AP)— A new home is waiting for Mr. and Mrs. Tony Genna and their nine children, who lost their old one and all their possessions in a fire a week ago.

By an ironic quirk, the new home became available through another tragedy. It used to be the residence of Daniel Mahoney, a widower. But Mahoney was killed by an automobile Christmas Eve while crossing a street to deliver gifts. The house has been vacant since then.

When the Gennas were burned out, the community went to work to give the family a new start. The Rotary Club took upon itself the job of finding a home. Kiwanians agreed to provide furniture. Jaycees—the Junior Chamber of Commerce—agreed to provide appliances.

Meanwhile a Community Fund drive has raised more than $4,500 for the family.

Rotary announced arrangements have been made for Genna, a mail order house salesman, to purchase an eight-room home in Newburyport's south end. George A. Cashman, speaking for the club, said mortgage payments will be tailored to Genna's ability to pay.

Nasser Berates Commies

Blames Them For Iraq Revolt

DAMASCUS, Syria —(UPI) — United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser charged Wednesday that the Communists, seeking to split the Arab world, were to blame for the crisis that touched off the Iraqi revolt.

Nasser, addressing crowds of wildly cheering demonstrators, lashed back at Iraqi leaders for their attacks on his regime and served notice that local Reds would not succeed in dragging the U.A.R. into the Communist camp.

Speaking out for the first time since the short lived Mosul revolt, Nasser delivered his first direct assault on Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who appeared to have won his fight to crush the insurgents in northern Iraq.

Diplomats interpreted Nasser's speech as a calculated risk that Russia might take public offense and halt the arms and economic aid it has given Cairo since 1954.

While Nasser spoke, the Communist Party newspaper in Baghdad, Ittihad al Shaab, said the last rebel holdouts had surrendered in the northern Iraqi oil city of Mosul Tuesday night.

The Baghdad newspaper charged, however, that the U.A.R. was still massing dissident tribesmen and "Syrian nationalists" across the Iraqi border.

Nasser, speaking from a balcony overlooking El Jiwa Square, charged that Kassem and the Communists were attempting to sabotage Arab unity. He accused them of "organizing demonstrations" and "uttering slander" against the U.A.R.

But he declared that these tactics would not make the United Arab Republic "surrender our mission" of uniting the Arab world.

Nasser's speech followed Baghdad press and radio charges making it plain that the Kassem regime blames the U.A.R. for supporting the Sunday uprising in oil-rich north Iraq. The Iraqis said the mutiny was crushed and its leader, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, dead.

The U.A.R. chief told 2,000 Syrian student demonstrators that "those Communists demonstrating in Baghdad against your republic are foreign agents and used to get orders from outside our homeland. That's why we fought."

The students in Damascus had demonstrated Wednesday morning, angrily denouncing the "insults" transmitted against the U.A.R. by Iraq's radio during the last two days. The crowds in the streets chanted, "Kassem, traitor."

Nasser blasted Kassem 24 hours after Iraq expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats, apparently on the grounds that Iraq suspected the Cario regime of fometing the revolt.

Cairo reports said that at least 60 rebels, including some civilians, had been executed summarily after the Mosul uprising, and that Iraqi firing squads were still at work. There were indications that rebel elements were fleeing eastward toward Syria to seek asylum.

Fight Over Berlin Means A Nuclear War, Ike Warns

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower confronted Premier Nikita Khrushchev Wednesday with the grim prospect that if he starts shooting over Berlin he will have a nuclear war on his hands.

At a news conference Eisenhower talked with unusual bluntness about the kind of conflict which could develop in a matter of months if the Berlin crisis is carried to the point of armed clash.

Eisenhower hit two points hard:

1—He said that "we" are not going to fight a ground war in Europe — where the Soviets have 23 divisions in East Germany and another 150 plus in supporting positions in Eastern Europe and Russia itself.

2—Nuclear war would be a terrible and costly form of warfare, he said, and under some circumstances might be even self-defeating.

He declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

However, inquiry among responsible officials after the news conference left no doubt that Eisenhower was trying to say that, as he sees it, any conflict over Berlin would necessarily lead quickly and directly to a global, nuclear clash between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said firmly the U.S. will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis

Eisenhower said he believes the American public is more soberly aware of dangers in the Berlin situation than a lot of people aroung Washington.

A reporter had asked the President if he feels that the people recognize the dangers in Khrushchev's demand for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

The country knows how serious the situation is or it wouldn't be voting all of the money that is being required for defense, Eisenhower promptly replied.

Eisenhower was asked if he thinks the Soviets should be given a plain warning that nuclear war might result if the Communists cut off access to West Berlin.

He replied that he doesn't know how you can free anything with nuclear weapons. He said that if there is any push in the direction of real hostilities over Berlin it is going to come from the side of the Soviets.

Eisenhower said he can't believe that anybody is going to make hostilities of this kind a reality.

In advance of the news conference Eiswnhower was de-

If It Becomes 'Free'

Reds Pledge Access Into West Berlin

BERLIN —(AP)— The Soviet Union and Communist East Germany Wednesday night pledged that they would guarantee free access to West Berlin if it became a free city.

The pledge was contained in a communique issued by the Communist East German government as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up his visit to East Germany.

The communique said:

"The government of the German Democratic Republic once again emphasized its readiness to guarantee the unhindered connection of the free city of West Berlin with the outside world, in both the eastern and western directions."

At the same time, the comguaranteed by the Big Four powers and by the U.N. munique said, West Berlin's status as a free city could be

The communique did not spell out what form the guarantees would take.

(In Washington, a spokesman said the State Department had no comment on the Soviet-East German declaration. Privately officials said there was nothing new in the offer to guarantee access to West Berlin once it became a free city. The offer is based on the completely unacceptable condition that the Western Allies would give up their rights in Berlin, these officials said.)

In an East Berlin speech two days ago, Khrushchev mentioned that a minimum of troops from the Soviet Union, France, Britain and the U.S. could be stationed in West Berlin. Or, he said, the troops could come from neutral countries, meaning presumably from the U.N.

Then Khrushchev emphasized Tuesday that the Russians would have to serve alongside U.S., British and French troops in any token force based in West Berlin.

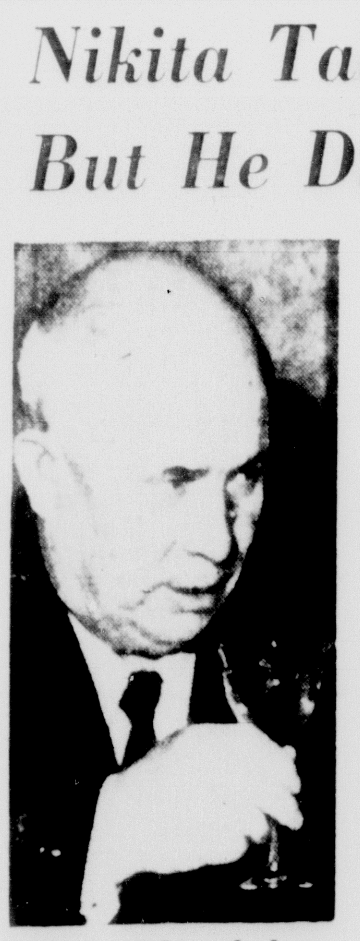
Mr. K. Laps It Up in Berlin

Nikita Talks 'Dry' But He Drinks 'Wet'



Nikita Khrushchev
. . . huggin' and gulpin'

BERLIN —(UPI)— Nikita Khrushchev, who has advised Soviet workers to cut down their drinking, was slugging brandies at a rate of one every 15 minutes here.

Between gulps, the Soviet premier would devour one or two small, spicy sausages, then push on through the crowd to shake some more hands, and hug a few more women. The younger the women, the tighter Nikita squeezed.

The scene was a reception for 900 prominent Communists, German and foreign, at the sprawling Soviet embassy building on Unter Den Linden.

Khrushchev wore a simple black single-breasted suit, bedecked with "Workers Hero" medals. He spent three hours at the reception.

High Winds Hit Alabama Area

CAMDEN, Ala. —(AP)— High winds during a thunderstorm and possibly a small twister knocked down several farm buildings and unfoofed a house in the Oakhill community Wednesday.

The Highway Patrol said there were no reports of any one injured. The rural community is 14 miles southeast of Camden.

A car was blown off the highway, the patrol said, but cut back on the road and continued on its way.

Anglers Urge New N. Bridge

Action Awaits Singer Meeting

By ANNE WILDER
Herald Correspondent

FORT PIERCE — A new North Bridge was urged Wednesday by members of the Fort Pierce Anglers Club.

The Atlantic Shores Association had previously asked the St. Lucie County Commission to ban fishing from the present narrow wooden bridge, for the safety of both fishermen and motorists.

The Anglers Club president, J. H. Cooper, wrote the commission that club members felt that banning or not banning fishing would not solve the problem. The club noted the importance of a new bridge with walkways which would solve all problems.

The St. Lucie County Commission's tentative request for state road work puts a new North Bridge in second place. Commissioners said they want to hold up action on the bridge fishing situation until they have met with William Singer, road board member, on March 23 and learned about prospects for a new bridge.

The county commission, in other action, reaffirmed its decision to consider all bulkhead line requests individually, until an overall bulkhead line for the entire county can be drawn up.

Bahamians To Protest

NASSAU, Bahamas — (AP) — Progressive Liberal Party leaders left for London Wednesday to protest passage of a bill by the Bahamas Assembly which provides for four new house seats.

Party Leader Cyril Stevenson, who went with Lynden Pindling to London, said the measure provides for district boundary changes unacceptable to his followers.

The two will see the secretary of state for the colonies March 17. The Progressive Party had sought to have action on the bill delayed until after the interview with the secretary but the request was rejected by the majority United Bahamian Party.

Aviation Agency's Gag Investigated

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The Congressional Watchdog Committee on Governmental Secrecy is investigating suppression by the Federal Aviation Agency of information sought in connection with the Feb. 3 crash of an American Airlines' Electra.

This was revealed Wednesday in a letter from Rep. John Moss (D., Calif.), chairman of the House government information subcommittee, to E. R. Quesada, head of the FAA.

MOSS

Moss in his letter referred to stories in The Miami Herald disclosing that the FAA has suppressed reports on difficulties encountered with a new type altitude measuring instrument installed in Lockheed Electras and Boeing 707 jets.

Moss asked Quesada to spell out the FAA's legal authority, if any, "for restricting access to the reports."

He disclosed that committee investigators have made a preliminary check, but did not discuss their findings.

The Herald reported last month that the FAA received complaints on the new altimeter from pilots prior to the American crash.

The new turbo-prop airliner, which fell into New York's East River while attempting to land at LaGuardia Airport, had the new altimeter. Sixty-five persons were killed in the crash.

The surviving flight engineer said after the crash that "there might have been a mix-up with those new altimeters. ". . . There was some difficulty reading them."

Some pilots complained to the FAA about a "sticking needle" in the altimeter.

After first imposing stiffer landing restrictions on the Electras, the FAA announced the air carriers could resume normal operations with the planes if the new altimeters were replaced with a type now widely in use.

The FAA on several occasions refused to disclose the nature or number of complaints.

Officials also refused to comment on why the FAA did not act on reports of operating difficulties with the new altimeter before the accident.

Gen. Marshall Flown to D.C.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Gen. George C. Marshall, who has been seriously ill in the Army Hospital at Fort Bragg, N.C., was flown Wednesday to the Walter Reed Army Medical Center here.

At the Walter Reed Hospital, he "will have available the finest of specialized medical care," the Army said.

Isles Take Stride to Statehood

House Question: 50 Or Not 50?

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate voted Wednesday night to make Hawaii the 50th state, giving its approval by a vote of 76 to 15.

This long step toward statehood for the islands in the Pacific came after only a single day of debate.

That debate was punctuated by charges that with Hawaii a state, the 50th star in the flag would be tinged with red.

The House set the stage for action today on an almost identical bill. It voted 337-69 formally bringing a statehood bill up for House debate.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee said he would propose amendments to his own house bill to make it conform exactly to the Senate version.

The final House vote would thus send the measure directly to the White House and avoid House-Senate conferences.

The first House test, coming while the Senate was debating the statehood issue, brought the Hawaii bill formally before the House for debate and amendments.

Voting for the resolution were 214 Democrats and 123 Republicans. Forty-eight Democrats, most of them Southerners, and 21 Republicans voted against taking up the bill.

In a Word--

One of the many false impressions most Americans have about Hawaii is that its most famous word, "alohs," mearns goodby or farewell.

Aloha also means hello, Hawaiians explain. In some of the islands, aloha also means good morning, good evening, and I love you.

Senate OKs Extended Draft Act by 90 to 1

Bill Now Goes Back To House

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate, with only one dissent, Wednesday approved a four-year extension of the draft act urgently requested by the Eisenhower administration.

The 90-1 vote came after the Armed Services Committee chairman, Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), called on the Senate to show the U.S. "means what it says when it says we must maintain the military strength of the U.S."

The Senate previously defeated one move to trim the extension to two years and another one which would have set up a military manpower commission to study the draft law and possible "alternatives."

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed an almost identical extension earlier. It can accept the Senate version or demand a conference to hammer out the differences.

The only senator voting against the four-year extension was Sen. William Langer (R., N.D.).

The Senate beat down by 67-24 an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) to limit the extension to two years. Morse conducted a pint-sized filibuster Tuesday night to an almost empty Senate chamber on the proposed extension.

He said the four-year extension will neither "safeguard American security" nor "frighten the Russians."

Defeated by a 68-24 vote was an amendment by Sen. Francis Case (R., S.D.) which would have set up the study commission.

In addition to continuing present machinery for drafting young men aged 18 through 26, the Senate bill continues the suspension of pre-Korean peacetime ceilings on the strength of the armed services; the payment of benefits to dependents of certain enlisted men, and the authority to draft physicians and dentists.

It also provides authority for the continued payment of extra pay, at the rate of $100 to $250 monthly, to newly-commissioned physicians and dentists and $100-a-month additional pay for veterinarians.

This is the amendment added by the Senate which required that the bill go back to the House instead of straight to the White House.

We Won't Back Up, He Says

Ike Warns Nikita: Berlin Fight Means Nuclear War

picted as determined to hold military spending to the 41 billion dollar level of his budget.

Some of the criticism of the spending plans has been based on the contention that not enough attention is given to the forces needed for limited — or non-nuclear — war which could involve big ground forces.

Eisenhower said the adequacy of free nation defenses is not going to be particularly strengthened by quick action such as that suggested by Democrats in Congress to maintain the Army at 900,000 men and the Marine Corps at 200,000.

The army is scheduled to be cut back to 870,000 men and the marines to 175,000 by June 30.

We're not going to fight a ground war in Europe, Eisenhower said. That being true, he asked what good it would do to send more divisions to the continent.

Noting that the Communists have 175 divisions, Eisenhower said why in the world would we dream of fighting a ground war with them.

Strength in heart and head are as important as strength in the military, the President went on.

At one point Eisenhower was asked if he feels the proposed size of U.S. ground forces is sufficient to cope with a "brush" war.

He answered that if a defense force of this size couldn't handle such a war it would have grown beyond the "brush" stage and military leaders would have to think in greater terms. He did not elaborate on this point.

Wednesday's session touched also on these matters:

KHRUSHCHEV — Eisenhower said that he doesn't think much of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that Russian and the Western allies station token military forces in West Berlin.

A one point, Eisenhower referred to Khrushchev's proposals as the premier's wisecracks or whatever he calls them. He said he (Eisenhower) could not be expected to react instantly to wisecracks.

JOB BENEFITS — The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

Eisenhower said he regards the problem of providing for the unemployed as a state responsibility, but that his mind is not closed to the possibility of adjustment.

SPENDING — Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he might be willing to spend more money for defense if more federal revenue was available.

With some show of irritation, Eisenhower went on to say he is tired of talk of having either a balanced budget or adequate national security. A balanced budget, he added, is a vital part of such security.

Suppose, Eisenhower theorized, defense spending should go up five, seven or 10 billion dollars. That means, he said, we would have a garrison state.

It was at that point that Eisenhower said somewhat heatedly that he doesn't see any of those calling for greater defense spending coupling it with a demand for higher taxes.

Jobless Total Up Slightly

Employment Rolls Increase, Too

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Unemployment edged up by 25,000 last month to a total of 4,749,000, the government reported Wednesday. It said the increase was so small as to be insignificant.

A report by the Labor and Commerce Departments showed employment also increased by 16,000 to 62,706,000 in February. The stability marked the usual pause between heavy winter cutbacks in jobs and the normal spring pickup.

The number of jobless workers was 724,000 lower than in February, 1958, the depth of the 1957-58 recession. There also were 734,000 more persons holding jobs than in February a year ago.

But even so unemployment last month was 1,500,000 higher than in February, 1957, before the recession began.

The report said that last month the seasonally adjusted percentage of the labor force without jobs held steady at six per cent for the third month in a row. Many economists regard this figure as a key statistic in the job picture.

In addition, the relatively small changes in February employment and unemployment fell within the range of normal statistical errors that might be made by the government in compiling its job estimates.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said the figures showed the unemployment situation was "growing worse" and is now a drag on economic recovery.

Meany said the nation cannot wait any longer for government action to relieve suffering of millions of unemployed citizens.

In this connection, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he believed any further extension of emergency jobless benefits should be handled by the states although he was willing to listen to arguments.

Congressional Democrats are pushing for an extension of the program to prevent several hundred thousand unemployed from running out of benefits when the temporary program ends March 30.

Moon Makes 'Pass'

It's No Missile, It's Just Venus

A spectacular passing of the planet Venus by the moon in clear skies over south Florida Wednesday night triggered hundreds of telephone calls to weather bureau and newspaper switchboards.

Some space-age callers asked if the shining star seen almost directly over the moon's thin crescent was a space missile launched without notice. But most, said Weather Bureau Forecaster leonard Pardue, had no idea at all what the display could mean...

Pardue said the phenomenon was "a conjunction—really not a rarity — in which the two heavenly bodies pass some millions of miles apart."

The weather man said that usually the apparent meeting of the two heavenly bodies is not noticed because it occurs in daylight or afternoon-set.

Wednesday night's display because visible about 6:30 p.m. and lasted until moonset at 8:34 p.m.

Pardue said he once saw an even more spectacular "conjunction" in which Venus appeared to travel a path htat took it directly behind the moon's bulk — where the star became temporarily ivisible.

No ring or halo was cast around the moon while the planet was obscured behind it, Pardue said. He added this is considered evidence that the moon has no atmosphere in which a halo effect can be produced.

Pardue said these conjunctions occur several times a year. How close?

The moon is a quarter-million miles from the earth and Venus is more than 20 million miles distant, he said.

Wednesday's night's pectacle should have been visible everywhere that darkness prevailed, said Pardue.

60 Arrive Today

Bankers to Get Red Carpet Tour

Some 60 Northern financiers arrive here today for a red-carpet tour which state and local officials hope will heighten their interest in buying some 25 million dollars worth of bonds to pay for Dade County road projects.

The group is due at Miami International Airport at 5 p.m. from Cape Canaveral, where the Yankee businessmen were taken for a brief tour after visiting St. Petersburg, which is also on the verge of putting road bonds up for sale.

B. R. Fuller Jr., executive director of the Florida Development Commission, said the first-hand inspection by the potential bond-buyers "could result in savings of hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest costs" on the bond sale.

Dade County, backed by the Development Commission and the State Road Board, will put up for sale in April 25 million dollars worth of bonds. Most of the money will be used on the 36th St. Expressway project.

Fuller said he felt "this tour will generate among these investment people a real enthusiasm for Florida."

Both the St. Petersburg and Greater Miami areas, he said, "have so much to offer that we thought these bankers should see them first-hand."

The financiers, most of them from major banks and insurance companies in New York and Chicago, represent "virtually every major institution which buys or sells public securities," Fuller said.

They are being accompanied on the tour by Fuller, Development Commission Chairman Sam T. Dell Jr., Road Board Chairman Joe Grotegut, Road Board Member William Singer of Miami and Development Commission Member R. B. Gautier of Miami.

The group arrived at St. Petersburg Tuesday night and spent Wednesday being briefed by Pinellas County officials on a 16.8 million dollar bond issue to finance the Pinellas Bayway. The group was to fly to Cape Canaveral today after a tour of St. Petersburg.

The bankers will look over airport facilities after arriving here, then go by limousine to the Fontainebleau Hotel for a reception and dinner.

The group will be briefed on the 36th St. project on Friday by Singer and other road engineers and officials. On Saturday engineers will take the bond-buyers on an inspection trip.

The visit will end at a luncheon Saturday with an address by McGregor Smith, board chairman of Florida Power and Light Co., and a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Industry.

Rules Committee, argued in vain that Harry Bridges and his aides "control the life blood of Hawaii."

Bridges is head of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union which, although expelled from the CIO for left-wing tendencies, is strongly organized on the Hawaii waterfront and in the sugar and pineapple industries.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee, said a personal investigation in Hawaii last December convinced him that residents of the islands are more alert to the dangers of communism than people are anywhere else in the country.

"I do not believe that Communists have a strangle hold on the islands or that they would send four Soviet agents to Congress," O'Brien asserted.

O'Brien was replying directly to a protest by Rep. John R. Pillion (R., N.Y.), who charged that Communists "influence Hawaiian life to an alarming degree" through Bridges' union and others.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R., Calif.) said it may be true that Hawaii has a Communist problem. But so does California, he said, and so does the U.S. as a whole.

And Sen. Russell B. Long (D., La.) said Hawaii has fought the Communists to the point that its Subversive Activities Control Board estimated recently there were only 15 "hard-shelled Communists" left there.

Holland's For It, Smathers Against

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The 76-15 roll-call vote by which the Senate Wednesday night passed a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii included:

Democrats for:

Ervin of N.C., Holland of Fla., Johnson of Tex., Jordan of N.C., Kefauver of Tenn., Long of La., Yarborough of Tex.

Republicans for:

Cooper of Ky., Morton of Ky.

Democrats against:

Byrd of Va., Eastland of Miss., Ellender of La., Fulbright of Ark., Hill of Ala., McClellan of Ark., Robertson of Va., Russell of Ga., Smathers of Fla., Sparkman of Ala., Stennis of Miss., Talmadge of Ga.

Not voting or paired, but announced as for passage: Gore (D., Tenn).

Voting for Hawaiian statehood were 30 Republicans and 46 Democrats. One Republican, Sen. John Marshall Butler (R., Md.), joined 14 Southern Democrats in voting against it.

"Why?" asked the applicant. "My handicap won't hinder me the slightest on this job."

"I know," the doctor admitted. "But the city is being sued for damages by one of its own attorneys because he fell off a city-owned chair. It could happen to you." So let's start falling off chairs????

Well, Bill Pallot didn't fall off a chair because he was handicapped. The chair tipped over backwards and he was thrown for quite a lot of yardage. It was an interesting case (Bill just lost it) because the money he was asking, as damages, wasn't coming from city funds. It was a pension fund, into which Bill had been paying along with other employes.

Survey Shows Need for 5,000 New Homes

Demand Seen in 2 Years

Under $10,000 Houses Sought

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — A county-wide housing survey shows that Brevard County will need at least 5,000 more homes within the next two years, it was reported Wednesday.

This check on present and future housing needs was conducted by a committee appointed by the Federal Housing Authority and the Brevard County Home Builders Association. The group looked at both military and civilian home needs.

"There seems to be a big demand in this county for homes in the $10,000 class and under," committee Chairman Richard B. Muldrew of Melbourne said the survey revealed.

He said there is a definite need for more homes for persons directly connected with the Air Force Missile Test Center as well as those working for civilian concerns. Low-cost homes will continue to be needed for some time, the survey showed.

"In addition to permanent housing," Muldrew said, "there is and will continue to be an urgent need for more rental units. There are many people at the base who are here for short periods and would rather rent living quarters than purchase houses."

Muldrew said the committee contacted "persons in every corner of the county," and the survey data will be used in connection with a big housing bill which currently is going through Congress.

Hardy Sullivan of Tampa, FHA director, also said his office will use the information in making plans for the future.

The survey is expected to help in obtaining more FHA commitments in this area, where mortgage people claim missile base workers now are having a difficult time purchasing homes under the federal program.

2 Officials Will Be Sworn In

Herald Bureau

COCOA BEACH — Tom O'Connor and Fred Spencer—winners of Tuesday's city commission election—will be sworn into their new posts Friday.

O'Connor, an incumbent, piled up 237 votes Tuesday. Spencer got 218.

Two other announced candidates, Clifford Heaney and Joseph Luley, got 86 and 70 votes.

Two write-in candidates who entered the race at the last minute did better. Jim Clements amassed 123 votes and Harry Offenhauser got 103.

Marlin Brubaker, another write-in candidate, got 47. Brubaker, Clements and Offenhauser entered the race last week when the city commission extended voting rights to newly annexed areas by changing voting regulations so any resident of 30 days could vote.

A record 485 votes were cast in the election for which 691 were registered.

COCOA — Graveside services will be at 10 a.m. today in Brevard Memorial Park for Mrs. Mary E. Mackey, 47, who died Sunday.

Mrs. Mackey, of 15 Fished Blvd., was a five-year resident of Cocoa and a native of Port Henry, N.Y.

Her survivors include her husband, Seymour; a son, John; a daughter, Emily; and a sister.

New-Style Sub

Floridians will shortly have a chance to see a new-style nuclear powered submarine shown in this model which is being examined by Rear Admiral J. T. Hayward and Senator George Smathers. Six such submarines carrying Polaris missiles will be tested at Port Canaveral, Admiral Hayward told Sen. Smathers. Test firings of the Polaris are also scheduled on the Atlantic Missile Range off Port Canaveral.

Selection Tabled Until Tuesday

College Site Technicality Has Cocoa Council Fretting

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA — Dr. John Braxton said Wednesday he hopes the last obstacle to a city donation of 60 acres as a site for the Brevard Junior College will be removed by next Tuesday.

Brevard's school board Monday delayed selection of a college site until next Tuesday largely because of a technicality on Cocoa's title to its land.

Dr. Braxton, chairman of Cocoa's City Council, said the city's bonding attorneys have been asked for an opinion on the technicality.

School board member Dale Jacobus of Melbourne Tuesday questioned Cocoa's "legal right to give us the land." He pointed out the land — which is on the abandoned water reservoir at Clear Lake — is part of the city assets pledged to a water bond issue.

In a motion to table the college site selection, Jacobus also called on Cocoa's Council to remove a restriction which would force the school board to start building the college within three years if it accepts the land.

"We don't know when the legislature will give us the building money," the board member explained.

But Dr. Braxton said Tuesday, "that clause will stay in as far as I'm concerned."

He said the school board will have two chances to get construction money in three years because "the legislature will meet twice."

In addition to the 60-acre Cocoa site, the school board is considering an 80-acre county-owned site in Eau Gallie.

School board Chairman Bob Hudson of Titusville, Mrs. Elsie Laroche, the member from Merritt Island, and Jack Crockett, the Cocoa-Rocklege member, all said Tuesday that they favor the Clear Lake site.

Jacobus and Louis Coleman, the member from Eau Gallie, argued in favor of the Eau Gallie site which, they said, is nearer the county's "geographic center."

Hudson, Crockett and Mrs. Laroche contended the Cocoa site is "centrally located for students of Brevard's three 'principal areas' — Titusvile, Cocoa and Melbourne-Eau Gallie.

$250,000 Sought In Fatal Air Crash

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The widow of a 65-year-old man who was killed in an air crash west of Hobe Sound last Oct. 5 Wednesday files suit against the estate of the owner of the plane for $250,000 damages.

The suit was filed in Circuit Court by Kathleen F. Schnedl, both individually and as executrix of the estate of her late husband, Anton B. Schnedl.

Named as defendant was Evelyn Z. Rich, widow and executrix of the state of Russell E. Rich Jr., an official of the Rich Refrigeration Co. here who also lost his life in the accident.

He was identified in the complaint as the owner and operator of the plane.

Thomas Stokes, another passenger in the plane, was seriously injured and dangled head down in his safety harness for 13 hours until a rancher found the crashed ship west of the turnpike.

The bodies of Rich and Schnedl, were in the wreckage.

Negligence on the part of Rich was blamed by the plaintiff for the fatal accident which occurred when the plane, returning from another crash near Holopaw, ran into a thunderstorm.

Mrs. Schnedl asked $100,000 damages as an individual in the death of her husband and an additional $150,000 as executix of his estate.

In another damage action, Samuel Kutzer and his wife, Ida, asked $60,000 from John William Grigg Jr. and Paul G. Redstone as the aftermath of what was described as a three-car crash in which Mrs. Kutzer was injured.

Mrs. Kutzer sued for $50,000, her husband for $10,000.

Team to Travel On Spaghetti

EVERGLADES—What Everglades needs—Everglades gets — if it's to help the high school basketball team.

The team needed $500 for expenses to the state tournament in Gainesville, after victory over LaBelle in the regional finals.

So Everglades citizens held a spaghetti supper to raise it.

The returns totaled $1,100 including $800 in contributions.

City to Be Made Bird Sanctuary

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE - Birds and animals took up considerable time at a meeting of Melbourne city fathers.

The Melbourne Garden Club, in a written communication, asked the officials to declare this city a bird sanctuary and set up suitable laws to protect birds.

"A bird in hand is worth two in the bush," the ladies wrote. The city fathers agreed, and started action to carry out the wishes of the garden clubbers.

Dogs, cats and the like entered the discussion when Richard B. Muldrew, attorney for the local Humane Society, asked the city to lease the organization its present Melbourne Airport site.

Muldrew said in his written request that the society then would be able to qualify for a mortgage to improve the property — and eliminate the need for constant appeals to the city for money.

The city airport lease committees will study the matter.

Marina Proposed Along Causeway

He Pushes Campaign For Base

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — Businessman Tom Knight started Wednesday on the second phase of his one-man campaign to have President Eisenhower declare the Air Force Missile Test Center a permanent installation.

Knight says he already has resolutions, backing up his fight, from Eau Gallie, Cocoa, Cocoa Beach, Titusville, Rockledge, Melbourne Beach, Indialantic and Melbourne.

Now he is starting to obtain the signatures of Brevard business people on petitions he will use along with the municipal resolutions in carrying his fight to the White House.

"I will take the resolutions and petitions directly to Washington at the proper time," said Knight, "and seek an executive order on declaring Brevard military bases permanent."

The Melbourne man said the lack of such an order from the President is "keeping investors, such as insurance companies, from investing considerable sums in industrial and business projects in Brevard."

U.S. Rep. A. S. (Syd) Herlong recently maintained that the AFMTC here was put on permanent status by the military in 1952 and again in 1955. But Knight says he has checked into this and found that "only an executive order can do this. The Air Force no longer has that authority."

Predicting that FHA and other home mortgage advantages will open up in Brevard within several months, Knight maintains there will be an even greater need for more business and industry.

Money for homes, business and industry has been tight in Brevard, Knight says, because the county's economy is built around the missile base.

"Big money interests have been afraid to make heavy investments because the entire economy of the county is based on a temporary military installation," explained Knight.

Melbourne Beach Will Vote Today

Herald Bureau

MLEBOURNE BEACH - Voters will go to the polls today to decide whether a number of sweeping charter amendments should be adopted by city council. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the municipal building.

One of the most important of the proposed amendments calls for increasing number of city commissioners from three to five. They would serve two-year terms.

Amendments also provide for a town clerk-treasurer, tax assessor-collector, fire and police departments and a health and public works department.

The heads of these new departments would be named by the commission and one commissioner would have charge of each department, under the election proposal.

The mayor would be paid $300 for the year ending with February, 1960 elections. After that, the mayor would receive $600 per year and commissioners $200. The mayor also would serve as municipal judge.

These amendments were prepared by an elected charter board.

Board Sought

COCOA — City councilmen here and in Titusville have taken their final steps in setting up the machinery for reactivating the long dormant Titusville-Cocoa Airport.

Both have voted to ask the state legislature to give them the power to set up a six-man board to run the field. The board will have three members from each city.

The airport, which is midway between the two cities, is jointly owned by Cocoa and Titusville. It is an old Navy field built during World War II.

Postal Meeting

COCOA — Postmasters of the Fifth Congressional District will meet here Sunday for a quarterly business meeting.

Cocoa Postmaster A. E. Booth, president of the district postmasters association, said the meeting will start at noon in the cafeteria of the Cocoa High School. About 60 postmasters and their families are expected, he said.

4 Promoted

PATRICK AFB — Four officers of the Air Force Missile Test Center have been promoted to colonel.

They are Sam Bruno, provost marshal; Sol E. Ernst, chief of missile data processing; Kirk R. Lewis, assistant director of logistical services; and Liston T. Taylor, chief of the special projects office.

The four are among 317 Air Force officers selected for promotion from a field of 6,115 lieutenant colonels.

Presented Gavel

COCOA—City Council Chairman Dr. John Braxton has received a gavel from the Lions Club of Titusville "for his cooperation in matters concerning" Cocoa and Titusville.

Dr. Braxton was one of the Cocoa leaders who helped make a Cocoa-Titusville agreement for reopening an abandoned airport the two cities own.

Hearing Set

MELBOURNE — Army engineers have scheduled a Melbourne hearing to obtain area views on preventive measures that could be taken to keep possible hurricane tides and waves from inflicting heavy damage here.

In setting the hearing for 10 a.m. April 8 in the Melbourne Civic Center, the engineer's Jacksonville office told city officials that this is part of a coastal study to determine possibility of tidal flooding between Fernandina Beach and Hollywood. Oral and written data may be presented.

Engineers suggested that critical areas be pointed out at the hearing. They also said preventive measures in those areas could include dikes, levee, seawalls and bulkheads.

COCOA — City councilmen have voted to add 54 acres to this city. The property part of the Pineridge subdivision in northwest Cocoa. About 130 homes will be built on the 54 acres.

Would Use Melbourne Spoil Bank

By BILL BUNGE
Herald Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — A Melbourne causeway marina, costing between 1.5 and 2 million dollars, has been proposed by Frank S. Cannova, a local resident.

The facility would make use of an Indian River spoil bank pumped along the south side of the causeway, linking Melbourne with Indialantic, by dredges deepening the river channel for Army Engineers. Melbourne received this finger of new land without cost.

Cannova's plans call for the spoil bank to be enlarged to double its present size, making the marina tie into the municipal yacht basin a short distance southward.

City officials have accepted Cannova's proposal, subject to approval of a lease by City Attorney Jackson Vaughn and city commissioners. The Corps of Army Engineers and Florida Internal Improvement Board also will have to approve construction plans.

Vaughn and Gerald W. Copley of Melbourne Beach, Cannova's attorney, Wednesday started working out details of the lease. Cannova requests a 30-year lease, with an option to renew it for a similar period.

A proposal given the city asks $1 annual rental for the first 15 years, and for the second 15 years one per cent of the marina's gross receipts. However, rent could not go below $2,000 a year or exceed $10,000.

Copley has submitted a tentative proposal, including an architect's drawing, that states Cannova would build the facility within 36 months after construction was started.

Plans call for the finger of land to jet some 2,000 feet into the river from the south side of the causeway. It would be about 800 feet wide.

Two dock-piers would have slips to handle 50 boats. Other features would include access roads, off-causeway parking area, club house, cabanas, swimming pool and a beach.

Appeal Affirmed

'Progress' Sent Business Elsewhere

More Kids, More Schools--He Loses His 'Stand'

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE – Quiet, soft spoken Larry Barry got caught in South Brevard's missile boom, and his plight is a sign post of a new era nosing out the old.

But Barry merely attributes the death of his once flourishing nickel and dime business, at the edge of the New Haven Ave. school grounds, to area "progress."

For 25 years the school grounds "stand" — operated by Barry for the last 10 — attracted just about every South Brevard public school student.

The reason for this was because every youngster, from Eau Gallie to the south county line, went from the first grade through high school in the three New Haven Ave. school buildings.

And the "stand" was the only place students could buy penny candy, soda pop, school supplies or the latest gimmick and not wander too far away from class.

But this has all ended now. Larry explains it like this:

"Progress caused a new high school to be built on Babcock St. Then the junior high students were taken away from New Haven Ave. when a school was built for them in Eau Gallie. And now only elementary students are left in the old buildings.

"Besides, the schools sell their own supplies, and officials discovered an old law that forbids students to eat lunch off the school grounds."

However, Barry is taking this in stride. He has taken a job at one of the local supermarkets, near the schools. So he'll still be able to see some of the children — even those that have now become adults.

The New Haven school ground's "stand" used to be a small open air type building that originally was a blacksmith shop. The smithy also was closed by progress — the old Florida land boom. Next a real estate office was opened in the structure.

After this closed up, Barry reports, the late Mr. and Mrs. H. Hewitt of Melbourne "were asked by some of the school teachers to open up a book stand to sell texts for the lower grades." He said this was about 1933.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt later added soft drinks and candy and gum to the "stand" shelves.

Barry took the "stand" over around 1948, and operated it much like it had been years before he came from New Hampshire, via Palm Beach, to Melbourne.

In 1954, he put up a concrete block building and added a few more attractions. Barry said "things went along fine" until there were too many students for the nearby school buildings.

Now he has a sign in the window of the "stand" that says, "Closed for Good."

New Charter Vote Likely

COCOA — Voters probably will be asked to select a new city charter April 21.

A charter setting up a city commission and city manager government and another calling for a strong mayor-council government have been prepared by the City Council.

The voter selected charter must be approved by the Florida Legislature before it can be used.

Palm Beach Importing Broadway's 'Third Best Sport' with Cast

HARRY MUFSON closed his Eden Roc Cafe Pompeii after the Sammy Davis Jr., farewell Wednesday and will keep it dark until the March 18 opening of Maurice Chevalier. No acts of sufficient caliber are available for the interim period, he says. But there'll be no dull moments elsewhere in the hotel. The wonderful singing and performing instrumentalists, the Giovannis, will continue in the Mona Lisa Room and Duke Jenkins' group stays on at Harry's American Bar.

Miami's beauty, Sandra Wirth, now on NBC's County Fair as a regular, will do a dancing and dramatic stint on "Father Knows Best" March 16 . . . George DeWitt, emcee of "Name That Tune" will do a three-night weekend at the Havana Capri Casino

Frank Hale is bringing the entire Broadway production and cast of "Third Best Sport" down to the Palm Beach Royal Poinciana Playhouse for a March 16 opening. Plot concerns the happenings on a convention — in Palm Beach. Celeste Holm tops the cast.

Ford Foundation Backs Eight Plays

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Ford Foundation announced Tuesday that plays of eight American playwrights will be produced next fall at foundation expense.

The grant program for playwrights, totaling $110,000, is the last in a series of grants to creative artists. Recently the programs have aided poets, writers, painters, sculptors, theater directors and musical artists.

The works of the eight playwrights will be staged at professional, community and university theaters.

The playwrights, their plays, and the theaters that will produce them are:

KENNETH CAMERON, New York, "The Physician for Fools," Margot Jones Theater, Dallas, Tex.

JOSH GREENFELD, New York, "Clandestine on the Morning Line," Arena Stage, Washington, D. C.

JOHN B. HARDING, Malibu, Calif., "Kinderspiel," Boston University Theater, Boston.

SIDNEY MICHAELS, Los Angeles, "The Plaster Bambino," Actor's workshop, San Francisco.

PHILLIP PRUNEAU, New York, "The Morgan Rock," Omaha Community Theater, Omaha, Neb.

MRS. SEYRIL SCHOCHEN, Ithaca, N.Y., "The Moon Besieged," Stanford University Theater, Palo Alto, Calif.

JOHN VLAHOS, Westport, Conn., "The Golden age of Pericles Pappas," Tulsa Community Theater, Tulsa, Okla.

New Citrus Bills Given Legislature

WINTER HAVEN — (UPI) — The Florida Citrus Commission approved Wednesday a long-considered legislative program, then approved "in principle" two money measures dealing with its own spending.

The 14-point legislative program, which the industry hopes the Legislature will pass this spring, was given the commission's final approval after passing from one legislative committee to another for several weeks.

The commission also approved in principle two other measures that were referred to its legislative committee for further study. Both were recommended by Robert W. Rutledge, general manager of Florida Citrus Mutual.

Rutledge proposed the state set up a $5,000 per year contingency fund to provide for entertainment of persons in a position to help the industry and to pay for their transportation through the citrus belt.

He also proposed that expense allowances for commission personnel be increased.

It also approved in principle, subject to ratification by Mutual and the Florida Canners Association, a bill to make it mandatory for the commission to name four committees to designate quality standards. They would represent the fresh fruit, chilled juice, canned products and concentrate segments of the industry.

The legislative program includes these proposals:

EXTENSION of the advertising tax on oranges and grapefruit for four more years.

EMPOWERING the commission to set grade and size standards on oranges in intrastate shipments.

RAISING solids-to-acid ratio minimum standards on all oranges one-half point.

CHANGING the composition of the commission to seven pure growers and five grower-handlers, two of which would come from the fresh fruit segment and three from the concentrate industry.

GIVING the commission power to regulate all freeze damaged fruit for all uses.

EMPOWERING the commission to set quality standards for all processed products after a public hearing.

Woman Hurt In Boat Explosion

By BILL BECK
Delray Bureau Chief

BOYNTON BEACH — A 42-year-old Lake Worth woman was seriously injured Wednesday by an explosion on the charter boat, Bacardi, as it refueled at the Boynton Inlet dock before picking up a party of fishermen.

Mrs. Aleene Van Epp, wife of the boat owner, was hospitalized with second and third degree burns over 20 per cent of her body. Officials at Bethesda Memorial Hospital here reported her condition was fair.

Investigating officers believe a spark from a battery jumper cable being used by the woman to start one of the boat's engines, ignited gasoline vapors in the bilge, causing the explosion.

The force of the blast flattened Mrs. Van Epp and knocked the cabin down.

Her husband, Richard, and the mate, 18-year old Dave Himber, escaped without injury.

Ocean Ridge Police Chief Ken O'Rourke said the charter boat Papoose removed Himber and the Van Epps and pushed the burning boat into Lake Worth to prevent flames from spreading to the dock and other boats.

The gas tanks exploded as the Bacardi drifted across the lake. The 40-foot craft burned down to the water line by the time it reached the west bank of the lake, where Boynton Beach firemen were standing by.

The boat was valued at $35,000.

Prison Labor Use Attacked

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — A representative of the Associated General Contractors of Florida met with Penal Director Richard O. Culver Wednesday to protest the use of convict labor to build a new prison at Raiford.

The meeting was closed to newsmen.

Culver said afterwards there was no decision made at the meeting. He said only R. H. Muncie, executive secretary of the Jacksonville chapter of the contractors' group came to see him.

"We just had a lot of discussion," Culver said.

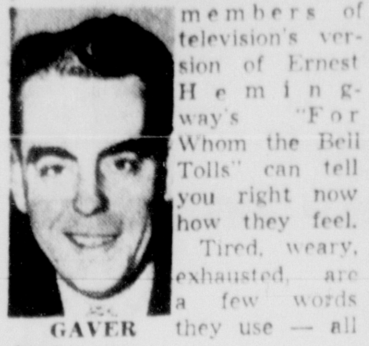
Cast Is Really Tired But 'Bell' Will Toll

By JACK GAVER



GAVER

NEW YORK — (UPI) — No one can tell how the public is going to regard the result, but the actors and crew members of television's version of Ernest Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" can tell you right now how they feel.

Tired, weary, exhausted, are a few words they use — all inadequate.

The first half of the result of an unprecedented five weeks of gruelling rehearsal and recording that ended this week will be on view tonight on the CBS "Playhouse 90" program at 9:30.

The second segment of the dramatization of this notable 19 - year-old novel about Spain's civil war will be aired at the same hour on March 19.

Maria Schell and Jason Robards Jr.
. . . this love scene will be live

IT IS TV'S first two-part drama of 90-minute portions.

Although the play has been recorded — mostly — on video tape, it was approached and produced under circumstances that approach the immediacy of a live production, which accounts for the concentrated and exhausting effort.

The result is the equivalent of a feature-length motion picture that would require at least two months to make.

Weariest of the cast have to be Jason Robards Jr., the leading man; Maureen Stapleton and Eli Wallach.

Throughout the ordeal each has been giving eight performances a week on the Broadway stage — Robards as the star of "The Disenchanted," Miss Stapleton and Wallach as co-stars of "The Cold Wind and the Warm."

But everyone has been working around a major portion of the clock seven days a week. The one fortunate thing is that they haven't been engaged in a bubbling, comedy.

They are playing haggard, war-weary, hunted people. Type casting!

A TECHNICALITY that is all tied up in the red tape of still-unresolved union and permission rights keeps the play from being totally taped.

Circumstances of the sprawling production dictated tape recording. Yet the Music Corporation of America granted use of the property on the premise that it was to be a live production.

The result was much last-minute compromising—which may or may not satisfy everyone — whereby a portion of the first 90-minute segment will be performed live.

This involves a love scene between Robards and Maria Schell. And it will offer a good opportunity for viewers to discover if they can tell the difference between tape and live TV.

The experts say it's impossible unless you know exactly where and when, whereas the difference between live and film is noticeable.

Anyway, this will result in Robards missing his first performance in "The Disenchanted." He can't be in a theater and a TV studio at the same time.

His stage understudy will get his first break. There will be no live segment in the second half of "Bell" March 19.

One of the seeming inconsistencies — and don't expect me to explain it — in this live-tape controversy is that the entire drama, including the single live portion, can be aired on the West Coast via tape without argument because of the time zone difference.

The New York Times Service

NBC apparently intends to move Steve Allen's television show out of its Sunday evening schedule and into an hour on another night next fall.

Two trade sources report that the network has offered the show to potential advertisers on a 10 to 11 p.m. Monday schedule for the 1959-60 season.

This would place it in competition with CBS's "Desilu Playhouse" series.

"Bachelor Father," the filmed situation comedy starring John Forsythe, is expected to move next fall from CBS to NBC network, where it would be televised each Thursday from 9 to 9:30 p.m. It is presented by CBS on alternate Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

The switching of "Bachelor Father" to another network seems to add credence to the report that the Jack Benny show, which now alternates with it, will not continue at 7:30 Sunday next season.

WCKR Sale Canceled

The proposed sale of radio station WCKR AM and FM to Dade Broadcasting Co., owned by the Sun Ray Drug Co. of Philadelphia, has been cancelled by mutual consent.

This was announced Wednesday by Niles Trammell, president of Biscayne Television Corp., owner of WCKR and television station WCKT (Ch. 7). The proposed sale had been announced in the spring of 1958.

"It is our intention," said Trammell, "to put all the effort possible behind the operation of WCKR to assure the continued popularity and acceptance of WCKR's broadcasting in Miami and South Florida."

Trammell gave no reason for the cancellation of the sales agreement.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	4 ♣	Pass	5 ♣
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♥

Declarer found himself confronted by a seemingly hopeless situation today, but with the aid of some slight of hand he managed to bring home his game contract.

East opened with one heart inasmuch as his spade suit did not contain the required four points. South stretched a little for his vulnerable four club overcall and North carried on to game with the hope that his values would fit well.

West opened the queen of hearts and declarer knew that it was a singleton from East's opening bid. It was apparent, therefore, that the contract was doomed to defeat, since East upon winning with the ace would have no choice but to return the suit, which would result in a ruff and the ace of trumps still to score, there was, of course, the very remote chance that the singleton heart would be accompanied by a singleton ace of clubs, but rather than rely on that, declarer deicded instead to resort to mesmerism. Without the slightest trace of deliberation, he played low from dummy, and East permitted his partner's queen to hold. West made an effort to reach partner with a diamond, but declarer won and cashed the ace and king of spades, discarding his losing heart. He was able to ruff two diamonds in dummy and lost only to the ace of trumps.

Perhaps it is your desire to point the finger of scorn at East. You may contend that South's scheme was rather blatant, and from declarer's failure to cover the queen of hearts East should have traced the red herring. I shall not dispute the point, but you might find it amusing sometime to rig up this hand for one of your more astute neighbors and see how he reacts to it.

Neat and Natty, You'll Be Happy

LONDON — (AP) — Sloppy dressing, says Sir David Eccles, president of the Government Board of Trade, hurts business and Britain.

At a clothing store opening he said: "The businessman who goes to the office badly dressed is a negative advertisement for Britain. His shabbiness and rampant bad taste put off overseas buyers."

Sir David is known as something of a dude.

2 — CONGRESSIONAL CLINIC — This program takes up the 86th Congress and the problems which face it.

4 — YANCY DERRINGER — A river boat explodes on the Mississippi and touches off a series of events culminating in murder.

7 — COULD BE YOU—film.

10 — REAL McCOYS — To the disgust of Grandpa and the other McCoys, Kate decides she is getting too heavy.

2 — MONTAGE — "Religion and Art."

4 — ZANE GREY — A town that's afraid wakes up to find a dead man on main street and what happens afterwards makes tonight's show a good little story. The town's ruled by a vigilante committee, who hang together and hang anybody they can get their hands on. Prime suspect in this new murder is a character who's got an alibi—he was with the vigilante leader's wife. Frank Lovejoy plays the leader who's got a problem.

7 — BEHIND CLOSED DOORS — The program travels from San Francisco to Yalta tonight, following the adventures of an American agent. His job is to get either a high-ranking Russian, who is ready to defect, or his little black book out of the USSR. He has some help from the usual beautiful, slinky, spy, and some hindrance from the usual fat, slinky spy.

10 — PAT BOONE — Pat will have Maureen O'Hara as his partner in a bit about typecasting in Hollywood movies. With St. Patrick's Day just over the green horizon and Miss O'Hara on hand, a medley of Irish songs is the obvious result. These, however, will not be the usual well-know Irish melodies.

2 — HERITAGE — Problems confronting labor and industry today.

4 — PLAYHOUSE 90 — Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls," on the show tonight and next week in a precedented three-hour production, is one of the dramatic events of the season. This is all taped — except for the first love scene between Maria Schell and Jason Robards Jr., which will be live. It is the story of an American, fighting with the Loyalists during the Spanish Civil War and the guerrilla band which helps him blow up a bridge. But the political implications have been muted — they do not talk of sides or causes, merely of "the enemy" and "them." Robards, as the American, has the most difficult part, but a wonderful cast supports him — Miss Schell, Maureen Stapleton, Nehemiah Persoff, Steve Hill, Eli Wallach and Vladmir Sokooff. This should be a masterful show.

7 — ERNIE FORD—Tennessee Ernie will wear an elaborately spangled dinner jacket to make his guest Liberace "feel at home." The smiling pianist, however, will arrive in a surprising costume . . . color.

10

2 — PRESS AND PEOPLE — A critical review of the nation's press and other news media.

4 — PLAYHOUSE 90—(Cont.)

7 — GROUCHO MARX — Among Groucho's guests are some direct descendants of the Hatfield-McCoy feud. There are also a couple of hep teenagers on hand.

10 — MAN WITHOUT A GUN —film.

7 — MASQUERADE PARTY — color.

11:10

10 — MOVIE — "Incident," (1948), John Frazee, Warren Douglas, Robert Osterloth. A young man, mistaken for a mobster and beaten up, sets out leader and runs into murder.

11:20

7 — JACK PAAR — Guests include Earl Grant and Leona Anderson.

11:25

4 — MOVIE — "Queen For a Day," (1951), three separate stories of three people, tied together through a television broadcast.

Delinquent Parents Bill Proposed

TAMPA — (AP) — State Juvenile Court judges will be asked next week to approve a motion calling for prosecution of parents who do nothing to prevent delinquency by their children.

Juvenile Court Judge O. D. Howell of Tampa said Tuesday Judge G. Bowden Hunt of Polk County is drafting a proposed amendment to the state statute on contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Howell said it will be presented at a conference of the Florida Council of Juvenile Court Judges in St. Petersburg March 19.

"Under the present statute," Howell said, "We have to wait until a parent performs some act contributing to the delinquency of a child. But if this act is accepted by the Legislature, it means a parent can be prosecuted for sitting back and letting the child run wild."

Ex-Sheriff Fined $30,000 At Tampa

TAMPA —(AP)— Hugh Culbreath, wealthy former Hillsborough County Sheriff, received a $30,000 fine in Federal Court Wednesday for evading payment of $25,898 in income taxes.

District Judge William J. Barker could have sentenced the 61-year-old defendant to as much as 15 years in prison in addition to levying the fine.

Culbreath smiled broadly after hearing the sentence. He indicated he didn't plan to appeal.

A jury convicted him of three counts of income tax evasion Jan. 23 at the end of a trial which started Nov. 5. Each count carried a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

Culbreath was indicted on counts of tax evasion for the years 1946 through 1950. The conviction covered only three of the years.

U.S. District Attorney James L. Guilmartin, who prosecuted the lengthy case, expressed disappointment that the sentence failed to include a prison term.

Culbreath was a key figure during the Senate Crime Investigations Committee hearings here in 1950. Sen. Estes Kefauver, who headed the committee, questioned him at length about outside income. Culbreath was sheriff at the time.

A witness at the trial testified that a bolita gambling syndicate paid the sheriff $1,200 a week during a period of 1946.

The government still has a civil suit pending against Culbreath and his wife, Daphne. Internal Revenue officials seek $271,943 from the Culbreaths which they say represents income taxes the couple failed to pay from 1941 through 1947.

Secrecy Ordered In Slaying

TAMPA —(AP)— Sheriff Ed Blackburn and police officials Wednesday clamped a lid of secrecy on their investigation of the Bennie Lazzara killing at Tampa.

"There's been too much in the papers on this case already," Pete Franks of the state attorney's office told newsmen.

Lazzara died from a shotgun blast as he stepped out of a car in the driveway of his home early Monday. The killer of the prosperous 51-year-old wholesale produce dealer escaped down an alley.

Up to Wednesday, investigators said they found no motive for the slaying of the highly respected businessman who had no known ties with Tampa's underworld element. Officers also said they had no leads to the gunman.

Blackburn and police officials met with Lazzara's widow at a bank Wednesday to check contents of a safety deposit box held in Lazzara's name.

Following the meeting, Blackburn asked others present to withhold from newsmen information learned in checking the deposit box. They agreed.

Cafeteria Man Fined For Taxes

TAMPA — (AP) — A federal judge Wednesday sentenced Lander Haige, one-time wealthy cafeteria owner of St. Petersburg, to a two-year prison term and $5,000 fine for income tax evasion. The prison sentence was suspended.

Haige was principal owner of the Tramor Cafeterias when he fled to Sweden in 1955, while awaiting trial on income tax evasion.

He returned to Florida three months ago and pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to the charges. The plea, while not an admission of guilt, subjects a defendant to the same sentence a guilty plea would bring.

After Haige went to Sweden, the government collected $10,257.54 from firms which posted bond for him.

A grand jury indicted Haige in March, 1954, on counts that he failed to pay his tax for 1947, 1948, and 1949.

February Was Warm And Wet

GAINESVILLE —(AP)— February was characterized by unusual warmth throughout the state, and abundant rainfall in western and northern counties, according to records compiled by Keith Butson, state climatologist with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station.

Temperatures averaged well above long-time averages in all sections except extreme western counties. In southern areas, the month ranked as one of the warmest in recent years.

Monthly temperatures ranged generally four to six degrees above normal. Butson says this was quite different from February 1958, when monthly averages were 9 to 10 degrees below long-time averages.

Rainfall displayed considerable variation from one section to another in monthly totals and distribution. Precipitation was generally abundant in western and northern regions, averaging one to two inches above normal. Most of the citrus area received about the same amount above normal.

Rains in the citrus belt were not so well distributed, with more than half the total coming during the last few days of the month.

Over the southern third of the peninsula, rainfall was markedly less than in other sections, ranging from average to about one inch less than normal.

Despite higher than average temperatures, incidence of cloudiness and fog was above the February average. Fog was particularly frequent in the interior during the first half of the month and served to aggravate plant disease development.

Abnormally warm weather promoted rapid growth and development of nearly all vegetable crops. By the end of the month, spring crops were reported to be well in advance of the normal schedule.

NOTICE OF SALE
$450,000
CITY OF HIALEAH,
DADE COUNTY, FLORIDA
WATER REVENUE
CERTIFICATES, SERIES
OF 1958

The City Council of the City of Hialeah, Florida, will receive sealed bids at their regular meeting place, until 5:00 P.M. EST., on MARCH 31, 1959, for the purchase of $450,000 principal amount, City of Hialeah, Florida Water Revenue Certificates, Series of 1958.

Said bonds shall be dated October 1, 1958, numbered 1 to 450, in coupon form, registrable as to principal only, denomination $1,000 payable as to principal and interest at The Marine Midland Trust Company of New York. Said bonds shall bear interest at such rate or rates not greater than 5% per annum as may be determined at the time of the sale thereof, which interest shall be payable April 1 and October 1, and semi-annually thereafter on the first days of October 1 and April 1 in each year, until the payment of principal.

Said bonds shall mature serially on April 1, as follows: 1960 to 1963 $5,000 each year; 1964 to 1967 $6,000 each year; 1968 to 1969 $7,000 each year; 1970 to 1973 $8,000 each year; 1974 to 1978 $10,000 each year; 1979 to 1982 $12,000 each year; 1983 to 1984 $40,000 each year; $42,000 in 1985; $45,000 in 1986; $47,000 in 1987; and $48,000 in 1988.

Bonds maturing 1968 to 1988, inclusive, shall be redeemable prior to maturity at the option of the City on October 1, 1967 or on any interest payment date thereafter, in whole or in part, but in inverse order of maturities, and by lot within maturities if less than all, at the price of par and accrued interest plus the following premiums: 4% of par value 1967 to 1970; 3% of par value 1971 to 1974; 2% of par value 1975 to 1978; 1% of par value 1979 to 1982; and without payment of premium if called thereafter.

Also callable in whole at any time prior to October 1, 1967 at par and accrued interest plus premium of 4% in the event it is found necessary to redeem all of said revenue certificates to enable the city to finance the cost of city-wide sanitary sewers.

Series of 1958 Certificates are payable from net revenues of the City's municipal water works system, on a parity with $1,056,000 principal amount Water Revenue Certificates, dated April 1, 1950, 1951 and 1953, maturing serially April 1, 1959 to 1982, inclusive. These revenue certificates do not constitute an indebtedness of the City of Hialeah within the meaning of any constitutional, statutory or charter provisions or limitations, and the City is under no obligation to pay principal or interest, except from the net revenues.

A non-litigation certificate dated as of the date of the delivery of the bonds and the unqualified approving opinion of Messrs. Chapman and Cutler, Bond Attorneys of Chicago, Illinois, will be furnished the purchaser without cost to him.

Bidders are requested to name the interest rate or rates, not exceeding 5% per annum, in multiples of ¼ or 1-10 of 1%. No bid for less than all of said bonds or offering to pay less than 99% of the par value thereof, plus accrued interest, will be considered. Bidders may name not exceeding three different rates of interest, but the same single rate of interest shall be named for all of the bonds of any one maturity. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder or bidders whose proposal results in the lowest net interest cost to the City.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company in the amount of $9,000, payable to the order of "The City of Hialeah, Florida" as a good faith deposit to guarantee the performance of said bid.

Copies of Notice of Sale, Official Information and Bid Forms may be obtained from the undersigned.

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

Dreher Park Soon To Boast Zoo, Junior Museum

By HELEN VAN HOY SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

THE PALM BEACHES—Boom on at Dreher Park! Not in terms of dollars and cents, but in human values. Here will be located facilities and services and institutions to amuse, delight, and instruct people of all ages.

MRS. SMITH

The zoo and the Kiddie Park (Jaycee projects) will be there; the Junior Welfare League's Junior Museum; the West Palm Beach Garden Club's new Garden Center; and in addition ample picnic grounds and plenty of parking space.

Named for Paul Dreher, director of parks and boulevards for West Palm Beach, this more than 100-acre tract will soon be abuzz with activity; and no one will be happier than Paul Dreher himself, who has devoted 26 years of interested and conscientious service to the city

It's said that plans are for a zoo where the animals will be home, home, on their particular range; securely fenced in but not caged.

Work on the zoo and park is expected to start soon after the Seminole Sun Dance.

The Junior Welfare Leaguers are hard at work on a fund raising drive for their $100,000 building and planetarium. This building and groups will occupy approximately three acres.

'Living With Flowers' Is Theme

THE WEST PALM BEACH Garden Club hasn't announced definite plans for its new center, but proceeds from the coming placement flower show will go toward the building fund.

The show on Saturday, March 21, will be threefold. You may visit four handsome homes where special flower arrangements will be suited to the type of house and the furnishings; the Vaughn Orchid Garden at 6000 S. Olive Ave., and a fine horticulture display at the American Legion Home.

The houses and the orchid garden will be open from 1 to 6 p.m. and the horticulture show from 1 to 9 p.m. In addition the horticulture show will be open on Sunday, March 22, from 1 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Pat Woodall and Mrs. F. W. Kessler are cochairmen for the show, theme of which is "Living with Flowers."

Open to visitors on the tour will be the homes of Mrs. W. A. Stockton, 201 Southdale Rd., Palm Beach, modern; Mrs. Elwyn L. Middleton, 242 Dunbar Rd., Spanish; Mrs. B. F. Paty, 1899 S. Flagler Dr., southern colonial; and Mrs. Harold E. Davis, 194 Sunset Rd., traditional with modern Florida room.

Educator to Address DAR

DR. HAROLD C. MANOR, president of Palm Beach Junior College, will speak at the meeting of Garcilaso de la Vega Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Saturday at St. Andrew's church hall in Lake Worth. Hostesses are Mrs. Elizabeth Harmon, Mrs. J. H. Irons, and Mrs. E. M. Keough. Mrs. J. A. Rostan will preside.

Youth had its innings last Saturday at the meeting of Seminole Chapter, DAR, atthe West Palm Bach Woman's Club. Eight 4-H girl homemakers received DAR awards for excellence in dressmaking, presented by gracious Lavenia (Mrs. Henry) Kohl, chairman of the girl homemakers commitee.

Receiving them in order of preference were: Betty Ann Carpenter, Mildred Smith, Louise Ashton, Donna Curry, Sandra Price, seniors. Juniors receiving awards were Toni Henderson, Toni Pate, and Holly Handler.

Mrs. John Emmons presented a DAR Good Citizenship pin to Janice Duncan, Palm Beach High School senior, for an essay she had entered in a DAR Good Citizenship contest.

Members of the Daniel Hulett Society, Children of the Revolution presented the program. Mrs. Joseph C. Bernstein presided.

'Colonists' to Hear About Pewter

MRS. HENRY L. ROSENFELT will tell about "Colonial Pewter," at a meeting of Santa Margarita Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists, meeting today at 10 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Norman B. Ratliff, 110 19th Ave., N. in Lake Worth.

Many Woman's Club members will attend the district meeting at Stuart, Friday the 13th.

This is an important meeting as paintings will be taken for the art exhibit, and clubs in the district will also show their prize winning dresses.

From here Mrs. Max Mosler will model the smart ensemble that won her a prize in the recent local contest.

Prize winning dress in the district meeting will be sent to Jacksonville for the state competition.

NORTON GALLERY PLAYERS' last two productions this season (Hole in the Head," April 7-11; "Tea and Sympathy," May 12-16) will be directed by a genuine, dyed-in-the-wool, pro.

King Page, who has been with the press department of the Musicarnival for two seasons began his career as a dancing youngster. He has continued as an actor director and producer.

Future of the Norton Players seems to be in the balance. "To be or not to be," depends on how seriously the Players take their work, audience response, and selection of plays.

During the mid-season the Norton group has keen competition: the Royal Poinciana Playhouse, the Musicarnival, the movies, and the old TV set in the parlor.

B'nai B'rith Selects a Queen

MRS. IRVING COHEN was selected "Queen for a Day," at the seventh annual donnor luncheon of the Palm Beach County Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women held last week at the Palm Beach Towers.

Last year's queen, Mrs. Henry Bogatin, crowned Mrs. Cohen who was presented with a "Fun in the Sun," wardrobe. The queen's attendants were Mrs. Mike Kalmutz and Mrs. Max Stern.

Mrs. Harry Beesin coordinated the fashion show. Mrs. Richard Brams was commentator. Models included Mrs. Walter Dorr, Mrs. Nat Hill, Mrs. Charles Kapner, Mrs. Maurice Rattinger and Mrs. Henry Weiss.

Mrs. L. D. Cohen won the Early Bird prize, a weekend at the Diplomat Hotel at Hollywood. Presentation was made by John Marshall, emcee.

John Glade sang, accompanied by Gene Murray.

Club Hears Federation President

LAKE WORTH — Lake Worth Women's Club gave a luncheon at the Palm Beach Towers in Palm Beach on Wednesday for Mrs. C. L. Menser of Vero Beach, president of the Florida Federation of Womens Clubs. There were 150 present.

Mrs. Menser urged support of the library service as well as the support of scholarships for Indian students who will return to teach in their own communities. Two students, she said, are now being trained to teach in Dania.

Some organizations, Mrs. Menser said, work from the board down to the membership. The woman's club, she reminded them, works from the member up to the board.

"The individual is all important in the work of woman's clubs," she declared, mentioning that the Florida Federation has a membership of 34,000 and is regarded as a power in the state.

"The Legislature has asked for a copy of our state meeting minutes," she said. "Our senators and representatives are concerned about what we do and the stand we take on public matters.

Mrs. W. E. Michel introduced Mrs. Menser. Mrs. Ralph L. Skinner, club president, had charge of the meeting following the talk. Guests included Mrs. Olan T. Hamilton, state treasurer and past president of the West Palm Beach Woman's Club, and Mrs. Stanley Babkiewich of Delray Beach, director of District 10.

Is Engaged

NAPLES — Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Federici announce the engagement of their daughter Eda Carla to Agostino G. Sciacqua, Jr. He is the son of the senior Sciacquas of Chicago.

A May 2 wedding is planned.

Nasser Berates Commies

Blames Them For Iraq Revolt

DAMASCUS, Syria —(UPI)— United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser charged Wednesday that the Communists, seeking to split the Arab world, were to blame for the crisis that touched off the Iraqi revolt.

Nasser, addressing crowds of wildly cheering demonstrators, lashed back at Iraqi leaders for their attacks on his regime and served notice that local Reds would not succeed in dragging the U.A.R. into the Communist camp.

Speaking out for the first time since the short lived Mosul revolt, Nasser delivered his first direct assault on Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who appeared to have won his fight to crush the insurgents in northern Iraq.

Diplomats interpreted Nasser's speech as a calculated risk that Russia might take public offense and halt the arms and economic aid it has given Cairo since 1954.

While Nasser spoke, the Communist Party newspaper in Baghdad, Ittihad al Shaab, said the last rebel holdouts had surrendered in the northern Iraqi oil city of Mosul Tuesday night.

The Baghdad newspaper charged, however, that the U.A.R. was still massing dissident tribesmen and "Syrian nationalists" across the Iraqi border.

Nasser, speaking from a balcony overlooking El Jiwa Square, charged that Kassem and the Communists were attempting to sabotage Arab unity. He accused them of "organizing demonstrations" and "uttering slander" against the U.A.R.

But he declared that these tactics would not make the United Arab Republic "surrender our mission" of uniting the Arab world.

Nasser's speech followed Baghdad press and radio charges making it plain that the Kassem regime blames the U.A.R. for supporting the Sunday uprising in oil-rich north Iraq. The Iraqis said the mutiny was crushed and its leader, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, dead.

The U.A.R. chief told 2,000 Syrian student demonstrators that "those Communists demonstrating in Baghdad against your republic are foreign agents and used to get orders from outside our homeland. That's why we fought."

The students in Damascus had demonstrated Wednesday morning, angrily denouncing the "insults" transmitted against the U.A.R. by Iraq's radio during the last two days. The crowds in the streets chanted, "Kassem, traitor."

Nasser blasted Kassem 24 hours after Iraq expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats, apparently on the grounds that Iraq suspected the Cario regime of fometing the revolt.

Cairo reports said that at least 60 rebels, including some civilians, hăd been executed summarily after the Mosul uprising, and that Iraqi firing squads were still at work. There were indications that rebel elements were fleeing eastward toward Syria to seek asylum.

Fight Over Berlin Means A Nuclear War, Ike Warns

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower confronted Premier Nikita Khrushchev Wednesday with the grim prospect that if he starts shooting over Berlin he will have a nuclear war on his hands.

At a news conference Eisenhower talked with unusual bluntness about the kind of conflict which could develop in a matter of months if the Berlin crisis is carried to the point of armed clash.

* * *

Eisenhower hit two points hard:

1—He said that "we" are not going to fight a ground war in Europe — where the Soviets have 23 divisions in East Germany and another 150 plus in supporting positions in Eastern Europe and Russia itself.

2—Nuclear war would be a terrible and costly form of warfare, he said, and under some circumstances might be even self-defeating.

He declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

However, inquiry among responsible officials after the news conference left no doubt that Eisenhower was trying to say that, as he sees it, any conflict over Berlin would necessarily lead quickly and directly to a global, nuclear clash between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said firmly the U.S. will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis

Eisenhower said he believes the American public is more soberly aware of dangers in the Berlin situation than a lot of people aroung Washington.

A reporter had asked the President if he feels that the people recognize the dangers in Khrushchev's demand for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

The country knows how serious the situation is or it wouldn't be voting all of the money that is being required for defense, Eisenhower promptly replied.

Eisenhower was asked if he thinks the Soviets should be given a plain warning that nuclear war might result if the Communists cut off access to West Berlin.

He replied that he doesn't know how you can free anything with nuclear weapons. He said that if there is any push in the direction of real hostilities over Berlin it is going to come from the side of the Soviets.

Eisenhower said he can't believe that anybody is going to make hostilities of this kind a reality.

In advance of the news conference Eiswnhower was de-

If It Becomes 'Free'

Reds Pledge Access Into West Berlin

BERLIN —(AP)— The Soviet Union and Communist East Germany Wednesday night pledged that they would guarantee free access to West Berlin if it became a free city.

The pledge was contained in a communique issued by the Communist East German government as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up his visit to East Germany.

The communique said:

"The government of the German Democratic Republic once again emphasized its readiness to guarantee the unhindered connection of the free city of West Berlin with the outside world, in both the eastern and western directions."

At the same time, the com-guaranteed by the Big Four powers and by the U.N.

munique said, West Berlin's status as a free city could be

The communique did not spell out what form the guarantees would take.

(In Washington, a spokesman said the State Department had no comment on the Soviet-East German declaration. Privately officials said there was nothing new in the offer to guarantee access to West Berlin once it became a free city. The offer is based on the completely unacceptable condition that the Western Allies would give up their rights in Berlin, these officials said.)

In an East Berlin speech two days ago, Khrushchev mentioned that a minimum of troops from the Soviet Union, France, Britain and the U.S. could be stationed in West Berlin. Or, he said, the troops could come from neutral countries, meaning presumably from the U.N.

Then Khrushchev emphasized Tuesday that the Russians would have to serve alongside U.S., British and French troops in any token force based in West Berlin.

Mr. K. Laps It Up in Berlin

Nikita Talks 'Dry' But He Drinks 'Wet'

Nikita Khrushchev
. . . huggin' and gulpin'

BERLIN —(UPI)— Nikita Khrushchev, who has advised Soviet workers to cut down their drinking, was slugging brandies at a rate of one every 15 minutes here.

Between gulps, the Soviet premier would devour one or two small, spicy sausages, then push on through the crowd to shake some more hands, and hug a few more women. The younger the women, the tighter Nikita squeezed.

The scene was a reception for 900 prominent Communists, German and foreign, at the sprawling Soviet embassy building on Unter Den Linden.

Khrushchev wore a simple black single-breasted suit, bedecked with "Workers Hero" medals. He spent three hours at the reception.

High Winds Hit Alabama Area

CAMDEN, Ala. —(AP)— High winds during a thunderstorm and possibly a small twister knocked down several farm buildings and unfoofed a house in the Oakhill community Wednesday.

The Highway Patrol said there were no reports of any one injured. The rural community is 14 miles southeast of Camden.

A car was blown off the highway, the patrol said, but cut back on the road and continued on its way.

FORT PIERCE — A new North Bridge was urged Wednesday by members of the Fort Pierce Anglers Club.

The Atlantic Shores Association had previously asked the St. Lucie County Commission to ban fishing from the present narrow wooden bridge, for the safety of both fishermen and motorists.

The Anglers Club president, J. H. Cooper, wrote the commission that club members felt that banning or not banning fishing would not solve the problem. The club noted the importance of a new bridge with walkways which would solve all problems.

The St. Lucie County Commission's tentative request for state road work puts a new North Bridge in second place. Commissioners said they want to hold up action on the bridge fishing situation until they have met with William Singer, road board member, on March 23 and learned about prospects for a new bridge.

The county commission, in other action, reaffirmed its decision to consider all bulkhead line requests individually, until an overall bulkhead line for the entire county can be drawn up.

Bahamians To Protest

NASSAU, Bahamas —(AP)— Progressive Liberal Party leaders left for London Wednesday to protest passage of a bill by the Bahamas Assembly which provides for four new house seats.

Party Leader Cyril Stevenson, who went with Lynden Pindling to London, said the measure provides for district boundary changes unacceptable to his followers.

The two will see the secretary of state for the colonies March 17. The Progressive Party had sought to have action on the bill delayed until after the interview with the secretary but the request was rejected by the majority United Bahamian Party.

Aviation Agency's Gag Investigated

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The Congressional Watchdog Committee on Governmental Secrecy is investigating suppression by the Federal Aviation Agency of information sought in connection with the Feb. 3 crash of an American Airlines' Electra.

This was revealed Wednesday in a letter from Rep. John Moss (D., Calif.), chairman of the House government information subcommittee, to E. R. Quesada, head of the FAA.

MOSS

Moss in his letter referred to stories in The Miami Herald disclosing that the FAA has suppressed reports on difficulties encountered with a new type altitude measuring instrument installed in Lockheed Electras and Boeing 707 jets.

Moss asked Quesada to spell out the FAA's legal authority, if any, "for restricting access to the reports."

He disclosed that committee investigators have made a preliminary check, but did not discuss their findings.

The Herald reported last month that the FAA received complaints on the new altimeter from pilots prior to the American crash.

The new turbo-prop airliner, which fell into New York's East River while attempting to land at LaGuardia Airport, had the new altimeter. Sixty-five persons were killed in the crash.

The surviving flight engineer said after the crash that "there might have been a mix-up with those new altimeters. ". . . There was some difficulty reading them."

Some pilots complained to the FAA about a "sticking needle" in the altimeter.

After first imposing stiffer landing restrictions on the Electras, the FAA announced the air carriers could resume normal operations with the planes if the new altimeters were replaced with a type now widely in use.

The FAA on several occasions refused to disclose the nature or number of complaints.

Officials also refused to comment on why the FAA did not act on reports of operating difficulties with the new altimeter before the accident.

Isles Take Stride to Statehood

House Question: 50 Or Not 50?

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate voted Wednesday night to make Hawaii the 50th state, giving its approval by a vote of 76 to 15.

This long step toward statehood for the islands in the Pacific came after only a single day of debate.

That debate was punctuated by charges that with Hawaii a state, the 50th star in the flag would be tinged with red.

The House set the stage for action today on an almost identical bill. It voted 337-69 formally bringing a statehood bill up for House debate.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee said he would propose amendments to his own house bill to make it conform exactly to the Senate version.

The final House vote would thus send the measure directly to the White House and avoid House-Senate conferences.

The first House test, coming while the Senate was debating the statehood issue, brought the Hawaii bill formally before the House for debate and amendments.

Voting for the resolution were 214 Democrats and 123 Republicans. Forty-eight Democrats, most of them Southerners, and 21 Republicans voted against taking up the bill.

In a Word--

One of the many false impressions most Americans have about Hawaii is that its most famous word, "alohs," mearns goodby or farewell.

Aloha also means hello, Hawaiians explain. In some of the islands, aloha also means good morning, good evening, and I love you.

Senate OKs Extended Draft Act by 90 to 1

Bill Now Goes Back To House

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate, with only one dissent, Wednesday approved a four-year extension of the draft act urgently requested by the Eisenhower administration.

The 90-1 vote came after the Armed Services Committee chairman, Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), called on the Senate to show the U.S. "means what it says when it says we must maintain the military strength of the U.S."

The Senate previously defeated one move to trim the extension to two years and another one which would have set up a military manpower commission to study the draft law and possible "alternatives."

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed an almost identical extension earlier. It can accept the Senate version or demand a conference to hammer out the differences.

The only senator voting against the four-year extension was Sen. William Langer (R., N.D.).

The Senate beat down by 67-24 an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) to limit the extension to two years. Morse conducted a pint-sized filibuster Tuesday night to an almost empty Senate chamber on the proposed extension.

He said the four-year extension will neither "safeguard American security" nor "frighten the Russians."

Defeated by a 68-24 vote was an amendment by Sen. Francis Case (R., S.D.) which would have set up the study commission.

In addition to continuing present machinery for drafting young men aged 18 through 26, the Senate bill continues the suspension of pre-Korean peacetime ceilings on the strength of the armed services; the payment of benefits to dependents of certain enlisted men, and the authority to draft physicians and dentists.

It also provides authority for the continued payment of extra pay, at the rate of $100 to $250 monthly, to newly-commissioned physicians and dentists and $100-a-month additional pay for veterinarians.

This is the amendment added by the Senate which required that the bill go back to the House instead of straight to the White House.

Ike Warns Nikita: Berlin Fight Means Nuclear War

picted as determined to hold military spending to the 41 billion dollar level of his budget.

Some of the criticism of the spending plans has been based on the contention that not enough attention is given to the forces needed for limited — or non-nuclear — war which could involve big ground forces.

Eisenhower said the adequacy of free nation defenses is not going to be particularly strengthened by quick action such as that suggested by Democrats in Congress to maintain the Army at 900,000 men and the Marine Corps at 200,000.

The army is scheduled to be cut back to 870,000 men and the marines to 175,000 by June 30.

We're not going to fight a ground war in Europe, Eisenhower said. That being true, he asked what good it would do to send more divisions to the continent.

Noting that the Communists have 175 divisions, Eisenhower said why in the world would we dream of fighting a ground war with them.

Strength in heart and head are as important as strength in the military, the President went on.

At one point Eisenhower was asked if he feels the proposed size of U.S. ground forces is sufficient to cope with a "brush" war.

He answered that if a defense force of this size couldn't handle such a war it would have grown beyond the "brush" stage and military leaders would have to think in greater terms. He did not elaborate on this point.

Wednesday's session touched also on these matters:

KHRUSHCHEV — Eisenhower said that he doesn't think much of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that Russian and the Western allies station token military forces in West Berlin.

A one point, Eisenhower referred to Khrushchev's proposals as the premier's wisecracks or whatever he calls them. He said he (Eisenhower) could not be expected to react instantly to wisecracks.

JOB BENEFITS — The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

Eisenhower said he regards the problem of providing for the unemployed as a state responsibility, but that his mind is not closed to the possibility of adjustment.

SPENDING — Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he might be willing to spend more money for defense if more federal revenue was available.

With some show of irritation, Eisenhower went on to say he is tired of talk of having either a balanced budget or adequate national security. A balanced budget, he added, is a vital part of such security.

Suppose, Eisenhower theorized, defense spending should go up five, seven or 10 billion dollars. That means, he said, we would have a garrison state.

It was at that point that Eisenhower said somewhat heatedly that he doesn't see any of those calling for greater defense spending coupling it with a demand for higher taxes.

Jobless Total Up Slightly

Employment Rolls Increase, Too

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Unemployment edged up by 28,000 last month to a total of 4,749,000, the government reported Wednesday. It said the increase was so small as to be insignificant.

A report by the Labor and Commerce Departments showed employment also increased by 16,000 to 62,706,000 in February. The stability marked the usual pause between heavy winter cutbacks in jobs and the normal spring pickup.

The number of jobless workers was 724,000 lower than in February, 1958, the depth of the 1957-58 recession. There also were 734,000 more persons holding jobs than in February a year ago.

But even so unemployment last month was 1,500,000 higher than in February, 1957, before the recession began.

The report said that last month the seasonally adjusted percentage of the labor force without jobs held steady at six per cent for the third month in a row. Many economists regard this figure as a key statistic in the job picture.

In addition, the relatively small changes in February employment and unemployment fell within the range of normal statistical errors that might be made by the government in compiling its job estimates.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said the figures showed the unemployment situation was "growing worse" and is now a drag on economic recovery.

Meany said the nation cannot wait any longer for government action to relieve suffering of millions of unemployed citizens.

In this connection, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he believed any further extension of emergency jobless benefits should be handled by the states although he was willing to listen to arguments.

Congressional Democrats are pushing for an extension of the program to prevent several hundred thousand unemployed from running out of benefits when the temporary program ends March 30.

Hawaii Hulas Past Senate On Her Way to Statehood

Rules Committee, argued in vain that Harry Bridges and his aides "control the life blood of Hawaii."

Bridges is head of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union which, although expelled from the CIO for left-wing tendencies, is strongly organized on the Hawaii waterfront and in the sugar and pineapple industries.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee, said a personal investigation in Hawaii last December convinced him that residents of the islands are more alert to the dangers of communism than people are anywhere else in the country.

"I do not believe that Communists have a strangle hold on the islands or that they would send four Soviet agents to Congress," O'Brien asserted.

O'Brien was replying directly to a protest by Rep. John R. Pillion (R., N.Y.), who charged that Communists "influence Hawaiian life to an alarming degree" through Bridges' union and others.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R., Calif.) said it may be true that Hawaii has a Communist problem. But so does California, he said, and so does the U.S. as a whole.

And Sen. Russell B. Long (D., La.) said Hawaii has fought the Communists to the point that its Subversive Activities Control Board estimated recently there were only 15 "hard-shelled Communists" left there.

Holland's For It, Smathers Against

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The 76-15 roll-call vote by which the Senate Wednesday night passed a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii included:

Democrats for:

Ervin of N.C., Holland of Fla., Johnson of Tex., Jordan of N.C., Kefauver of Tenn., Long of La., Yarborough of Tex.

Republicans for:

Cooper of Ky., Morton of Ky.

Democrats against:

Byrd of Va., Eastland of Miss., Ellender of La., Fulbright of Ark., Hill of Ala., McClellan of Ark., Robertson of Va., Russell of Ga., Smathers of Fla., Sparkman of Ala., Stennis of Miss., Talmadge of Ga.

Not voting or paired, but announced as for passage: Gore (D., Tenn).

Voting for Hawaiian statehood were 30 Republicans and 46 Democrats. One Republican, Sen. John Marshall Butler (R., Md.), joined 14 Southern Democrats in voting against it.

Moon Makes 'Pass'

It's No Missile, It's Just Venus

A spectacular passing of the planet Venus by the moon in clear skies over south Florida Wednesday night triggered hundreds of telephone calls to weather bureau and newspaper switchboards.

Some space-age callers asked if the shining star seen almost directly over the moon's thin crescent was a space missile launched without notice. But most, said Weather Bureau Forecaster leonard Pardue, had no idea at all what the display could mean...

Pardue said the phenomenon was "a conjunction—really not a rarity — in which the two heavenly bodies pass some millions of miles apart."

The weather man said that usually the apparent meeting of the two heavenly bodies is not noticed because it occurs in daylight or afternoon-set.

Wednesday night's display because visible about 6:30 p.m. and lasted until moonset at 8:34 p.m.

Pardue said he once saw an even more spectacular "conjunction" in which Venus appeared to travel a path htat took it directly behind the moon's bulk — where the star became temporarily ivisible.

No ring or halo was cast around the moon while the planet was obscured behind it, Pardue said. He added this is considered evidence that the moon has no atmosphere in which a halo effect can be produced.

It Was Heavenly

Pardue said these conjunctions occur several times a year. How close?

The moon is a quarter-million miles from the earth and Venus is more than 20 million miles distant, he said.

Wednesday's night's pectacle should have been visible everywhere that darkness prevailed, said Pardue.

60 Arrive Today

Bankers to Get Red Carpet Tour

Some 60 Northern financiers arrive here today for a red-carpet tour which state and local officials hope will heighten their interest in buying some 25 million dollars worth of bonds to pay for Dade County road projects.

The group is due at Miami International Airport at 5 p.m. from Cape Canaveral, where the Yankee businessmen were taken for a brief tour after visiting St. Petersburg, which is also on the verge of putting road bonds up for sale.

B. R. Fuller Jr., executive director of the Florida Development Commission, said the first-hand inspection by the potential bond-buyers "could result in savings of hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest costs" on the bond sale.

Dade County, backed by the Development Commission and the State Road Board, will put up for sale in April 25 million dollars worth of bonds. Most of the money will be used on the 36th St. Expressway project.

Fuller said he felt "this tour will generate among these investment people a real enthusiasm for Florida."

Both the St. Petersburg and Greater Miami areas, he said, "have so much to offer that we thought these bankers should see them first-hand."

The financiers, most of them from major banks and insurance companies in New York and Chicago, represent "virtually every major institution which buys or sells public securities," Fuller said.

They are being accompanied on the tour by Fuller, Development Commission Chairman Sam T. Dell Jr., Road Board Chairman Joe Grotegut, Road Board Member William Singer of Miami and Development Commission Member R. B. Gautier of Miami.

The group arrived at St. Petersburg Tuesday night and spent Wednesday being briefed by Pinellas County officials on a 16.8 million dollar bond issue to finance the Pinellas Bayway. The group was to fly to Cape Canaveral today after a tour of St. Petersburg.

The bankers will look over airport facilities after arriving here, then go by limousine to the Fontainebleau Hotel for a reception and dinner.

The group will be briefed on the 36th St. project on Friday by Singer and other road engineers and officials. On Saturday engineers will take the bond-buyers on an inspection trip.

The visit will end at a luncheon Saturday with an address by McGregor Smith, board chairman of Florida Power and Light Co., and a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Industry.

"Why?" asked the applicant. "My handicap won't hinder me the slightest on this job."

"I know," the doctor admitted. "But the city is being sued for damages by one of its own attorneys because he fell off a city-owned chair. It could happen to you." So let's start falling off chairs????

Well, Bill Pallot didn't fall off a chair because he was handicapped. The chair tipped over backwards and he was thrown for quite a lot of yardage. It was an interesting case (Bill just lost it) because the money he was asking, as damages, wasn't coming from city funds. It was a pension fund, into which Bill had been paying along with other employes.

National Summary

Snow is expected to spread into the central Appalachians and into New England Thursday while rain works into the Atlantic states accompanied by thunderstorms in the southeast. Clearing and cooler weather is anticipated in the mid Atlantic states and Carolinas, although showers are likely in Florida.

Snow flurries will be scattered from the Great Lakes region into the Appalachians and may reach as far south as Tennessee.

Snow flurries were noted through the Rockies, central and northern plains, and in the upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region Wesneday but cool dry weather extended over most of the west early in the day.

Some rain began to show up in the Pacific northwest in advance of another surge of moist air from the ocean.

Precipitation is forecast to spread inland, with snow in the mountains as far east as Idaho and Montana, while scattered snows advance across the northern Rockies to the Dakotas on Thursday.

Showery conditions will replace steady rains in Washington and Oregon and a few showers may cross the border into norther California.

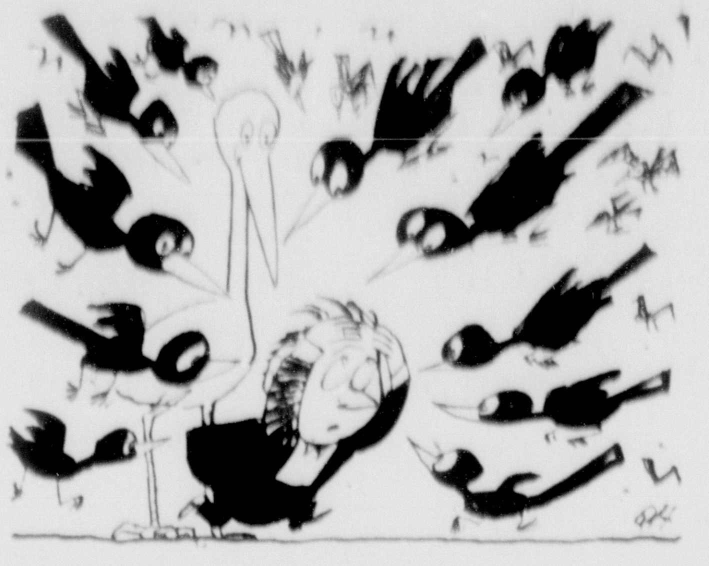
No BB Guns in Pahokee

So Birds Loaf Around



By ROSE ALLEGATO
Herald Staff Writer

PAHOKEE — The swallows have come back to Pahokee. The city outlawed BB guns, and the birds, residents say, are getting a rest. They were easy targets for BB-toting sharpshooters, most of them youngsters.

Now with local immunity, they loaf on the lakeside. Follow the sign that invites you to "See Beautiful Lake Okeechobee" and you find yourself on the levee looking at Florida's 'inland ocean' — and birds, birds, birds.

The birds line up on the guy wires like a platoon falling in for roll call. They stir in an about-face once in a while. Otherwise, they laze under the sun.

The reprieve from the BB gun has made them downright listless.

The bird not too lazy to go after the worm is the heron. While the chimney sweeps and swallows squat on the guy wires, the heron flaps his white wings in low reconnaissance flights. He disappears, swooping back into view seconds later with a meal dangling from his beak.

Bill Moss, a local resident, says there's one bird that hasn't been back this year. But you can't blame the BB gun.

The ibis—which sounds like a blackbird but isn't — is a rarity. It has been seen occasionally in Pahokee, but not since last year's freeze.

But the swallows are back, and so are other fine-feathered friends, all soaking up the Florida sun, lazily, like vacationing tourists.

And not a BB gun to stir them to flight.

East Naples Hope

No 12-Inch Line, Council Declares

NAPLES — A 12-inch waterline to the East Naples area, in place of a proposed six-inch line, may be eventually installed by the City of Naples, but not until the city has more money and the Tamiami Trail four-laning is completed in the section.

Dr. Francis Ford suggested a 12-inch main after Archie Turner declared the city is "neglecting the facts" when it proposes a six-inch line to serve the new Shadowlawn School.

Turner urged an eight-inch line at once to make a loop with the 12-inch, when it goes in.

City Manager Fred Lowdermilk agreed an eight-inch main "should be put in and would only cost $1 a foot more."

He said the 12-inch pipe could be installed when the lines are extended along Airport Rd.

"We don't have the money now," said Mayor W. Roy Smith.

Lowdermilk mentioned a remark by Ed Pizer, a developer, at Tuesday's Collier County Commission meeting that the city manager had suppressed a report on the line.

Lowdermilk said nothing was "kept secret" and Pizer apparently was misinformed "because it would be very foolish to recommend running a line along the Trail now."

Lowdermilk said large amounts of fill would be required, costing as much as the $15,000 he said Pizer had allocated for water line extension to a 100-house development he proposes.

No Record, So Hearing To Be Held

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES—A municipal zoning board hearing on the proposed Port Royal Beach Club will be held because of incomplete minutes of hearings held seven years ago.

The $250,000 Gulf-front building in the Gold Coast section of Naples has been carried on plans since prior to current zoning, but City Attorney Bill Berry told the City Council Wednesday a quick check failed to show that "there was ever a public zoning hearing for the specific use of that specific plot of ground."

The tract has 461 feet of front on Gordon Dr., and extends to the Gulf, opposite Port Royal Sub-division. The club is a non-profit corporation, membership limited to Port Royal property owners.

Thad Moss and W. A. Sheppard, attorney for the club, held zoning permission was given by adoption of the original zoning law, and by later zoning board acceptance of the subdivision plat, showing the club.

"All through the zoning law it refers to the site as a beach club, and clearly spells out what it's for," admitted Mayor W. Roy Smith. "But it doesn't spell it out so we can issue a permit."

Councilman Archie Turner noted a provision of the law listing such clubs requires special permits and a public hearing must be held before the permit is issued.

Naples zoning was adopted more than six years ago, after three public hearings, but records of the hearings could not be found. The mayor attributed the lack to an error by a former deputy clerk.

Rumors were persistent a year ago that nearby property owners in the "estate zone" might protest building the clubhouse.

The zoning board hearing will be March 31 and the permit may be then issued, if there is no opposition.

Contempt Plan May Halt Culls

Herald Bureau

IMMOKALEE — Collier County's efforts to control dumping of packing house cull vegetables may have a new enforcement method.

Ewell F. Moore of Immokalee, a commissioner, noted Tuesday at the county board meeting that tomato dumping has started again. Previous efforts to halt the practice have been ineffective.

Harold S. Smith, county attorney, suggested the county use its constitutional power to punish for "contempt of the commission."

He suggested violators be called in and warned, and then punished under the contempt provision if they continue to dump cull produce.

Twin Lakes Drain OK'd

EVERGLADES — A revised drainage plan and bond for street improvements in Twin Lake Unit 1 has been accepted by the Collier County Commission.

The sub-division had been the target of criticism last year when serious flooding developed there. The action followed several months of county negotiation with James M. Hess, Miami real estate broker and president of the Neapolitan Land Co., which owns the area.

Gymnast Team Invited to Meet

NAPLES — Seven boys and girls of the Naples Recreation Department gymnastics team have been invited to stage a gymnastics demonstration at a Hollywood track meet on St. Patrick's Day.

Patrick Yeager, Naples Recreation Dept. head said the event is being staged by the Hollywood Recreation Department.

The gym display by the national award winning squad will come between track events expected to include such stars as Ron Delaney of Villanova.

Lawmakers Plan Keys Meetings

UPPER KEYS — State Sen. Travis Gresham and State Rep. Bernie C. Papy and Ralph E. Cunningham Jr. will hold a meeting at Coral Shores School on March 18 at 8 p.m.

Residents of the Upper Keys may attend and present suggestions for new legislation in the 1959 session.

Sheriff Hendry to Assist

Everglades to Get Another Movie Set

Herald Bureau

EVERGLADES — Another movie is in production at Everglades with technical assistance from Sheriff E. A. (Doug) Hendry.

The show is one of a series of 30-minute telefilms entitled "Stakeout" which will be produced in the next seven months here and at Fort Myers, St. Petersburg, Tampa and Miami by Screen Gems Inc.

Shooting of the first of three to be made in Collier County will start Monday. Sheriff's deputies will be among the actors.

The last movie made here was Bud Schulberg's "Wind Across the Everglades," with Burl Ives and Gypsy Rose Lee.

Seawall Minimum Is Asked

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — A proposal for an ordinance requiring a minimum seawall throughout the Moorings area and connecting waterways was made to the Naples City Council Wednesday by Milton Link, developer.

He suggested concrete walls, held to an even five and a half feet above mean low tide, be required to provide general conformity through the section.

Link questioned prohibiting planting of St. Augustine grass in parkways. He said he had 30 years experience in landscaping, including service as director of parks at Miami Beach, and that St. Augustine is satisfactory when properly set out and watered.

The developer also denied he had ever asked the city to assume care of any property in the Moorings. This had brought a remark from City Manager Fred Lowdermilk that the Moorings plantings were unacceptable, because of St. Augustine grass.

A request by the Rev. Samuel S. Purvis of the Immokalee Church of God of Prophecy to conduct a fund campaign was refused because of a city ordinance against soliciting.

Purvis said the money was needed for the church orphanage at Cleveland, Tenn., and for "unemployed who now have to go out and eat garbage on the dumps."

The council asked for written details of a TV booster station survey, asked by George C. Remington, of Palm Beach.

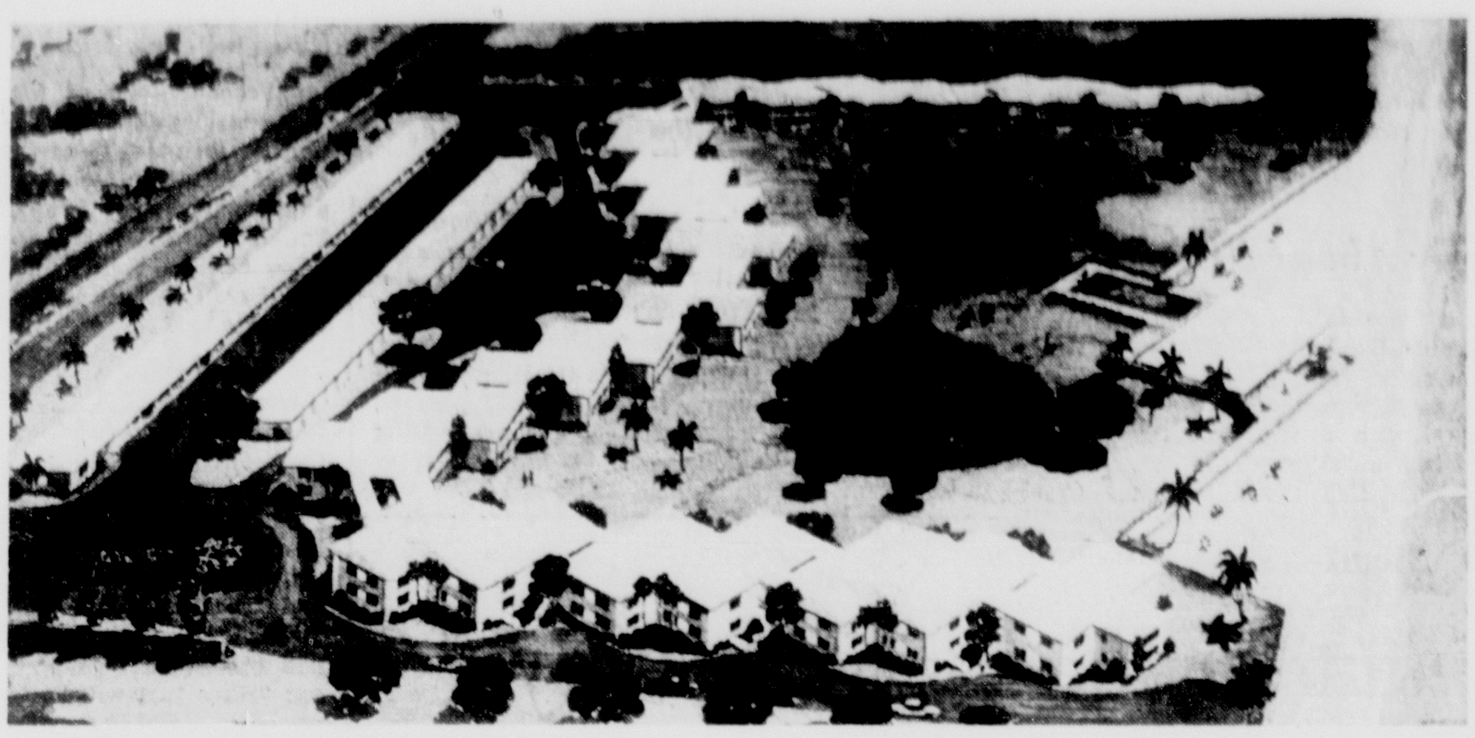
L. L. Hampton was named to the Recreation Center building committee, to replace C. A. Wicks, who resigned.

Appeal Affirmed

LAKELAND — The 2nd District Court of Appeal Wednesday affirmed the appeal of Alfred F. Henderson vs Arthur E. Soderberg from Circuit Court of Palm Beach County.

For Keys Protection

County Fire Fighting Fund Plan Is Studied



Work Starts Soon

June 1 has been set as the date for the start of construction of this 48-unit cooperative apartment at Naples, shown in architect's sketch. The structure will cost an estimated 1.5 million dollars, and will be on the Gulf in the Coquina Sands section of Naples. Watson and Berkau, agents for Naples investors building the apartment, said it will have one, two, and three bedroom units, with cost ranging from $29,500 to $49,000. Gulf Shore Colony Club, as it will be named, will have 525 feet of beach, swimming pool, lake, landscaping, parking, and a pitch and putt golf practice green. Naples Construction Co. has the contract.

Road Cash Transfers Draw Fire

By HARRY CAICEDO
Key West Bureau Chief

KEY WEST — Proposed local laws, money transactions affecting the sheriff's department, and assorted matters occupied the Monroe County Commission at its meeting Tuesday night.

Commissioner William Freeman Jr. suggested two possible bills for consideration by the Legislature. One would authorize county expenditures for fire protection on the Keys. The other would empower the board to transfer money from the road and bridge fund to the general revenue fund.

The second proposal drew objections from Commissioner Harry Harris, who insisted the county "needs every dollar it has" in the fund for road construction.

Freeman explained he had no intention of depriving the county of road-building funds. His suggestion, he said, was intended only as a bookkeeping measure to facilitate end-of-year budget balancing.

At the suggestion of Clarence Higgs, both bills were referred to committees.

The board voted to approve, for submission to the Legislature, bills establishing zoning rules and procedure in the county.

The need for a new radio transmitter for the sheriff's department to replace one damaged in the Sunday Courthouse fire touched off a discussion on how to obtain the equipment.

Sheriff John Spottswood said the transmitter and an antenna tower are urgently needed to resume disrupted deputy radio communications in the county. He said the cost would not exceed $5,000.

The board authorized county Clerk Earl Adams to advertise for the radio bids immediately. It also agreed to hold another meeting soon to consider the bids and, at the same time, authorize purchase.

Another matter concerning the sheriff was brought up by County Attorney Paul Sawyer, in behalf of Commissioner A. Maitland Adams, who was absent.

Adams suggested a resolution, approved last week, authorizing the sheriff to pay outstanding 1958-59 bills from 1959-60 budget be amended to specifically list these bills.

Higgs said it was his understanding the resolution was a "Mere formality" and the county would not be liable for the bills. His motion the resolution stand was approved.

The board also:

VOTED to accept the audit of Meecham Field submitted by Ernest Ramsey, CPA, and to make payment of $500 for the work.

AGREED to raise the maximum for purchases which can be made without calling for bids from $500 to $1,000.

AUTHORIZED leasing of a microfilming machine to record all county documents as a safeguard against fires and other hazards.

Space Man Will Call Monday

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST—The Key West Players are planning a "Visit to a Small Planet."

The Gore Vidal comedy about earthlings and outer space visitors whirs into motion Monday at the Barn Theatre for a week.

Handling most of the lead parts in the production — the Players' 65th — are veteran performers of the dramatic group. Among them are Morgan Dennis as "Kreton," the visitor from a planet where inhabitants do not eat, read thoughts and live eternally.

Charles Hoyt is a harrassed Pentagon general and John Sims performs as his aide.

Others in the cast are Jack and Ramona Clarke, W. Curry Harris, Ray Clarke, Anthony Skinner, and Shaun Crawford.

"Visit to a Small Planet" will be performed nightly, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Anti-Sub Study Starts Monday

KEY WEST — The second annual senior allied national officer course in anti-submarine warfare will begin at the Fleet Sonar School here Monday.

Some 25 ranking foreign officers, including a commodore from the Republic of Korea are scheduled to take part in the concentrated six-weeks course. Sixteen allied nations will be represented.

The course gets underway in the wake of a top-level parley being held at the School this week to analize operational problems connected with the growing menace of submarine warfare.

High ranking military and civilian brass from the U.S., Canada and United Kingdom are participating in that "tripartite symposium."

The allied officers scheduled to begin training Monday will study sonar problems during intenseive demonstrations, lectures and practical classes at sea.

Official Urges Polio Shots

FORT MYERS — Children and young adults who have not had polio shots should begin these at once, Dr. Joseph Lawrence, Lee-Collier County Health Director, declared, in reporting three cases of polio in the last six weeks.

All three cases were in Lee County, Dr. Lawrence said. The latest, a 19-month old boy, has been sent to Variety Children's Hospital at Miami. A two and a half year old boy is being treated in a Sarasota hospital.

The other victim was a 23-year-old man, who died in a Miami hospital six weeks ago.

Final Event Tonight

Concert Campaign Drive is Opened

MARATHON — Appearing tonight in the final Community conert of the season will be Miss Frances Bible, mezzo-soprano.

Well-known in music circles, Miss Bible will sing at the Key Colony Beach Convention Hall. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

As a solo recitalist, Miss Bible is a U.S. favorite, each season filling a long list of concert operatic, and orchestral dates. She is also a frequent soloist with choral groups.

The 1959-60 Keys Community Concert membership drive began Monday. Miss Camelia Campbell is in Marathon to help conduct the membership campaign.

She is a representative of the Community Concert Association, nation-wide organization.

Those taking memberships prior to Miss Bible's concert tonight will be admitted to it, as well.

Campaign booths have been placed at Marathon State Bank, The Keynoter, both the Marathon and Marathon Shores Post Offices and Food Fair.

Valerie M. Deal and Joan Damsey are chairmen in charge of membership.

Adult and student memberships are available.

Fugitive's Return To Be Sought

HAVANA—(UPI)—The Fidel Castro government said Wednesday it would ask extradition of Carlos Valls Ruiz, 21, former Cuban Air Force pilot, who fled to the U.S.

Ruiz landed at Key West Monday night in a light plane of the Cuban Air Force. He had a passport, but no U.S. visa. Imigration officials paroled him into the country and he went to Miami.

The Cuban fugitive said he had been held at Camp Colombia, Cuban Army headquarters near Havana, and had seized an opportunity to make his escape.

Easter Rites Are Announced

NAPLES — Plans for the annual union Easter sunrise service, sponsored by the Naples Ministerial Association, were announced Wednesday by the Rev. Walter Jessup, president.

The Rev. Tracy Spencer, First Presbyterian Church, will be in charge of the rites, at the natural stage in the rear of Caribbean Gardens at 6:15 a.m. Easter. Rev. Jimmy Hicks, Assembly of God, will deliver the sermon.

Mrs. A. E. Canant will direct the music. The Naples High School choir, under Miss Polly Jenkins, will sing. The offering goes to supply a Protestant chaplain for Naples Community Hospital.

Unlisted Takes Up The Time

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — When Mayor W. Roy Smith said a week ago the city council wastes too much time on items not on the agenda he made a point.

Clock-watching at the Wednesday council session revealed that in two hours and 22 minutes, 21 minutes were spent on agenda items, and the rest on things not listed.

Correspondence took five minutes, committee reports nine minutes, a sign change two, and an awning permit five minutes (it was denied). These were agenda items.

Nine minutes went for a TV booster discussion, 17 minutes for a charity drive permit (refused); 32 minutes on matters in the Moorings subdivision, and 63 minutes on discussion of the Port Royal Beach Club and search of city records. These weren't on the agenda.

Biggest surprise came when no new occupational licenses were asked — something that has happened not more than twice before.

Found After 3 Hours

Boys Fear Spanking, Flee From Parents

NAPLES — Two boys fled Tuesday night in East Naples in fear of parental punishment for playing at a forbidden pond. They were found after about three hours of searching and anxiety by police, neighbors and the family.

Capt. Orran P. Coates said Jackie Graker, 10, and Walter Mathis, 9, rolled up blankets and some food and headed out after Mathis' brother received a leg cut while swimming in the lake. The pair feared punishment and decided to visit a friend in Fort Myers.

The boys disappeared about 5 p.m. and were found at 8 p.m. near the Southern Oil Station on the Tamiami Trail by Luther Crenshaw, who brought them home on his scooter.

Several months ago in Naples a small child drowned while playing along a lake.

'Puffer' A Record Sea Haul

By CAROLYN U. COHEN
Herald Correspondent

ISLAMORADA — There were some surprising results when two fishermen, William G. Maize of Columbus, and William DeFries of Buffalo landed their "catch" on the beach here.

Coming in from a fishing trip the men spotted what appeared to be a black bag, about a half mile off shore. They circled the object and then took it in tow, using boat hooks through some loops on top of it.

Arriving ashore, several people helped pull it on the beach.

A gathering crowd warily circled "the thing," each one guessing what it might be, for it had no markings.

During the inspection a brave soul pulled a rope on the bag, and "things started to happen," according to Maize.

"That innocent looking bag came alive. With an explosion, the bag started to grow and open. You should have seen that crowd scatter," he said.

From a distance they saw, instead of a small bag, something that was 16 feet long and six feet wide. It was a life raft of the type used in World War II, accommodating 15 people.

Inside were signal flares, food, a salt water conversion unit, paddles, sea anchor, and equipment for survival.

"This was the biggest puffer I've caught in the five years I've been coming here. Phew, what an experience," Maize added.

New Officers

KEY WEST — New Officers of the Girls Service Organization of the USO-YMCA were installed Wednesday. They are Jeanne Carbonell, president; Dorothy Sherry, vice president; Barbara Twiehaus, secretary-treasurer, and Margie Tucker, historian.

Navy Chaplain Chief On Tour

JACKSONVILLE —(UPI)— Rear Adm. George Rosso, chief of Navy Chaplains, began a four-day tour of Naval installations here.

During his stay, Adm. Rosso will meet with officers of the naval air station here and confer with chaplains on religion and moral leadership programs.

The admiral goes to the Naval Air Station at Key West Saturday.

Does Will Meet At Tavernier

TAVERNIER — More than 250 are expected here March 20 and 21 for the annual state convention of Florida DOES. Registration and meetings will be at the Tavernier Elks Club.

Helen Baum of Nebraska, the national president of the DOES, will be a guest at a banquet on March 21.

Palm Beach Importing Broadway's 'Third Best Sport' with Cast

HARRY MUFSON closed his Eden Roc Cafe Pompeii after the Sammy Davis Jr., farewell Wednesday and will keep it dark until the March 18 opening of Maurice Chevalier. No acts of sufficient caliber are available for the interim period, he says. But there'll be no dull moments elsewhere in the hotel. The wonderful singing and performing instrumentalists, the Giovannis, will continue in the Mona Lisa Room and Duke Jenkins' group stays on at Harry's American Bar.

Miami's beauty, Sandra Wirth, now on NBC's County Fair as a regular, will do a dancing and dramatic stint on "Father Knows Best" March 16 . . . George DeWitt, emcee of "Name That Tune" will do a three-night weekend at the Havana Capri Casino

Frank Hale is bringing the entire Broadway production and cast of "Third Best Sport" down to the Palm Beach Royal Poinciana Playhouse for a March 16 opening. Plot concerns the happenings on a convention — in Palm Beach. Celeste Holm tops the cast.

Reviewers called him a "sleeper" hit . . . Robert Clary returns to the Diplomat Cafe Cristal, which he just left, on April 24 . . .

Such fancy talk from a comedian! Club Morocco's comic Bobby Barton, who was a horse trainer once, says that the line from "Macbeth" which goes "Tomorrow creeps in this petty pace from day to day" applied to one of his chargers named — "Tomorrow."

Cast of Holiday on Ice, which opens its Miami Beach stand at the exhibition hall on March 30, will also be busy between shows — posing for color and press stills for next year's edition. Costumes will be flown in from Omaha for the stunt.

Nasser Berates Commies

Blames Them For Iraq Revolt

DAMASCUS, Syria —(UPI) — United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser charged Wednesday that the Communists, seeking to split the Arab world, were to blame for the crisis that touched off the Iraqi revolt.

Nasser, addressing crowds of wildly cheering demonstrators, lashed back at Iraqi leaders for their attacks on his regime and served notice that local Reds would not succeed in dragging the U.A.R. into the Communist camp.

Speaking out for the first time since the short lived Mosul revolt, Nasser delivered his first direct assault on Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who appeared to have won his fight to crush the insurgents in northern Iraq.

Diplomats interpreted Nasser's speech as a calculated risk that Russia might take public offense and halt the arms and economic aid it has given Cairo since 1954.

While Nasser spoke, the Communist Party newspaper in Baghdad, Ittihad al Shaab, said the last rebel holdouts had surrendered in the northern Iraqi oil city of Mosul Tuesday night.

The Baghdad newspaper charged, however, that the U.A.R. was still massing dissident tribesmen and "Syrian nationalists" across the Iraqi border.

Nasser, speaking from a balcony overlooking El Jiwa Square, charged that Kassem and the Communists were attempting to sabotage Arab unity. He accused them of "organizing demonstrations" and "uttering slander" against the U.A.R.

But he declared that these tactics would not make the United Arab Republic "surrender our mission" of uniting the Arab world.

Nasser's speech followed Baghdad press and radio charges making it plain that the Kassem regime blames the U.A.R. for supporting the Sunday uprising in oil-rich north Iraq. The Iraqis said the mutiny was crushed and its leader, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, dead.

The U.A.R. chief told 2,000 Syrian student demonstrators that "those Communists demonstrating in Baghdad against your republic are foreign agents and used to get orders from outside our homeland. That's why we fought."

The students in Damascus had demonstrated Wednesday morning, angrily denouncing the "insults" transmitted against the U.A.R. by Iraq's radio during the last two days. The crowds in the streets chanted, "Kassem, traitor."

Nasser blasted Kassem 24 hours after Iraq expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats, apparently on the grounds that Iraq suspected the Cario regime of fometing the revolt.

Cairo reports said that at least 60 rebels, including some civilians, had been executed summarily after the Mosul uprising, and that Iraqi firing squads were still at work. There were indications that rebel elements were fleeing eastward toward Syria to seek asylum.

Fight Over Berlin Means A Nuclear War, Ike Warns

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower confronted Premier Nikita Khrushchev Wednesday with the grim prospect that if he starts shooting over Berlin he will have a nuclear war on his hands.

At a news conference Eisenhower talked with unusual bluntness about the kind of conflict which could develop in a matter of months if the Berlin crisis is carried to the point of armed clash.

Eisenhower hit two points hard:

1—He said that "we" are not going to fight a ground war in Europe — where the Soviets have 23 divisions in East Germany and another 150 plus in supporting positions in Eastern Europe and Russia itself.

2—Nuclear war would be a terrible and costly form of warfare, he said, and under some circumstances might be even self-defeating.

He declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

However, inquiry among responsible officials after the news conference left no doubt that Eisenhower was trying to say that, as he sees it, any conflict over Berlin would necessarily lead quickly and directly to a global, nuclear clash between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said firmly the U.S. will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis

Eisenhower said he believes the American public is more soberly aware of dangers in the Berlin situation than a lot of people aroung Washington.

A reporter had asked the President if he feels that the people recognize the dangers in Khrushchev's demand for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

The country knows how serious the situation is or it wouldn't-be voting all of the money that is being required for defense, Eisenhower promptly replied.

Eisenhower was asked if he thinks the Soviets should be given a plain warning that nuclear war might result if the Communists cut off access to West Berlin.

He replied that he doesn't know how you can free anything with nuclear weapons. He said that if there is any push in the direction of real hostilities over Berlin it is going to come from the side of the Soviets.

Eisenhower said he can't believe that anybody is going to make hostilities of this kind a reality.

In advance of the news conference Eiswnhower was de-

If It Becomes 'Free'

Reds Pledge Access Into West Berlin

BERLIN —(AP)— The Soviet Union and Communist East Germany Wednesday night pledged that they would guarantee free access to West Berlin if it became a free city.

The pledge was contained in a communique issued by the Communist East German government as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up his visit to East Germany.

The communique said:

"The government of the German Democratic Republic once again emphasized its readiness to guarantee the unhindered connection of the free city of West Berlin with the outside world, in both the eastern and western directions."

At the same time, the communique said, West Berlin's status as a free city could be guaranteed by the Big Four powers and by the U.N.

The communique did not spell out what form the guarantees would take.

(In Washington, a spokesman said the State Department had no comment on the Soviet-East German declaration. Privately officials said there was nothing new in the offer to guarantee access to West Berlin once it became a free city. The offer is based on the completely unacceptable condition that the Western Allies would give up their rights in Berlin, these officials said.)

In an East Berlin speech two days ago, Khrushchev mentioned that a minimum of troops from the Soviet Union, France, Britain and the U.S. could be stationed in West Berlin. Or, he said, the troops could come from neutral countries; meaning presumably from the U.N.

Then Khrushchev emphasized Tuesday that the Russians would have to serve alongside U.S., British and French troops in any token force based in West Berlin.

Nikita Talks 'Dry' But He Drinks 'Wet'

Nikita Khrushchev

. . . huggin' and gulpin'

BERLIN —(UPI)— Nikita Khrushchev, who has advised Soviet workers to cut down their drinking, was slugging brandies at a rate of one every 15 minutes here.

Between gulps, the Soviet premier would devour one or two small, spicy sausages, then push on through the crowd to shake some more hands, and hug a few more women. The younger the women, the tighter Nikita squeezed.

The scene was a reception for 900 prominent Communists, German and foreign, at the sprawling Soviet embassy building on Unter Den Linden.

Khrushchev wore a simple black single-breasted suit, bedecked with "Workers Hero" medals. He spent three hours at the reception.

High Winds Hit Alabama Area

CAMDEN, Ala. —(AP)— High winds during a thunderstorm and possibly a small twister knocked down several farm buildings and unroofed a house in the Oakhill community Wednesday.

The Highway Patrol said there were no reports of any one injured. The rural community is 14 miles southeast of Camden.

A car was blown off the highway, the patrol said, but cut back on the road and continued on its way.

Hollywood Police Find No Bookies

But Herald Man Made Seven Bets

Hollywood Bureau Chief

HOLLYWOOD — A police bookmaking investigation touched off by a Miami Herald story hasn't turned up any bookies, Chief Philip A. Thompson declared Wednesday.

A Herald reporter openly placed seven bets with bookie runners in Hollywood, Hallandale and Dania last Friday and Saturday mornings. The story appeared in Sunday's paper.

"The men The Herald said were bookies aren't," Chief Thompson said. "They signed affidavits to that effect."

He said he plans to release the details of his investigation in a few days.

"Bookmaking is not wide open in Hollywood as the story claimed," the chief said. "I do not deny there is bookmaking. I never have. My men are working on it, just as they have in the past."

The Herald reporter found bookie runners working around bars, restaurants and oceanfront hotels.

In Hallandale the reporter was told not to worry.

"They (the police) don't show until post time (1:50 p.m.)," said a man called The Champ, who took a $5 wager outside a Federal Hwy. bar.

Hallandale Police Chief Robert Aiken said Wednesday his men had arrested a drunk who later identified himself as the man depicted by The Herald as The Champ.

"He says he isn't a bookie," Aiken said. "He says he's a disabled veteran who gets $225 a month pension and spends it all on liquor."

The man identified himself as Allen C. Williams, of West Palm Beach.

Chief Aiken said:

"I think my record speaks for itself. We've made 57 gambling arrests since I came here 10 months ago. Ten of them were for bookmaking."

Aviation Agency's Gag Investigated

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The Congressional Watchdog Committee on Governmental Secrecy is investigating suppression by the Federal Aviation Agency of information sought in connection with the Feb. 3 crash of an American Airlines' Electra.

MOSS

This was revealed Wednesday in a letter from Rep. John Moss (D., Calif.), chairman of the House government information subcommittee, to E. R. Quesada, head of the FAA.

Moss in his letter referred to stories in The Miami Herald disclosing that the FAA has suppressed reports on difficulties encountered with a new type altitude measuring instrument installed in Lockheed Electras and Boeing 707 jets.

Moss asked Quesada to spell out the FAA's legal authority, if any, "for restricting access to the reports."

He disclosed that committee investigators have made a preliminary check, but did not discuss their findings.

The Herald reported last month that the FAA received complaints on the new altimeter from pilots prior to the American crash.

The new turbo-prop airliner, which fell into New York's East River while attempting to land at LaGuardia Airport, had the new altimeter. Sixty-five persons were killed in the crash.

The surviving flight engineer said after the crash that "there might have been a mix-up with those new altimeters. ". . . There was some difficulty reading them."

Some pilots complained to the FAA about a "sticking needle" in the altimeter.

After first imposing stiffer landing restrictions on the Electras, the FAA announced the air carriers could resume normal operations with the planes if the new altimeters were replaced with a type now widely in use.

The FAA on several occasions refused to disclose the nature or number of complaints.

Officials also refused to comment on why the FAA did not act on reports of operating difficulties with the new altimeter before the accident.

Isles Take Stride to Statehood

House Question: 50 Or Not 50?

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate voted Wednesday night to make Hawaii the 50th state, giving its approval by a vote of 76 to 15.

This long step toward statehood for the islands in the Pacific came after only a single day of debate.

That debate was punctuated by charges that with Hawaii a state, the 50th star in the flag would be tinged with red.

The House set the stage for action today on an almost identical bill. It voted 337-69 formally bringing a statehood bill up for House debate.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee said he would propose amendments to his own house bill to make it conform exactly to the Senate version.

The final House vote would thus send the measure directly to the White House and avoid House-Senate conferences.

The first House test, coming while the Senate was debating the statehood issue, brought the Hawaii bill formally before the House for debate and amendments.

Voting for the resolution were 214 Democrats and 123 Republicans. Forty-eight Democrats, most of them Southerners, and 21 Republicans voted against taking up the bill.

One of the many false impressions most Americans have about Hawaii is that its most famous word, "aloha," means goodby or farewell.

Aloha also means hello, Hawaiians explain. In some of the islands, aloha also means good morning, good evening, and I love you.

Senate OKs Extended Draft Act by 90 to 1

Bill Now Goes Back To House

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate, with only one dissent, Wednesday approved a four-year extension of the draft act urgently requested by the Eisenhower administration.

The 90-1 vote came after the Armed Services Committee chairman, Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), called on the Senate to show the U.S. "means what it says when it says we must maintain the military strength of the U.S."

The Senate previously defeated one move to trim the extension to two years and another one which would have set up a military manpower commission to study the draft law and possible "alternatives."

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed an almost identical extension earlier. It can accept the Senate version or demand a conference to hammer out the differences.

The only senator voting against the four-year extension was Sen. William Langer (R., N.D.).

The Senate beat down by 67-24 an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) to limit the extension to two years. Morse conducted a pint-sized filibuster Tuesday night to an almost empty Senate chamber on the proposed extension.

He said the four-year extension will neither "safeguard American security" nor "frighten the Russians."

Defeated by a 68-24 vote was an amendment by Sen. Francis Case (R., S.D.) which would have set up the study commission.

In addition to continuing present machinery for drafting young men aged 18 through 26, the Senate bill continues the suspension of pre-Korean peacetime ceilings on the strength of the armed services; the payment of benefits to dependents of certain enlisted men, and the authority to draft physicians and dentists.

It also provides authority for the continued payment of extra pay, at the rate of $100 to $250 monthly, to newly-commissioned physicians and dentists and $100-a-month additional pay for veterinarians.

This is the amendment added by the Senate which required that the bill go back to the House instead of straight to the White House.

picted as determined to hold military spending to the 41 billion dollar level of his budget.

Some of the criticism of the spending plans has been based on the contention that not enough attention is given to the forces needed for limited — or non-nuclear — war which could involve big ground forces.

Eisenhower said the adequacy of free nation defenses is not going to be particularly strengthened by quick action such as that suggested by Democrats in Congress to maintain the Army at 900,000 men and the Marine Corps at 200,000.

The army is scheduled to be cut back to 870,000 men and the marines to 175,000 by June 30.

We're not going to fight a ground war in Europe, Eisenhower said. That being true, he asked what good it would do to send more divisions to the continent.

Noting that the Communists have 175 divisions, Eisenhower said why in the world would we dream of fighting a ground war with them.

Strength in heart and head are as important as strength in the military, the President went on.

At one point Eisenhower was asked if he feels the proposed size of U.S. ground forces is sufficient to cope with a "brush" war.

He answered that if a defense force of this size couldn't handle such a war it would have grown beyond the "brush" stage and military leaders would have to think in greater terms. He did not elaborate on this point.

Wednesday's session touched also on these matters:

KHRUSHCHEV — Eisenhower said that he doesn't think much of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that Russian and the Western allies station token military forces in West Berlin.

A one point, Eisenhower referred to Khrushchev's proposals as the premier's wisecracks or whatever he calls them. He said he (Eisenhower) could not be expected to react instantly to wisecracks.

JOB BENEFITS — The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

Eisenhower said he regards the problem of providing for the unemployed as a state responsibility, but that his mind is not closed to the possibility of adjustment.

SPENDING — Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he might be willing to spend more money for defense if more federal revenue was available.

With some show of irritation, Eisenhower went on to say he is tired of talk of having either a balanced budget or adequate national security. A balanced budget, he added, is a vital part of such security.

Suppose, Eisenhower theorized, defense spending should go up five, seven or 10 billion dollars. That means, he said, we would have a garrison state.

It was at that point that Eisenhower said somewhat heatedly that he doesn't see any of those calling for greater defense spending coupling it with a demand for higher taxes.

Rules Committee, argued in vain that Harry Bridges and his aides "control the life blood of Hawaii."

Bridges is head of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union which, although expelled from the CIO for left-wing tendencies, is strongly organized on the Hawaii waterfront and in the sugar and pineapple industries.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee, said a personal investigation in Hawaii last December convinced him that residents of the islands are more alert to the dangers of communism than people are anywhere else in the country.

"I do not believe that Communists have a strangle hold on the islands or that they would send four Soviet agents to Congress," O'Brien asserted.

O'Brien was replying directly to a protest by Rep. John R. Pillion (R., N.Y.), who charged that Communists "influence Hawaiian life to an alarming degree" through Bridges' union and others.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R., Calif.) said it may be true that Hawaii has a Communist problem. But so does California, he said, and so does the U.S. as a whole.

And Sen. Russell B. Long (D., La.) said Hawaii has fought the Communists to the point that its Subversive Activities Control Board estimated recently there were only 15 "hard-shelled Communists" left there.

Voting for Hawaiian statehood were 30 Republicans and 46 Democrats. One Republican, Sen. John Marshall Butler (R., Md.), joined 14 Southern Democrats in voting against it.

Jobless Total Up Slightly

Employment Rolls Increase, Too

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Unemployment edged up by 25,000 last month to a total of 4,749,000, the government reported Wednesday. It said the increase was so small as to be insignificant.

A report by the Labor and Commerce Departments showed employment also increased by 16,000 to 62,706,000 in February. The stability marked the usual pause between heavy winter cutbacks in jobs and the normal spring pickup.

The number of jobless workers was 724,000 lower than in February, 1958, the depth of the 1957-58 recession. There also were 734,000 more persons holding jobs than in February a year ago.

But even so unemployment last month was 1,500,000 higher than in February, 1957, before the recession began.

The report said that last month the seasonally adjusted percentage of the labor force without jobs held steady at six per cent for the third month in a row. Many economists regard this figure as a key statistic in the job picture.

In addition, the relatively small changes in February employment and unemployment fell within the range of normal statistical errors that might be made by the government in compiling its job estimates.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said the figures showed the unemployment situation was "growing worse" and is now a drag on economic recovery.

Meany said the nation cannot wait any longer for government action to relieve suffering of millions of unemployed citizens.

In this connection, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he believed any further extension of emergency jobless benefits should be handled by the states although he was willing to listen to arguments.

Congressional Democrats are pushing for an extension of the program to prevent several hundred thousand unemployed from running out of benefits when the temporary program ends March 30.

Moon Makes 'Pass'

It's No Missile, It's Just Venus

A spectacular passing of the planet Venus by the moon in clear skies over south Florida Wednesday night triggered hundreds of telephone calls to weather bureau and newspaper switchboards.

Some space-age callers asked if the shining star seen almost directly over the moon's thin crescent was a space missile launched without notice. But most, said Weather Bureau Forecaster Leonard Purdue, had no idea at all what the display could mean.

Pardue said the phenomenon was "a conjunction—really not a rarity — in which the two heavenly bodies pass some millions of miles apart."

The weather man said that usually the apparent meeting of the two heavenly bodies is not noticed because it occurs in daylight or after moon-set.

Wednesday night's display became visible about 6:30 p.m. and lasted until moonset at 8:34 p.m.

Pardue said he once saw an even more spectacular "conjunction" in which Venus appeared to travel a path that took it directly behind the moon's bulk — where the star became temporarily invisible.

No ring or halo was cast around the moon while the planet was obscured behind it, Pardue said. He added this is considered evidence that the moon has no atmosphere in which a halo effect can be produced.

Pardue said these conjunctions occur several times a year. How close?

The moon is a quarter-million miles from the earth and Venus is more than 20 million miles distant, he said.

Wednesday's night's spectacle should have been visible everywhere that darkness prevailed, said Pardue.

60 Arrive Today

Bankers to Get Red Carpet Tour

Some 60 Northern financiers arrive here today for a red-carpet tour which state and local officials hope will heighten their interest in buying some 25 million dollars worth of bonds to pay for Dade County road projects.

The group is due at Miami International Airport at 5 p.m. from Cape Canaveral, where the Yankee businessmen were taken for a brief tour after visiting St. Petersburg, which is also on the verge of putting road bonds up for sale.

B. R. Fuller Jr., executive director of the Florida Development Commission, said the first-hand inspection by the potential bond-buyers "could result in savings of hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest costs" on the bond sale.

Dade County, backed by the Development Commission and the State Road Board, will put up for sale in April 25 million dollars worth of bonds. Most of the money will be used on the 36th St. Expressway project.

Fuller said he felt "this tour will generate among these investment people a real enthusiasm for Florida."

Both the St. Petersburg and Greater Miami areas, he said, "have so much to offer that we thought these bankers should see them first-hand."

The financiers, most of them from major banks and insurance companies in New York and Chicago, represent "virtually every major institution which buys or sells public securities," Fuller said.

They are being accompanied on the tour by Fuller, Development Commission Chairman Sam T. Dell Jr., Road Board Chairman Joe Grotegut, Road Board Member William Singer of Miami and Development Commission Member R. B. Gautier of Miami.

The group arrived at St. Petersburg Tuesday night and spent Wednesday being briefed by Pinellas County officials on a 16.8 million dollar bond issue to finance the Pinellas Bayway. The group was to fly to Cape Canaveral today after a tour of St. Petersburg.

The bankers will look over airport facilities after arriving here, then go by limousine to the Fontainebleau Hotel for a reception and dinner.

The group will be briefed on the 36th St. project on Friday by Singer and other road engineers and officials. On Saturday engineers will take the bond-buyers on an inspection trip.

The visit will end at a luncheon Saturday with an address by McGregor Smith, board chairman of Florida Power and Light Co., and a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Industry.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

I KNOW a man who passed his civil service tests at the head of the class. He is slightly handicapped, and after much examination the civil service doctor turned him down.

BELL

"Why?" asked the applicant. "My handicap won't hinder me the slightest on this job."

"I know," the doctor admitted. "But the city is being sued for damages by one of its own attorneys because he fell off a city-owned chair. It could happen to you." So let's start falling off chairs????

Well, Bill Pallot didn't fall off a chair because he was handicapped. The chair tipped over backwards and he was thrown for quite a lot of yardage. It was an interesting case (Bill just lost it) because the money he was asking, as damages, wasn't coming from city funds. It was a pension fund, into which Bill had been paying along with other employes.

When Don Miller's letter came, inviting me to a live-model showing of lingerie, at 2:15 p.m. today, I figured the chairman of the board at Jordan Marsh had goofed.

But no: he meant it. They're really inviting men to the show. Of course there'll be women too. But I venture to predict the attendance of men will be 100 per cent of the invitation list.

National Summary

Snow is expected to spread into the central Appalachians and into New England Thursday while rain works into the Atlantic states accompanied by thunderstorms in the southeast. Clearing and cooler weather is anticipated in the mid Atlantic states and Carolinas, although showers are likely in Florida.

Snow flurries will be scattered from the Great Lakes region into the Appalachians and may reach as far south as Tennessee.

Snow flurries were noted through the Rockies, central and northern plains, and in the upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region Wesneday but cool dry weather extended over most of the west early in the day.

Some rain began to show up in the Pacific northwest in advance of another surge of moist air from the ocean.

Precipitation is forecast to spread inland, with snow in the mountains as far east as Idaho and Montana, while scattered snows advance across the northern Rockies to the Dakotas on Thursday.

Showery conditions will replace steady rains in Washington and Oregon and a few showers may cross the border into norther California.

Teacher Career Plan OKd by School Board

By GREG TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — The School Board Wednesday voted to adopt the Broward County career increment program and to amend the budget so four additional teachers can be hired.

Both votes were unanimous. Chairman Wesley Parrish was absent.

Superintendent Raymond Maxwell reported that two teachers at Driftwood Elementary, one at Oakland Park Elementary and one at Bennett Elementary are needed to "limit excessive class loads" until the end of the school year.

"The budget is squeezed on teacher salaries," said Maxwell, who recommended the amendments.

The board voted to send the career increment program to the State Department of Education for approval.

If approved by the state, the program could be started next year, although probably another school year would be needed for evaluations before any increments could be awarded.

Dr. Wayne Vonarx, director of personnel, said 204 teachers would be eligible to apply for salary increases under the plan.

The vote came after John Calvin, vice chairman, voiced the opinion that the Legislature may knock out the law which required that such a program be adopted in each county.

"But we must present a plan to the state or our budget will not be approved," he said.

The voluntary program provides an increment of $1,000 after 11 years' service to "exceptional" teachers who prove to a committee of their peers that they have met the standards outlined in the program.

After four more years a teacher may apply for a second increment of $1,000.

In other action, the board voted that parents who drive cars in Florida must submit proof of a state auto tag before their children may be enrolled in school. The policy becomes effective Sept. 1.

Teachers Celebrate

FORT LAUDERDALE — A group of Broward teachers threw a party Wednesday after the School Board voted approval of a local career increment program.

They are members of the committee which wrote the local program. They celebrated with coffee and cookies in an office at the school administration building.

"We've worked about 30 days in sessions plus many hours at home on the program," explained Dexter Hagman, committee chairman.

Laundry Ruling Upset

Judge's Client Loses Again

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

WILTON MANORS — The Board of Adjustment's variance allowing Pyro Inc.'s coin laundry to operate in a Business 1 zone on Wilton Dr. was upset Wednesday by Circuit Judge Richard Sauls.

The decision marked resident Henry Riebling's second court win over the city in the long dispute. Riebling, represented by Attorney Paris Singer, lives at 2400 NE Eighth Ave. near the laundry.

The city's zoning ordinance places laundries in a Business 2 zone. Pyro has been operating under the variance it obtained Jan. 5.

The first suit came after its attorney, Municipal Judge William Leonard, asked the City Council — at a special meeting called for another purpose — to allow coin laundries in all Business 1 zones.

The council changed the ordinance accordingly. Judge James Walden voided the change because no public notice was given. Leonard then obtained the variance.

Judge Sauls' reversal noted that the laundry's building permit application was made in the name of owner Jack Spector, by Leonard as agent, but the variance appeal was made by Pyro.

A tenant cannot apply for a variance of zoning that was in effect prior to the leasing of the property, the court ruled.

City Attorney William Miller moved to quash Riebling's suit, claiming it was improperly served. Judge Sauls denied the motion.

Monday, Leonard went to the Zoning Board to obtain approval of the change he originally requested. Its recommendation to allow coin laundries in any Business 1 zone will be considered by the council next Tuesday.

Mink Cape Shown To 'Porky' Jury

Volunteer Divers Haul Body from New River
... Milton Reeser, 74, tumbled from seawall

Defense Assails Police

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — The white mink cape that Donald (Porky) Baines is accused of fencing was admitted as evidence after an all-day battle between counsel Wednesday in Criminal Court.

In the morning, Judge Louis Weissing refused to accept it.

"There's a serious question in my mind as to the evidence," he said after Defense Attorney Ray Sandstrom implied the fur had been tampered with.

Sandstrom showed that a deputy — later identified as Ben Grigsby — attached a store price tag to the cape while Furrier Stephen Chohany was trying to identify it as stolen.

Chohany later testified that he could have made "possible identification" without the tag.

"I can show how the tag was taken off," said Prosecutor Wallace Allbritton when the exhibit was denied.

He recalled Deputy James O'Toole, who said the tag was on the cape when he found it Dec. 29 at Baines' nightclub; and Grigsby, who said he took it off before showing the fur to Chohany, then put it back the same night.

It was late afternoon before Weissing admitted the cape over Sandstrom's repeated motions for mistrial. The state then rested its case. The defense will open when the trial resumes at 9:30 a.m. today.

Chris di Bona, who is accused of selling the cape to Baines, invoked his constitutional rights and refused to testify when called by the state Wednesday. His trial is set for Monday.

Sandstrom implied that Baines bought the cape as a birthday present for his wife. Police said he admitted knowing it was stolen.

"There's no evidence to show he knew it was stolen when he received it," Sandstrom argued. Weissing denied his motion for a directed acquittal.

Under cross-examination, Fort Lauderdale Detectives Lloyd Pickard and Edward McNeil denied intimidating Baines' employes.

Pickard said, however, that he told Employe Patricia Jordan last July "she shouldn't go to Porky's Hideaway again for her own benefit."

The jury was repeatedly sent from the courtroom as Sandstrom sought to establish "interest, prejudice and bias" by police against his client.

When Weissing refused to let the jury hear this line of questioning, Sandstrom "proffered" it into the record for possible consideration by an appeal court if he loses his trial.

Scientific Approach to Bread

WELL, NOW, THIS BUSINESS of whether you can make Italian bread with Fort Lauderdale water is going to be settled, more or less, in an appropriately scientific manner.

Mrs. Ray Turner, who lives on Tortugas Lane in the southwest and says the water just won't work for Italian bread, is going to get a jug of the same kind of water that goes to the home of Mrs. Matthew Oliveri, who lives on NE Third Ct. in the Victoria Park neighborhood and says the water works fine.

The city's utilities director, Charlie McKinney, has been following the discussion with some interest, and he's going to furnish the water for the experiment.

Mrs. Turner no doubt gets water from the Old Dixie Plant on State Rd. 7, because she lives not far from there. Mrs. Oliveri probably gets it from the Fiveash Plant on Prospect Rd., although that's not certain because in a section of town which is not close to either plant the waters are likely to be mixed.

Actually, Charlie says, the waters chemically are practically the same. Old Dixie's water has a little more iron in it, but he doesn't think that would kill Mrs. Turner's yeast.

However, she says positively her family has eliminated every possible cause except water, and since the bread comes out fine with distilled water, she's convinced that's the problem.

We shall see.

Schools Shone at Trade Fair

THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLASSES of the county high schools did themselves proud at the Trade Fair last weekend. The woodwork was particularly outstanding. First prize winner was a complete dinette set of table and chairs, plus a lamp; it was the joint work of three Attucks High School boys, William Heath, Vernon Glaulon and Tyrone Johnson . . . The Sun Dial School for severely retarded children, which operates on a very slender shoestring, had a problem in keeping tires on the station wagon which serves as its school bus, but Bob McNaull at General Tires has taken at least that one off their minds. He's going to keep it equipped with tires. It seems incredible, but Mrs. Carl Steckling, who drives the bus, covers more than 100 miles a day with it . . . Fort Lauderdale High School's annual junior play comes off tonight and Friday at 8 p.m. at the school auditorium. It's the one called "The Curious Savage."

Can a Truck Be a Sign?

IS A TRUCK PARKED in a residential neighborhood with a big sign on it a billboard? There's a lady in northeast Lauderdale who thinks it is, and the owner should be prohibited from parking it there.

She lives in an R-3 zone and thinks, in the first place, that the truck parking ordinance which applies to R-1 and R-1-A and may soon be extended to R-2 should apply also to R-3. Apparently others think so too, because some months ago the City Commission considered it; as a result, it has now asked the Planning and Zoning Board to study the matter of extending it to R-2.

This particular truck with its big sign, the woman complains, is parked in the neighborhood every evening and over weekends. "It's just like having to look at a billboard. If signs are prohibited here, why not this truck?"

The city attorney's office is sympathetic, but doesn't see how the sign law could be applied.

Hopes Dim For U.S. Port Aid

By ERWIN POTTS
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Port commissioners were told Wednesday there is little chance that the port will receive a much-hoped-for $1,650,000 from the federal government in 1959.

Port Attorney Ted Cabot, who conferred with lawmakers in Washington, said it will be "extremely difficult" to get the funds, which were left out of President Eisenhower's budget proposal in January.

The $1,650,000 was to be an initial appropriation to carry out the first year's phase of the work of extending and deepening the turning basin and channel so that the port could accommodate super tankers and bigger ships than are now being handled.

But Cabot added there is still some hope, and urged the board to continue its efforts for securing the funds.

He recommended that a port representative appear before Congress and give a "professional and factual representation of justification for the funds."

The commission agreed that Cabot, Port Manager R. T. Spangler and Commissioner Robert McConnaughey should appear for the port at the congressional sessions.

In other action, the commission:

HEARD a report from Cabot and Spangler concerning their discussions with American Short Line Railroad Association representatives over a union's efforts to invoke a 17-year-old contract with the Port Authority.

Cabot said he believes the dispute with the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes can be settled by a series of conferences.

Bookie Fined $300 At Pompano

POMPANO BEACH—James F. Sharkey, 62, of 36 NE 19th Ave., was fined $300 in City Court Wednesday after he pleaded "nolo contendre" to a charge of bookmaking.

Sharkey was arrested by Pompano detectives at his sundries store on Atlantic Blvd. Feb. 14 after two Fort Lauderdale detectives placed two $20 bets with him.

The special trial was preceded by a profusion of efforts by Clayton Nance, Sharkey's attorney, to have the charge quashed on legal technicalities.

Sharkey decided not to contest the charge before it actually got to trial.

Meanwhile Sharkey faces a bribery charge in Court of Crimes, arising out of the bookmaking arrest. Detective Sgt. George Decker claims Sharkey attempted to bribe him not to make the arrest.

Elderly Angler Is Drowned When Hook Snags on Rock

By PAT MANGAN
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Grief finds expression thorugh the homely little facts of life.

"We were just going to buy him some new pajamas," said Mrs. Paul King, crying as she learned her elderly father had drowned in New River.

"I came out to talk to him about it and he wasn't there," she said.

Her father, Milton Reeser, 74, had tumbled from the seawall in back of the house next door. He'd been fishing since 9 a.m.

It was just before noon when Mrs. King, 461 SW Fifth Ave., began to look for him.

"There was the pail he'd been sitting on," she said, pointing. His fishing rod was found in the water, the hook caught in a rock.

"I saw him pulling at it at 11:30," said Willie Lee Woodbury, 37, of 1111 NW Fourth St., who'd been crabbing across the river. "It looked like the line was caught."

"He was pretty weak," a neighbor said of Reeser. Mr. Reeser had a history of heart disease.

Bob Lataille, Howard Wheale and Bud Cresse of the Broward Recovery Unit, associated with the Red Cross, found his body shortly before 3 p.m. just a few feet from the seawall. The discovery culminated a three-hour search by police and harbor patrolmen. Navy divers arrived just before the body was found.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeser came here in September from Denver, Pa., to make their home with the Kings. Reeser was a retired shoe factory employe.

Fannin Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Hollywood Wars on Skunks

The Stinkers Get the Gaspipe

HOLLYWOOD — City Manager Joseph (Frank Buck) Watson issued this order to his skunk-hunting crew Wednesday morning:

"Get rid of the skunks — but don't bring 'em back alive."

After a moment of deep thought, he added:

"And I'd just as soon you didn't report back to me in person. Telephone will be fine."

The safari set off for the "jungles" between Johnson St. and Hollywood Blvd., near the Seaboard Airline Railroad.

The crew fumigated everything that resembled a skunk hole by attaching a hose to their jeep's exhaust pipe.

"We'll never know how many skunks are killed by poisoning them this way with carbon monoxide," said Watson, a retired skunk-hunter himself. "But it's safe."

City commissioners were handed the delicate problem Tuesday by a resident who complained of an increasing skunk smell from the overgrown area.

They passed it to Watson and suggested he contact the landowners — especially since they couldn't decide how to get rid of the skunks.

"I've written the landowners, giving them 60 days to clear off that section," said Watson Wednesday. "I told them the property was infested with skunks, snakes, rats and other pests."

The skunks and their pals holed up in the "jungle" as civilization pushed in from all sides.

Now it looks as if they will soon be ex-stinked.

"Poor 'lil skunks," moaned a soft-hearted blonde.

Frog Hunters Make Plea

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The Pardon Board was asked Wednesday to wipe out the jail term given two frog-hunters for conspiracy to take alligators in Broward County.

Norman E. Padgett, 35, and Tillman C. Thompson, 32, were convicted in 1956 of this violation of the game laws and sentenced to pay a $450 fine and spend three months in jail.

The men want the board to commute the sentence to the fine and let the jail term go by the boards.

Both have large families and the board was told that they would have to put them on state welfare if the fathers are forced to go to jail.

Ford Foundation Backs Eight Plays

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Ford Foundation announced Tuesday that plays of eight American playwrights will be produced next fall at foundation expense.

The grant program for playwrights, totaling $110,000, is the last in a series of grants to creative artists. Recently the programs have aided poets, writers, painters, sculptors, theater directors and musical artists.

The works of the eight playwrights will be staged at professional, community and university theaters.

The playwrights, their plays, and the theaters that will produce them are:

KENNETH CAMERON, New York, "The Physician for Fools," Margot Jones Theater, Dallas, Tex.

JOSH GREENFELD, New York, "Clandestine on the Morning Line," Arena Stage, Washington, D. C.

JOHN B. HARDING, Malibu, Calif., "Kinderspiel," Boston University Theater, Boston.

SIDNEY MICHAELS, Los Angeles, "The Plaster Bambino," Actor's workshop, San Francisco.

PHILLIP PRUNEAU, New York, "The Morgan Rock," Omaha Community Theater, Omaha, Neb.

MRS. SEYRIL SCHOCHEN, Ithaca, N.Y., "The Moon Besieged," Stanford University Theater, Palo Alto, Calif.

JOHN VLAHOS, Westport, Conn., "The Golden age of Pericles Pappas," Tulsa Community Theater, Tulsa, Okla.

LIONEL WIGGAM, New York, "Inside Emily Payne," Erie Playhouse, Erie, Pa.

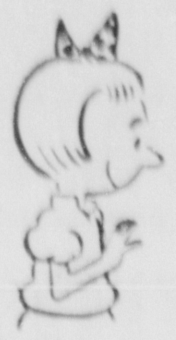
Herald's Funnies Will Be Funnier When Flibbertys Arrive Sunday



SIS

WENDY

So you think the funny papers aren't funny enough? Well, the Flibbertys are coming Sunday to prove you're wrong.

Meek, mellowed and muddled Stan Flibberty leads his family onto The Herald's famed comic pages Sunday and all four of his wage-eaters will be close behind.

There's Fran, his frau, who took him for better or worse and decided to make him better. Sharp-eyed and sharp-tongued, she's been at work on the project for a few years and feels there is still much to be done.

You'll see her at work Sunday with Wendy the teenage daughter, and Butch, the Flibbertys' pre-teen son.

Wendy finds life full of "thrills and throbs," and only one thing can depress her—the Flibberty family.

Butch is a whiz-bang boy who acquired his mother's knack for needling, and his father's knack of getting into trouble.

And just to keep things from ever getting dull, there's a small miss-ile of dynamite named Sis. As the youngest member of the Flibberty clan she's working all the time to keep from being pushed around—and pushes well in return.

Stan, Fran, Wendy, Butch and Sis are all lined up for some enjoyable antics in The Herald every Sunday.

And the tail that's wagging the whole family belongs to a pooch named Geddown. He was supposed to have a real moniker, but since he joined the household everyone yelled, "Geddown," and the name stuck.

You'll have to agree it's a funny family in more ways than one when you see them each Sunday in

Surprise!—Pie in Purse

KANSAS CITY —(AP)— The woman with the big handbag had a record as a shoplifter, so two detectives took her to headquarters.

At the booking desk, Patrolman Emmett Foot followed the usual procedure of upending the handbag to dump its contents for inventory.

Splash! Splatter! Consternation.

There was only one item in the bag—a soft, gooey raisin pie.

The woman, Katherine Tolefree, 22, was held for investigation.

Terrorist Is Killed

The New York Times Service

KUALA LUMPUR — Police disclosed that Siu Mah, No. 1 terrorist in Malaya, has been killed after a brief engagement in the jungles of Perak State.

Siu Mah was state secretary of Perak, and since 1956 had been empowered to issue Malayan Communist Party directives subject to certain conditions on behalf of Chin Peng, the secretary general, who is now in a haven of South Siam.

Siu Mah was also leader of the terrorist group that ambushed and killed Sir Henry Gurney, then high commissioner of Malaya, as he was driving up a winding road to a hill resort in Pahang in October, 1956.

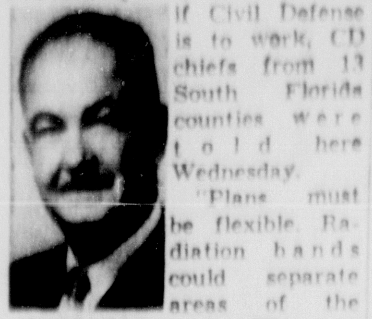
County May Be Isolated in War, CD Chief Says

By GREG TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Each county must regard itself as a potential island, surrounded by bands of radiation, if Civil Defense is to work, CD chiefs from 13 South Florida counties were told here Wednesday.



Tarkington

"Plans must be flexible. Radiation bands could separate areas of the state. This potential isolation means each county must be a self-sustaining operation, but still plan to work with other counties in the area," Col. H. W. Tarkington, state CD director, said.

But, he said, Civil Defense needs money if plans for area survival are to become a reality.

"We have a preliminary survival plan for the area. Our problem is to up-date it and implement it," said Tarkington.

Dade County Sheriff Tom Kelly estimated $5,000 is needed for this. He said about $3,000 has been committed in Dade. The other counties were asked to raise the rest.

Tarkington said he would figure county shares on a population basis. He told the CD representatives to ask for funds from their local governing bodies.

Besides helping raise money, the group was asked to assist in making the area plan operational, complete county defense plans, and to educate the public.

"Civil Defense is the greatest humanitarian effort ever to confront people anywhere, because we have entered the nuclear and space ages," Tarkington said.

"I don't believe anyone will intentionally set the world afire. But we may reach the point of frustration or bungling, that the button is pushed," he said.

On the statewide level, he said, approval has been given for a state microwave communication network. He said there are 33 emergency 200-bed hospitals.

But he said the goal is for an emergency hospital in each county and he wants a full-time CD coordinator in each of the state areas.

To assist in up-dating the area plan, county officials were asked to complete their local program by listing resources of materiel, machines, and men, and placing personnel in defense jobs.

The defense area includes Broward, Dade, Monroe, Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Collier, Lee, Charlotte, Hendry, Glades, and Highlands Counties. All were represented, except Glades, Highlands and Monroe.

The preliminary plan designates Dade and Palm Beach Counties as potential target areas, from which residents would flee. The other counties would receive and care for evacuees.

West Hollywood Chamber Accused Of Political Role

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

WEST HOLLYWOOD — The Chamber of Commerce was accused of being a "political body" Wednesday in a firey exchange over a proposed charter for incorporation.

President Regis Reasbeck and Board Member Jim MaGee hurled such charges as "dictator" and "do nothing" in a heated discussion that exploded during a quiet meeting at the Waffle Shoppe.

MaGee questioned the board's right to draw up a proposed city charter for West Hollywood. He said the action placed the chamber in a "political role" and "violates the by-laws."

Reasbeck said the chamber has endorsed incorporation, and is obligated to write the charter which will be presented to the Legislature this spring.

MaGee charged that only a few committee members, appointed by Reasbeck's law partner, Bob Fegers, know the contents of the charter. He said it should have been prepared earlier and made available to the public.

Similar objections voiced last month by Henry Perry, banker and dairyman, resulted in the chamber setting up a special charter board with delegates from all civic organizations as members. This group will meet to study the proposed charter Saturday.

"The chamber's only obligation was to present all the facts on incorporation to the public. We fulfilled that at the open meeting Feb. 26. This is a political issue now," MaGee said.

He moved that the board officially bow out and turn the issue over to the public. None of the 14 members attending would second his motion.

At one point MaGee accused Reasbeck of being a "dictator to the board."

"I am not," snapped Reasbeck, "but you were elected by the membership to do something, and you are certainly not doing it."

Reasbeck contends the present board was elected on an incorporation platform. He said results of a straw vote last year showed the membership favors creation of a city.

MaGee said "as a citizen" he favors a "good form" of incorporation.

"How about as a member of this board?" Reasbeck countered.

"That depends on what is in that charter," said MaGee. "You wouldn't expect me to buy a shirt until I've looked at it."

Reasbeck termed the conflict a "personal one" rather than a sign of dissension among board members.

York Gets 'Phys Ed' Post at Y

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — A full-time physical director has been employed for the Fort Lauderdale YMCA and will start work April 1.

Selection of Wayne York, 29, of Knoxville, Tenn., for the position was announced to the Y's board of directors Wednesday.

York is physical director of the Knoxville Y. He is a graduate of Appalachian College, holds a master's degree in physical education from the University of Tennessee, and has been with the Knoxville organization for about seven years, Y Secretary Ernest Kidder said.

The new YMCA building is to be formally put in use March 20 with an "open house" and exhibition of gymnastics to which a score of sports celebrities in the area have been invited.

This will be preceded on Monday by the opening of a concerted campaign for active memberships in the Y, carrying the privilege of the use of the new $200,000 gym and its facilities.

Louis J. Fifer, vice president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, will head the drive.

Memberships for women and children as well as men will be sought.

Laundry Holdup Nets $35

Robber Slugs Clerk With Heavy Crowbar

HOLLYWOOD — A holdup man slugged the clerk at Kent Cleaners, 2467 Moffet St., Wednesday and left her bleeding and unconscious on a backroom floor.

Police broadcast an alarm for two Negroes who escaped in an auto.

The victim, Mrs. Josephine Andriolo, 45, of 2320 NW 70th Ave., West Hollywood, was admitted to Memorial Hospital with deep scalp lacerations.

This is what happened, according to Detective F. G. Rohloff:

One man entered through a rear door. The other waited in a car.

Mrs. Andriolo was sitting at a table, doing bookwork. A partition separates the backroom where clothing is kept from the front counter.

The bandit said: "'Open the cash drawer or I'll kill you." He held a crowbar.

Mrs. Andriolo showed him the cash drawer under the front counter. He scooped out about $35 and pushed her into the back again.

He struck her on the head and ran out.

Sidney Singer, wh runs a liquor store next door, said Mrs. Andriolo staggered out of the cleaners at 1:40 p.m. and said she had been robbed.

Rohloff said the robber was between 26 and 28 years old and wore a white shirt and brown trousers. He was right-handed.

Hallandale police picked up one suspect but he was later released.

"I don't know why he hit her," Rohloff said. "He already had the money."

Nightmare Comes to Light

'Good' Burglar Wins; Woman Not Attacked

Herald Bureau

WILTON MANORS — A woman here had the nightmarish experience of hearing two burglars debate her fate.

The "good" burglar won.

The woman and her husband had returned home, surprising the two men who had broken into their house.

The leader, a Negro who since then has been stabbed to death in a bar brawl, would have attacked the woman if his accomplice had not intervened, the accomplice told police.

John Dudley, 420 NW 17th Ave., said he talked Robert Wagner, 25, leader of a burglary ring, out of the attack.

In addition to Dudley, police have arrested Howard Bentley, 35, of 930 NW fourth St.; Joe Willie Perkins, 20, of 2866 NW Ninth Ct., and Leonard Love, 29, of 117 NW 11th Ave.

Detectives said their arrests cleared up at least 19 burglaries in Broward County.

The group stole from grocery stores, bars, liquor stores, appliance stores and cigaret distributors and "fenced" the stolen goods in Miami.

More than $500 worth of the stolen property already has been recovered, Fort Lauderdale police said.

NOTICE OF SALE
$450,000
CITY OF HIALEAH,
DADE COUNTY, FLORIDA
WATER REVENUE
CERTIFICATES, SERIES
OF 1958

The City Council of the City of Hialeah, Florida, will receive sealed bids at their regular meeting place, until 5:00 P.M. EST., on MARCH 31, 1959, for the purchase of $450,000 principal amount, City of Hialeah, Florida Water Revenue Certificates, Series of 1958.

Said bonds shall be dated October 1, 1958, numbered 1 to 450, in coupon form, registrable as to principal only, denomination $1,000 payable as to principal and interest at The Marine Midland Trust Company of New York. Said bonds shall bear interest at such rate or rates not greater than 5% per annum as may be determined at the time of the sale thereof, which interest shall be payable April 1 and October 1, and semi-annually thereafter on the first days of October 1 and April 1 in each year, until the payment of principal.

Said bonds shall mature serially on April 1, as follows: 1960 to 1963 $5,000 each year; 1964 to 1967 $6,000 each year; 1968 to 1969 $7,000 each year; 1970 to 1973 $8,000 each year; 1974 to 1978 $10,000 each year; 1979 to 1982 $12,000 each year; 1983 to 1984 $40,000 each year; $42,000 in 1985; $45,000 in 1986; $47,000 in 1987; and $48,000 in 1988.

Bonds maturing 1968 to 1988 inclusive, shall be redeemable prior to maturity at the option of the City on October 1, 1967 or on any interest payment date thereafter, in whole or in part, but in inverse order of maturities, and by lot within maturities if less than all, at the price of par and accrued interest plus the following premiums: 4% of par value 1967 to 1970; 3% of par value 1971 to 1974; 2% of par value 1975 to 1978; 1% of par value 1979 to 1982; and without payment of premium if called thereafter.

Also callable in whole at any time prior to October 1, 1967, at par and accrued interest plus premium of 4%, in the event it is found necessary to redeem all of said revenue certificates to enable the city to finance the cost of city-wide sanitary sewers.

Series of 1958 Certificates are payable from net revenues of the City's municipal water works system, on a parity with $1,056,000 principal amount Water Revenue Certificates, dated April 1, 1950, 1951 and 1953, maturing serially April 1, 1959 to 1982, inclusive. These revenue certificates do not constitute an indebtedness of the City of Hialeah within the meaning of any constitutional, statutory or charter provisions or limitations, and the City is under no obligation to pay principal or interest, except from the net revenues.

A non-litigation certificate dated as of the date of the delivery of the bonds and the unqualified approving opinion of Messrs. Chapman and Cutler, Bond Attorneys of Chicago, Illinois, will be furnished the purchaser without cost to him.

Bidders are requested to name the interest rate or rates, not exceeding 5% per annum, in multiples of ⅛ or 1-10 of 1%. No bid for less than all of said bonds or offering to pay less than 99% of the par value thereof, plus accrued interest, will be considered. Bidders may name not exceeding three different rates of interest, but the same single rate of interest shall be named for all of the bonds of any one maturity. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder or bidders whose proposal results in the lowest net interest cost to the City.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company in the amount of $9,000, payable to the order of "The City of Hialeah, Florida" as a good faith deposit to guarantee the performance of said bid.

Copies of Notice of Sale, Official Information and Bid Forms may be obtained from the undersigned.

Back Pay for City Workers Due With Next Paychecks

By PAT MANGAN
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — City employes who are entitled to longevity pay increases will find them in their next paycheck.

The checks, due March 20, will include pay retroactive to the day employes became entitled to the raises, Personnel Director Robert Earle said.

The long delay in providing the increases, adopted in 1955, was caused by confusion in the terms of the ordinance adopting the pay plan, Earle said.

It made no provision for employes becoming eligible for longevity pay between adoption of the ordinance and 1960. However, it did say employes who had been receiving maximum pay in their classification for five years were to get the raises.

Earle said an interpretation has been provided by Assistant City Attorney Robert J. O'Toole. All employes who had been at maximum pay for five years prior to Aug. 2, 1956, will get the raises, plus those who have since become eligible.

Determining who had been at maximum pay before 1956 required an extensive search of old records, Earle said.

He said the highest single payment will be about $600. The total amounts involved can easily be absorbed by departmental budgets, he said.

Asked why the city had delayed so long in interpreting the ordinance and providing the pay increase, Earle said, "it never became a problem until an employe saw the loopholes in it and challenged it.

Meanwhile, City Commissioner Charles E. Knight said any other raises for city employes this year are "impossible and unwarranted."

City Commissioner Porter G. Reynolds has called for an ordinance barring the City Employes' Union, which has expressed an interest in pay raises, from conducting organizational activities on city time.

William Weld, AFL-CIO organizer, said the union will make known its position on the city's refusal to talk with it after a general union meeting Monday night.

"We're not dead," he said.

Psychiatrist's Wife Hurt

Two Hospitalized In 2-Car Crash

The wife of the senior psychiatrist at South Florida State Hospital was injured Wednesday in a two-car collision at the gates of the institution.

The Florida Highway Patrol said Mrs. Louis Graubard, 40, of 3131 Harrison St., pulled out of the gates into the path of another car driven by Leonard M. Odon, 29, Fort Lauderdale, who was traveling south on 80th Ave.

Mrs. Graubard was returning to her Hollywood home after driving her husband to his office.

She was reported in fair condition in Memorial Hospital.

Odon, who sustained internal injuries, was transferred to Coral Gables veterans hospital, authorities said.

There were no charges pending investigation, the Highway Patrol said.

AROUND BROWARD

Cancer Chief

Duval will be campaign chairman for the April Cancer Crusade here. Duval, president of Duval Products Inc., was appointed by the American Cancer Society to direct the drive, which he said will be "the greatest attack ever mounted against a disease."

* * *

Law Gets Nod

Broward Juvenile Judge Dorr S. Davis Wednesday voiced approval of a move to amend state statutes to prosecute parents who do nothing to prevent delinquency of their children. He added, however, that prosecution should come only when a parent "wilfully, knowingly and neglectfully" allows the child to get into trouble.

* * *

Sleeper Killed

POMPANO BEACH police Wednesday were trying to identify a Negro man, killed by an FEC switch engine as he lay sleeping on a spur track.

Dam Suit

Joseph Fleisher, president of Broward Utilities, Inc., said Wednesday his attorneys are preparing an injunction suit against the City of LIGHTHOUSE POINT for damming a drainage ditch.

The ditch also serves as an outfall line for BUI's sewerage treatment plant in Collier Manor.

Lighthouse Point Mayor Russell B. Clarke Tuesday ordered the ditch dammed to prevent drainage of any more sewer plant effluent into the waterway canals of the city.

2 Enter Race

Two more candidates — Owen B. McManus and C. Edward Born Jr. — have filed for seats on the FORT LAUDERDALE City Commission, bringing the total number of candidates to 11. McManus, 63, is a former Pittsburgh Municipal Court clerk and restaurateur. Born, 47, is a native of Columbus, Ohio, and a graduate architectural engineer.

Burglary

A burglar ransacked a FORT LAUDERDALE home at 1310 W. Lake Dr. Tuesday night and made off with $5,570 worth of jewels and furs, police reported. The thief left a trail of blood from cuts apparently caused by a slashed screen at the residence owned by Helen H. Coulton.

Case Fizzles

Bondsman Claude Anderson's "campaign contribution" complaint against Sheriff J. A. Lloyd has been officially laid to rest in an order handed down by Circuit Judge Lamar Warren.

The court formally dismissed the action, noting that "it appears the cause has abated for want of prosecution."

Anderson had petitioned the attorney general to investigate alleged irregularities in the sheriff's contribution reports.

He said he gave Lloyd $200 in October 1956, but that the sheriff made no entry of the amount. A feud between the two men has existed since.

Man Found Hanged in Shower

FORT LAUDERDALE — A 40-year-old former minister was found dead Wednesday, hanging from a bathroom shower rod in his rented duplex apartment, sheriff's deputies said.

Chief Criminal Investigator Ben Grigsby said the man, Haden Gregg of 1261 SW 41st Ave., had apparently hung himself with a towel.

Grigsby said Gregg, who has a Doctor of Divinity degree, was believed in sales work here. He said Gregg had been having domestic difficulties. A coroner ruled the death was a suicide.

Drama Sparks Concert By Zinka Milanov

By BOB FREUND
Special To The Herald

FORT LAUDERDALE — Opera and music-lovers were given a superlative treat in the concert of Zinka Milanov.

Mme. Milanov is a dramatic soprano in the true sense of the word. Every note, every word is shaped with an eye to dramatic creation as well as to beauty of sound.

In a program of enormous range, the singer encompassed the lieder of Richard Strauss, opera arias by Verdi and Puccini, and songs by Beethoven, Hageman and Paveic.

The voice was in fullest bloom. The shading, coloring and power bespeak years of experience, and maturity.

The Beethoven "Die Ehre Gottes in Der Natur" with its frightening leaps into the low (never chesty) range; the quiet bliss of Strauss' "Traum Durch die Dammerung" with truly breath-taking pianissimo; the sadness of the difficult "Do Not Go My Love"; the ecstasy of "Longing"—all were given their proper interpretations, enveloped in tonal splendor.

Leonora's great scene from Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," one of Mme. Milanov's prime roles, was delivered with power and glorious sound.

The Puccini "Manon Lescaut" aria, and Mimi's Addio from "La Boheme," however, seemed too light for Mme. Milanov's voice, though she did succeed in creating a picture.

The program high spot was her rendition of Dvorak's "O Lovely Moon" from his opera "Russalka."

Mme. Milanov's brother, Boxidar Kunc, provided sensitive accompaniment for the singer, and performed several solo numbers.

Port Vote Favors Us, Says Union

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Checkers and clerks of the Port Everglades Terminal Company Inc. Wednesday elected the International Longshoremen's Association as its bargaining agent, a union official said.

"All 12 checkers and clerks voted for us," said Sanders Thomas, president of Local 526. He said his union and the company were the only names on the ballot of the election held at 5:30 p.m.

Thomas said Tuesday the longshoremen were moving to beat other unions at organizing the un-organized workers at the port.

The longshoremen represent 262 port empoyes if the terminal workers are included and have received pledge cards from some 25 other port workers, Thomas said.

Carl Sisk, Weather Amateur's Amateur
. . . he made his own recording equipment

He's Doing Something About the Weather

By TOM VINCIGUERRA
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Carl Sisk, 74-year-old retired bank examiner, is still examining, but not banks.

He keeps a sharp eye out on the weather. For years, newspapers, officials and curious residents have relied on him for weather information.

Sisk, who lives with his wife, Mildred ("she grows orchids") in a neatly-kept home at 1618 Jefferson St., is a weather amateur's amateur.

He has made his own rain gauge, water level gauge and sun dial. A wind velocity gauge, which cost him $240, is mounted atop a water pipe fastened to the roof of his home.

The instrument records electrically on a dial box in his home. "It works just like a clock."

Sisk, who moved to Hollywood in 1950, literally found his weather hobby through a telescope he built in 1947.

"I looked at the stars one night, became interested in astronomy, and that led to weather."

The telescope is one of Sisk's prize possessions. "It's a six-inch Newtonian reflector type corrected to 1,000,000th of an inch."

Sisk's flair for minute detail was developed during a lifetime of examining the financial condition of 1,089 banks. He worked most of the time for the federal government.

"The depression created most of my work, and there was enough of it to last until I retired in 1948."

Merchants Sing the Blues

West Hollywood Booming —But Store Business Is Not

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

WEST HOLLYWOOD — Up and down State Rd. 7 merchants are singing the blues, with the scale ranging from an optimistic "Things will improve," to a pessimistic, "I'm getting out."

Ironically, the population continues to soar.

The various merchants have an assortment of explanations for the business lag.

Chiefly:

1—Lack of industry to boost economy.

2—A need for a large restaurant, preferably with cafeteria facilities, to accommodate shoppers.

3—More stores than the relatively low-income bracket of many residents can support.

THERE ARE SOME who have no complaint.

Stores grouped in a large shopping center had fewer gripes than isolated firms.

"Look around and you will see the number of stores standing empty," said Jack Portner, owner of a clothing shop.

He's one who's getting out.

"The amount of business isn't worth the investment we have in here," said Portner. "I'm selling May 1."

Unlike so many South Florida communities, West Hollywood is not a tourist center. It must depend largely on trade from year around residents.

"There are too many stores and too few consumer dollars," said Chamber of Commerce officials. "What we need is industry."

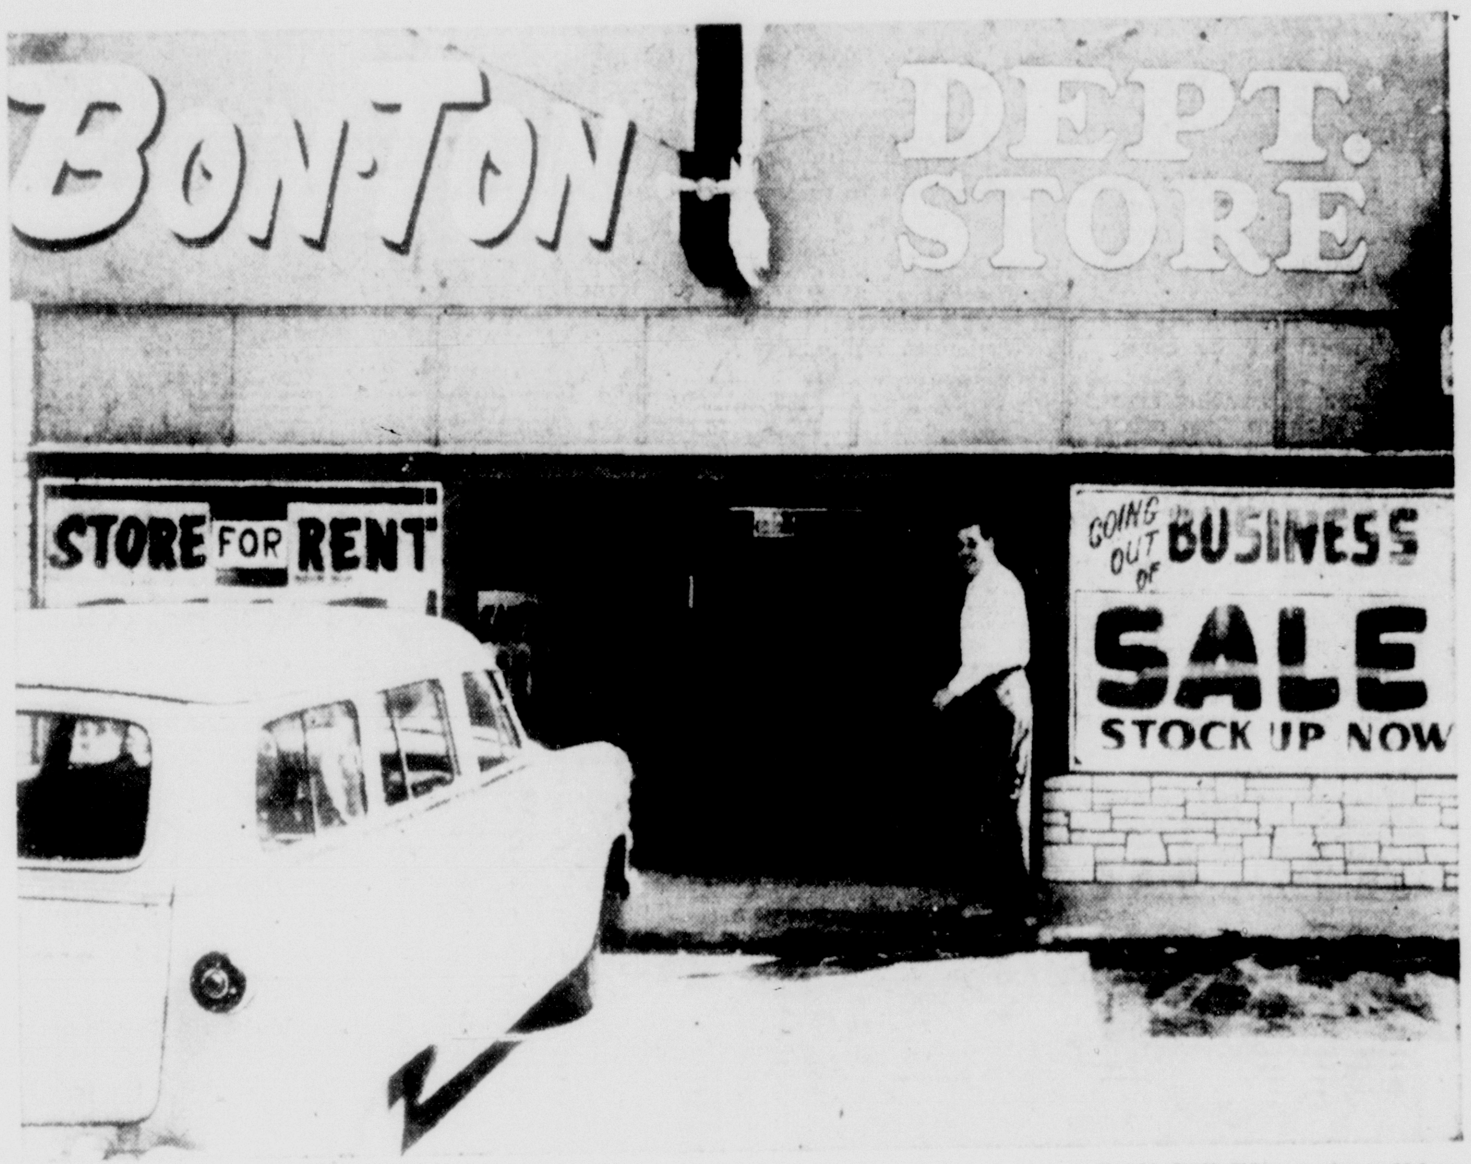
STEVE COAR, service station operator, reported that, "the little businessman is the one who really is hurting."

However, Tom Papst, ~~head~~ head of the Merchants Association of the large West Hollywood Shopping Plaza, pooh-poohed the drag:

"My business is well ahead of last season," he said.

Likewise, he said, other merchants in the plaza are doing nicely after last winter's cold wave that sabotaged South Florida economy.



—Herald Staff Photo by Lewis McLain

Businessman Jack Portner's Getting Out
. . . 'amount of business isn't worth the investment'

But, even where business is reportedly "booming," gimmicks are used to tempt new trade.

Since it opened, plaza merchants have promoted an art exhibit, a wild animal show, band concerts, a carnival and even some political rallies.

"It's well worth the trouble — it helps business," Papst said.

IN OTHER QUARTERS, business is labeled sluggish if not downright dead.

A liquor store operator, who recently opened here said he changes sale signs nearly every day in the scramble to attract business.

The business jitters vibrated anew this week when a chain of the Grand Way stores moved in.

Its opening has brought both alarm and delight.

"It means employment for 260 persons — 85 per cent from West Hollywood," said Wilfred Cadotte, manager of the chamber.

That ups the number of wage earners and cuts the unemployment rolls. But some wary merchants also noted it means another threat in the comparatively dollar - slim community.

West Hollywood is handicapped by a city-like set up, operating under rural conditions — without concentrated business district, without sidewalks, without a united effort to promote its merchandise.

Store owners are pinning hopes on the newly-organized merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce.

THE CHAMBER IS PLUGGING:

1—Promotion campaigns to make shopping more attractive.

2—Unified advertising drives to boost small business and curb the flow of shoppers to out-of-town centers.

3—An inter-community bus service to bring shoppers from scattered subdivisions.

Lois Carey, secretary of the chamber, believes a large number of small stores operated by inexperienced hands, is partly responsible for the business blues.

"Many people move to Florida and go into a new business. They're not trained in sales and don't realize the value of top quality service.

"Also, we lose some pedestrian trade. You can't stroll along sidewalks and window shop — and that's good for business."

"If the little merchant can hold on for a couple of years, he'll be well established in a community that's large enough to support him," said Cadotte.

Traffic Menace or Needed for Safety?

School Zone Signs Working Overtime in Dania

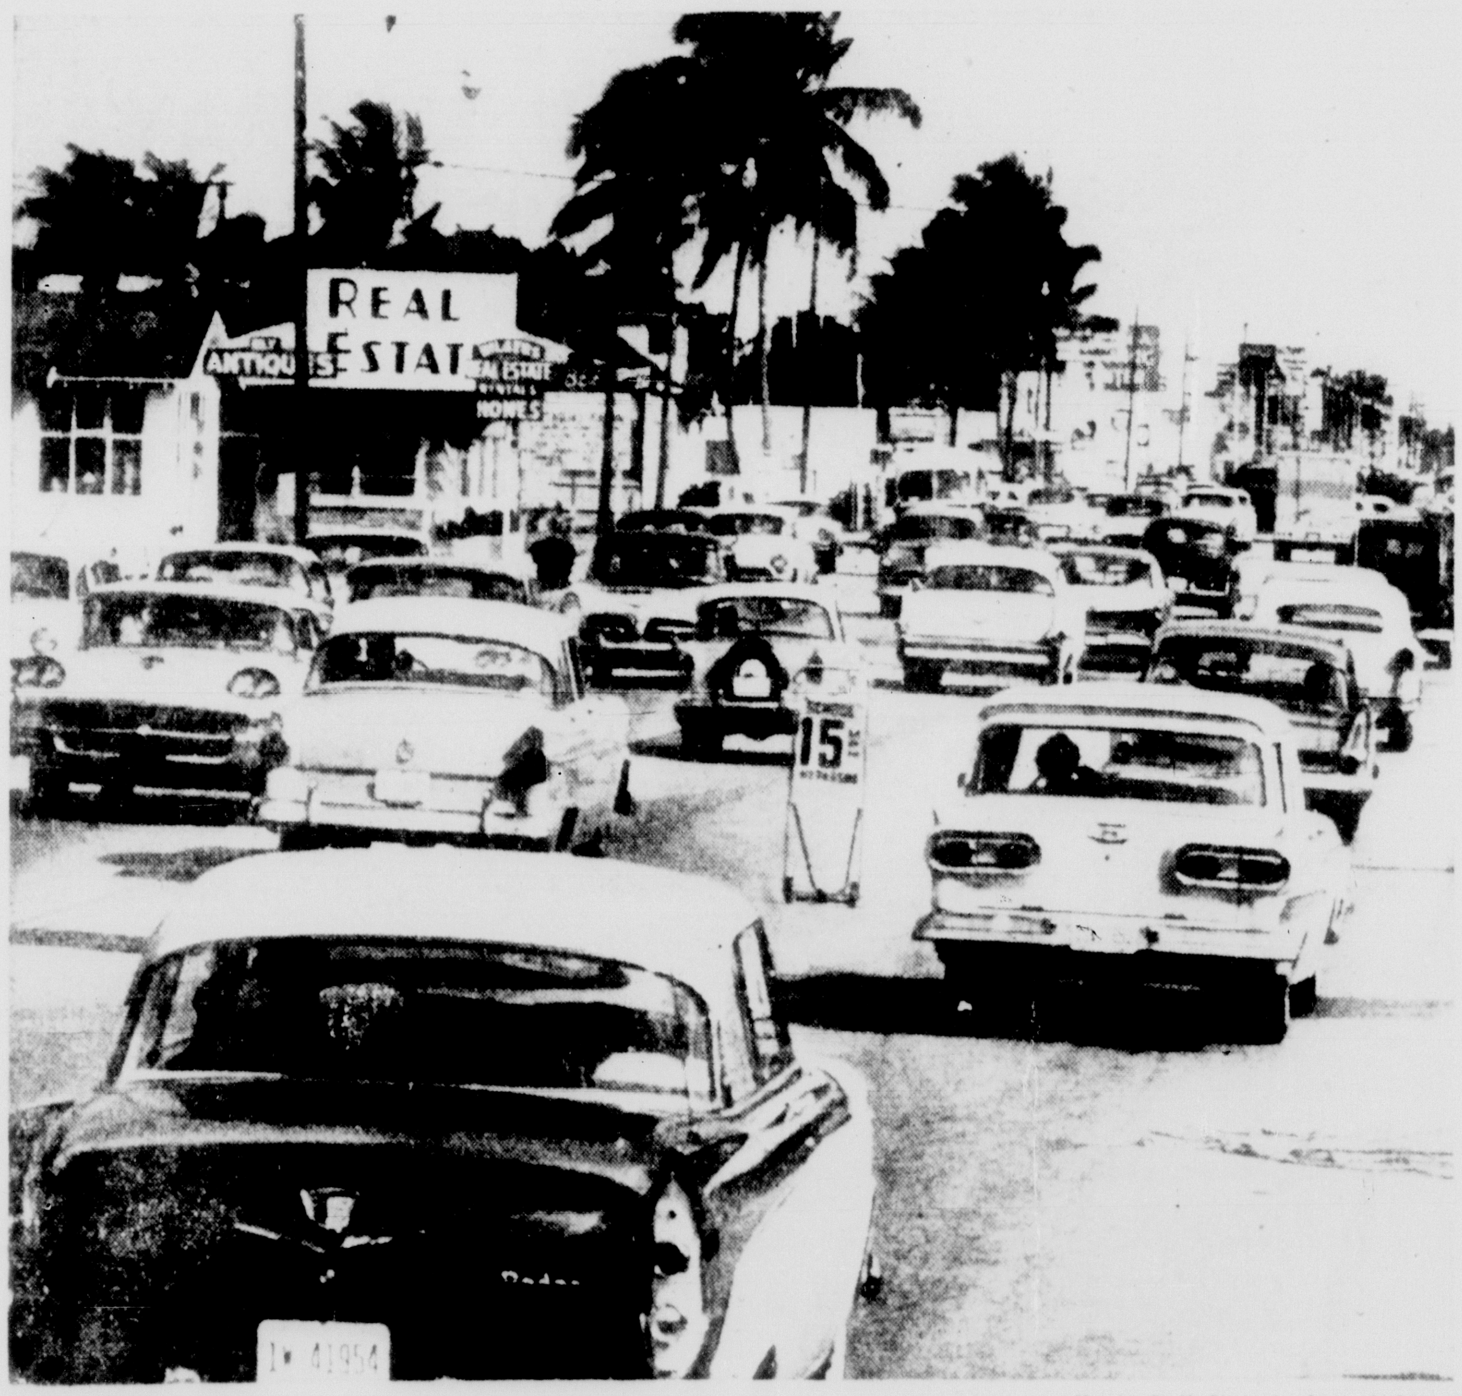
By TOM VINCIGUERRA
Herald Staff Writer

DANIA — School zone signs on Federal Hwy. in front of Dania Elementary School work overtime and school, State Road Department and County Road Patrol officials don't like it.

"The signs should not be on the highway when children are in classes," declared Winston Carlton, district engineer for the State Road Department. "It's traffic safety education in reverse."

"It's my order," snapped Policeman Sam Jones, who is in charge of the crossing. "That's the worst school crossing in the county. Cars have hit the signs 20 times this year—that could be 20 kids."

Police Chief George Williams backed Jones. "The signs are needed all day. Let the School Board tell me in writing they're not, and I'll take it up with the PTA."



—Herald Staff Photo by Lewis McLain

Traffic on U.S. 1 in Dania Streams Around Zone Sign
. . . 15 mph. warnings are kept in street until 4 p.m.

The school zone signs are put up in the morning and are not removed until after school lets out at 4 p.m., Jones said. Traffic backs up on the busy highway as cars creep through the zone.

John Kipp, safety director for county schools, said constant use of the signs "conditions" motorists to violate the maximum 15-mile-an-hour speed limit.

"The drivers go through there during classes and don't see any children, and the next time they are apt to breeze through," said Kipp. He added: "If the city wants to regulate speed it should put up speed signs. School signs are meant to protect school children."

Jones said the State Road Department complained about all-day use of the signs before. He said local residents and city commissioners demanded the signs be kept out.

Miss Gabrielle O'Rourke, school teacher and head of the Dania Elementary School patrol, said she favors all-day use of the zone signs.

"We have double sessions for the first grade, and there are always children in and around school."

Mayor George Kelly said: "I don't think the signs should remain up all day. However, I don't know all the facts in the case, and I want to check with police first."

"It's not fair to the driving public," commented Commissioner Russell E. Seay Jr. "I think something should be done about it."

Carl Hanna, Dania Elementary PTA president, said, "We do need the signs out there a great deal of the time. Possibly there are a couple hours in the morning when they might be taken away. It would take special attention to put them up and take them down."

George Bennett, Chamber of Commerce manager, said, "There should be uniformity between communities. It's my personal feeling the signs shouldn't be up all day, but there may be a reason in this case, I don't know."

"It's a traffic hazard and the drivers don't respect the signs when they're left out all day," declared Capt. Frank Ridenour, head of the Sheriff's Road Patrol. "Something should be done about it."

Capt. Ridenour said the practice "should be banned wherever it exists in the county."

Dance to Boost CAP Squadron

FORT LAUDERDALE — Proceeds from a Civil Air Patrol dance here April 22 will be used for educational purpose and to help maintain equipment belonging to the unit.

Maj. M. L. Rinker, commander of the squadron, said the dance will be at Galt Ocean Mile Hotel. Music will be Bobby Reynolds' Orchestra, currently playing at the Boca Raton Club.

Hollywood's Oldest Worker: 33 Years on Job

By DUANE JONES
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Riley Walters scratched his head and broke into a wide smile.

"No," he confided, "there's nothing wrong with today's teenagers.

"It's the parents. Not enough home life. Kids come and go as they please. No supervision. Today's parents have lost both control and respect of their youngsters."

Walters should know.

He was one of 13 children, and he and his wife had four of their own.

"My wife died 31 years ago, but I kept the family together and I think my youngsters turned out pretty well," Walters smiled.

WALTERS DOESN'T CONSIDER himself an expert on family relations, but modestly speaks of himself as an authority on matters pertaining to the city's water supply.

Walters, who'll be 82 in July, has been with the city's water distribution department 33 years.

And before that he worked 23 years for a privately-owned water company in Indianapolis.

What kind of water does the City of Hollywood offer its residents and visitors?

"We think it's the best," Walters grinned.

"We had to shut down a well recently, but generally we feel our water is excellent."

WHEN WALTERS WENT to work for the city, the Water Department had 33 customers. Today it has more than 12,000.

Staff Photo by Mel Kenyon

Riley Walters
. . . water expert

Walters says he's "personally acquainted" with every foot of water pipe in the city.

"Put the lines end to end and they'd reach up into North Florida," he said.

Walters came here to work for Joseph Young, the founder of Hollywood, and later went with the city when it was incorporated.

"When I started here we didn't have a line bigger than 2½ inches," he recalled. "Now we've got more than 12 miles of 24 and 30-inch pipe."

Money Available for Year

Wilton Manors Begins Street-Drainage Work

By GREG TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

WILTON MANORS — Contract work has finally started on this city's big street-sidewalk - drainage program which was "paid for" more than a year ago.

City Council has awarded a contract for paving of NE 20th St. between Wilton Dr. and NE Seventh Ave. The award on this 30-day project went to Delegal and Newman Paving Co. whose low bid was $6,288.

This represents the first major job on the $225,000 bond issue program. The bond issue was approved by voters in January 1958.

"The bonds have been sold and the money is in the bank in an improvement fund," said Wallace Wakeley, street superintendent.

The city is paying 3½ per cent interest on the money, he said.

"The money spent on interest will be more than offset by the reduction in maintenance costs which the improvements will bring," he said.

Wakeley said the program was set up as a two-year project. "We hope to have it completed in a year.

"When it's finished we'll be in better shape than any city our size in South Florida in regard to streets and drainage," he predicted.

The program is broken down into a number of projects. All will be paid for out of bond issue revenue.

Already, city crews have installed 17 small drainage systems at a cost of $17,000.

And, Wakeley said, Waldsmith and Flanders, surveyors and engineers, have just about finished plans for three drainage projects. The firm said plans would be ready for bids in a few days.

The three drainage jobs will cost about $54,000 and will benefit residents in about 30 city blocks, Wakeley said.

One system will be built north of NE 26th Ave. in Sunset Manors.

A second will be at NE Fifth Ave. and 26th St. "It will alleviate a serious water collection problem. We've spent about $3,000 in the last five years in repairs to that corner."

The other system will be at the corner of NE 15th Ave. and 26th St.

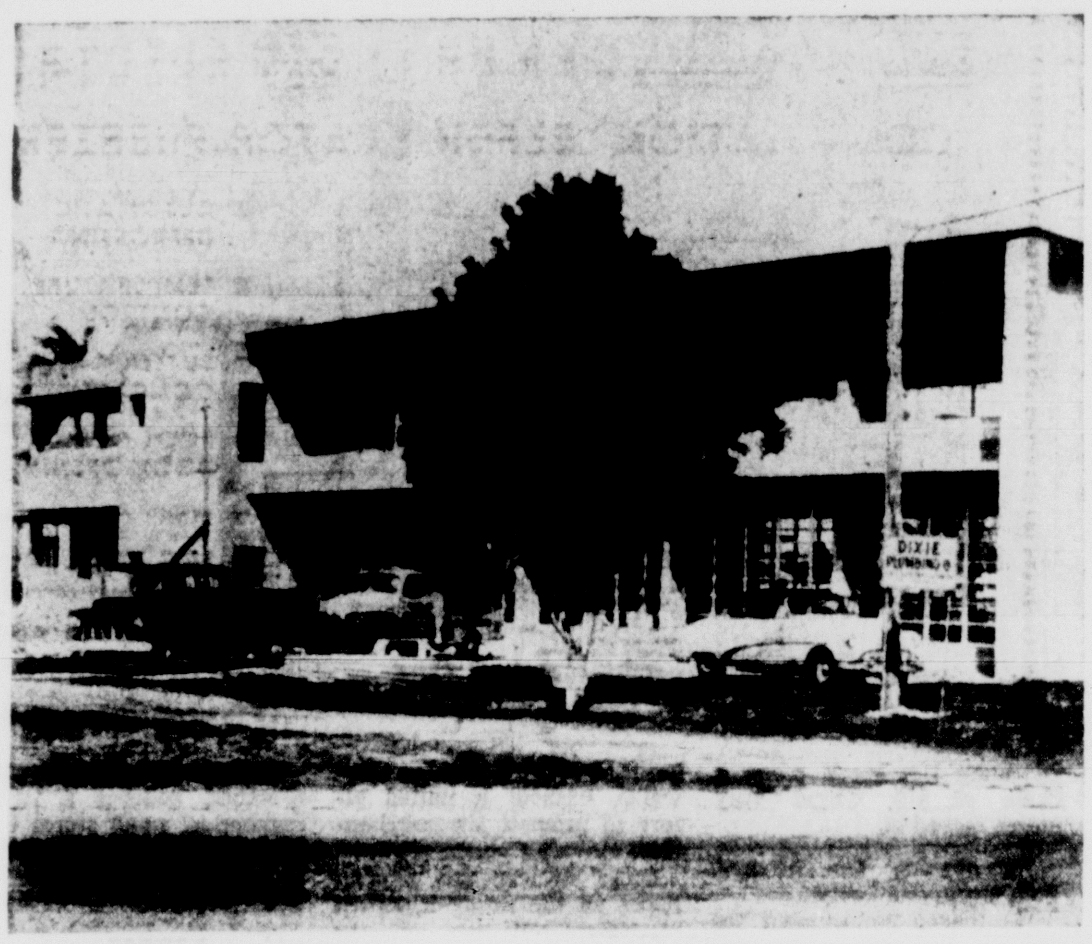
Williams, Hatfield and Stoner, appointed as the city's new consulting engineers Feb. 17, are planning the rest of the program.

G. E. Williams Jr. said bids will be taken March 17 on the street resurfacing phase of the program.

About 3½ miles of streets will be resurfaced. Also seven new streets will be built and paved in various sections of town. All the street work will cost about $64,000.

The consulting engineers are now drawing plans for six more smaller drainage systems which will cost about $60,000.

"We also will spend $19,000 to build some 8,000 feet of sidewalks around town. These were planned chiefly for the safety of school children," Wakeley said.



Fine Arts

Scheduled to open the first week in April is Hollywood's $145,000 Fine Arts Building which will house the city library on the ground floor and Recreaction Department on the second floor. Construction is nearing completion on the southeast quadrant of City Hall Circle. The library will occupy 6,200 square feet of floor space. Recreation offices will have movable partitions. James Hatton and Brothers is the contractor. Claus Moberg, Hollywood, is the architect.

Deerfield Buys Site For Station

DEERFIELD BEACH — The City Commission this week completed the purchase of a $12,000 site for a new police station — immediately east of the City Hall.

A total of five lots, comprising a plot 145 feet by 125 feet, was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Seat.

At the same time, commissioners approved purchase of a lot, 50 by 139 feet, for $1,500, adjacent to the city park.

That purchase was made from the Trinity Methodist Church, and is a parcel of land upon which the grandstand is constructed.

Pompano's Band to Play Tuesday

POMPANO BEACH — The Pompano Beach High School band will present its annual concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium.

A highlight of the event will be a sight-reading demonstration of a march and overture never seen or heard by the band.

Student conductor Charles Kirkland will direct the "Maxinkuckee Overture," and there will be cornet solo by Bill Svorinich, Kirkland and Robert Agnew.

In honor of St. Patrick's Day, the band will play "The Irish Washerwoman."

For Kite Contest

Pompano Kids Want Big Wind

POMPANO BEACH — Everyone is hoping for a big wind here Saturday.

That's the day kids up to 15 years of age will compete for prizes in the Recreation Department's first annual kite flying contest.

The contest, beginning at 9:30 a.m., will be held at Recreation Park, 18th Ave. and NE Sixth St., and is open only to youngsters living in the Greater Pompano area.

Prizes will be awarded for the highest flying box kite, highest flying regular kite, best flying kite and most unusual kite.

Divisions will be for boys and girls under nine, from 10-12, and 13-15.

Design Suited Manufacturer

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — The design of Andra Martin's two-piece bathing suit in "Up Periscope" was so pleasing to a bathing suit manufacturer that he will copy it for production and sale.

He doesn't even care that Miss Martin can't swim a stroke.

Haddassah Unit To Hear Olasky

HOLLYWOOD — Ely Olasky, educational director of Temple Beth Sholem, will discuss "The Story of Purim" at a study group meeting of the Hollywood-Fort Lauderdale chapter of Haddassah Monday.

The group will meet at the home of Mrs. Jack Katz, 925 N. 26th Ave., at 12:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Group Urging Tax Repeal

FORT LAUDERDALE — Repeal of the 10 per cent federal excise tax on communications and passenger fares was urged Saturday by the national affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Fred Wynn, committee chairman, also announced plans for starting a nine-week "workshop" course in practical politics.

W. Guy Hicks, Former Air Force Major
. . . now heads Broward's engineering department

New Engineer Chief Wants Better Roads

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — A former Air Force major with a long background of post engineering work now has the reins of the County Engineering Department.

Wellington Guy Hicks, 53, took over last week. He lives at 1423 Jackson St.

"Roads are pioneers," he said. "They open up territories."

More and better roads for access to the west head Broward's list of needs, he said.

"That's the only direction we can go," he smiled.

A native of Rockville, Md., Hicks first came here in 1942 at the start of 10 years's service with the then Army Air Corps. He is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

He and his wife made their permanent home here in 1952. They have an 11-year-old daughter, Charlotte Gay.

Hicks took over from Robert Davis Jr., who resigned. He plunged actively into his new job — the first non-military governmental post he's held.

"There are a lot of angles to this business," he noted.

Consultant engineers tend to get stuck at a desk, Hicks observed.

"This job has more variety," he said. "I think I'm going to like it."

21.5 Per Cent Increase Since 1950

Broward Ranks 17th in State In Personal Income Survey

By CLARENCE ZAITZ
North Broward Bureau

Broward County's per capita personal income in 1957 was $1,704, ranking it 17th in the state, and representing a 21.5 per cent increase from 1950.

The information, contained in a report just released by the Bureau of Economic and Business Research, University of Florida, showed the county's total personal income to be $425.4 million, or fifth largest in the state.

Personal income is defined as being the total income received by residents from all sources.

Only the populations in Dade, Duval, Hillsborough and Pinellas had a greater total personal income.

The county's per capita income was slightly below the state's average of $1,775. The U.S. average per capita income for 1957 was $2,027.

According to the university report:

Retail and wholesale trades in Broward accounted for the largest single share of personal income, or 18.1 per cent. Construction was next, with 15.1 per cent of the personal income.

Other activities, and percentage of total income: agriculture, 2.5; mining and fisheries, .4; manufacturing, 4.7; transportation, communications and utilities, 3.7; finance, real estate and insurance, 3.7; services, trades and professions, 13.3; government, 14.3, and unclassified occupations, 20.2 per cent.

Wages and salaries of Broward residents accounted for 54.5 per cent of the total personal income. Property income represented 18.9 per cent, labor income, other than salaries, 1.6 per cent, proprietors' income, 17.1 per cent, and transfer payments, 7.9 per cent.

Prison Newsmen Lauded by Ervin

POMPANO BEACH — Attorney General Richard W. Ervin has congratulated the staff of "Road Chatter," monthly publication of inmates at the state road prison camp here for their "iniative and inspiration in organizing" the paper.

In a letter to the publication, Ervin said, "It is a very bright and cheery publication and one that should help promote good will and understanding among its readers . . . This publication serves a salutary need and should pay dividends not only to those who contribute to the publication itself but also to those who read it."

Deerfield To Get Plan On Sewers

DEERFIELD BEACH — An engineering survey to outline a sanitary sewer program for this city is now 70 per cent complete and should be ready for submission to the City Commission by April 1.

City Manager Clarence H. Landsittel announced this week that the engineering firm of Black and Associates, Gainesville, has nearly completed the survey work.

Need Anteater? They'll Sell One for $125

By ERWIN POTTS
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — How are you fixed for pets?

You can buy a nice friendly giant anteater for $125.

Or how about a gentle pink flamingo to add a memory of Hialeah to the living room? Price: $125 a pair.

Or, if money's no object, you might acquire an amiable pink porpoise for $1,200.

The Wild Cargo Animal Farm at 3230 Pembroke Rd. here carries just about any kind of odd pet the animal-lover desires.

Ralph Curtis, 27-year-old manager of Wild Cargo, explained that his farm supplies zoos throughout the country with animals.

The owner of Wild Cargo, Mike Tsalickis, hunts down the animals, then sends them here to Curtis, who sells them to zoos and occasionally to individuals.

Curtis said Tsalickis has a crew of anywhere from 300 to 600 hunters in the jungles of Colombia, Brazil, Peru, Ecuador and Nicaragua.

Wild Cargo handles such animals as tapirs (half-way between the horse and the rhino), skunks, monkeys of many varieties, wildcats, snakes (poisonous and non-poisonous), and many kinds of birds.

Curtis pointed to a borwn lizard about the size of a large rat.

"That's the Basalisk lizard. It runs so fast it can move across the water without sinking."

In a cage nearby, a snake thumped its swollen and flattened head viciously against the glass walls.

"A cobra snake and really mean," said Curtis. "We don't sell poisonous snakes to anybody except zoo people."

Curtis said the pink porpoise is the most difficult animal to transport here.

"It's like other porpoises, but it has a longer snout and lives in fresh water. It's hard to keep alive while being brought here by plane — has to be kept moist and given a special breathing apparatus."

Alligators, going for as little as $2 apiece, are the fastest selling animals on the place, said Curtis.

"Monkeys sell good too," he said, but they're not as cheap as alligators." (from $15 to $125).

One of the most expensive animals is the giant armadillo, which sells for $650. The champanzee costs $500 and up, and the jaguar, hardest to catch of all animals, $350 to $450.

America's favorite pet, the dog, is not found on Wild Cargo's price listing, but you can buy an Azaras wild dog for $35.

Or, if these prices scare you, you might try the city pound.

Eighth Annual Irish Fair to Open Saturday

'You Name It, We Have It'

By DUANE JONES
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Looking for something to do this weekend?

You won't have to look far.

The City Recreation Department's eighth annual Irish Fair opens in Young Circle at 10 a.m. Saturday and runs through St. Patrick's day, Tuesday.

"You name it, we have it," laughed Pat Heneghan, recreation director.

Activities will open with a presentation of colors and will follow with speeches, a parade, firing of a rocket, a Boy Scout drum and bugle performance, baton twirling, a drill by the Florida Military Academy.

An Air Force rocket display, boy and girl scout encampments, a doll show, Irish farmyard, arts and crafts, drama, trophies, and science booths, track meets, tug-o-war contest, cake bake judging, freckle contest, South Broward High School band concert, and bands from McArthur and McNicol schools.

At 8 p.m. an Irish musical, "Killarney," will be presented in the bandshell.

Other Saturday events include a boy's golf tournament at Orangebrook Country Club, a swimming meet at South Broward High, and a tennis tournament at David Park.

Sunday's activities get underway at 9 a.m. with a roller skating event at Hollywood Skating Area, and at 10 a.m. there will be a boat regatta on North Lake.

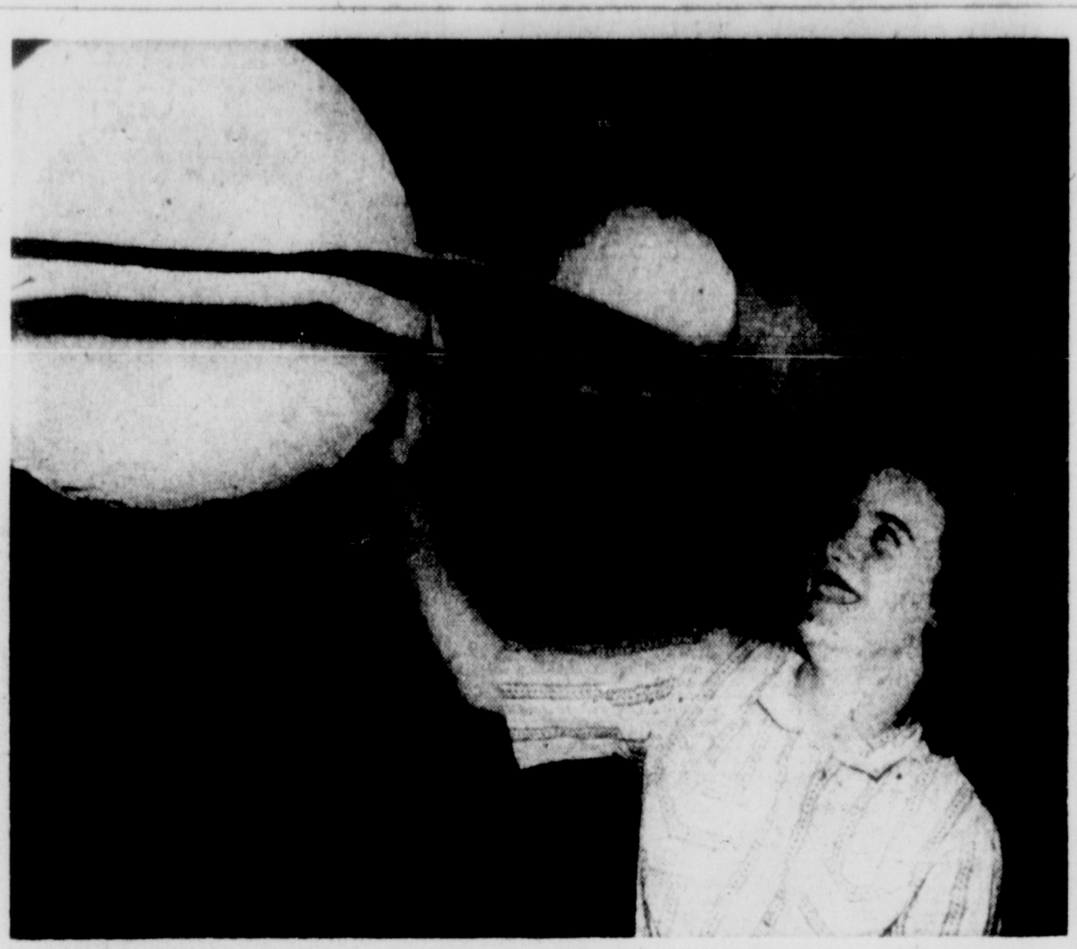
An archery tourney will start at 1 p.m. in David Park, and at 2:30 p.m. there will be an art exhibit at the Recreation Building.

A "Festival of Nations" will be staged at 3 p.m. in Young Circle.

Monday's program will feature an Optimist international collegiate and high school track meet at 7:30 p.m. at South Broward track. "Killarney" will be presented again at 8 p.m.

On Wednesday and Thursday a men's county invitational basketball tournament will start at 7:30 p.m. at South Broward.

Heneghan pointed out that time schedules for all events can be obtained at his office.



Universal Appeal

Watching the universe go by is Betty Prescott, member of Robert Mallory's sixth grade science class which made the exhibit at Lauderdale Manors School. The display is a scale model of the solar system which the class is studying.

SAC Fliers Still Depend On the Old 'Gooney-Bird'

OFFUTT AIR FORCE BASE, Neb. —(UPI)— You read a lot these days about the sleek and speediest aircraft of the Strategic Air Command. But nobody ever seems to write about the trusty old C-47.

The "gooney-bird," probably the only plane familiar to every SAC flier, doesn't carry the nuclear punch that SAC hopes it never has to deliver.

But day in and day out, the C-47 performs one of the most necessary functions in the far-flung command.

It transports hundreds of SAC-men daily in their necessary movement from base to base. Administrative officers fly around for conferences at other bases; tech sergeants use the C-47 to transfer from one base to another; inspectors use it to get to bases they want to keep an eye on.

You name it — and a SAC-man on a "gooney-bird" is probably going somewhere to do it.

The trusty '47, cargo and transport plane used extensively in World War II and counterpart of the civilia DC-3, picked up its nicknam from an airman in the Sout Sea Islands. Guam, the legen has it.

There's nothing really slee about one of these tiny — b comparison to a tanker — ai craft.
bered down the runway o Guam and underwent a nea transfiguration when it le the ground and leveled off int a graceful flight.

"Looks almost like a goone bird," the airman muttere And the name stuck.

Hoosiers? They're Not All Bad . . .

TODAY I'D LIKE to take back any unkind words I've written about Hoosiers. They aren't all bad.

Lowell Nussbaum, a columnist for The Indianapolis Star, is a good one.

In addition to being a loyal Hoosier, he's a man of wisdom and good vision.

In a recent column Nussbaum made a big thing of my good looks and youthfulness.

Here's what he wrote:

"AN UPSTART COLUMNIST in The Miami Herald who had the effrontery to devote an entire column to gigging us Hoosiers got his come-uppance from a stout defender of Hoosierdom, James A. Stuart, editor of The Indianapolis Star.

"Duane Jones, the columnist — a nice looking young fellow although looks can be deceiving—admits to being a former Hoosier from Huntington — but now refers sneeringly to us as 'those Hoosiers.'

"He saw an Indiana license plate and took exception — for space-filling purposes —to its 'Lincoln Year' reference.

"'Ye gads . . . now those Hoosiers are taking credit for Abe Lincoln,' this renegade from Huntington wrote.

"THERE WAS MORE such tripe. He even tried to take Hoagy Carmichael away from Indiana, although sometimes I'm inclined — when I hear Hoagy try to sing — to let some other state have him.

"Jim Stuart, vacationing in Fort Lauderdale, read Jones' column and saw red. In an interview in the Fort Lauderdale News, he debunked the debunker.

"But it really wasn't necessary. There's no need to take these other columnists seriously, especially the younger ones down in Florida. I've had encounters with them in the past.

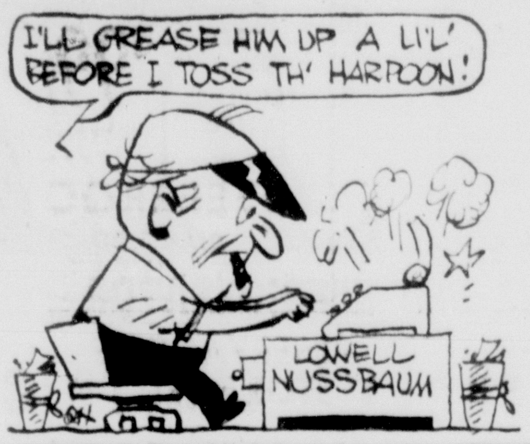
"Whenever material is scarce, they fill up with a sneer at us Hoosiers. I think it was John Gunther who started the trend with his 'dirtiest city' label for Indianapolis.

"But let them sneer. We can take it. We like it here."

* * *

THAT'S WHAT Nussbaum wrote. Did you catch the part about my handsome face and the reference to my youth?

That Nussbaum is all right. Not handsome or young but all right.



I'LL GREASE HIM UP A LI'L' BEFORE I TOSS TH' HARPOON!

Smoother Sailing for West Hollywood?

Pembroke 'Captured' In Chamber Brochure

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

FRAN

HOLLYWOOD

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE booklet on incorporation came off the presses still listing Pembroke Pines within the proposed boundaries.

Shortly before the 10,000 copies of the brochure were distributed, Pembroke Pines voted to form a separate township.

Incidently, word around has it that not all rooters for a city of West Hollywood were displeased when Pembroke Pines withdrew.

Several outspoken critics of West Hollywood hail from the Pines area — with that community out of bounds, some believe incorporation of the remainder of West Hollywood would be in for smoother sailing.

A Surprise For Motorist

MOTORISTS LEAVING the Florida Sunshine Parkway at the Hollywood entrance are greeted by courteous personnel at a brand new information booth.

Sometimes brochures, hailing the glories of West Hollywood are pressed into the hands of newcomers.

Then as the motorist turns onto W. Hollywood Blvd., he gets a first glimpse of the community — a scraggly lot — weed strewn with a few pieces of children's play equipment, and one or two empty beer cans.

A large sign on the corner of the lot identifies it as the Optimist Club's "West Hollywood playground for children."

Sunday Closing Fight Goes On

A TIRELESS FIGHTER for Sunday closings, the Rev. William Fisackerly carried the drive to the legislative hearings recently.

He told the Broward County delegation that 750 persons in West Hollywood have signed a petition favoring Sunday closings. The petition requested the legislators to seek out the "feasibility of Sunday closing laws."

The pastor reported that the West Hollywood Shopping Plaza merchants have pledged full support — except for one large food store — to the program.

Sheriff Gets Lot of 'Power'

IT WOULD SEEM the City Committee leaned backwards to give the Broward County Sheriff's Department just due.

The sheriff, responsible for policing all unincorporated areas, has a sub-station here, operated by one deputy 24 hours around the clock. In addition there is one full-time patrol car.

However, the booklet hands the Sheriff's Department credit for "11 full-time sheriffs."

Jack Meyer, brochure chairman, explained, "We wanted to be fair. We included man-hours compiled by deputies called in for emergencies, and detectives assigned to the area."

Under a city plan, the committee suggests 25 full-time policemen.

Capt. Robert W. Johnston, Boss of Detectives
. . . 'give me interested, conscientious and honest men . . .'

Detectives: Their Lives, Jobs Don't Follow Whodunit Plot

(Last of a Series)

By PAT MANGAN
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — "Super sleuths" are not necessarily the best detectives, in the opinion of Capt. Robert W. Johnston.

Johnston, chief of the Fort Lauderdale Police Department's detective division, said "Give me interested, conscientious and honest men."

He thinks they do the best job in the long run.

A detective's job isn't all glamor. There's a lot of plodding leg work to be done between sensational arrests.

In Fort Lauderdale, there are 32 people assigned to the detective division — plus a secretary, clerk and one policewoman. Five sergeants and a lieutenant work under Johnston.

Detectives handle cases requiring prolonged investigation. The cases ordinarily are culled from the department's over-all complaints by supervisors in the uniformed division.

Crime reports that cross the detectives' desks represent a great variety in human capacity for getting into trouble.

They deal with everything from petty larceny to rape and murder.

Sometimes a minor-appearing theft can lead to a ring of thieves responsible for thousands of dollars worth of stolen property.

The detective division itself is broken down into squads which deal with certain types of crime. There are the general duty men, hotel security men, and specialists in residence burglary, juvenile aid, shoplifting, fraudulent checks, auto theft and the lie detector.

Major problem of the bureau is breaking and entering cases. There were 521 during 1957-58.

Investigating them, or others, means interviewing many, many people. The figure can run into the hundreds, and some leads are deadends which must be followed anyway, just in case.

One of the longest investigations on record is that of a 1955 murder. Leads are still being followed and the probe has stretched all over the world.

More immediate results showed up in other cases. The vice squad last year convicted 92 per cent of the 144 people arrested for bolita, moonshine, con games, prostitution, bookmaking, gambling, or narcotics violations. The shoplifting squad, working only part-time, recovered $1,879 worth of goods. It's now on fulltime duty.

The Juvenile Aid Bureau found 71 of 73 missing children, referred 104 felonies and 432 misdemeanors to Juvenile Court and investigated five felonies and 32 misdemeanors that sent juveniles to adult criminal trials.

However, investigation of crime is not the detectives' only job. They have given lectures to civic organizations, hotel security squad members confer with hotels on security measures, business establishments are contacted for the same reason, detectives take part in the Tri-County Intelligence meetings and are represented at weekly sessions conducted by the medical examiner to discuss medical aids to crime detection.

Right Answer For Firemen?

EDITOR: At long last a movement has been started to give the volunteer fire service the financial support they rightfully and justly deserve.

To expect proper fire protection service in the fastest growing county in this state under the present system of financial state support is akin to trying to get blood out of a stone. This system is just another one of those Florida antiquated setups, comparable to the county charter dating back to 1885 with about 100 people living here.

It goes without saying that no taxpayer would risk the well being of his family in his own car if the risk entailed the small sum asked for under the recommendation of the County Volunteer Fire Association. The procedure of the county association in first presenting their proposal to the County Commission is a commendable move and should get the support of the commission. Also the effort to retain their status as volunteers reflects smart thinking on the part of the association.

I heartily endorse the idea of administration of firemanic funds by a five-man commission as outlined by the County Firemen's Commission. In the entire program the actual cost to the taxpayer would be less than a penny a day, equitable to all concerned and elimination of house to house begging.

We cannot blame city fire departments for not responding to calls outside of their city limits for which they get no monetary consideration, to say nothing of the risks involved . . .

Yours Truly,
ALFRED C. SCHERER

Police, Court Cash Dips

POMPANO BEACH — Police Department and Municipal Court revenues for February totalled $3,995 — off 24 per cent from January.

The greatest drop in revenue was in Municipal Court, where only $2,206 in fines and forfeitures was collected, compared with $3,218 in January.

Parking meter revenue was off, too, with only $958 collected, compared with January's $1,284. Meter violation fines were up, however, from $110 to $192.

Chapter Night For SK Alums

FORT LAUDERDALE — New members of Sigma Kappa alumnae will become acquainted with the Broward County chapter Monday at the home of Mrs. M. Wayne Vonarx, 152 S. Fig Tree Lane, Plantation.

Program chairman Mrs. Eugene Henrich will present an adaptation of the TV program "This Is Your Life," at 7:45 p.m.

Assisting will be charter members Miss Violet Austin, Miss Leslie Bauer, Mrs. Rhoda Adams and Dr. Ella Enlows.

Home Remedy? Some Worse Than Ailment

By DON REEDER

INDIANAPOLIS —(AP) — Know somebody who wants to stop stammering? Try smacking him in the face with a piece of liver.

Got lumbago pains? Boil an old shoe and drink the residue.

The Indiana Historical Bureau reports these and similar home remedies were common among Indiana citizens of a century ago—and even more recently.

It is a noble tribute to the hardiness of Hoosier pioneers that they survived not only their illnesses but their cures.

W. Edson Richmond and Elva Van Winkle, two Indiana University staff members, went searching for remedies that were a part of Indiana life 100 years ago. Here's the list they compiled:

If somebody with blue gums bites you, rub the bite with some black hen litter, and the biter will lose his teeth.

For a cut, bind on a poultice of fresh cow manure.

Asthma—Drink a tea made by boiling a hornets' nest.

Head cold—Take nine whiffs from a dirty sock.

Leg cramps—Tie some eel skin around the leg.

Croup—Rub the throat with skunk oil and take a dose of oil.

Inflamed finger joints — Catch a weasel and squeeze it to death.

Goiter—Pass a dead person's hand over the throat.

Headache—Drink a stiff shot of water mixed with wood ashes.

Influenza—Drink hot milk laced with pepper.

Measles—Rub with sheep dung.

Rabies—Burn the bite for at least eight seconds with a red-hot iron.

Rheumatism—Rub the afflicted parts with the blood of a freshly killed rattlesnake.

Not all the cures were so disagreeable. Many ailments—including cholera, fever, lung fever and others—called for a liberal dose of whisky or gin. That particular remedy undoubtedly went down easier than the hornets' nest tea.

Other pioneer prescriptions fell into the category of "spells" instead of medicine. Like these:

Bleeding—To stop bleeding, pronounce the Biblical verse Ezekiel 16.8 silently three times.

General diseases—Lay on the afflicted part a hair from the head of a man who has never seen his father.

Freckles—Remove them by washing in dew the first of May.

Leg pains—Wear a dime around the ankle on a string.

Corns—Put shaving soap in the shoes.

Chills—Step across a creek backwards.

Rheumatism—Carry a potato or a chestnut in the pocket.

Toothache—To prevent toothaches, trim fingernails only on Fridays.

Warts—Rub the wart with a stolen dishrag and then hide the dishrag in a tree stump.

Weather Bureau Competition

Fifth Graders Make Weather Forecasters

DENVER — (UPI) — Fifth grade pupils at a Denver elementary school are doing something about weather forecasts — they're making them themselves.

The 27 students of George Purcelly's fifth grade class at Russell Elementary School didn't have to spend a cent to get up their own weather bureau.

Their wind guage is made of four paper cups attached to two crossed pieces of plywood that revolve on a wire from a coat hanger. A plywood arrow revolving on another twisted coat hanger provides wind direction.

The pupils measure humidity with a hygrometer made from a milk carton, straw, nickel, a strand of hair and a dash of nail polish.

They used a bottle, colored water, a rubber stopper and a tube attached to a tackboard strip for their barometer.

They got around the thermometer problem when a student donated one.

Each day, the students check their instruments and issue their forecasts. They say their predictions are just as accurate as those put out by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Weather On Order

PHILADELPHIA —(UPI) — The U.S. Army is now able to test its equipment in all sorts of weather merely by putting it into a small room here at the Frankford Arsenal.

Environmental test chambers have been installed at the arsenal where engineers can simulate anything from a drizzle to a downpour, from a balmy day in the spring to a blazing hot day in the summer.

The chambers were made for the Army by Tenney Engineering, Inc., of Union, N.J. Rain, sunlight, temperature and humidity are all produced in them automatically.

Hearing Device an Extra Aid

NEW YORK —(UPI) — Hearing aids have proved of value to their wearers even beyond making it possible for them to hear better, according to the Hearing Aid Industry Conference.

It told of one department store official who merely turns off his aid when confronted with complaints from employes and customers, and of a former major league pitcher who explained all his violations of the manager's orders by saying his hearing aid must have been out of order.

The industry group also told of a college student who had his hearing aid earpiece attached to a transistor radio carried in his pocket.

This got him through many a dull lecture until the music he was listening to one day so enraptured him that he started humming an accompaniment.

Jobs Look For People

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Jobs are plentiful at the Florida State Employment Service, according to Charles Saunders, local manager.

"We have many jobs open for stenographers, cashiers, switchboard operators, salesclerks, bank tellers, automobile mechanics and service station attendants," he said.

"Additional good jobs in many other categories also are available," he added.

Saunders reported that the agency placed 1,148 persons in jobs during February. Of these, 685 were women and 182 were veterans. Some 1,331 workers filed applications for employment.

The manager said that in February of last year 807 persons were placed by the FSES. He pointed out that this year's placements constitute an increase of 42 per cent over the corresponding period of 1958.

The employment service office is at 499 N. Andrews Ave.

Goodwill Envoys Needed for Trip

FORT LAUDERDALE — Another 20 goodwill ambassadors are needed for the spring swing through the Mid-West, the Chamber of Commerce reported.

Some 20 members already signed up for the jaunt through St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago from April 5 to 11. Individual transportation cost is $180.35. Jim Franklin and Jack Seymour are handling arrangements.

Mobile Homers Pick Gulfstream

HALLANDALE — Gulfstream Race Course has been selected as the site for the 1959 Florida Mobile Home Exposition, Nov. 18-22.

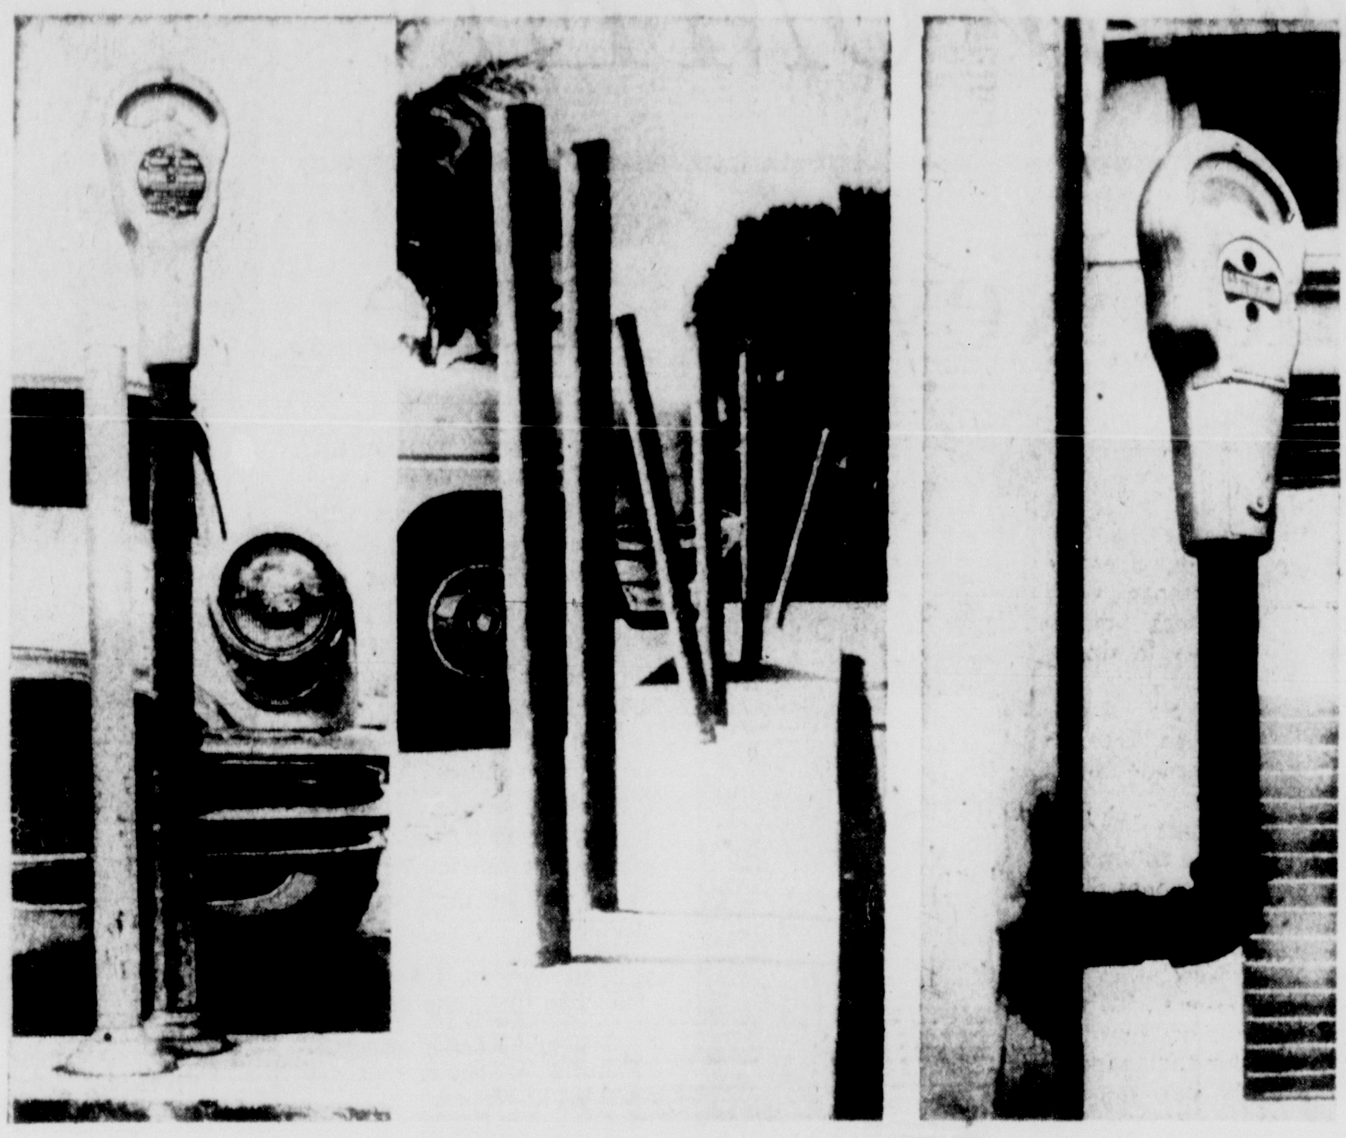
Herb Goldberger, chairman of the association's show committee, said the parking area in front of the grandstand will be used to display mobile homes and travel trailers. The course was also the setting for the exposition in 1957.

Have Tux . . .

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. — (AP) — A self-described Florida orange-picker arrested for disorderly conduct was asked by city police why he was wearing a tuxedo.

He always wears it, he explained, even when picking oranges.

As Time . . . Goes By



Pity the poor parking meter. Scorned by the motorist, victim of cars and target for thieves, these sentinels of time still stand their ground — sometimes. The above meters in West Hollywood could be saying: "Don't look now, but you've lost your head." "I've told him not to drink that stuff." "Don't look now, but I'm posted."

Deerfield Looks At Recreation Needs in Survey

DEERFIELD BEACH — A massive door-to-door sampling of this city's residents, to determine what is desired in a proposed recreation program, is nearing completion.

Twenty-three community leaders have been making the poll, which is expected to cover some 500 residents.

The information will be gathered by a new parks and recreation board, scheduled to have an organizational meeting late this week.

Then the survey information will be forwarded to Charles R. McCarthy, manager of the Department of recreation of the State Development Commission.

McCarthy is to analyze the results of the poll and recommend a recreation program for the city, based on the needs and desires of the public, and the available money.

More Green On the Way

NEW YORK —(UPI)— The Treasury Department will be doing its share to keep America green next year. It's planning to print more money than ever before.

The green for our money will come from Brooklyn where Reichhold Chemical Inc. has a plant that is scheduled to make 350,000 pounds of dry pigment for the government.

However, this is actually less than has been used in the past as the result of more efficient methods of printing now being used by the U. S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Milanov: Found Key to Life

By MARGARET WALKER
Broward Society Editor

Celebrity Parade

FORT LAUDERDALE — "You want to know my secrets?" asked the great Metropolitan star Zinka Milanov, with a twinkle in her pretty gray-green eyes.

The handsome auburn-haired woman who has been one of the world's greatest singers and the Met's leading soprano for 22 years, exudes warmth and good humor.

As controversies rage between stars Callas and Tebaldi, Mme. Milanov remains aloof, occupying her undisputed niche at the Metropolitan. It's obvious that music and her art remain her sole concern.

Here to sing Tuesday in a concert sponsored by the Community Concert Association, Mme. Milanov was accompanied by her brother, Bozidar Kunc, an accomplished pianist and composer.

"This is a very unusual arrangement for brother and sister to have careers together," she said happily.

MME. MILANOV left her native Yugoslavia many years ago. Her brother has lived in this country for eight years.

"I tell you very frankly," said Mme. Milanov, "when (Rudolph) Bing asked me to return to America in 1950, I was very glad to be back here."

There was a period of three years (1947 to 1950) when war-time difficulties kept Milanov in Europe. Aside from this break in continuity, she has been with the Met 22 years.

Zinka Milanov Relaxed Before Concert
. . . with her accompanist, her brother, Bozidar Kunc

Speaking of her heavy schedule at the Met every season, her spring tours with the company and her own concert appearances, Mme. Milanov revealed what may well be her secret of staying at the top: "I don't believe in doing too many things. You can't do too much. No one is able to do everything well — We're all human, you know."

"My sister never gives more than five concerts in two weeks," interjected her ebullient brother. "Well, usually no more than two a week," shrugged Milanov, who mentioned the number of rehearsals required for each performance.

IN NEW YORK Mme. Milanov has an apartment at 59th St. on Central Park South, which she speaks of with pride.

"It's nothing very luxurious, you know, but it's very artistic. And I have a gorgeous view. I can see all the way to 125th St. in Harlem."

She likes entertaining there —"My little hobby is cooking," she said. "They tell me it's good. I like to cook Serbian dishes. But I try everything. The other day I made southern fried chicken. My friends said it was very delicious; I don't know," she said modestly, with a bright smile.

UNASSUMING ABOUT HER MANY TRIUMPHS, Mme. Milanov, when asked about her appearances with Toscanini, recalled an incident which must be among her treasured memories.

"I was afraid of Toscanini," she said, "and I had heard he didn't like for a singer to — how do you say it? — sit on a note for a half hour?"

Bearing this in mind, the trembling young singer did not sustain a certain note, and was asked why by the great conductor.

"But Maestro, I heard you don't like that," she protested.

"Madame, when a voice is as beautiful as yours, you can hold it," he replied.

"He was always very nice to me," she added simply.

Milanov's husband is Gen. Ljubo Ilie, the Yugoslav ambassador to Denmark. She will join him there at the end of May when she completes her season's commitments in this country.

* * *

IS IT NOT DIFFICULT to combine her career and marriage?

"I tell you, it is VERY difficult. To be separated so much of the time is very heartbreaking," she said with feeling.

"But my husband, he is a great man — very unselfish," she said. "He knows I would be unhappy if I could not sing. It's hard on both of us."

As she and Mr. Kunc dined after their arrival from the Miami airport, lights were suddenly dimmed in the dining room.

"I want more light. I don't like that," she remarked.

"She has on stage very much light," said her brother, who waved his fork at his sister and said, "Zeenka, theese people will begeen to hate us if you complain."

Tropical Arrangement from Broward Yard

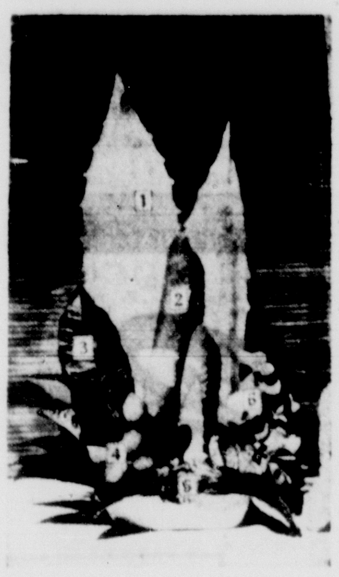
Flower Arranger Finds Prize in Her Own Yard



FRUITS AND FLOWERS used by Mrs. Robert Kayser in this arrangement are: (1) century plant (agava); (2) ochrosis fruit; (3) crotons; (4) monstera fruit; (5) succulents' fruit; and (6) ochrosis foliage.

FORT LAUDERDALE — Mrs. Robert Kayser's yard at 1643 SE 13th St. is a flower arranger's paradise of tropical fruits and foliage.

"I haven't bought a flower since I came here eight years ago," she said.

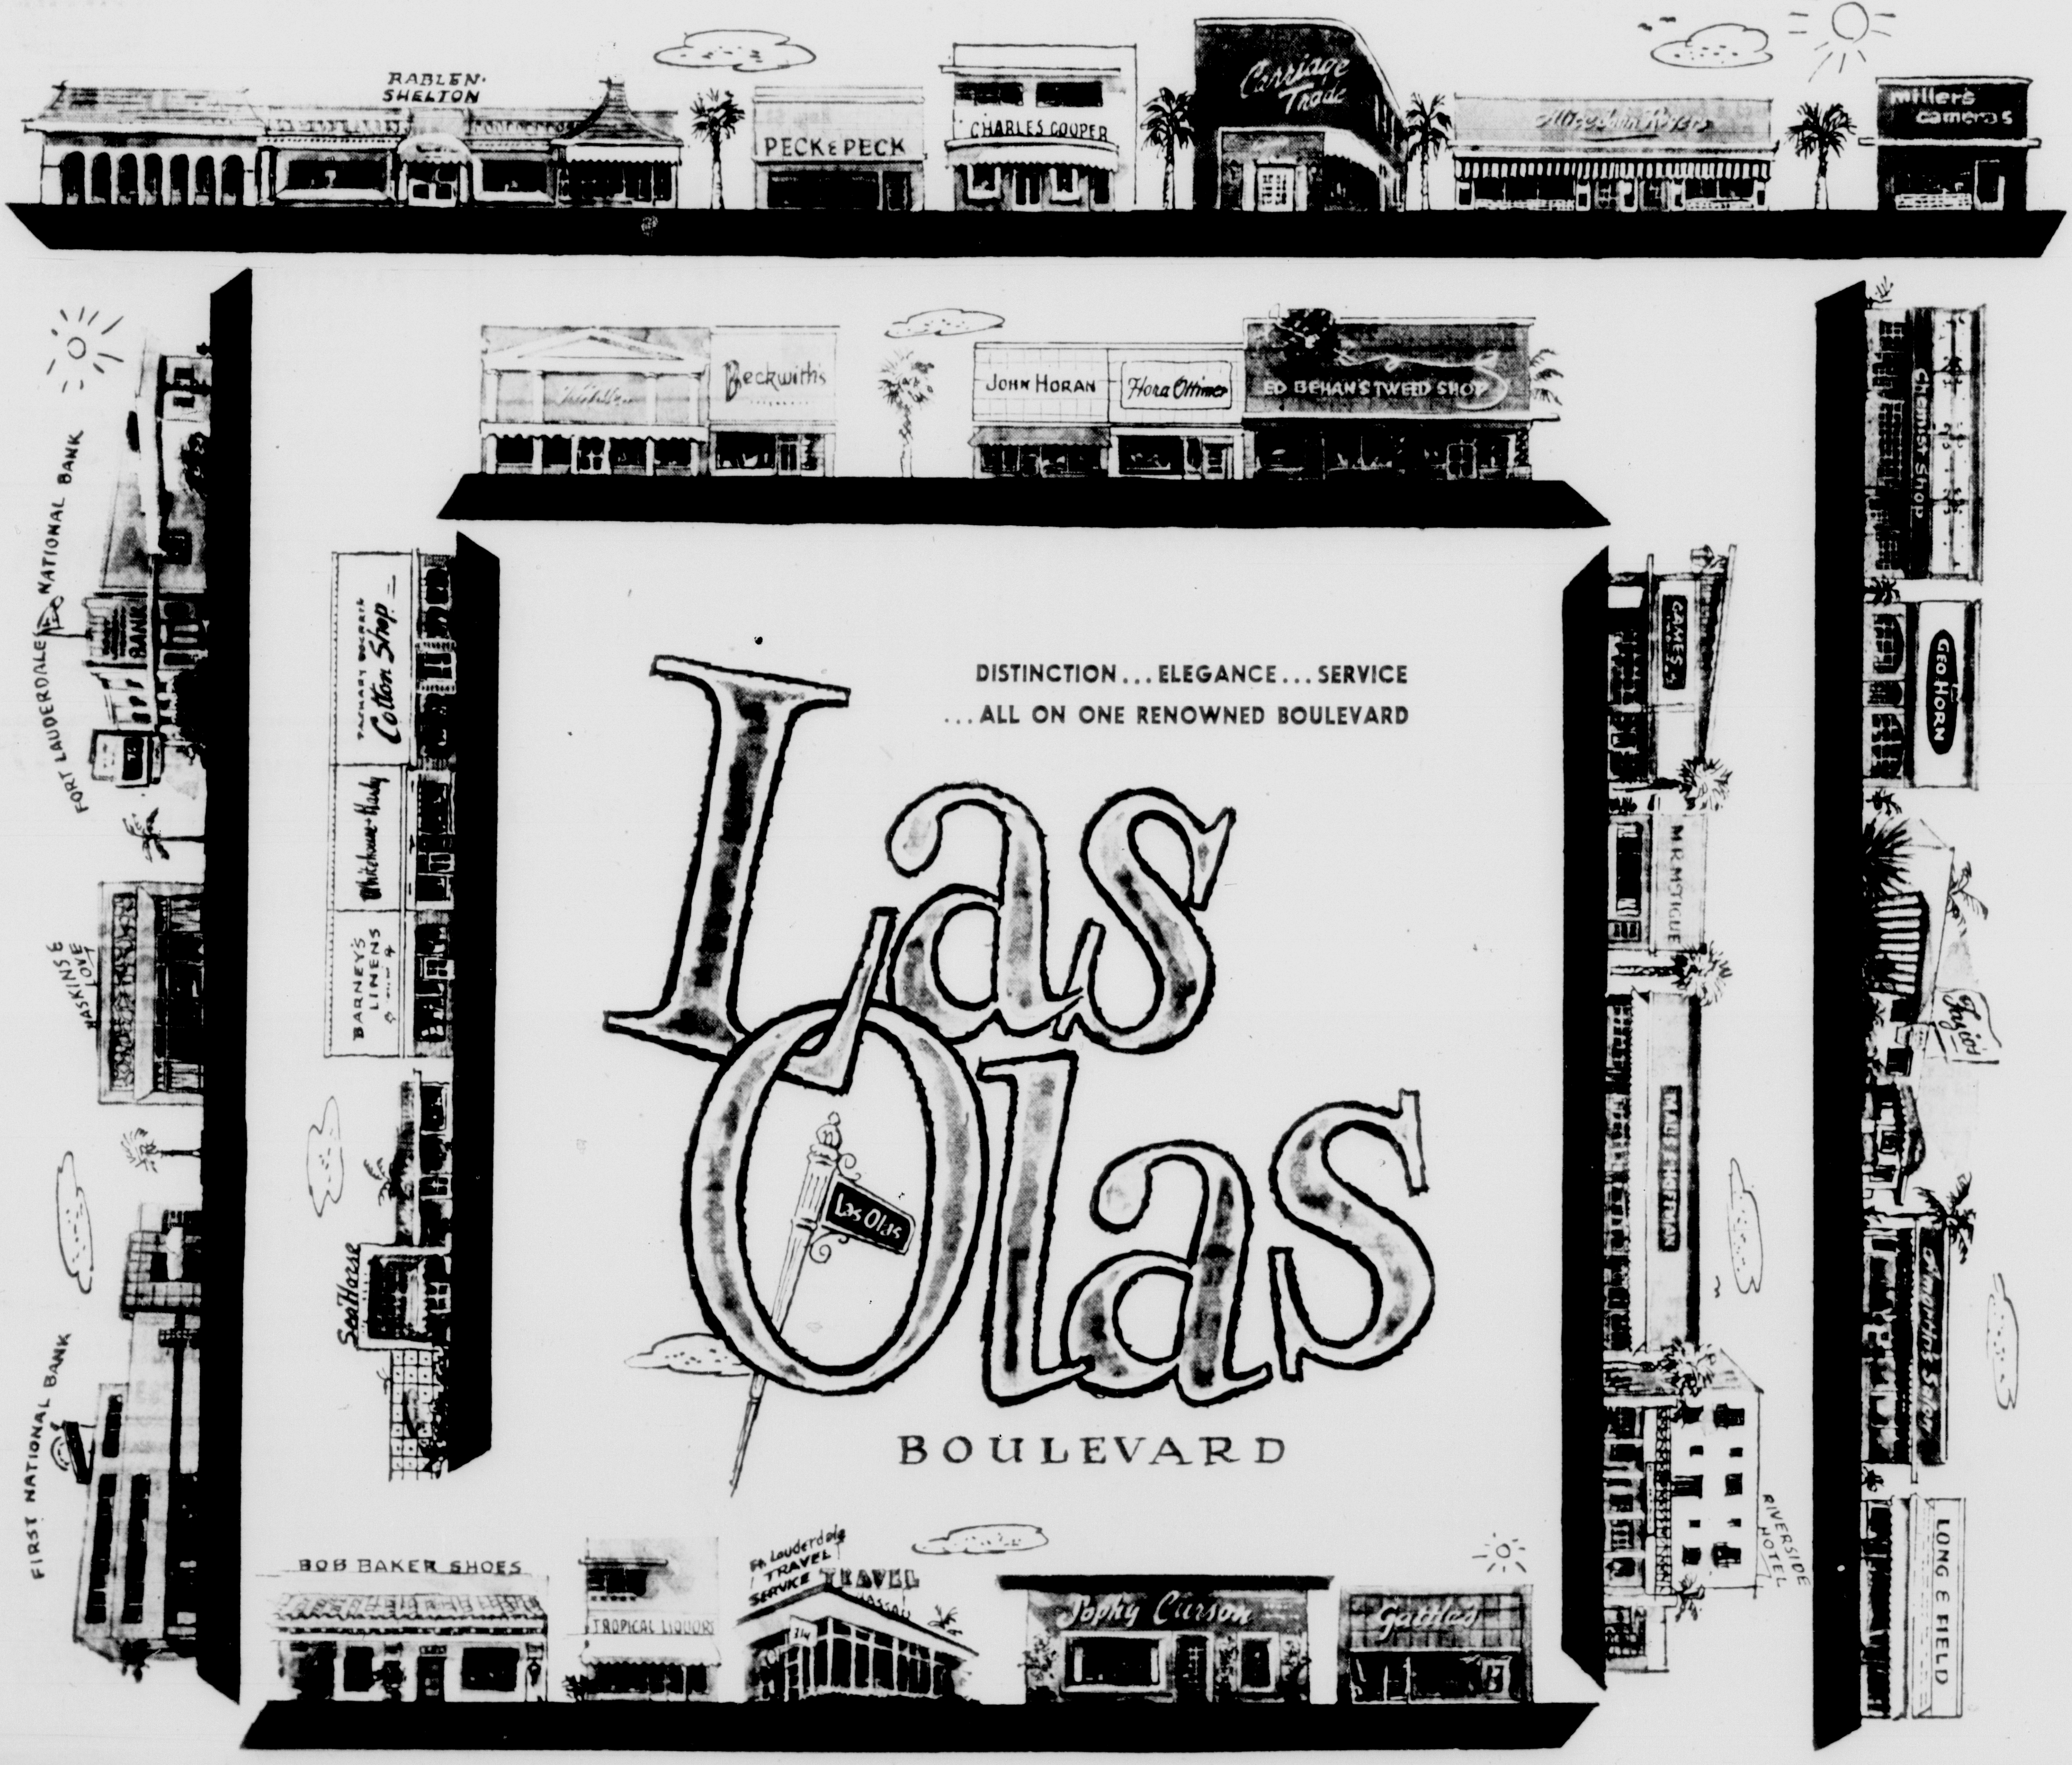
All materials used in this arrangement are from her yard. Most are common, can be used by any flower arranger — beginner or skilled — who wants fresh arrangements in her home.

The blue-gray century plant leaves in the background pick up the color of the turquoise figure. Other green tones are the ochrosis and succulents. Colorful accents are lent by the red monstera fruit and croton leaves.

"The arrangements will last for several weeks," Mrs. Kayser said. It was a blue ribbon winner in the "beauty in casual living" class of the annual flower show of the Federated Garden Clubs of Fort Lauderdale.

Other first place winners in arrangements and corsage categories were Mrs. E. O. Williams, Mrs. Raymon Cofman, Mrs. H. C. Nickerson, Mrs. William Loftus, Mrs. John Callan and Mrs. Ruth Bowman.

Spathodea and Bauthinia clubs received blue ribbons for club projects.



ON THE GO

By MARGARET WALKER

FORT LAUDERDALE — The international racing set is livening St. Petersburg this week as yachts sail in from all over the country to skim away Saturday to Havana.

E. J. (Dick) Richardson, with some of his crew, sailed his beautiful 52-foot yawl, The Good Hope, to the West Coast a few days ago. Helping him ready her for the race are John Rodstrum (who sold his well-known "Water Witch" not long ago), Bill Gould, Grant Holt, Harl Barlitt, and Miamians Ned Freeman, Sandy Hiss, "Ducky" Endt and Eddie Quest.

Expected to fly in from New York to join them is Colin Ratsey, of the famous sail-maker clan. He will crew again for Dick, having been aboard in the Lipton Cup and the Miami-Nassau races.

Another New Yorker flying to make the race is Paul Hoffman.

Nassauvian crew members will include Billy Turtle and Basil McKinney.

Mates who will see their men off, then fly to meet them in Havana for festivities at the Havana-Hilton, include Mrs. Richardson, who drove over with her sister, Mrs. Bill Gould, Mrs. Barlitt (bride of a week) and Mrs. Rodstrum.

Mrs. Hoffman will accompany her husband and join the girls Saturday.

Veteran sailor Fred Temple, whose membership in the Cruising Club of America attests to his sailing skill, will crew aboard New Yorker Walter Colquitt's "Pipe Dream." Among the party in Havana will be Mrs. Colquitt and Nancy Price of Coral Gables.

Some of the 33 yachts entered, including five from the Cuban navy will continue the southern racing circuit from Havana to Varadero Beach.

The Richardsons wll forego this one to be home in time for the Commodore's Ball March 21 at the Lauderdale Yacht Club. Dick Richardson is the club's rear commodore.

A. C. Kaestner on Flying Visit

ANNA MAY AND A. C. KAESTNER, who divide their time between their New York apartment and their beach apartment here, were reunited over the weekend when Mr. K. flew in with Oil Executive Ronald P. Tawse. Mr. Tawse is on his way to London to join his family.

Mr. Kaestner, whose engineering skills are responsible for some of New York's subways, will fly to the West Coast before returning to Gotham.

Anna May will join him there in April, combining her visit home with some buying for her shop for casual and town clothes.

The Kaestners were dinner party hosts at Pier 66 Yacht Club the other evening to Mr. Tawse, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Phillips, annual winter residents from Detroit, and Mrs. Mary Fulton.

The Robert Runyans Are Parents

MARY AND ROBERT RUNYAN had their hopes for a girl realized last Friday when their Mary Roberta weighed in at 6 lbs. 7 ozs. at Broward General Hospital.

Mary, who was a Herald staff writer before her baby arrived, is home now at the Harbor Club.

The baby will be baptized Easter Sunday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Godmother will be Mrs. James Knight, who will come from Gainesville with Jim for the service. Godfather will be David Zeitzheim, Mary's brother, who will arrive for Easter holidays from John Carroll University in Cleveland.

Frederick Sprague Among Panelists

WHEN BUSINESSMEN, priests and artists get together on a panel the discussion can be a rich variation of opinion on the theme of religion and art.

"The church must become aware of the contemporary movement in art," declared the noted painter, Frederick Sprague of Fort Lauderdale, who was asked to appear on a panel with several other distinguished men during the recent Religion and Art Festival in Miami.

Moderator was Thomas Tibbs, director of the Museum of Contemporary Crafts of New York.

"It was an exciting two-hour discussion," said Mr. Sprague, who appeared with Ibram Lassaw, the famous sculptor who was the first to introduce metal space sculpture; Dominique de Lerma, musician and musicologist of the University of Miami music department, Joseph Auslander, poet, and others.

Loves Girls —Will Accept One

"I'M SO GLAD I have a sister, Daddy," said six-year-old Stewart La Motte III when informed of the new arrival in their family last week. "I just love girls."

The new girl is Sandra Catherine, the Stewart La Mottes' second. First to arrive was Susie, with 2½ years' experience in handling big brothers.

Janie and her baby are home now on Fiesta Way.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Visiting

NEW YORK'S FORMER LT. GOVERNOR George B. DeLuca, and Mrs. DeLuca, have been vacationing at the Alamanda Apartments on Birch Rd.

Mr. DeLuca, who was in office with Averell Harriman until the former governor's defeat by Nelson Rockefeller, said, "I'm sure there will be a Democratic president in 1960." He didn't name him, but he pointed to Harriman as a "vigorous man with a good grasp of international politics."

Mr. DeLuca, former magistrate of the City of New York, was a judge in the Criminal Court of New York and later became chief justice of the court. He served under Mayors Jimmy Walker, LaGuardia and O'Dwyer.

Now 70, Mr. De Luca has retired from politics to become a bank vice president in New York. ". . . But we'll spend as much time here as possible," he said.

TEENS TALKING

Big Night Ahead: Spring Cotillion, March 22

By VICKI FUHRER
Broward Woman's Editor

FORT LAUDERDALE — Covering school news from a perch in the hospital this week was like stabbing at a glacier with an ice pick. I could write a volume on dental surgery, but it would scarcely merit a Nobel Prize. Enough about "choppers," let's get to the "hoppers."

Gals garbed in their swishiest gowns will be escorted by lotharios in formal bib and tucker the night of March 20.

The big occasion will be the spring cotillion, an annual gala sponsored by the Holiday Cotillion.

The count-down will start about 8:30 that eve for the blast-off into spring, which officially rolls around at midnight (March 21), and the scene of festivities will be the Governors' Club Hotel.

Surprise attraction at LHS senior class dance Saturday night will be Al Mallinger, vice president of Stranahan Student Council. With Al, dialects are a specialty, and his varied impersonations are calculated to thoroughly amuse the audience.

A DUST-RAISING SCHEDULE of almost daily rehearsals, coupled with the inevitable cramming for six-week exams, didn't sabotage the spirit of LHS junior class cast members Bob Snyder, Nancy Spiegel, Jim Bundy, Sandra Doak, Dick Beatty, Pat Gross, Helen Nankin, John Simpson, Linda Hutchinson, Marvin Day and Cis McQuire.

Everyone—but everyone—plans to attend tonight or Friday night performances of "The Curious Savage" which should be a complete sell-out.

PREFERRED: "Russian Education to American Education," presented an interesting topic of controversial debate March 5 by the LHS sixth period classes.

This newly organized Debate Club readily (and modestly) admits this, their first endeavor, is not worthy of a Lincoln-Douglas press coverage.

However, if it continues to be a success, next year they hope to include the entire student body. Heading said oratorical group are Marshall Nance, president; Tom Jacobson, vice president; Jan Jackson, secretary, and Marcia Mitson, treasurer.

* * *

DID YOU KNOW it's going to be jig time Saturday night at Stranahan's Colleen Clancy Clop? Gladys McCormick tells us this St. Patrick's Day semi-formal will be given by the junior class. There may not be corned beef and cabbage, but come prepared to rock ("blarney" rock, that is).

Usherettes of Strananan are sponsoring an inter-club Easter basket competition to be judged on content, originality and menu planning, continues Gladys. Winning club will be rewarded with an Easter party hosted in their honor.

Members of McArthur's Spanish Club, "La Pinata," are busy lining up a native-style floor show for their South American soiree April 3 in the school patio, reports Sue Pansa. Refreshments, decor and music will be in fiesta beat.

South Broward High's cafeteria has become an increasingly popular breakfast-time rendezvous. Rita Mannheim says that more and more students are gathering 'round these "ayems" for orange juice, donuts, milk and hot chocolate.

* * *

CREATING MUCH SPECULATION is the faculty versus varsity team basketball game scheduled for 8 p.m. April 3 in Pompano Beach High gym, sponsored by Allied Youth.

Female faculty cheerleaders will lead fans in rousing "rahs," says Ray Johnson, on this fun-filled occasion.

Inter-Club Council of Pompano Beach High will hold its problem workshop the morning of March 21, at 9:30.

The attendance of students interested in running for school offices next year is invited, quotes Ray. At this time, informative pointers on duties, responsibilities and problems of same will be discussed.

Everglades PTA Plans 2 Sales

FORT LAUDERDALE — Rummage sales will be held Friday and Saturday by the Everglades Junior High School PTA as its only money-raising project of the year. The sale Friday will begin at 10 a.m. at Stevens Market at Wilton Manors. Saturday's sale will be at Drennan's Food Store, 731 NW Sixth St.

KERRY DANCERS

Teachers Join A Chorus Line

By BEVERLY PAULSON
Broward Society Editor

WEST HOLLYWOOD—Pop had better be careful which chorus girl he eyes. She may be junior's teacher.

Four young schoolmarms from West Hollywood School are casting aside books and tests to be parasol-twirling, singing dancers.

But relax, Mom—they'll be the picture of decorum.

They are in a nine-gal dance team which will perform Saturday and Monday at the Irish Fair sponsored by the Hollywood Recreation Department in the Hollywood bandshell.

Their dance: A demure (no high kicks) routine to the tune of "Rosie O'Grady."

Their costumes: Full polka skirts, white blouses and a touch of ol' Erin in emerald green ties.

The dancers made their debut on the stage at last year's Irish Fair as gunmen's molls.

Mollie Heneghan, wife of Recreation Department Director Pat Heneghan, dreamed up the idea and recruited most of the dancers from West Hollywood School.

She is a secretary at the school; Mrs. Robert McLean, Mrs. Ted Steele, Miss Connie Willeford and Mrs. Janice Leonard are teachers, and Miss Jayne Presutti is a nurse.

Rounding out the team are Miss Betty Gillard, a nurse with the Broward County Health Department; Mrs. John Huckstein, secretary at the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Spur Fitzgerald, tennis player-mother.

The team has been rehearsing four weeks with Eileen Wall, producer-director of the 24-act show, which will have a cast of 160 people.

Says Mrs. Heneghan, "It sure is fun."

Newlyweds Living in Lauderdale

FORT LAUDERDALE — Mr. and Mrs. Harl Reed Barlitt Jr. are living at 633 SE First Ave. after their wedding Friday in Church-by-the-Sea.

The bride is the former Helen Harriet Etzkorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo R. Etzkorn, Hawthorne, N.J. A graduate of Hawthorne schools and Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford, N.J., she is a secretary with the City of Fort Lauderdale.

Mr. Barlitt is the son of the senior Harl R. Barlitts, 829 NE 17th Ave. He was graduated from Culver Military Academy, Fort Lauderdale High School and the University of Florida. His fraternity is Phi Delta Theta. He is employed by E. J. Richardson Construction Co. on the yawl Good Hope.

'THE WORLD OF FLOWERS'

Flower Show to Open In Hollywood Friday

HOLLYWOOD — The Hollywood Garden Club's annual spring flower show opens Friday at Parish Hall, 1900 Van Buren St.

The theme this year is "The World of Flowers."

Hours Friday will be from 3:30 to 9 p.m.; Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Mrs. John Harvey and Mrs. Bruce Dodds are general chairmen.

One of the 10 classes includes arrangements which portray customs of foreign countries.

22 to Mark Birthdays

FORT LAUDERDALE — Twenty-two members of the Eastside Welcome Wagon Club will celebrate their birthdays today at the Beachcomber Restaurant.

An 11:30 a.m. social hour for members and guests will precede the luncheon. Hostesses will be Mrs. R. G. Lee, Mrs. W. F. Myers and Mrs. L. S. Solar.

LOUELLA PARSONS

Astaire Accepts 'Company' Role

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — From far away Australia Fred Astaire cabled Bill Perlberg and George Seaton his enthusiastic acceptance of their offer to co-star with Lilli Palmer in "Pleasure of His Company," which they are getting ready for Paramount release.

The stage play by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Samuel Taylor was produced by Freddie Brisson and has been a smash hit on Broadway.

Taylor wrote the screenplay and this will be the first of Lilli's three picture deal for Perlberg-Seaton. She and Fred play the estranged parents who disagree on their daughter's marriage.

Fred has surprised everybody in "On the Beach" with his excellent performances — with nary a dance step!

DAVID SELZNICK tells me that he will turn over "Tender Is the Night" and "Scarlet Lily," the story of Mary Magdalene, to 20th Century-Fox for Jennifer Jones.

"I will not produce them, nor have any part of their production," he said. "I have worked on the stories, and they are all ready to go."

"What does this mean when you have always been associated in the production of Jennifer's pictures?" I asked.

"Not really," he said. "I have only done two or three pictures with her. The reason now is that I want to get my stage play 'Gone With the Wind' going to New York, and there's nothing more than that back of the fact that I have decided not to produce her next pictures. I have faith in 20th, and know they will turn out well."

THE FIRST ASSIGNMENT given Sidney Poitier since he won the Academy Award nomination for "The Defiant Ones" is by Hall Bartlett.

Retired and Happy

June Allyson: No More Tears

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — June Allyson, in retirement for more than a year, says she'll stay there as long as studios try to lure her back with tear-jerking sweet little girl parts.

"I'm tired of those please-don't - worry - about - me - I'll - stay - home - and - do - the - dishes roles," she said with her infectious, deep-throated laugh.

Just a few years, the pert blonde actress was the movies' most successful cryer.

Teamed with Jimmy Stewart, she kept the handkerchief business booming with such films as "The Glenn Miller Story," "Strategic Air Command" and "The Stratton Story."

Although she has one new film — "Stranger in My Arms" — she is now settled happily into the full-time job of being married to Actor-Producer Dick Powell.

Wearing blue slacks and a blue-and-white striped pullover sweater, she said in an interview in their home:

"A year ago last Chrismas morning, I woke up and said I was quitting. Richard said he knew I'd eventually do it. And I've been determined ever since not to play those crying parts.

"I've never had a burning desire to be an actress. The only reason I started is that I found out you could make $35 a week being a chorus girl and only $10 a week working in a department store."

Miss Allyson, born in the Bronx, got her start as a chorus girl at the Copacabana night club in New York.

"After that, I just went along with the tide," she said. "I never pushed, and I won't now because I've got enough to do. Look around you, and you'll see why."

She pointed to the fertile hills in which the Powells have a country-like, 58-acre estate, complete with lake, ducks, cows, horses and two houses. But most of her time, she said, was spent looking after their two children, Pamela, 10, and Ricky, 8.

June Allyson
. . . busy at home

"Why should I leave this place for bad pictures?" she asked. "I don't see enough of Richard as it is. If I worked too, we'd never get together. We had that problem before.

"We've been married for 13 years, and he's such a fine man that there's nothing more important to me than being with him. It's always exciting. He maps out plans and says, 'Five years from today, I'll be doing so-and-so.' And he does just what he says.

"He gets mad at me, though, because I won't even read scripts any more — so I started reading one recently. I make him mad in return by telling him I used to cut classes to see him in the movies when I was a kid."

The actress is 35, her husband 54.

Miss Allyson blushingly admitted that although she'd rather weep no more on screen, she is well qualified for such parts.

"Richard says I even cry at television commercials," she said. "I sit down with the children to watch 'Lassie' and I simply go to pieces."

Wills Gets Harum Role

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — Screen actor Chill Wills has been set to star in the title role of a new Screen Gems filmed series entitled "David Harum."

The inspiration, of course, is the old Edward Noyes Wescott novel that has served previously as the basis for a stage play, a movie and a long-run radio serial.

Murphy to Make Series

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — George Murphy, who quit acting years ago to be a sort of ambassador of good-will for M-G-M and more recently has been vice president in charge of public affairs for TV's Desilu Productions, will go before the cameras again.

Desilu will star him in a new comedy series called "You're Only Young Twice," being prepared for next season. The series concerns the adventures of a gay couple after they have married off their children.

Rangers' Freddie Martin Keeps Hold on Sinkerball

By DICK MEYER
Herald Staff Writer

Broward Sports

POMPANO BEACH — Freddie Martin is torn between a desire to bench manage his Dallas Rangers and a hankering to show the younger mound set that his sinkerball still zips.

"That oldster tag don't bother me none," the leathery-faced Ranger skipper allowed as he watched his batterymen work out at Pompano Municipal Stadium.

Freddie has been through the spring training routine as a pitcher since 1935, and at 43 says he would like to hang up his glove for good.

"But whenever I see some kid throwing junk stuff, I'm not so sure I should," Martin admitted. "I tell them that as long as they pitch like that, I can stay on the active roster till I'm 50."

Dallas General Manager Stanley McIlvane has consented to the old Cardinal reliefer's "retirement" — but with friendly advice to "keep the soupbone in shape anyway."

Dallas is making the jump from the double-A Texas League to the triple-A American Association without a major league tie-up.

These are rough days for independents, and good relief men are hard to come by when things get rough. And the record shows that Freddie knit a 2.84 earned run average last season while compiling a 9-8 record in 47 appearances for the fifth-place Rangers.

YET, MARTIN is an optimistic sort who feels the mound corps has sufficient maturity to deal with triple-A company.

"The American Association is no rookie league," the Ranger foreman said. "Players are older than in the Texas League, so I'm not concerned that some of my pitchers are veterans. You've gotta have fellows who know what they're doing."

Mike Clark, a sinkerballer like Martin, is dean of the Dallas moundsmen. The big fellow (6 foot 4 and 205 pounds) claims to be 37; anyway, that's his "baseball age." Seven of the 10 Dallas hurlers are over 30, as are catchers Art Bowland and Nick Testa (former San Francisco bullpen coach).

Ex-big leaguers on the Dallas payroll include pitchers Dave Hoskins and Mickey McDermott (ex-Miami Marlin); infielders Owen Friend and Kal Segrist, and outfielder Carl Powis.

Intra-squad games will be held next week after the arrival of infielders and outfielders. First inter-camp contest calls for Miami to play here March 22.

The Dallas management predicts Broward fans will be impressed by Martin's manipulation of his pitching availables.

Freddie took over a last-place team July 3 of last season and had the fellows winging as high as third place at one time. Dallas was knocked out of the playoffs on the last day of the season, finishing a game behind Austin when that team won a double-header as the Rangers were rained out.

* * *

DALLAS' BIG THREE — Hoskins, Joe Kotrany and Jim Tugerson — pitched 17 straight wins during the Ranger comeback. Experimentation with new pitches helped.

"Pitching brought us back," Martin explained. "Some say pitching is as much as 75 per cent of a team's strength — I don't know why, but it means plenty."

Martin has been a controversial pitcher.

From the days when he "jumped" to the Mexican League, Freddie has been accused of throwing a spitter.

There was such talk when upon reinstatement he fashioned a 6-0 relief mark and a 2.44 ERA for the '49 Cardinals.

Upon being reminded that he's ostensibly retired as a slabman, Martin agreed that he now can be "honest."

"I can't throw a spitball," he admitted. "Even if the ball was soaked in water, I couldn't get it across the plate."

* * *

THE RANGER FIELD boss disagrees with those who (1) figure independent minor league teams are in for a bad time; and (2) look for the Yankees to have another easy go.

He said the new rule whereby major league clubs must trim to 25 players by opening day will result in Dallas landing some helpful talent early in the season.

Detroit, Martin figures, will cause trouble for the Yanks, for the Tigers "have pitching that won't quit."

Dallas had no trouble getting the Tigers to part with three pretty good hurlers — McDermott, Al Corwin and Bill Harrington. The last-named had won 20 regular season starts and three play-off games for Birmingham.

But, even as in Martin's heyday, ball players are temperamental, so Freddie has an immediate problem.

Outfielder Mel Clark refuses to come to Pompano, and requests that his name be cut from the roster.

Clark is afraid of airplanes, and the American Association uses air travel exclusively.

Bike Derby May Spin Into National Event

FORT LAUDERDALE — A bicycle derby for Broward County youngsters April 25 at Holiday Park will test interest in a plan to hold frequent bike races there.

April 25 is the final day of Bike Safety Week, a national observance sparked by Optimist clubs.

Optimist organizations throughout Broward are cooperating with the City Recreation Department and safety law enforcement officials in lining up the county races.

Don Martin, president of the Beach Optimist Club, said that if boys and girls take to the proposal, a state meet will be staged here next year.

Ray Rose, special promotions director for the Recreation Department, goes a step further.

"I think we should have a national bicycle derby in Fort Lauderdale," he said "It could be patterned after the National Soap Box Derby project."

Martin, spokesman for the Optimist clubs, said national races have been discussed by the racing committee, but in a "visionary sense."

Next month's competition will be scheduled in boys' and girls' divisions and within three age ranges—8-10, 10-12 and 12-15. Winners will receive trophies and each entrant will be given a certificate.

First Game: Sept. 18

McArthur Picks 10 Grid Foes

WEST HOLLYWOOD—McArthur High will play seven Northern Division Gold Coast Conference football foes next season, athletic Director Lou Morelli announced Wednesday.

Coach Floyd Huggins' Mustangs will add either Lake Worth or South Dade for an Oct. 23 date to round out a 10-game schedule. Home games will be played at Jaycee Field in Hollywood.

The Mustangs won seven of 10 games last season. The school will enroll its first senior class in September.

Pompano Beach, new GCC member whose '59 football games won't count in conference standings, and Key West, of the Southern Division, are the only non-northern Division teams on the announced schedule.

The schedule:

Sept. 18—Norland; Sept. 26—Fort Lauderdale; Oct. 2—South Broward; Oct. 9—Stranahan; Oct. 16—at Hialeah; Oct. 23—open; Nov. 6 — at Pompano Beach; Nov. 13 — Central Catholic; Nov. 20 — at West Palm Beach; Nov. 27—at Key West.

For Boys Under 15

Tryouts Slated By Pony League

FORT LAUDERDALE — Pony League tryouts will begin today at 6 p.m. for boys who weren't on a team last season.

Boys under 15 Aug. 1 are eligible for play. An eight-team league will operate at Holiday Park, also the site of tryouts.

Player agent Warner Mallison said no date has been set for the start of the league's ninth season.

Other tryouts are scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday and 3 p.m. Saturday, also at Holiday.

Prospects are asked to bring their own gloves.

Haystack Ready To Grapple Two

FORT LAUDERDALE — Haystack Calhoun, who sometimes pins foes with the sheer weight of his 600 pounds, will grapple with two foes simultaneously in tonight's wrestling headliner at War Memorial Auditorium.

His opposition will be the Graham brothers — Jerry and Eddie.

A tag team match calls for the Black Demons to take on Dick Steinborn and Ray Villmar.

The opening bout, at 8:45, will be announced from the ring.

Top Pros Eye Purse Of Pro-Am

FORT LAUDERDALE—The Coral Ridge CC competitive course record of 68 and a $3,000 purse are the targets of name pros who will play March 23 in the annual Pro-Am Tourney over the sporty par 71 layout.

Forty pros are to vie in the event, being resumed on an annual basis after a 1958 cancellation because of inclement weather. Amateurs will use three-fourths of their handicaps.

Sam Snead, Bob Toski, Cary Middlecoff, Ed Furgol and Lew Worsham head the list of area pros expected to participate.

$200 Million

The University of Miami Marine Laboratory reports more than $200,000,000 is spent annually on fishing, by salt and brackish water anglers in Florida.

Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of the Director of Schoolhouse Planning, School Administration Building, 1320 S. W. 4th Street, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, upon the deposit of $50.00 for each set of plans. Said deposit on the first set of plans will be returned to the contractor upon the return of the plans and specifications in good condition within ten days after the opening of bids, providing that said contractor has presented the Board of Public Instruction with a bona fide bid. For each additional set of plans and specifications, a portion of the deposit in the amount of $25.00 may be returned, the remainder used to offset the cost of printing of the plans.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a Certified Check or a Bid Bond issued by a company approved by the U. S. Treasury Department in the amount of 5% of base bid, payable to the Board of Public Instruction of Broward County, Florida, as evidence of good faith and guaranteeing that the successful bidder will execute and furnish to the Board of Public Instruction of Broward County, Florida, a bond issued by a Surety Company approved by the U. S. Treasury Department and licensed to do business in Florida, for 100% of the contract price, said bond being conditioned for both performance and payment, within ten (10) days after being awarded the contract, said bond guaranteeing the performance of said contract; the premium of said bond to be paid by the said contractor.

All bids should be placed in an envelope, sealed, and addressed to The Board of Public Instruction, Broward County, Florida, c-o County Superintendent, 1320 S. W. 4th Street, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and the name of the project should be placed on the outside of the envelope and words indicating that the envelope contains a bid for said project. Should the bid be mailed in, the sealed envelope containing the bid and so marked shall be placed inside another envelope to be delivered by registered mail.

The contractor will be required to build and complete said project within the time set forth in the special conditions.

The successful bidder, if any, will be notified within five (5) days after the bid is accepted. No bid may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for Receipt of Bids for thirty (30) days.

The Board of Public Instruction of Broward County, Florida, reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any informalities.

Mercury for '59 is a completely new concept of interior comfort and spaciousness. No car, regardless of price, has more usable room than this new Mercury. For example, there are six inches more entry and exit room, eight inches more knee room up front. The instrument panel has been moved forward—even the hump in the center of the floor has been cut down 45% so the man in the middle doesn't sit with his knees in his chin (the way he does in other '59 cars). You get an added feeling of spaciousness in Mercury—a light, airy feeling. Window area has been greatly increased—more than 35 square feet of safety glass all around.

'Ideal Way to Travel--If You're Not in Hurry

He Sailed Around the World on Freighters

By CLARENCE ZAITZ
North Broward Bureau

DEERFIELD BEACH — The best way to sail around the world is as a personal guest of the ship's captain.

And that's possible to everyone who travels on freight ships, according to Walter Wendland. And he should know.

He has traveled around the world on freight ships, logging 36,000 miles, sailing on six different ships flying flags of four nations, and visiting 18 countries.

"If you have unlimited time, this is the ideal way to travel, Wendland explained. A retired Johns Manville employe, Wendland had unlimited time when he planned his world cruise a couple years ago.

It took about nine months to make the journey.

"I wanted to see as much of the land as possible — and that isn't possible in passenger ships," he explained. "Passenger ships generally make few stops, and brief ones. A freighter, on the other hand, makes a lot of stops — sometimes even at cities that don't have harbors. The average stop is about three days, ample time to look the town over."

Wendland says that freight ships accommodate a maximum of 12 passengers. "The quarters are more spacious, the food and treatment are more liberal, and you can save at least 40 per cent of regular passenger liner fares."

It's best to travel on foreign ships, however, Wendland advises. "Because of economic conditions, they generally don't have to make as much speed or keep as tight a schedule as U. S. ships."

How does a typical day go on a freight ship? Wendland says you can have breakfast "anytime after 8 a.m.;" about 11 a.m. you have refreshments noontime you have lunch (but it's really a complete meal); at 3 p.m. You have refreshments again; and at 6 you have dinner.

"In between you can walk the decks, go swimming (many freighters have improvised swimming pools), or play shuffleboard. Time passes very quickly," Wendland pointed out.

Freighter travel is getting more popular, and it isn't always easy to book passage aboard such a ship.

But according to Wendland, "luck and persistence" pay off, and if you have the time to wait around, you generally get a cabin.

His Profession's Not Crowded--He Traps Sea Lions

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. —(UPI)— Richard Headley, a Santa Barbara fisherman, captures sea lions for a living.

The whiskered sea lions are trapped in rough seas off the Channel Islands.

"Trainers buy most of the sea lions we get," said Headley. "They order them, along with zoos and circuses, and we catch on order."

The "lions" are taught to be "trained seals."

The 56th hunting year has just started for another season. It ends next summer. By that time, Headley and a fisherman aide, Pete Maglio, hope to corral and sell 150 to 200 of the mammals with the high I.Q.

Most of the sea lions are caught off Santa Cruz Island, 24 miles from Santa Barbara. Santa Cruz, the closest island, offers coves that are protected from heavy winds.

Cliffs rise 500 feet off the rocks where the lions—some weighing 800 pounds — sunbathe, bark and frolic. Giant "blowholes" in the rocks spew spray up a hundred feet or more.

Cormorants, pelicans and gulls wheel about overhead, competing with the sea lions for fish catches.

Headley, returning from his first trip to Santa Cruz this year, said:

"It took us 14½ hours, counting the four-hour trip each way, to get our first sea lion." The 100-pound captive was crated and sent railway express to the South Daytona Beach Sea Zoo in Florida.

Sea lions are captured in no other American waters, says Walter Miller, a veteran of 21 years in the trade. He retired last year and sold his business to Headley. Miller, known as the "seal king of Santa Cruz," captured thousands in his day.

He started out working with Capt. George McGuire, who launched the sea lion trade here in 1902.

"It's a rough business, and I'm too old for it now. Those sea lions can bite off a couple of fingers, or your whole hand when you're lassoeing them in the nets and pulling them in," Miller said.

It takes $14,000 (for boats and other equipment), a strong back, and savvy to catch the popular entertainers of the animal world.

George Howe, the local sea lion broker, has sold sea lions to zoos in most of the big U.S. cities, and to trainers and zoos in Germany, Belgium, England, Canada, the Dominican Republic, Denmark and elsewhere.

Howe is a nephew of Capt. McGuire, who died in 1955 at the age of 102.

The State Department of Fish and Game issues permits for the capture of sea lions.

Each permit allows capture of 20 mammals. Permits can be easily renewed. Thousands of the mammals frequent the Channel Islands, and their numbers show a big increase in recent years.

The hunters get from $50 to $100 for each, and the broker adds his share of about $100. German trainers have been known to sell a single "trained seal" obtained from the Channel Islands for as much as $2,000.

Most orders call for young females, about 100 pounds. Miller said:

"They don't bark at night like the males do."

New Seminar College Proposed by Educators

AMHERST, Mass. — (UPI) — A four-man committee of educators has proposed a new kind of liberal arts college consisting of small group seminars rather than regular classes in which the students would be trained to educate themselves.

The committee recommended that the 1,000-student, coeducational college be operated by four existing insti-

The committee said the new college should rely on the resources and reputations of the four sponsoring colleges and should have no fraternities, no sororities, no intercollegiate athletics and only 50 teachers.

The committee was made up of University of Massachusetts provost Shannon McCune, Assistant to the Smith College President Donald Sheehan, Prof. C. L. Barber of Amherst College and Prof. Stuart Stoke of Mount Holyoke College.

Students Ski on Campus

DULUTH, Minn. — (UPI) —The Duluth Branch of the University of Minnesota is one of the few colleges in the U.S. where students can go skiing right on campus.

The ski area isn't going to compete with Sun Valley, Aspen or any other such resort, but it furnishes plenty of action for the beginner or intermediate skier.

The 600-foot slope is located on a 190-acre section of the campus called Rock Hill. Ski instructors say it's ideal for teaching beginners.

The ski area is mostly a student project, although the school has more elaborate plans when funds become available. The students have built a ski tow and a small chalet which they often use for parties.

Later, a permanent warming house will be built along with a U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey seismograph station.

Nasser Berates Commies

Blames Them For Iraq Revolt

DAMASCUS, Syria —(UPI) — United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser charged Wednesday that the Communists, seeking to split the Arab world, were to blame for the crisis that touched off the Iraqi revolt.

Nasser, addressing crowds of wildly cheering demonstrators, lashed back at Iraqi leaders for their attacks on his regime and served notice that local Reds would not succeed in dragging the U.A.R. into the Communist camp.

Speaking out for the first time since the short lived Mosul revolt, Nasser delivered his first direct assault on Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who appeared to have won his fight to crush the insurgents in northern Iraq.

Diplomats interpreted Nasser's speech as a calculated risk that Russia might take public offense and halt the arms and economic aid it has given Cairo since 1954.

While Nasser spoke, the Communist Party newspaper in Baghdad, Ittihad al Shaab, said the last rebel holdouts had surrendered in the northern Iraqi oil city of Mosul Tuesday night.

The Baghdad newspaper charged, however, that [illegible] U.A.R. was still massing [illegible] dent tribesmen and "Syria[illegible] tionalists" across the Iraqi border.

Nasser, speaking from a balcony overlooking El Jiwa Square, charged that Kassem and the Communists were attempting to sabotage Arab unity. He accused them of "organizing demonstrations" and "uttering slander" against the U.A.R.

But he declared that these tactics would not make the United Arab Republic "surrender our mission" of uniting the Arab world.

Nasser's speech followed Baghdad press and radio charges making it plain that the Kassem regime blames the U.A.R. for supporting the Sunday uprising in oil-rich north Iraq. The Iraqis said the mutiny was crushed and its leader, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, dead.

The U.A.R. chief told 2,000 Syrian student demonstrators that "those Communists demonstrating in Baghdad against your republic are foreign agents and used to get orders from outside our homeland. That's why we fought."

The students in Damascus had demonstrated Wednesday morning, angrily denouncing the "insults" transmitted against the U.A.R. by Iraq's radio during the last two days. The crowds in the streets chanted, "Kassem, traitor."

Nasser blasted Kassem 24 hours after Iraq expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats, apparently on the grounds that Iraq suspected the Cario regime of fometing the revolt.

Cairo reports said that at least 60 rebels, including some civilians, had been executed summarily after the Mosul uprising, and that Iraqi firing squads were still at work. There were indications that rebel elements were fleeing eastward toward Syria to seek asylum.

Fight Over Berlin Means A Nuclear War, Ike Warns

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower confronted Premier Nikita Khrushchev Wednesday with the grim prospect that if he starts shooting over Berlin he will have a nuclear war on his hands.

At a news conference Eisenhower talked with unusual bluntness about the kind of conflict which could develop in a matter of months if the Berlin crisis is carried to the point of armed clash.

Eisenhower hit two points hard:

1—He said that "we" are not going to fight a ground war in Europe — where the Soviets have 23 divisions in East Germany and another 150 plus in supporting positions in Eastern Europe and Russia itself.

2—Nuclear war would be a terrible and costly form of warfare, he said, and under some circumstances might be even self-defeating.

He declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

However, inquiry among responsible officials after the news conference left no doubt that Eisenhower was trying to say that, as he sees it, any conflict over Berlin would necessarily lead quickly and directly to a global, nuclear clash between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said firmly the U.S. will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis.

Eisenhower said he believes the American public is more soberly aware of dangers in the Berlin situation than a lot of people aroung Washington.

A reporter had asked the President if he feels that the people recognize the dangers in Khrushchev's demand for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

The country knows how serious the situation is or it wouldn't be voting all of the money that is being required for defense, Eisenhower promptly replied.

Eisenhower was asked if he thinks the Soviets should be given a plain warning that nuclear war might result if the Communists cut off access to West Berlin.

He replied that he doesn't know how you can free anything with nuclear weapons. He said that if there is any push in the direction of real hostilities over Berlin it is going to come from the side of the Soviets.

Eisenhower said he can't believe that anybody is going to make hostilities of this kind a reality.

In advance of the news conference Eiswnhower was de-

If It Becomes 'Free'

Reds Pledge Access Into West Berlin

BERLIN —(AP)— The Soviet Union and Communist East Germany Wednesday night pledged that they would guarantee free access to West Berlin if it became a free city.

The pledge was contained in a communique issued by the Communist East German government as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up his visit to East Germany.

The communique said:

"The government of the German Democratic Republic once again emphasized its readiness to guarantee the unhindered connection of the free city of West Berlin with the outside world, in both the eastern and western directions."

At the same time, the communique said, West Berlin's status as a free city could be guaranteed by the Big Four powers and by the U.N.

The communique did not spell out what form the guarantees would take.

(In Washington, a spokesman said the State Department had no comment on the Soviet-East German declaration. Privately officials said there was nothing new in the offer to guarantee access to West Berlin once it became a free city. The offer is based on the completely unacceptable condition that the Western Allies would give up their rights in Berlin, these officials said.)

In an East Berlin speech two days ago, Khrushchev mentioned that a minimum of troops from the Soviet Union, France, Britain and the U.S. could be stationed in West Berlin. Or, he said, the troops could come from neutral countries, meaning presumably from the U.N.

Then Khrushchev emphasized Tuesday that the Russians would have to serve alongside U.S., British and French troops in any token force based in West Berlin.

Nikita Talks 'Dry' But He Drinks 'Wet'

Nikita Khrushchev
. . . huggin' and gulpin'

BERLIN —(UPI)— Nikita Khrushchev, who has advised Soviet workers to cut down their drinking, was slugging brandies at a rate of one every 15 minutes here.

Between gulps, the Soviet premier would devour one or two small, spicy sausages, then push on through the crowd to shake some more hands, and hug a few more women. The younger the women, the tighter Nikita squeezed.

The scene was a reception for 900 prominent Communists, German and foreign, at the sprawling Soviet embassy building on Unter Den Linden.

Khrushchev wore a simple black single-breasted suit, bedecked with "Workers Hero" medals. He spent three hours at the reception.

High Winds Hit Alabama Area

CAMDEN, Ala. —(AP)— High winds during a thunderstorm and possibly a small twister knocked down several farm buildings and unroofed a house in the Oakhill community Wednesday.

The Highway Patrol said there were no reports of any one injured. The rural community is 14 miles southeast of Camden.

A car was blown off the highway, the patrol said, but cut back on the road and continued on its way.

Smut Film Legislation Readied

One Bill Written, Second Coming

WEST PALM BEACH — State Sen. Fred O. Dickinson Jr. disclosed Wednesday that the first of two measures he will support to halt "smut" in motion pictures is ready for introduction.

A second companion measure is still under consideration, the West Palm Beach senator said.

The completed bill, he said, would outlaw the showing of films about nudist colonies for instance. Motion picture houses which exhibit such films would lose their licenses under the measure.

The proposed companion legislation would hit generally at immoral scenes in motion pictures.

Dickinson said he and his colleagues have worked out at least five drafts of the second bill but it has not reached a stage where the attorney general thinks the measure would be constitutional.

Dickinson said work will continue on the measure in an effort to have it completed when the Legislature meets in April.

The move to place some kind of controls over the showing of films started here several months ago when there were protests from parent organizations, juvenile authorities and some municipal officials over suggestive pictures.

The West Palm Beach City Commission took steps to enact controlling legislation and Robert T. O'Connor, who was then mayor of Lake Worth, urged that commission action be taken to ban smutty films.

Dickinson disclosed, meantime, that he had been working to enlist the aid of Senate colleagues in a proposal which would set up a board of review for Florida, instead of admitting any films to the state which had passed New York censorship.

Police in West Palm Beach and Lake Worth indicated at the time that they could take no action because the pictures which had drawn protests in the area had an okay from New York.

Stiffest protests evolved from the showing of nudist colony films, and the bill Dickinson will support is designed to control that type of picture.

Aviation Agency's Gag Investigated

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The Congressional Watchdog Committee on Governmental Secrecy is investigating suppression by the Federal Aviation Agency of information sought in connection with the Feb. 3 crash of an American Airlines' Electra.

This was revealed Wednesday in a letter from Rep. John Moss (D., Calif.), chairman of the House government information subcommittee, to E. R. Quesada, head of the FAA.

MOSS

Moss in his letter referred to stories in The Miami Herald disclosing that the FAA has suppressed reports on difficulties encountered with a new type altitude measuring instrument installed in Lockheed Electras and Boeing 707 jets.

Moss asked Quesada to spell out the FAA's legal authority, if any, "for restricting access to the reports."

He disclosed that committee investigators have made a preliminary check, but did not discuss their findings.

The Herald reported last month that the FAA received complaints on the new altimeter from pilots prior to the American crash.

The new turbo-prop airliner, which fell into New York's East River while attempting to land at LaGuardia Airport, had the new altimeter. Sixty-five persons were killed in the crash.

The surviving flight engineer said after the crash that "there might have been a mix-up with those new altimeters. ". . . There was some difficulty reading them."

Some pilots complained to the FAA about a "sticking needle" in the altimeter.

After first imposing stiffer landing restrictions on the Electras, the FAA announced the air carriers could resume normal operations with the planes if the new altimeters were replaced with a type now widely in use.

The FAA on several occasions refused to disclose the nature or number of complaints.

Officials also refused to comment on why the FAA did not act on reports of operating difficulties with the new altimeter before the accident.

Isles Take Stride to Statehood

House Question: 50 Or Not 50?

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate voted Wednesday night to make Hawaii the 50th state, giving its approval by a vote of 76 to 15.

This long step toward statehood for the islands in the Pacific came after only a single day of debate.

That debate was punctuated by charges that with Hawaii a state, the 50th star in the flag would be tinged with red.

The House set the stage for action today on an almost identical bill. It voted 337-69 formally bringing a statehood bill up for House debate.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee said he would propose amendments to his own house bill to make it conform exactly to the Senate version.

The final House vote would thus send the measure directly to the White House and avoid House-Senate conferences.

The first House test, coming while the Senate was debating the statehood issue, brought the Hawaii bill formally before the House for debate and amendments.

Voting for the resolution were 214 Democrats and 123 Republicans. Forty-eight Democrats, most of them Southerners, and 21 Republicans voted against taking up the bill.

Senate OKs Extended Draft Act by 90 to 1

Bill Now Goes Back To House

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate, with only one dissent, Wednesday approved a four-year extension of the draft act urgently requested by the Eisenhower administration.

The 90-1 vote came after the Armed Services Committee chairman, Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), called on the Senate to show the U.S. "means what it says when it says we must maintain the military strength of the U.S."

The Senate previously defeated one move to trim the extension to two years and another one which would have set up a military manpower commission to study the draft law and possible "alternatives."

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed an almost identical extension earlier. It can accept the Senate version or demand a conference to hammer out the differences.

The only senator voting against the four-year extension was Sen. William Langer (R., N.D.).

The Senate beat down by 67-24 an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) to limit the extension to two years. Morse conducted a pint-sized filibuster Tuesday night to an almost empty Senate chamber on the proposed extension.

He said the four-year extension will neither "safeguard American security" nor "frighten the Russians."

Defeated by a 68-24 vote was an amendment by Sen. Francis Case (R., S.D.) which would have set up the study commission.

In addition to continuing present machinery for drafting young men aged 18 through 26, the Senate bill continues the suspension of pre-Korean peacetime ceilings on the strength of the armed services; the payment of benefits to dependents of certain enlisted men, and the authority to draft physicians and dentists.

It also provides authority for the continued payment of extra pay, at the rate of $100 to $250 monthly, to newly-commissioned physicians and dentists and $100-a-month additional pay for veterinarians.

This is the amendment added by the Senate which required that the bill go back to the House instead of straight to the White House.

Ike Warns Nikita: Berlin Fight Means Nuclear War

picted as determined to hold military spending to the 41 billion dollar level of his budget.

Some of the criticism of the spending plans has been based on the contention that not enough attention is given to the forces needed for limited — or non-nuclear — war which could involve big ground forces.

Eisenhower said the adequacy of free nation defenses is not going to be particularly strengthened by quick action such as that suggested by Democrats in Congress to maintain the Army at 900,000 men and the Marine Corps at 200,000.

The army is scheduled to be cut back to 870,000 men and the marines to 175,000 by June 30.

We're not going to fight a ground war in Europe, Eisenhower said. That being true, he asked what good it would do to send more divisions to the continent.

Noting that the Communists have 175 divisions, Eisenhower said why in the world would we dream of fighting a ground war with them.

Strength in heart and head are as important as strength in the military, the President went on.

At one point Eisenhower was asked if he feels the proposed size of U.S. ground forces is sufficient to cope with a "brush" war.

He answered that if a defense force of this size couldn't handle such a war it would have grown beyond the "brush" stage and military leaders would have to think in greater terms. He did not elaborate on this point.

Wednesday's session touched also on these matters:

KHRUSHCHEV — Eisenhower said that he doesn't think much of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that Russian and the Western allies station token military forces in West Berlin.

A one point, Eisenhower referred to Khrushchev's proposals as the premier's wisecracks or whatever he calls them. He said he (Eisenhower) could not be expected to react instantly to wisecracks.

JOB BENEFITS — The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

Eisenhower said he regards the problem of providing for the unemployed as a state responsibility, but that his mind is not closed to the possibility of adjustment.

SPENDING — Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he might be willing to spend more money for defense if more federal revenue was available.

With some show of irritation, Eisenhower went on to say he is tired of talk of having either a balanced budget or adequate national security. A balanced budget, he added, is a vital part of such security.

Suppose, Eisenhower theorized, defense spending should go up five, seven or 10 billion dollars. That means, he said, we would have a garrison state.

It was at that point that Eisenhower said somewhat heatedly that he doesn't see any of those calling for greater defense spending coupling it with a demand for higher taxes.

Rules Committee, argued in vain that Harry Bridges and his aides "control the life blood of Hawaii."

Bridges is head of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union which, although expelled from the CIO for left-wing tendencies, is strongly organized on the Hawaii waterfront and in the sugar and pineapple industries.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee, said a personal investigation in Hawaii last December convinced him that residents of the islands are more alert to the dangers of communism than people are anywhere else in the country.

"I do not believe that Communists have a strangle hold on the islands or that they would send four Soviet agents to Congress," O'Brien asserted.

O'Brien was replying directly to a protest by Rep. John R. Pillion (R., N.Y.), who charged that Communists "influence Hawaiian life to an alarming degree" through Bridges' union and others.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R., Calif.) said it may be true that Hawaii has a Communist problem. But so does California, he said, and so does the U.S. as a whole.

And Sen. Russell B. Long (D., La.) said Hawaii has fought the Communists to the point that its Subversive Activities Control Board estimated recently there were only 15 "hard-shelled Communists" left there.

Jobless Total Up Slightly

Employment Rolls Increase, Too

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Unemployment edged up by 25,000 last month to a total of 4,749,000, the government reported Wednesday. It said the increase was so small as to be insignificant.

A report by the Labor and Commerce Departments showed employment also increased by 16,000 to 62,706,000 in February. The stability marked the usual pause between heavy winter cutbacks in jobs and the normal spring pickup.

The number of jobless workers was 724,000 lower than in February, 1958, the depth of the 1957-58 recession. There also were 734,000 more persons holding jobs than in February a year ago.

But even so unemployment last month was 1,500,000 higher than in February, 1957, before the recession began.

The report said that last month the seasonally adjusted percentage of the labor force without jobs held steady at six per cent for the third month in a row. Many economists regard this figure as a key statistic in the job picture.

In addition, the relatively small changes in February employment and unemployment fell within the range of normal statistical errors that might be made by the government in compiling its job estimates.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said the figures showed the unemployment situation was "growing worse" and is now a drag on economic recovery.

Meany said the nation cannot wait any longer for government action to relieve suffering of millions of unemployed citizens.

In this connection, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he believed any further extension of emergency jobless benefits should be handled by the states although he was willing to listen to arguments.

Congressional Democrats are pushing for an extension of the program to prevent several hundred thousand unemployed from running out of benefits when the temporary program ends March 30.

Moon Makes 'Pass'

It's No Missile, It's Just Venus

A spectacular passing of the planet Venus by the moon in clear skies over south Florida Wednesday night triggered hundreds of telephone calls to weather bureau and newspaper switchboards.

Some space-age callers asked if the shining star seen almost directly over the moon's thin crescent was a space missile launched without notice. But most, said Weather Bureau Forecaster Leonard Purdue, had no idea at all what the display could mean.

Pardue said the phenomenon was "a conjunction—really not a rarity — in which the two heavenly bodies pass some millions of miles apart."

The weather man said that usually the apparent meeting of the two heavenly bodies is not noticed because it occurs in daylight or after moon-set.

Wednesday night's display became visible about 6:30 p.m. and lasted until moonset at 8:34 p.m.

Pardue said he once saw an even more spectacular "conjunction" in which Venus appeared to travel a path that took it directly behind the moon's bulk — where the star became temporarily invisible.

No ring or halo was cast around the moon while the planet was obscured behind it, Pardue said. He added this is considered evidence that the moon has no atmosphere in which a halo effect can be produced.

Pardue said these conjunctions occur several times a year. How close?

The moon is a quarter-million miles from the earth and Venus is more than 20 million miles distant, he said.

Wednesday's night's spectacle should have been visible everywhere that darkness prevailed, said Pardue.

60 Arrive Today

Bankers to Get Red Carpet Tour

Some 60 Northern financiers arrive here today for a red-carpet tour which state and local officials hope will heighten their interest in buying some 25 million dollars worth of bonds to pay for Dade County road projects.

The group is due at Miami International Airport at 5 p.m. from Cape Canaveral, where the Yankee businessmen were taken for a brief tour after visiting St. Petersburg, which is also on the verge of putting road bonds up for sale.

B. R. Fuller Jr., executive director of the Florida Development Commission, said the first-hand inspection by the potential bond-buyers "could result in savings of hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest costs" on the bond sale.

Dade County, backed by the Development Commission and the State Road Board, will put up for sale in April 25 million dollars worth of bonds. Most of the money will be used on the 36th St. Expressway project.

Fuller said he felt "this tour will generate among these investment people a real enthusiasm for Florida."

Both the St. Petersburg and Greater Miami areas, he said, "have so much to offer that we thought these bankers should see them first-hand."

The financiers, most of them from major banks and insurance companies in New York and Chicago, represent "virtually every major institution which buys or sells public securities," Fuller said.

They are being accompanied on the tour by Fuller, Development Commission Chairman Sam T. Dell Jr., Road Board Chairman Joe Grotegut, Road Board Member William Singer of Miami and Development Commission Member R. B. Gautier of Miami.

The group arrived at St. Petersburg Tuesday night and spent Wednesday being briefed by Pinellas County officials on a 16.8 million dollar bond issue to finance the Pinellas Bayway. The group was to fly to Cape Canaveral today after a tour of St. Petersburg.

The bankers will look over airport facilities after arriving here, then go by limousine to the Fontainebleau Hotel for a reception and dinner.

The group will be briefed on the 36th St. project on Friday by Singer and other road engineers and officials. On Saturday engineers will take the bond-buyers on an inspection trip.

The visit will end at a luncheon Saturday with an address by McGregor Smith, board chairman of Florida Power and Light Co., and a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Industry.

Well, Bill Pallot didn't fall off a chair because he was handicapped. The chair tipped over backwards and he was thrown for quite a lot of yardage. It was an interesting case (Bill just lost it) because the money he was asking, as damages, wasn't coming from city funds. NAPLES AND LAKE OKEECHOBEE AREAS — Partly cloudy Thursday and Thursday night with scattered showers likely during the afternoon. High Thursday, 80-85. Low Thursday night 62-68. Southerly winds 15-25 mph.

BROWARD, PALM BEACH AND KEYS AREAS—Partly cloudy and continued warm through Thursday night. Scattered showers likely by Thursday afternoon. High Thursday, 78-85. Low Thursday night, 68-75. Southeast and South winds 15-25 mph.

SMALL BOAT BULLETIN — Southeast to south winds at 15 to 25 miles an hour. Seas gradually becoming moderate with the inland waters will be choppy. Partly cloudy with some chance of showers.

MARINE — Jacksonville through the Florida Straits and East Gulf: Northwest to north winds at 15 to 25 miles an hour north portion and southeast to south winds central and south portions. Few widely scattered showers.

National Summary

Snow is expected to spread into the central Appalachians and into New England Thursday while rain works into the Atlantic states accompanied by thunderstorms in the southeast. Clearing and cooler weather is anticipated in the mid Atlantic states and Carolinas, although showers are likely in Florida.

Snow flurries will be scattered from the Great Lakes region into the Appalachians and may reach as far south as Tennessee.

Snow flurries were noted through the Rockies, central and northern plains, and in the upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region Wesneday but cool dry weather extended over most of the west early in the day.

Some rain began to show up in the Pacific northwest in advance of another surge of moist air from the ocean.

Precipitation is forecast to spread inland, with snow in the mountains as far east as Idaho and Montana, while scattered snows advance across the northern Rockies to the Dakotas on Thursday.

Showery conditions will replace steady rains in Washington and Oregon and a few showers may cross the border into norther California.

He Follows Lure of Billions in Bullion

Dane Prowls the Ocean Floor for Treasure

By NORVAN ROGGEN
Herald Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — Move over, Davy Jones — you have a competitor.

He's Capt. Willy Dahl, a Danish underwater explorer now prowling for treasure along the Florida coast.

Just off his survey boat to replenish supplies, this seafarer could not conceal his impatience to be back at sea, where he is planning salvage operations of two cargo shops. Both were sunk near here by submarines during World War II.

But he's not giving away the locations. "There's underwater piracy in this business," he explains.

Cutting "red tape" to get salvage rights is his biggest problem, Dahl says. Soon, however, he will head north to organize his crew and equipment. By late spring, he hopes to be bringing up copper, brass and lead from the sea-logged hulks.

His business, Dahl is quick to point out, is a constant gamble. That accounts for the endless hours he spends diving and surveying the wrecks. Caution now may save dollars later, he emphasizes.

A veteran at deep sea diving, Dahl started as a youth in his native Denmark. He describes his first job as a "granite diver," bringing up stones used as grave markers.

His initiation into underwater salvage followed World War II. He and his brother, Aage, aware of millions of dollars in scrap metal sunk in European waters during the war, organized a small company and set out to obtain salvage rights.

War's spoils became their profit. A yacht, the "Quadis," once belonging to Queen Wilhemina of the Netherlands but confiscated by Nazis and then sunk in the Baltic Sea by dive bombers, was one of their jobs.

"It was loaded with guns," Dahl reminisces.

Later they salvaged parts of the "Gmesineu," a fast 22,000-ton German passenger ship, also a victim of Allied bombers in the Baltic. A solid brass five-ton sea valve was a valuable, but difficult, part of that job.

Recently Dahl has turned his interests to the clear, blue waters of Florida and the Bahamas, which he prefers to the cold, muddy Baltic.

In 1955 off Vero Beach, he recovered two 300-year-old cannons, once the pride of a Spanish galleon. The same year he salvaged parts of the old buccaneer ferry, "Manadnock," off the North Florida coast.

Hearty and rugged at 45, Dahl still insists on doing most of his own diving. Bends? "Never had them," he claims, crediting this to his experience and constant checks on equipment, pressure, and timing. However, he admits diving has its dangerous moments.

His closest mishap? While stripping a 600-ton ship off the Swedish coast, he stumbled between water-logged bales of paper. The bales fell on his hose shutting off his air. Down 150 feet, he thought he was trapped.

"To this day, I'm not sure how I got out," Dahl explains. "I was sure my hose would break if my crew pulled me up." Miraculously, he was pulled ot the surface, unconscious.

"There's billions of dollars in wealth at the bottom of the sea for anyone willing to gamble on getting it," Dahl states.

His eyes light up when he speaks of 40 million dollars in gold bullion that went down with a ship some 50 years ago in the Carribean.

"I'm a treasure hunter who's never found treasure," he says.

And what's his hobby? "Skin diving."

Widow Seeks $250,000

Husband Killed In Plane Crash

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The widow of a 65-year-old man who was killed in an air crash west of Hobe Sound last Oct. 5 Wednesday files suit against the estate of the owner of the plane for $250,000 damages.

The suit was filed in Circuit Court by Kathleen F. Schnedl, both individually and as executrix of the estate of her late husband, Anton B. Schnedl.

Named as defendant was Evelyn Z. Rich, widow and executrix of the state of Russell E. Rich Jr., an official of the Rich Refrigeration Co. here who also lost his life in the accident.

He was identified in the complaint as the owner and operator of the plane.

Thomas Stokes, another passenger in the plane, was seriously injured and dangled head down in his safety harness for 13 hours until a rancher found the crashed ship west of the turnpike.

The bodies of Rich and Schnedl, were in the wreckage.

Negligence on the part of Rich was blamed by the plaintiff for the fatal accident which occurred when the plane, returning from another crash near Holopaw, ran into a thunderstorm.

Mrs. Schnedl asked $100,000 damages as an individual in the death of her husband and an additional $150,000 as executix of his estate.

In another damage action, Samuel Kutzer and his wife, Ida, asked $60,000 from John William Grigg Jr. and Paul G. Redstone as the aftermath of what was described as a three-car crash in which Mrs. Kutzer was injured.

Mrs. Kutzer sued for $50,000, her husband for $10,000.

Alias Case Report Due

WEST PALM BEACH — County Solicitor Charles A. Nugent expects to make a statement "not later than Friday" regarding an inquiry to determine if police falsified records in a four dollar larceny case.

Nugent questioned the defendant and four others Wednesday and said he would call no further witnesses and will issue a statement at least by Friday.

The case revolves around charges police substituted a fictitious name in at least one instance to shield the identity of the defendant.

NEW CONTROLLER of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Delray Beach is R. Vince Bamber of Boynton Beach. He was formerly associated with savings and loan associations in Fort Lauderdale and Stuart.

'Big City' Not to His Liking

Tragedy Brings Don Back To Sun, Health in South

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH—Don B. Sheppard went to the big (really big) city to make good.

It took tragedy to bring him home again, and he's glad for it. For without it, he might still be freezing north of the Mason Dixon Line "where days go by when you never see the sun."

Sheppard, 24, comes from a pioneer family. His grandfather, George B. Baker, was Palm Beach County's first sheriff. Two of his uncles, Robert C. and L. R. Baker, also wore the law and order badge of high sheriff.

But Don departed from family tradition — and from home —to pursue his career in art and display.

The local boy was making good in the big city of New York. He had the standard number of ulcers but was otherwise healthy.

Don Sheppard
. . . of pioneer family

Suddenly he found himself with more than ulcers to cope with. He was stricken with rheumatic fever. Every breath was a pain. He was rushed to a hospital where he spent two months.

The first four weeks he spent sitting up in bed, unable to lie down even to sleep. He couldn't swallow for five days and dropped 20 pounds.

Finally he was allowed to fly to the sunshine in Florida and an eventual return to health.

"If I hadn't become ill, I would still be in New York," he says. He is very glad he was forced to return.

"The first thing you miss is a house with a little grass around it. They just don't have that in New York. All the houses are squeezed together."

The sunless days were hard to stand.

"When the sun came out, I felt better but it made me homesick."

Also, the people in the North are curt and brusque and always in a rush. Not at all like folks used to the easy-paced living of the South.

Neighborhoods in the big city aren't as genteel as the South either, says this hometown boy.

But now he's back with all the things he likes about the South, thanks to a near-fatal illness, and he isn't aiming to leave again.

Peter Frelinghuysen Dies in New Jersey

MORRISTOWN, N.J. — (AP) — Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen Sr., 76, father of Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen Jr. (R., N.J.), died Wednesday at Morristown Memorial Hospital.

Well-known for Jersey cattle raised at his Twin Oaks Farm, he was in the cattle raising business for almost half a century.

Frelinghuysen was a former director of the Howard Savings Institution of Newark and the Morristown Trust Co. He was president of the Gulfstream Golf Club in Delray Beach, Fla., for the last 18 years and a past president of the Morris County Golf Club.

DAVID W. BAILEY

DELRAY BEACH — Graveside services for David W. Bailey, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Bailey, W. Atlantic Ave., who died Tuesday at a Boynton Beach Hospital, will be held at 2 p.m. today at Delray Beach Cemetery. Scobee Funeral Home is in charge. Survivors include the parents, two sisters and a brother.

JOHN C. BRUCKER

DELRAY BEACH — Services for John C. Brucker, 50, who died Monday at his home on Germantown Rd., will be held in Pittsburgh, Pa. Scobee Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements. Mr. Brucker had lived here for 17 years and was a member of the Presbyterian Church, the Shrine and Masons. Survivors include his wife, Anna; a son, Joseph; a daughter, Sandra; his mother, two sisters and a brother.

Elia P. McKeen

PAHOKEE — Elias P. McKeen, 58, of Pahokee and West Paris, Me., died of a heart attack Wednesday while at work at the Cardwell Packing House of Vandegrift Williams Farms. He had been a winter resident here for 12 years. Survivors include five children, a brother and a half-sister, all of Maine. Williams-Wetherington Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements. Burial will be in West Paris.

Royal Speaker

WEST PALM BEACH — Her royal highness Princess Ileana, of Romania, will speak on "What Freedom Means to me," at 4 p.m. Monday at the Palm Beach Round Table in the Orange Gardens at the Everglades Club. The former Archduchess of Austria is married to Dr. Stefan Issarescu, a pathologist, and resides in Boston.

Incorporation Fought At Florida Gardens

Residents 'Dead Set Against It'

By ROSE ALLEGATO
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE WORTH — Resident property owners in Florida Gardens Wednesday strongly protested the move by a developer to incorporate the area.

R. O. Miller, spokesman for the group, declared the resident property owners in the one-mile square area west of Lake Worth are "dead set against" the proposal of Developer Karl Beachlerrto incorporate.

John Born, West Palm Beach attorney, last week asked the Palm Beach County legislative delegation to pass a bill incorporating Florida Gardens.

Legislators advised Born to draft the bill but did not commit themselves on the proposal.

Born said he would produce the approval of property owners in the area. Beachler owns 12 miles of the area. Only 72 homes are constructed in the development, 62 of which are occupied by year-round residents.

Miller said only 12 of the 72 have signed the petition to incorporate.

He charged that the developer was attempting to dodge county building and zoning regulations in the move to incorporate.

Born admitted at last week's legislative clinic that the incorporation move was partially prompted by a desire to "get out from under the county."

Rep. Ralph Blank and Rep. Emmett Roberts have indicated the delegation is considering seeking legislation to set up criteria for incorporation.

Roberts claims Palm Beach County has more municipalities than any other county in the state.

Blank suggested that the amount of the area to be considered for incorporation might be one of the norms set up.

Chinn Is Witness at Inquiry

WPB Police Charge City Ruined Clubhouse

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — Police levelled both barrels at the city Wednesday night for wrecking their clubhouse and made Keith Chinn their primary target.

CHINN

Al Cone, attorney representing the Police Benevolent Association in the hassle over the clubhouse also indicated that he will file suit unless the city meets its "moral and ethical" obligations to police.

The clubhouse in Tuxedo Park was moved a year and a half ago to make room for the Army Reserve armory. It has never been restored.

At a hearing to air the issue, police Wednesday claimed the clubhouse was turned from a "thing of beauty" to a "thing of grotesque ugliness" in the move.

They charged the city with negligence and an "I don't give a damn" attitude.

Cone, in his opening statement at the inquiry conducted by city commissioners, declared the clubhouse was ruined by the "arbitrary actions" of "one or two individuals."

Chinn, former city manager who got his walking papers as city finance director this week, was the main witness at the inquiry.

Cone sought to show through cross examination that Chinn, a reserve colonel, was responsible for the city's negligence.

He claimed the clubhouse did not have to be moved, that the city did not obtain permission for the move, and that the city has never fulfilled its promise to fix the building.

He also maintained there was a question as to who really owned the clubhouse site — the city or police.

Chinn claimed the U.S. Corps of Engineers ordered the clubhouse removed from the site, which had been leased to the Army by the cty. He denied his connection with the Reserve had any bearing on his actions.

Chinn also denied that the clubhouse was damaged by the mover and claimed police have allowed the building to deteriorate. He reported the city was ready to restore the building immediately after the move.

Police, he added, asked the city to wait until they raised extra funds to expand the building.

The Public Works Department estimated it would cost $3,000 to fix the clubhouse, Chinn said. The estimate was made before the building was moved but was confirmed later, he added.

Police say it will take $9,000 to restore the building now.

It was admitted the building has deteriorated and has been damaged by vandals.

At Fiesta del Sol

Parade Parking To Be Restricted

Herald Bureau

LAKE WORTH — Friday is the 13th, and motorists who happen to park their cars in prohibited areas during the big Fiesta del Sol parade could definitely have a lot of bad luck.

City officials and the Police Department have banned parking in certain areas which the parade will traverse because parked autos would interfere with the movement of the event.

If any cars are found in those particular sections during the hours set aside for the parade, the machines will be towed to City Hall parking lot, and it may require some tribute to get them back.

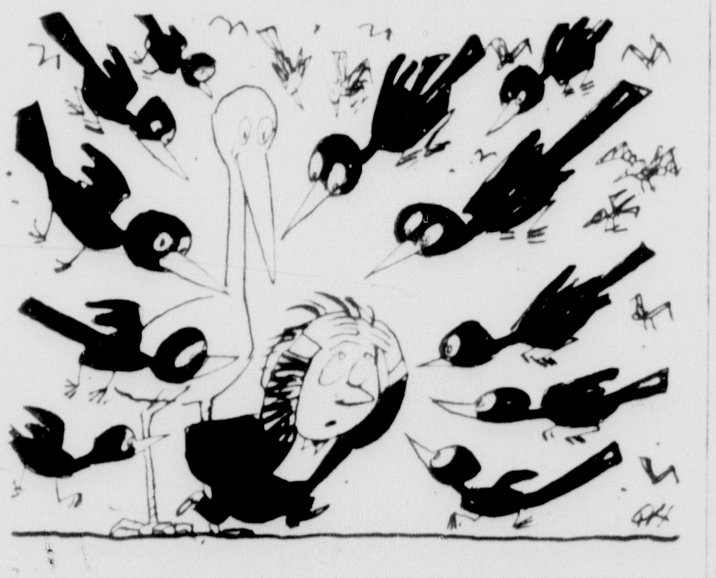
So police are making it clear that from 5:30 p.m. Friday until after the parade, there will be no parking on:

Either side of Lake Ave. from M St. to the Florida East Coast Railway tracks; Lucerne, from Dixie to Federal; M St. from Lake to Lucerne; Dixie from Lake to N. 13th, and N. 13th from Dixie to the Federal.

BB Guns Outlawed

Birds Live It Up Again

By ROSE ALLEGATO
Herald Staff Writer



PAHOKEE — The swallows have come back to Pahokee.

The city outlawed BB guns, and the birds, residents say, are getting a rest. They were easy targets for BB-toting sharpshooters, most of them youngsters.

Now with local immunity, they loaf on the lakeside. Follow the sign that invites you to "See Beautiful Lake Okeechobee" and you find yourself on the levee looking at Florida's 'inland ocean' — and birds, birds, birds.

The birds line up on the guy wires like a platoon falling in for roll call. They stir in an about-face once in a while. Otherwise, they laze under the sun.

The reprieve from the BB gun has made them downright listless.

The bird not too lazy to go after the worm is the heron. While the chimney sweeps and swallows squat on the guy wires, the heron flaps his white wings in low reconnaissance flights. He disappears, swooping back into view seconds later with a meal dangling from his beak.

Bill Moss, a local resident, says there's one bird that hasn't been back this year. But you can't blame the BB gun.

The ibis—which sounds like a blackbird but isn't — is a rarity. It has been seen occasionally in Pahokee, but not since last year's freeze.

But the swallows are back, and so are other fine-feathered friends, all soaking up the Florida sun, lazily, like vacationing tourists.

And not a BB gun to stir them to flight.

Swale of a Tale

How Dry He Isn't

DELRAY BEACH — Pierre Crenier says he never had a bit of trouble with water until the city installed a drainage system.

"My house was always dry before," Crenier told the City Commission, "and now when it rains, my front yard looks like a lake.'

Crenier said a 15-inch deep swale constructed in front of his house was the source of his problem.

"This swale—that's a Roman ditch in my book—brings surface water from two blocks away and dumps it in front of my house," He said.

The Oleander Lane resident said he did not feel any kindlier toward the drainage program after receiving a bill from the city for $596, while his next door neighbor was not assessed anything.

After hearing several such complaints, the commission voted to table the assessments Monday until the engineering firm that did the work could be called in to explain how it determined who should pay what.

Palm Beach Importing Broadway's 'Third Best Sport' with Cast

HARRY MUFSON closed his Eden Roc Cafe Pompeii after the Sammy Davis Jr., farewell Wednesday and will keep it dark until the March 18 opening of Maurice Chevalier. No acts of sufficient caliber are available for the interim period, he says. But there'll be no dull moments elsewhere in the hotel. The wonderful singing and performing instrumentalists, the Giovannis, will continue in the Mona Lisa Room and Duke Jenkins' group stays on at Harry's American Bar.

Miami's beauty, Sandra Wirth, now on NBC's County Fair as a regular, will do a dancing and dramatic stint on "Father Knows Best" March 16 . . . George DeWitt, emcee of "Name That Tune" will do a three-night weekend at the Havana Capri Casino

Frank Hale is bringing the entire Broadway production and cast of "Third Best Sport" down to the Palm Beach Royal Poinciana Playhouse for a March 16 opening. Plot concerns the happenings on a convention — in Palm Beach. Celeste Holm tops the cast.

Reviewers called him a "sleeper" hit . . . Robert Clary returns to the Diplomat Cafe Cristal, which he just left, on April 24 . . .

Such fancy talk from a cemedian! Club Morocco's comic Bobby Barton, who was a horse trainer once, says that the line from "Macbeth" which goes "Tomorrow creeps in this petty pace from day to day" applied to one of his chargers named — "Tomorrow."

Cast of Holiday on Ice, which opens its Miami Beach stand at the exhibition hall on March 30, will also be busy between shows — posing for color and press stills for next year's edition. Costumes will be flown in from Omaha for the stunt.

Nasser Berates Commies

Blames Them For Iraq Revolt

DAMASCUS, Syria —(UPI)— United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser charged Wednesday that the Communists, seeking to split the Arab world, were to blame for the crisis that touched off the Iraqi revolt.

Nasser, addressing crowds of wildly cheering demonstrators, lashed back at Iraqi leaders for their attacks on his regime and served notice that local Reds would not succeed in dragging the U.A.R. into the Communist camp.

Speaking out for the first time since the short lived Mosul revolt, Nasser delivered his first direct assault on Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who appeared to have won his fight to crush the insurgents in northern Iraq.

Diplomats interpreted Nasser's speech as a calculated risk that Russia might take public offense and halt the arms and economic aid it has given Cairo since 1954.

While Nasser spoke, the Communist Party newspaper in Baghdad, Ittihad al Shaab, said the last rebel holdouts had surrendered in the northern Iraqi oil city of Mosul Tuesday night.

The Baghdad newspaper charged, however, that the U.A.R. was still massing dissident tribesmen and "Syrian nationalists" across the Iraqi border.

Nasser, speaking from a balcony overlooking El Jiwa Square, charged that Kassem and the Communists were attempting to sabotage Arab unity. He accused them of "organizing demonstrations" and "uttering slander" against the U.A.R.

But he declared that these tactics would not make the United Arab Republic "surrender our mission" of uniting the Arab world.

Nasser's speech followed Baghdad press and radio charges making it plain that the Kassem regime blames the U.A.R. for supporting the Sunday uprising in oil-rich north Iraq. The Iraqis said the mutiny was crushed and its leader, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, dead.

The U.A.R. chief told 2,000 Syrian student demonstrators that "those Communists demonstrating in Baghdad against your republic are foreign agents and used to get orders from outside our homeland. That's why we fought."

The students in Damascus had demonstrated Wednesday morning, angrily denouncing the "insults" transmitted against the U.A.R. by Iraq's radio during the last two days. The crowds in the streets chanted, "Kassem, traitor."

Nasser blasted Kassem 24 hours after Iraq expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats, apparently on the grounds that Iraq suspected the Cario regime of fometing the revolt.

Cairo reports said that at least 60 rebels, including some civilians, had been executed summarily after the Mosul uprising, and that Iraqi firing squads were still at work. There were indications that rebel elements were fleeing eastward toward Syria to seek asylum.

Fight Over Berlin Means A Nuclear War, Ike Warns

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower confronted Premier Nikita Khrushchev Wednesday with the grim prospect that if he starts shooting over Berlin he will have a nuclear war on his hands.

At a news conference Eisenhower talked with unusual bluntness about the kind of conflict which could develop in a matter of months if the Berlin crisis is carried to the point of armed clash.

Eisenhower hit two points hard:

1—He said that "we" are not going to fight a ground war in Europe — where the Soviets have 23 divisions in East Germany and another 150 plus in supporting positions in Eastern Europe and Russia itself.

2—Nuclear war would be a terrible and costly form of warfare, he said, and under some circumstances might be even self-defeating.

He declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

However, inquiry among responsible officials after the news conference left no doubt that Eisenhower was trying to say that, as he sees it, any conflict over Berlin would necessarily lead quickly and directly to a global, nuclear clash between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said firmly the U.S. will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis.

Eisenhower said he believes the American public is more soberly aware of dangers in the Berlin situation than a lot of people aroung Washington.

A reporter had asked the President if he feels that the people recognize the dangers in Khrushchev's demand for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

The country knows how serious the situation is or it wouldn't be voting all of the money that is being required for defense, Eisenhower promptly replied.

Eisenhower was asked if he thinks the Soviets should be given a plain warning that nuclear war might result if the Communists cut off access to West Berlin.

He replied that he doesn't know how you can free anything with nuclear weapons. He said that if there is any push in the direction of real hostilities over Berlin it is going to come from the side of the Soviets.

Eisenhower said he can't believe that anybody is going to make hostilities of this kind a reality.

In advance of the news conference Eiswnhower was de-

If It Becomes 'Free'

Reds Pledge Access Into West Berlin

BERLIN —(AP)— The Soviet Union and Communist East Germany Wednesday night pledged that they would guarantee free access to West Berlin if it became a free city.

The pledge was contained in a communique issued by the Communist East German government as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up his visit to East Germany.

The communique said:

"The government of the German Democratic Republic once again emphasized its readiness to guarantee the unhindered connection of the free city of West Berlin with the outside world, in both the eastern and western directions."

At the same time, the communique said, West Berlin's status as a free city could be guaranteed by the Big Four powers and by the U.N.

The communique did not spell out what form the guarantees would take.

(In Washington, a spokesman said the State Department had no comment on the Soviet-East German declaration. Privately officials said there was nothing new in the offer to guarantee access to West Berlin once it became a free city. The offer is based on the completely unacceptable condition that the Western Allies would give up their rights in Berlin, these officials said.)

In an East Berlin speech two days ago, Khrushchev mentioned that a minimum of troops from the Soviet Union, France, Britain and the U.S. could be stationed in West Berlin. Or, he said, the troops could come from neutral countries, meaning presumably from the U.N.

Then Khrushchev emphasized Tuesday that the Russians would have to serve alongside U.S., British and French troops in any token force based in West Berlin.

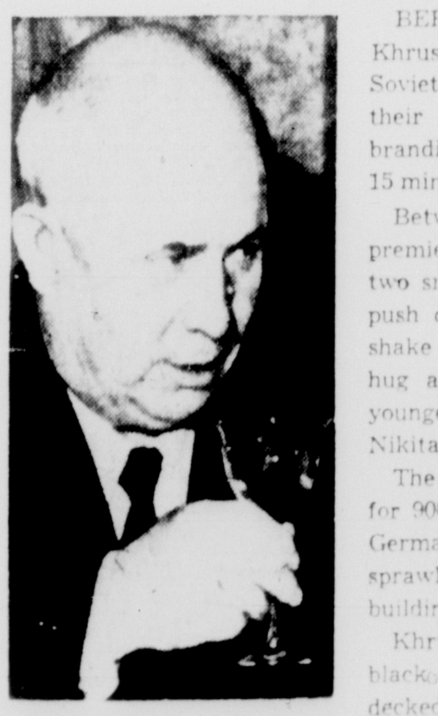
Nikita Talks 'Dry' But He Drinks 'Wet'



Nikita Khrushchev
. . . huggin' and gulpin'

BERLIN —(UPI)— Nikita Khrushchev, who has advised Soviet workers to cut down their drinking, was slugging brandies at a rate of one every 15 minutes here.

Between gulps, the Soviet premier would devour one or two small, spicy sausages, then push on through the crowd to shake some more hands, and hug a few more women. The younger the women, the tighter Nikita squeezed.

The scene was a reception for 900 prominent Communists, German and foreign, at the sprawling Soviet embassy building on Unter Den Linden.

Khrushchev wore a simple black, single-breasted suit, bedecked with "Workers Hero" medals. He spent three hours at the reception.

High Winds Hit Alabama Area

CAMDEN, Ala. —(AP)— High winds during a thunderstorm and possibly a small twister knocked down several farm buildings and unfoofed a house in the Oakhill community Wednesday.

The Highway Patrol said there were no reports of any one injured. The rural community is 14 miles southeast of Camden.

A car was blown off the highway, the patrol said, but cut back on the road and continued on its way.

Senate Approves It, 76 to 15

Aloha, Hawaii! It's Almost In

Isles Take Stride to Statehood

House Question: 50 Or Not 50?

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate voted Wednesday night to make Hawaii the 50th state, giving its approval by a vote of 76 to 15.

This long step toward statehood for the islands in the Pacific came after only a single day of debate.

That debate was punctuated by charges that with Hawaii a state, the 50th star in the flag would be tinged with red.

The House set the stage for action today on an almost identical bill. It voted 337-69 formally bringing a statehood bill up for House debate.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee said he would propose amendments to his own house bill to make it conform exactly to the Senate version.

The final House vote would thus send the measure directly to the White House and avoid House-Senate conferences.

The first House test, coming while the Senate was debating the statehood issue, brought the Hawaii bill formally before the House for debate and amendments.

Voting for the resolution were 214 Democrats and 123 Republicans. Forty-eight Democrats, most of them Southerners, and 21 Republicans voted against taking up the bill.

In a Word--

One of the many false impressions most Americans have about Hawaii is that its most famous word, "alohs," mearns goodby or farewell.

Aloha also means hello, Hawaiians explain. In some of the islands, aloha also means good morning, good evening, and I love you.

Anglers Urge New N. Bridge

FORT PIERCE — A new North Bridge was urged Wednesday by members of the Fort Pierce Anglers Club.

The Atlantic Shores Association had previously asked the St. Lucie County Commission to ban fishing from the present narrow wooden bridge, for the safety of both fishermen and motorists.

The Anglers Club president, J. H. Cooper, wrote the commission that club members felt that banning or not banning fishing would not solve the problem. The club noted the importance of a new bridge with walkways which would solve all problems.

The St. Lucie County Commission's tentative request for state road work puts a new North Bridge in second place. Commissioners said they want to hold up action on the bridge fishing situation until they have met with William Singer, road board member, on March 23 and learned about prospects for a new bridge.

The county commission, in other action, reaffirmed its decision to consider all bulkhead line requests individually, until an overall bulkhead line for the entire county can be drawn up.

Bahamians To Protest

NASSAU, Bahamas —(AP)— Progressive Liberal Party leaders left for London Wednesday to protest passage of a bill by the Bahamas Assembly which provides for four new house seats.

Party Leader Cyril Stevenson, who went with Lynden Pindling to London, said the measure provides for district boundary changes unacceptable to his followers.

The two will see the secretary of state for the colonies March 17. The Progressive Party had sought to have action on the bill delayed until after the interview with the secretary but the request was rejected by the majority United Bahamian Party.

Aviation Agency's Gag Investigated

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The Congressional Watchdog Committee on Governmental Secrecy is investigating suppression by the Federal Aviation Agency of information sought in connection with the Feb. 3 crash of an American Airlines' Electra.

This was revealed Wednesday in a letter from Rep. John Moss (D., Calif.), chairman of the House government information subcommittee, to E. R. Quesada, head of the FAA.

MOSS

Moss in his letter referred to stories in The Miami Herald disclosing that the FAA has suppressed reports on difficulties encountered with a new type altitude measuring instrument installed in Lockheed Electras and Boeing 707 jets.

Moss asked Quesada to spell out the FAA's legal authority, if any, "for restricting access to the reports."

He disclosed that committee investigators have made a preliminary check, but did not discuss their findings.

The Herald reported last month that the FAA received complaints on the new altimeter from pilots prior to the American crash.

The new turbo-prop airliner, which fell into New York's East River while attempting to land at LaGuardia Airport, had the new altimeter. Sixty-five persons were killed in the crash.

The surviving flight engineer said after the crash that "there might have been a mix-up with those new altimeters. ". . . There was some difficulty reading them."

Some pilots complained to the FAA about a "sticking needle" in the altimeter.

After first imposing stiffer landing restrictions on the Electras, the FAA announced the air carriers could resume normal operations with the planes if the new altimeters were replaced with a type now widely in use.

The FAA on several occasions refused to disclose the nature or number of complaints.

Officials also refused to comment on why the FAA did not act on reports of operating difficulties with the new altimeter before the accident.

Senate OKs Extended Draft Act by 90 to 1

Bill Now Goes Back To House

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate, with only one dissent, Wednesday approved a four-year extension of the draft act urgently requested by the Eisenhower administration.

The 90-1 vote came after the Armed Services Committee chairman, Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), called on the Senate to show the U.S. "means what it says when it says we must maintain the military strength of the U.S."

The Senate previously defeated one move to trim the extension to two years and another one which would have set up a military manpower commission to study the draft law and possible "alternatives."

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed an almost identical extension earlier. It can accept the Senate version or demand a conference to hammer out the differences.

The only senator voting against the four-year extension was Sen. William Langer (R., N.D.).

The Senate beat down by 67-24 an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) to limit the extension to two years. Morse conducted a pint-sized filibuster Tuesday night to an almost empty Senate chamber on the proposed extension.

He said the four-year extension will neither "safeguard American security" nor "frighten the Russians."

Defeated by a 68-24 vote was an amendment by Sen. Francis Case (R., S.D.) which would have set up the study commission.

In addition to continuing present machinery for drafting young men aged 18 through 26, the Senate bill continues the suspension of pre-Korean peacetime ceilings on the strength of the armed services; the payment of benefits to dependents of certain enlisted men, and the authority to draft physicians and dentists.

It also provides authority for the continued payment of extra pay, at the rate of $100 to $250 monthly, to newly-commissioned physicians and dentists and $100-a-month additional pay for veterinarians.

This is the amendment added by the Senate which required that the bill go back to the House instead of straight to the White House.

We Won't Back Up, He Says

Ike Warns Nikita: Berlin Fight Means Nuclear War

picted as determined to hold military spending to the 41 billion dollar level of his budget.

Some of the criticism of the spending plans has been based on the contention that not enough attention is given to the forces needed for limited — or non-nuclear — war which could involve big ground forces.

Eisenhower said the adequacy of free nation defenses is not going to be particularly strengthened by quick action such as that suggested by Democrats in Congress to maintain the Army at 900,000 men and the Marine Corps at 200,000.

The army is scheduled to be cut back to 870,000 men and the marines to 175,000 by June 30.

We're not going to fight a ground war in Europe, Eisenhower said. That being true, he asked what good it would do to send more divisions to the continent.

Noting that the Communists have 175 divisions, Eisenhower said why in the world would we dream of fighting a ground war with them.

Strength in heart and head are as important as strength in the military, the President went on.

At one point Eisenhower was asked if he feels the proposed size of U.S. ground forces is sufficient to cope with a "brush" war.

He answered that if a defense force of this size couldn't handle such a war it would have grown beyond the "brush" stage and military leaders would have to think in greater terms. He did not elaborate on this point.

Wednesday's session touched also on these matters:

KHRUSHCHEV — Eisenhower said that he doesn't think much of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that Russian and the Western allies station token military forces in West Berlin.

A one point, Eisenhower referred to Khrushchev's proposals as the premier's wisecracks or whatever he calls them. He said he (Eisenhower) could not be expected to react instantly to wisecracks.

JOB BENEFITS — The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

Eisenhower said he regards the problem of providing for the unemployed as a state responsibility, but that his mind is not closed to the possibility of adjustment.

SPENDING — Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he might be willing to spend more money for defense if more federal revenue was available.

With some show of irritation, Eisenhower went on to say he is tired of talk of having either a balanced budget or adequate national security. A balanced budget, he added, is a vital part of such security.

Suppose, Eisenhower theorized, defense spending should go up five, seven or 10 billion dollars. That means, he said, we would have a garrison state.

It was at that point that Eisenhower said somewhat heatedly that he doesn't see any of those calling for greater defense spending coupling it with a demand for higher taxes.

Jobless Total Up Slightly

Employment Rolls Increase, Too

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Unemployment edged up by 25,000 last month to a total of 4,749,000, the government reported Wednesday. It said the increase was so small as to be insignificant.

A report by the Labor and Commerce Departments showed employment also increased by 16,000 to 62,706,000 in February. The stability marked the usual pause between heavy winter cutbacks in jobs and the normal spring pickup.

The number of jobless workers was 724,000 lower than in February, 1958, the depth of the 1957-58 recession. There also were 734,000 more persons holding jobs than in February a year ago.

But even so unemployment last month was 1,500,000 higher than in February, 1957, before the recession began.

The report said that last month the seasonally adjusted percentage of the labor force without jobs held steady at six per cent for the third month in a row. Many economists regard this figure as a key statistic in the job picture.

In addition, the relatively small changes in February employment and unemployment fell within the range of normal statistical errors that might be made by the government in compiling its job estimates.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said the figures showed the unemployment situation was "growing worse" and is now a drag on economic recovery.

Meany said the nation cannot wait any longer for government action to relieve suffering of millions of unemployed citizens.

In this connection, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he believed any further extension of emergency jobless benefits should be handled by the states although he was willing to listen to arguments.

Congressional Democrats are pushing for an extension of the program to prevent several hundred thousand unemployed from running out of benefits when the temporary program ends March 30.

It Was Heavenly

A spectacular passing of the planet Venus by the moon in clear skies over south Florida Wednesday night triggered hundreds of telephone calls to weather bureau and newspaper switchboards.

Some space-age callers asked if the shining star seen almost directly over the moon's thin crescent was a space missile launched without notice. But most, said Weather Bureau Forecaster leonard Pardue, had no idea at all what the display could mean...

Pardue said the phenomenon was "a conjunction—really not a rarity — in which the two heavenly bodies pass some millions of miles apart."

The weather man said that usually the apparent meeting of the two heavenly bodies is not noticed because it occurs in daylight or afternoon-set.

Wednesday night's display because visible about 6:30 p.m. and lasted until moonset at 8:34 p.m.

Pardue said he once saw an even more spectacular "conjunction" in which Venus appeared to travel a path htat took it directly behind the moon's bulk — where the star became temporarily ivisible.

No ring or halo was cast around the moon while the planet was obscured behind it, Pardue said. He added this is considered evidence that the moon has no atmosphere in which a halo effect can be produced.

Pardue said these conjunctions occur several times a year. How close?

The moon is a quarter-million miles from the earth and Venus is more than 20 million miles distant, he said.

Wednesday's night's pectacle should have been visible everywhere that darkness prevailed, said Pardue.

60 Arrive Today

Bankers to Get Red Carpet Tour

Some 60 Northern financiers arrive here today for a red-carpet tour which state and local officials hope will heighten their interest in buying some 25 million dollars worth of bonds to pay for Dade County road projects.

The group is due at Miami International Airport at 5 p.m. from Cape Canaveral, where the Yankee businessmen were taken for a brief tour after visiting St. Petersburg, which is also on the verge of putting road bonds up for sale.

B. R. Fuller Jr., executive director of the Florida Development Commission, said the first-hand inspection by the potential bond-buyers "could result in savings of hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest costs" on the bond sale.

Dade County, backed by the Development Commission and the State Road Board, will put up for sale in April 25 million dollars worth of bonds. Most of the money will be used on the 36th St. Expressway project.

Fuller said he felt "this tour will generate among these investment people a real enthusiasm for Florida."

Both the St. Petersburg and Greater Miami areas, he said, "have so much to offer that we thought these bankers should see them first-hand."

The financiers, most of them from major banks and insurance companies in New York and Chicago, represent "virtually every major institution which buys or sells public securities," Fuller said.

They are being accompanied on the tour by Fuller, Development Commission Chairman Sam T. Dell Jr., Road Board Chairman Joe Grotegut, Road Board Member William Singer of Miami and Development Commission Member R. B. Gautier of Miami.

The group arrived at St. Petersburg Tuesday night and spent Wednesday being briefed by Pinellas County officials on a 16.8 million dollar bond issue to finance the Pinellas Bayway. The group was to fly to Cape Canaveral today after a tour of St. Petersburg.

The bankers will look over airport facilities after arriving here, then go by limousine to the Fontainebleau Hotel for a reception and dinner.

The group will be briefed on the 36th St. project on Friday by Singer and other road engineers and officials. On Saturday engineers will take the bond-buyers on an inspection trip.

The visit will end at a luncheon Saturday with an address by McGregor Smith, board chairman of Florida Power and Light Co., and a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Industry.

Hawaii Hulas Past Senate On Her Way to Statehood

Rules Committee, argued in vain that Harry Bridges and his aides "control the life blood of Hawaii."

Bridges is head of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union which, although expelled from the CIO for left-wing tendencies, is strongly organized on the Hawaii waterfront and in the sugar and pineapple industries.

Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D., N.Y.) of the House territories subcommittee, said a personal investigation in Hawaii last December convinced him that residents of the islands are more alert to the dangers of communism than people are anywhere else in the country.

"I do not believe that Communists have a strangle hold on the islands or that they would send four Soviet agents to Congress," O'Brien asserted.

O'Brien was replying directly to a protest by Rep. John R. Pillion (R., N.Y.), who charged that Communists "influence Hawaiian life to an alarming degree" through Bridges' union and others.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R., Calif.) said it may be true that Hawaii has a Communist problem. But so does California, he said, and so does the U.S. as a whole.

And Sen. Russell B. Long (D., La.) said Hawaii has fought the Communists to the point that its Subversive Activities Control Board estimated recently there were only 15 "hard-shelled Communists" left there.

Holland's For It, Smathers Against

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The 76-15 roll-call vote by which the Senate Wednesday night passed a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii included:

Democrats for:

Ervin of N.C., Holland of Fla., Johnson of Tex., Jordan of N.C., Kefauver of Tenn., Long of La., Yarborough of Tex.

Republicans for:

Cooper of Ky., Morton of Ky.

Democrats against:

Byrd of Va., Eastland of Miss., Ellender of La., Fulbright of Ark., Hill of Ala., McClellan of Ark., Robertson of Va., Russell of Ga., Smathers of Fla., Sparkman of Ala., Stennis of Miss., Talmadge of Ga.

Not voting or paired, but announced as for passage: Gore (D., Tenn).

Voting for Hawaiian statehood were 30 Republicans and 46 Democrats. One Republican, Sen. John Marshall Butler (R., Md.), joined 14 Southern Democrats in voting against it.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

I KNOW a man who passed his civil service tests at the head of the class. He is slightly handicapped, and after much examination the civil service doctor turned him down.

BELL

"Why?" asked the applicant. "My handicap won't hinder me the slightest on this job."

"I know," the doctor admitted. "But the city is being sued for damages by one of its own attorneys because he fell off a city-owned chair. It could happen to you." So let's start falling off chairs????

Well, Bill Pallot didn't fall off a chair because he was handicapped. The chair tipped over backwards and he was thrown for quite a lot of yardage. It was an interesting case (Bill just lost it) because the money he was asking, as damages, wasn't coming from city funds. It was a pension fund, into which Bill had been paying along with other employes.

When Don Miller's letter came, inviting me to a live-model showing of lingerie, at 2:15 p.m. today, I figured the chairman of the board at Jordan Marsh had goofed.

But no: he meant it. They're really inviting men to the show. Of course there'll be women too. But I venture to predict the attendance of men will be 100 per cent of the invitation list.

"In this modern age of advertising and doing formerly tabooed things in a discreet manner, you of the male series will be interested in a live-model showing of ladies intimate apparel." I surely will.

Snow and Rain in Central U.S. Expected to Move Eastward Today

Fight to Keep Sebastian Inlet Open Has Spanned 73 Years

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE BEACH — Seventy-three years ago they struggled to cut Sebastian Inlet through this island to join the Atlantic and the Indian River. Today they're struggling to drive vehicles across this waterway.

This inlet, attracting fishermen for miles around, no doubt will go down in history as one of Brevard County's greatest struggles. And perhaps one of the longest, because it has been an uphill pull just to keep it open all these 73 years.

Bridging the inlet is a more modern wrinkle. It was talked up three years ago, and now backers want to revive the idea by creating a special road and bridge tax district. A bill is being prepared for obtaining legislative approval on forming the district.

Taxes would back tolls in financing the bridge, estimated to cost $1.5 million.

Although the entire inlet is in Brevard, Indian River County residents entered into the bridge discussions. An inlet bridge would join SR A1A in both counties.

In 1886 man made this inlet mainly to aid commercial and private fishermen. For years people have been coming here to dip a line in the inlet. Even for those not interested in fishing the waterway is an attraction.

Resort owners report that numerous Northerners pay for part of their vacations from fish they catch in the inlet area and sell to local dealers. Cahtoes include bass, trout, snapper and bottom fish.

The original purpose for digging the Sebastian Inlet was to allow the ocean to flow into the river and bring in ocean fish. Some of these fish like the less salty waters and spawn in the river, thus increasing the supply for sports and commercial fishermen.

Another reason, said to be of lesser importance, was to aid the escape of surplus inland waters in time of flood.

The first channel, reportedly a quarter of a mile wide, was started in 1886 and given up before completion.

In 1895 another attempt was made. This time the project was finished. But the first bad northeaster filled the channel with sand, and this erosion fight has never ended.

A third channel was dug in 1918. It was 75 feet wide, with jetties built of sand and rock to a height of five feet. Almost immediately after this was completed another storm came along and filled the channel half full of sand.

A special taxing district was formed in the 1920's, comprising parts of Brevard and Indian River Counties. The governing body was named the Sebastian Inlet Commission — still operating.

The commission constructed the present waterway in 1923-24. It was cut 600 feet wide, with jetties of coquina rock extending into the ocean.

This was found not to be the complete answer to the erosion problem because sand still came into the channel and the outer ends of the jetties became beaten down until they didn't even show at low tide.

In 1955 the commission completed a tremendous repair job. Huge pieces of granite—some weighing over 10 tons—were used to extend the north jetty to 250 feet into the ocean to divert the rough seas. It is 45 feet wide at the bottom and 10 feet at the top and never less than six feet above the mean low water level.

The south jetty is the same, except that it stands only four feet above the mean low water at the ocean end.

It required 5,640 tons of granite, transported in 100 railroad cars, to handle that work.

And this fight against nature continues today. The commission several weeks back completed half of another $120,000 inlet program, and then launched the remaining phase, still going on.

The first part of the current project was to dredge the back channel, opposite the fishing camp on the south side. The phase now being handled is the construction of a southwestern extension of the main north jetty into the river.

When this jetty is completed, a natural harbor is expected to be created on the north side of the inlet, at the end of SR A1A. The county recreation department hopes to build a boat ramp there for small boat owners.

Meanwhile, Commissioners Harry Goode, chairman, and Don Beaujean, of Brevard, and Lisbon Futch, of Indian River County, are thinking about a 10-year study of the inlet by University of Florida erosion experts to successfully end the constant battle with nature on keeping the facility open.

Water Project Studied

Commissioners Discuss Plan

By ZOLA SWARTHOUT
Herald Correspondent

STUART — Progress, in the form of water for Hutchinson Island, possible use of natural gas, renumbering all residents and business places and rezoning an area which is designed for a $700,000 shopping center were the principal items of business at the Stuart city commission Tuesday night.

The city has a 50-year franchise from the county to supply water to Hutchinson Island. The water to Hutchinson Island. Th group has been in conferences with representatives of the Central Florida Water and Utilities Co., who have proposed purchasing city water to supply the island.

While negotiations are going on, Hutchinson Island property owners asked that the city's water engineering consultant, Charles Black of Black and Associates of Gainesville meet with them to discuss all phases of the problem.

Black will meet with property owners on Wednesday.

A representative of Bernard and Burch, engineers of Baton Rouge, asked the city's permission to make a "feasibility" report and survey for the proposed natural gas line to come to Stuart and to supply the area. The survey which will include costs is for the Houston Texas Corp.

Robert West of the Stuart post office asked that all homes and business places be renumbered. The commission felt that since it was a major project it should be done in the summer months.

The commission also agreed to hold a public hearing on April 14 to rezone from residential -1 to Commercial -2 an area on U.S. 1, State Road 76 to SR 714. Purpose is so that a $700,000 shopping center may be constructed in that area by T. L. Remly of Palm Beach of the Tee Ell Co.

The city also:

AGREED to pave a 13 foot area in front of the new post office building on West Seventh St. for adequate parking facilities. In return for the work, the Hartman-Leighton combine gave the city a deed for an eight foot strip owned by them. The city owned a five foot strip.

LISTENED to a new proposal by Kenneth Harris, owner of the fire-gutted Commodore Hotel, which is adjacent to the city hall, for the sale of the land and the front part of the building to the city.

Harris proposed the city pay him $35,000 cash, and pay off a $20,000 mortgage he still owes. The commission will sit in special session Friday at 10 a.m. to discuss the matter.

Income Is Sought

Shipping Tax Eyed by Port In Ft. Pierce

Authority Asks Study Of Tariffs

By ANNE WILDER
Herald Correspondent

FORT PIERCE — The members of the Fort Pierce Port Authority, anticipating port development and an increase in port traffic, instructed the county attorney Wednesday to see what income the port could get from a tariff on shipping.

Attorney Ralph Wilson said the port situation here is unique, since the port authority has the responsibility for the port itself, and for paying off the old bonded indebtedness for port construction — but has no portside property which wuld produce income.

Wilson said that the act setting up the authority included a tariff schedule and he was instructed to study it. The port authority members will also check on tariffs charged by other ports in Florida.

Commissioner E. L. Taylor, who brought the subject up, said it seemed unfair to him if the port authority could get no direct benefit from a water traffic increase.

"I feel the taxpayers of this area, who are still paying for the port, are entitled to some relief through a tonnage tax," he said.

Extensive port development is planned by the Fort Pierce Port and Terminal Company which owns most of the portside land.

The Port Authority members approved sending a letter to the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Board, stating that they backed the request by the Port and Terminal Co. to purchase submerged land next week, if a price can be agreed upon.

The city has already given a letter of approval, and Ramsey said a development of the property will enhance the value of island land owned now by the Port Authority.

'Frances Langford' Day Proclaimed In Martin County

By ZOLA SWARTHOUT
Herald Correspondent

STUART — March 15 will be "Frances Langford Day" in Stuart and Martin County.

The Martin County Commission adopted a resolution Tuesday proclaiming observance of the day in honor of Florida's number one radio-TV and movie star, who with her husband Ralph E. Evinrude makes her permanent home here.

The Stuart city commission, Tuesday night, adopted a similar resolution, and Mayor J. W. Berry will issue a proclamation citing Miss Langford's outstanding contribution to her country and servicemen throughout the world.

Frances Langford
. . . calls Stuart home

On March 15 at 10 a.m. The Frances Langford Show will be seen over NBC Television stations in color and black and white. Stars to appear on the program include Bob Hope, Hugh (Wyatt Earp) O'Brien, Julie London, Edgar Bergen (and Charlie McCarthy) and George Sanders.

The resolutions and proclamation reads, in part, "To honor Francis Langford, who has dedicated her life to her country and her service men, and for her sincere devotion, deep patriotism, and sheer courage which took her to all the fighting fronts in World War II and the Korean War, risking her life many times in the more than one million miles she flew to bring a bit of heaven and home to her GIs."

Miss Langford has the distinction of being the first feminine performer to visit six fighting fronts during World War II. Since that time she has spent many hours entertaining in veteran hospitals.

One of her prize possessions is a photograph of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower. She met him during her North Africa tour. The photograph is autographed with, "To Miss Francis Langford, with appreciation for a grand job in North Africa."

In 1942 Miss Langford and Bob Hope flew to visit the army base at Fort Glenn, Alaska. She was informed that she was the first white woman to set foot on Umnak Island. She was immediately dubbed, "Virginia Dare Langford.

Miss Langford, a native Floridian, was born in Lakeland. She first sang on a radio station in Tampa, and was discovered by Rudy Vallee while in Miami on a talent show. From there on her climb in the theatrical world was sensational.

She has 20 picture credits, was star of many radio shows, has done three TV show series, and more than 15 million of her records have been sold.

Since her marriage to "Mr. Outboard Motors" several years ago, she has spent most of her time with her husband Ralph E. Evinrude on their 113 ft. luxury yacht, The Chanticleer."

They became permanent residents here last year, and have been increasing their holdings by constructing rental units, apartment houses, a new yacht basin, and guest houses at Langford Terrace which is located between Stuart and Jensen Beach.

This is home now. Frances loves nothing better than to go to Seymour's Inn and dance in her bare feet. Ralph loves the food at Poor Bob's.

Although they have several cadillacs, the two of them prefer running all over town in their many Cushman Scooters. (Evinrude also owns that company.) And don't kid him about Johnson. Motors . . . he owns that one too.) Evinrude, a native of Milwaukee, has adopted this area as his home. He was reently named as a director on the Martin Memorial Hospital Board.

William Moss Dies at 58

FORT PIERCE — William Fred Moss Sr., 58, of 128 North 14th Street died Wednesday afternoon. He had lived here 12 years, coming from Atlanta, Ga.

Survivors include his wife Elizabeth, two sons, William Jr., and Charles of Atlanta; a daughter, Mrs. Bernard Sauer of Fort Pierce; two sisters, and two grandchildren. The Baird Funeral Home is in charge.

Gas Firms To Talk to Council

VERO BEACH — Representatives of several gas companies will meet with the Vero Beach City Council at 8 p.m. Friday to discuss bringing natural gas here.

The meeting will be informal and no action will be taken. Members of the Vero Beach Long-Range Planning and Advisory Committee and representatives of the Taxpayers Association of Indian River County will be given special invitations. Anyone else interested may attend, Mayor Harry C. Offutt Jr. announced at the regular council meeting Tuesday night.

The discussion will be held in the office of City Manager Eugene Lyon on the first floor of the City Hall unless lack of space necessitates moving upstairs to the council room, the mayor said.

The council decided to pave 18th Street between 28th and 29th Avenues on an assessment basis instead of financing it with voluntary contributions from adjacent property owners.

The city will bear the extra legal costs of assessment for those who already have paid their part. One property owner owning half the adjacent property has refused to pay his share of $371, while the others had paid theirs seven months ago.

The council voted to deny a request from Ralph Stogner, representing Air Control Products Ind. of Vero Beach, for the city to vacate the right-of-way of 17th Street on the west side of Dixie Avenue, so that his company could enlarge its building.

Proposed Salary Schedule Presented

Indian River County Teachers Ask Board For Pay Increase

By THELMA FROSCHER
Herald Correspondent

VERO BEACH — The appointment of Glendon Stanley as principal of Sebastian School next fall has been approved by the Indian River County School Board.

At present Stanley is an "itinerant teacher" of physical education at the Sebastian, Wabasso, Winter Beach and Fellsmere Schools.

He completed a term as Fellsmere city councilman this year, and did not run for reelection.

Principals of all other schools in the county and other supervisory personnel were reappointed at the school board meeting Tuesday.

Representing the Classroom Teacher Association, Howard Jones presented a proposed 1959-60 salary schedule to the board. He predicted that if it were put in effect there would be a waiting list of capable teachers available to the schools of this county instead of an exodus of a number of teachers at the end of each school year.

"Since there appears to be a lag in Indian River County's payments toward teachers' salaries over the past decade when compared to state contributions, any immediate increase must come from the County," Jones read from a letter signed by 129 teachers.

The letter said that the CTA had voted to ask for an increase in salaries in the near future. The teachers requested a change in the method of property appraisal to allow more money to come from the county to make possible a substantial increase to teachers.

They volunteered to have a committee work with county officials toward making the appraisal revision.

Nineteen of the faculty of the Junior-Senior high schools find it necessary to hold more than one job, it was reported. Of 67 counties in Florida 39 have higher starting salaries than Indian River with only 11 paying less.

The total additional cost of the proposed salary schedule for 1959-60 would be $51,000. At present one mill of taxation brings in between $25,000 and $30,000.

The only apparent sources of money to meet these increases are:

(1) The three mills not applied against present appraisal values;

(2) Reappraise the county and apply a new millage rate;

or (3) work with a group in Tallahassee to increase the sales tax with the increase returnable to the counties for school expenses, Jones reported for the CTA.

School Board members acknowledged that a raise for teachers is needed, but said they were not able to take immediate action.

Builder Bows to Zoning Rule

Herald Service

FORT PIERCE — The St. Lucie County zoning department won a legal skirmish this week, when Curtis Revels reported he had taken down a building erected in violation of the county building and zoning laws.

A warrant charging the violation was issued last week—the first time this has been done since the zoning laws went into force Jan 1. Zoning Administrator Charles Guthey said Revels had been warned that the temporary storehouse he had erected without a permit was illegal.

Wednesday, Revels told Judge Flem C. Dame he had taken down the building. The judge said that when the court receives official word from the building department that this has been done, he will dismiss the charge.

Guthey commented that this department was satisfied with the outcome of the case—all they wanted was to get the building down.

Shuffleboard Meet Opens

FORT PIERCE — Over 350 shuffleboard enthusiasts from Melbourne, Vero Beach, Stuart and Jensen Beach, will hold the 10th Annual Indian River Shuffleboard Get-Together at the Fort Pierce Community Center today, with tournament play starting at 9:30.

Mayor James L. Howe of Fort Pierce will welcome the group at 11, and a program of entertainment will be followed by a basket lunch. Play will be resumed through the afternoon.

Leon Barritt of Jensen Beach is president of the league. Vice presidents include A. L. Dailey of Vero Beach, Charles Jobes of Melbourne, Woodrow Dukes of Fort Pierce, George E. Smith of Stuart, Arthur Johnson of Ocean Breeze and Charles Ray of Fort Pierce. Mrs. Carl Mulhauf of Fort Pierce is secretary-treasurer.

How to Survive

Nearly 100 persons who will staff the emergency 200-bed hospital in case of enemy attack turned out in Stuart Tuesday night for instruction by Dr. Sanford Setnor (right). Dr. John Gunsolus (left) head of the training program, looks on as Dr. Setnor shows his audience the first stages of artificial breathing, using Gladys Reese as the "victim."

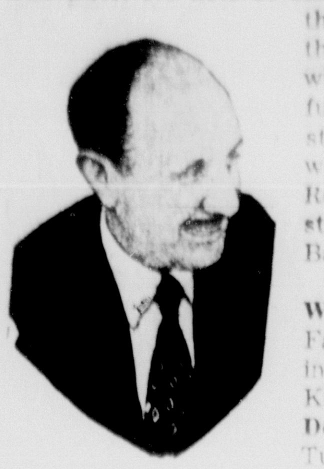
Palm Beach Importing Broadway's 'Third Best Sport' with Cast



HARRY MUFSON closed his Eden Roc Cafe Pompeii after the Sammy Davis Jr., farewell Wednesday and will keep it dark until the March 18 opening of Maurice Chevalier. No acts of sufficient caliber are available for the interim period, he says. But there'll be no dull moments elsewhere in the hotel. The wonderful singing and performing instrumentalists, the Giovannis, will continue in the Mona Lisa Room and Duke Jenkins' group stays on at Harry's American Bar.

Miami's beauty, Sandra Wirth, now on NBC's County Fair as a regular, will do a dancing and dramatic stint on "Father Knows Best" March 16 . . . George DeWitt, emcee of "Name That Tune" will do a three-night weekend at the Havana Capri Casino

Frank Hale is bringing the entire Broadway production and cast of "Third Best Sport" down to the Palm Beach Royal Poinciana Playhouse for a March 16 opening. Plot concerns the happenings on a convention — in Palm Beach. Celeste Holm tops the cast.

True What They Say About Dixie?

PLACE PIGALLE'S reputed look-alike for Marilyn Monroe, Dixie Evans, wants to sound like her too—she has a new recording of Marilyn's singing from "Some Like It Hot" to use in the act . . . Local favorite Sammy Shore became Newport, Ky.'s favorite, with a stand at the Beverly Hills. Reviewers called him a "sleeper" hit . . . Robert Clary returns to the Diplomat Cafe Cristal, which he just left, on April 24 . . .

Such fancy talk from a cemedian! Club Morocco's comic Bobby Barton, who was a horse trainer once, says that the line from "Macbeth" which goes "Tomorrow creeps in this petty pace from day to day" applied to one of his chargers named — "Tomorrow."

Cast of Holiday on Ice, which opens its Miami Beach stand at the exhibition hall on March 30, will also be busy between shows — posing for color and press stills for next year's edition. Costumes will be flown in from Omaha for the stunt.

Process Uses No Coaxial Cable

CHAP NAMED John Hays Hammond, Jr., has taken out a patent for a sort or slow-freight transmission of TV which eliminates the need for costly coaxial cable. It calls for slower transmission, however. A one-hour program would take two hours to transmit and record . . . Joe's Stone Crabs still appears to be the First Stop station of those who know Miami best — Phil Silvers, with the Bernie Franks, did it the first night in town . . . Ditto Milton Berle and Ruth.

Probably one of the main reasons — aside from the considerable loot — that Betty Kean and Lew Parker took their current job on the Frank Sinatra bill at the Fontainebleau was so they could spend their anniversary at the scene of their marriage. Paul and Jerri Pollak supervised the splicing at the Thunderbird two years ago . . .Four Thunderbirds and a Corvette parked outside the T-Bird last Saturday. Of course, there were Cadillacs too.

Bob London and Brad Sherman clicking nicely as Masters of the Midnight Mike at Mammy's, with Joe Rubin at the door rating an assist for spotting celebs in the audience. Joe is brother of actor Benny Rubin . . . Hal Fisher, the comedian, apparently anxious to influence a movie producer who has a possible part for him, took him to dinner at Famous Restaurant, where he eyed the extensive entre list on the Famous menu (over 30 items), and commented: "That's some lengthy credit list."

Cast of Havana Mardi Gras revue at the Lucerne had better start pricing tuxedoes to comply with that ad: "Have tux, will travel." Oscar Markowich is getting tempting offers to send it "on the road."

Bring Your Own Shovel

DICK OSBORNE sent out individual miniature shovels for the "ground-breaking" of Central Shopping Plaza . . . Arthur Bruns plans to close membership to his Carriage Club at Miami Springs Villas when it reaches 1,000. Little more than 100 to go . . . The National Airline Ted Bakers flying "Luau" for some Polynesian cuisine.

Abe Lastfogel and George Wood, the flesh (show talent) peddlers, at the Fontainebleau . . . Violinist Michael Rabin fiddling at Monte Carlo Roulette Room on his night off from concertizing . . . Libby Jones, Clover Club headliner, appeared in "The Man with the Golden Arm," one of Frank Sinatra's top movie chores.

The wedding of jazz music and the Gala Lounge didn't last very long. Spot reverts to the flesh-pot stuff (girls!) on the 20th — as Club 23. Club 23-Skidoo might be more distinctive. Al Glick has been appointed public relations director for the Miami Showman's Club . . . "My Fair Lady" will be three years old on Sunday and already has earned over $10,000,000. It's playing in London, Stockholm, Australia, Mexico, and twice here in the USA, of course. "My FAIR Lady"? She's great . . . Fontainebleau show was delayed 15 minutes recently while Frank Sinatra finished dinner in the Fleur de Lis Room with a lady who looked exactly like Lady Beattie.

Ford Foundation Backs Eight Plays

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Ford Foundation announced Tuesday that plays of eight American playwrights will be produced next fall at foundation expense.

The grant program for playwrights, totaling $110,000, is the last in a series of grants to creative artists. Recently the programs have aided poets, writers, painters, sculptors, theater directors and musical artists.

The works of the eight playwrights will be staged at professional, community and university theaters.

The playwrights, their plays, and the theaters that will produce them are:

KENNETH CAMERON, New York, "The Physician for Fools," Margot Jones Theater, Dallas, Tex.

JOSH GREENFELD, New York, "Clandestine on the Morning Line," Arena Stage, Washington, D. C.

JOHN B. HARDING, Malibu, Calif., "Kinderspiel," Boston University Theater, Boston.

SIDNEY MICHAELS, Los Angeles, "The Plaster Bambino," Actor's workshop, San Francisco.

PHILLIP PRUNEAU, New York, "The Morgan Rock," Omaha Community Theater, Omaha, Neb.

MRS. SEYRIL SCHOCHEN, Ithaca, N.Y., "The Moon Besieged," Stanford University Theater, Palo Alto, Calif.

JOHN VLAHOS, Westport, Conn., "The Golden age of Pericles Pappas," Tulsa Community Theater, Tulsa, Okla.

LIONEL WIGGAM, New York, "Inside Emily Payne," Erie Playhouse, Erie, Pa.
